PULLIN' UP STAKES.

No use your tryin' to console me,
It's bound to go hard with me, Jane,
Yes! Yes! I s'pose its His will,
And I hadn't orter complain.

But think of the years we've lived here—
Thirty or nigh about;
And now to be pullin' up stakes
Is like tearin' your eye-teeth out.

Who'd ever a thought when Jonathan
Went s'curity for Hiram Sears,
That that scratch of the pen would drive us
From the home we have had for years.

Ev'ry foot on it paid for,
And some for a rainy day;
And then to think our hard earnin's
Should be thus trifled away.

Still, I ain't a blamin' your uncle,
He's too chicken-hearted, though;
And when Hiram axed for his name,
He hadn't the spunk to say no,

But up and signed the paper
That's cheated us out of the place,
And now, when we're up'ards of sixty,
We've agin got the world to face.

"What will we do in Kansas?"
Bless you! That's more'n I know;
But there's nothin' left for us here,
And to-morrow we've got to go.

I've just finished packin' our traps—
There's precious few on 'em left;
We never had more'n we needed,
But of them they have taken the heft.

There's only my clothes and Jonathan's,
Some books and a picter or two,
The cradle our babies were rocked in,
And this chair, a present from you.

Oh! I tell you we never know
What a blessin' some things is, Jane,
Until we have done and lost 'em,
And then we can see it plain.

Why, it don't seem more'n a fortnight
Since me and your Uncle John
Was a talkin' of buildin' a new house,
And now the old one's gone.

And it never looked half so handy,
And so much like home before,
As the day them lawyers told us
That it wasn't our'n no more.

Oh! I wish that thrush in the orchard
Would cease a singin' his lay;
I used to be glad to hear him,
But somehow I ain't to-day.

I mind when we planted that orchard,
Your Uncle John and me;
And how he spaded the dirt in,
While I was a steadyin' the tree.

And we sot out them maples yonder
When we first moved on to the place;
Why, you wouldn't believe how thrifty they was—
They fairly seemed runnin' a race

Just to see which could grow the faster.
And John, he would laugh and say:
"We'll set in the shade of them trees, wife,
When we're both of us old and gray."

Did you caution me not to weep, child?
Well, you needn't have no fears,
For a sorrow that's deep as mine, Jane,
Isn't the sort for tears.

Besides, there comes your uncle,
And 'twould only make matters worse
For him to see me a lookin'
As doleful as a hearse.

Yes, we'll write as soon as we're settled
And know what we're goin' to do;
And, Jane, you mustn't forget us,
We'll be longin' to hear from you.

And I hope from my very heart, child,
For yourn and William's sakes,
That you'll never know at sixty
What 'tis to pull up stakes.

—ALICE D. ODEKIRK GREENWOOD,
Croton, Ont.

HOCKEY.

The hockey match at Toronto between the Winnipeg teams and the Victorias on Wednesday night resulted in a victory for the visitors 8 to 2.

The council of the Toronto Board of Trade on Wednesday appointed a committee to investigate the influx of American currency. A resolution was adopted by the council favoring a uniform postage rate of 2 cents all over the continent and a committee struck to consider the advisability of urging a reduction in duties of barrel hoop and sheet iron.

"August Flower"

"I inherit some tendency to Dyspepsia from my mother. I suffered two years in this way; consulted a number of doctors. They did me no good. I then used your August Flower and it was just two days when I felt great relief. I soon got so that I could sleep and eat, and I felt that I was well. That was three years ago, and I am still first-class. I am never without a bottle, and if I feel constipated the least particle a dose or two of August Flower does the work. The beauty of the medicine is, that you can stop the use of it without any bad effects on the system. While I was sick I felt everything it seemed to me a man could feel. I was of all men most miserable. I can say, in conclusion, that I believe August Flower will cure anyone of indigestion, if taken with judgment. A. M. Weed, 229 Bellefontaine St., Indianapolis, Ind."

PORT STANLEY HARBOR.

The Local Deputation Interviews Minister Ouimet,

Who Promises the Usual Careful Consideration.

Mayor Essery, Capt. Ellison, Ex-Reeve Payne and Others Speak—Mr. C. H. Ivey Sets Forth Important Reasons Why the Work Should Be Done

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—The London and Port Stanley delegation waited on Mr. Ouimet, Minister of Public Works, this forenoon. They were introduced by Mr. Carling. Mayor Essery, of London, stated the business of the delegation, which was to get a harbor of refuge established at Port Stanley and to have the harbor deepened and the piers extended. They wanted a public grant for a great public object.

Ex-Reeve Payne, Port Stanley, explained that the harbor fees at Port Colborne and Port Dalhousie collected by the Government were only 2 cents per 100 pounds, and at Port Stanley 7 cents. The N. P., he added has taken trade away from the ports and taken it to railway centers. Port Stanley supported the N. P. through thick and thin, and got a thin share of benefit. They wanted something in return now.

Mayor Oill, St. Thomas, and Warden McKillop, Elgin, supported the proposed grant, and Capt. Ellison, Port Stanley, gave practical explanations of the proposed works, and was asked by Mr. Ouimet what assistance the municipalities would give. "We have pretty hard times," explained the Minister. Capt. Ellison said the Government collected a large revenue from the counties of Elgin and Middlesex. "We have practically got nothing back," he added; "we want something now." Mr. Jackson, reeve of Southwold, having spoken, Mr. Ivey, solicitor of the new lessees of the L. and P. S. Railway, explained the great enterprise they had undertaken on condition that the harbor is put in shape. The G. T. R. had contracted to take 400,000 tons of coal by the new route, and it was expected that the C. P. R. would take 100,000 tons this year, all delivered at London. The company intended to incorporate to supply coal as far east as Toronto, and as cargoes for the States they expected to carry lumber, nickel ore and other commodities. He was en route for Montreal to arrange for a line of boats between that point and Port Stanley.

Mr. Carling and Messrs. Ingram, Dr. Roome, Marshall and Hutchins, M.P.s, supported the application.

The Minister advised the London and Port Stanley directors to consider how the harbor might best be managed in the future—whether as a Government work or as at present. He quoted a decision by the Minister of Justice that the Grand Trunk Railway was bound to leave the harbor in as good repair as when it was leased from the old London and Port Stanley board.

Mayor Essery said the present owners could aid the Government to enforce that view if the Government took over the harbor, but the Minister said the Government did not care for litigation, as it always got the worst of it. He promised to carefully consider the whole matter in connection with the L. and P. S. Bill now before Parliament.

Other members of the deputation present were ex-Mayor McCully and Ald. Ferguson and McKay, St. Thomas; T. W. Kirkpatrick, Rodney, and Thos. Jackson, Port Stanley.

TRAGIC FAMILY FEUD.

A Brave Woman Revenges Her Husband's Death and is Riddled With Bullets.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 9.—Two factions in Green county, Tenn., and Madison county, N. C., led on the one hand by Ed. Johnson and on the other by a notorious mountaineer, Jim Cole, have for many years been fighting each other through the courts, certain farming lands being at stake. Yesterday Jim Cole and a friend, Tom Hixon, visited Johnson's house, claiming to have a warrant for Mrs. Johnson's arrest. She called her husband to come to her assistance. His feet were frozen, but he managed to crawl out and open fire on Hixon and Cole. They returned the compliment, and Johnson was killed. Mrs. Johnson ran into the house and returned with a shotgun, the contents of which she emptied into Hixon's breast, killing him. She was then about to fire upon Cole, but he got ahead of her, and with a load of buckshot at close range almost riddled the woman. She fell lifeless across the body of her husband. The Johnsons have six grown children, who say they will revenge the killing of their parents.

MORE SWEET THAN SALUTARY.

Circumstances Under Which Kissing a Little More Than a Little is by Much too Much—It Spreads Disease.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 8.—Dr. C. O. Probst, secretary of the State Board of Health, is giving serious consideration to the smallpox cases in Akron since he received notification of four new cases there this morning, with another just outside the city. He attended the Pastors' Union and gave some wholesome advice upon two important subjects, to wit, "promiscuous kissing" and the "communion cup." He showed in the first place that women were doing too much kissing of one another, and of each other's babies, and that pastors were obliged to kiss too many babies; that contagion was being conveyed from mouth to mouth to a serious extent and advice was given to check this practice to some extent. Again Dr. Probst showed that the use of one cup for 100 or 200 members of a congregation during communion service was a bad and barbarous practice, which had a tendency to spread infection. He suggested that each member of the congregation be provided with his own cup. The pastors agreed with him to some extent and adopted resolutions thanking him and promising to take steps in the line of his suggestions.

The Good Old Times.

Then times were good,
Merchants cared not a rush
For any other fare,
Than Johnny cake and mush.

But now times have changed, and the plain and simple fare of the forefathers is done away with. Patent flour, and high seasoned food, and strong drinks, have taken its place, and, as a result, dyspepsia, impure blood, and diseases of the stomach, liver and lungs are numerous. This great change has led one of the most skillful physicians of the age to study out a remedy for these modern diseases, which he has named his "Golden Medical Discovery." Dr. Pierce in this remedy has found a cure for Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption, in its early stages, and "Liver Complaints."
