

A901
CS
no. 0263
PXXX

Obliged to leave for Paris the day before the Annual Meeting in Queen's Hall, Mr. David Lloyd-George, the Premier of the United Kingdom, was unable to be present as he had hoped. He asked Sir Robert L. Borden, the Premier of Canada, to speak in his stead. Sir Robert Borden's speech gave great pleasure to his crowded audience; and it is here reproduced with his approval.