IF POPE SAYS "GO" PRIEST MUST OBEY

Pontiff's Absolutism Illustrated in Naming an Envoy to The Hague—Mgr. Orsenigo Hesitated to Accept the Post.

Rome, Aug. 23—"Priests and soldiers receive orders and must obey them," were the words of the Pope in deciding the question who should become papal internuncio at the Hague. "You will be the right man in the right place." Monsignor Orsenigo bowed and the matter was closed.

The monsignor has hesitated for conscientious reasons, not considering himself fitted to deal with the responsibilities of the position. But the Pontiff thought otherwise and thus disposed of a problem which for some time had caused speculation in Vatican circles.

Monsignor Orsenigo's life has for the last twenty-five years has been devoted to works of charity. To be torn from the paths he had chosen for himself made him hold back; he was perplexed by the possible difficulties of a diplomatic post which has acquired special importance in view of the Russian conference recently held at The Hague.

Usually the representatives abroad of the Holy See are chosen from among the young priests who have attended the Academy of Noble Ecclesiastics in Rome which has so aptly been called "the nursery of Cardinals." They are generally first sent out as secretaries, and are later promoted until they reach the rank of papal nuncio.

The Pope had met Monsignor Orsenigo in Milan, where he had colloborated with him in a church paper called "St. Charles Borromeo." Pius XI noticed then the monsignor's great culture; his fluent knowledge of modern languages, and the historical insight shown in some books he had published. These qualities the Pope remembered when the question arose of whom to send to The Hague, and his decision was made.

HILL SAYS HAYNES EMPLOYING FRANKS FOR PROPAGANDA

Washington, Aug. 22—Representative Hill, Republican, today addressed a letter to Secretary Mellon, requesting the immediate removal of Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, who, Mr. Hill charged, is engaged "in defrauding the United States government in that he is using and causing to be used the official mail franks of the treasury department for sending out of personal political propoganda in the interest of himself and his associates, the Anti-Saloon League."

DARWIN A PIKER ON EVOLUTION ALONG SIDE BOOK OF GENESIS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23—"Byran ought to attack Darwin as a hidebound reactionary, whose notions regarding the slow rate of modification of species seriously challenges the truth of evolution, as taught by the Bible," says Charles V. Piper, agrostologist of the United States Department of Agriculture.

No serious scientific man will admit that human evolution has proceeded as rapidly as the story of Genesis necessarily implies, he declares. Chronologists figure that according to this story the creation of man took place about 4004 B. C. Acceptance of such a date carries the implication that all existing types of man—white, red, yellow, brown and black—Japanese, Malay and Negrito have all descended from Adam and Eve in that

MOTION PICTURE WHICH TALKS HAS BEEN PERFECTED

Actor's Voice is Transformed Into Electrial Waves.

New York, Aug. 23—It was announced at the De Forest Laboratory in Jersey City that Dr. Lee De Forest, pioneer wireless inventor, would return from Germany the middle of September and demonstrate for the first time his latest invention, the phonofilm, a talking moving picture he has been working on for several years.

Charles Gilbert, president of the De Forest Telephone and Telegraph Company told a reporter that he had received a letter from Dr. De Forest saying that his invention was a success, and explained the device.

It was made possible, Mr. Gilbert said, by the audion lamp—the three-element vacuum tube now used in radio work—on which Dr. De Forest took out the first patents in 1906.

"In the talking picture," explained Mr. Gilbert, "the sound waves (the voice of the actor) are translated into electrical waves. The electrical waves are translated into light waves, and these are recorded on the edge of the film.

"In reproducing the picture the light waves are translated back into electrical waves, which waves are translated back into sound waves and these are amplified with loud speakers placed near the screen for the audience.

"The whole process is performed in the audion tube, which is exactly the same tube employed in radio, except that the elements may be larger or smaller, as required by the individual operation.

"Dr. De Forest has been working on the invention for several years, and last August went to Germany to continue his research work," added Mr. Gilbert. "He will return on the George Washington, of the United States line, next month to give his first public demonstration."

TRIES TO RUN OVER INJURED POLICEMAN

Driver of Stolen Auto Baffled In Attempt by Another Patrolman.

New York, Aug. 22.—Patrolman Edward Cooke, thirty-seven, of the Flushing Precinct, is in the Flushing Hospital suffering from a compound fracture of the right leg sustained when he was thrown from a taxicab during a chase after two automobile thieves. Julius Gaal of 19 West Saunathes road, Kingston, N. Y., is held under $5,000 bail for Queens Grand Jury. Detectives are seeking two other men who escaped in a Chandler touring car which they had stolen from the garage of Henry Weincke at 6 Mitchell avenue, Flushing.

According to Patrolman Henry Roelich, Gaal deliberately attempted to run over Cooke. The car was found later in Astoria, abandoned.

Weincke was awakened by the noise of his automobile being started. He rose and saw it being driven into Mitchell avenue. He called the police and a general alarm was sent out.

Patrolman Roelich, stationed at the booth on the Flushing bridge, had hardly hung up the receiver when he saw two automobiles turn into Lawrence street, a few hundred feet from the bridge at high speed. He and Patrolman Cooke gave chase in a taxicab.

The chase led down Lawrence street into North Hempstead turnpike for two miles. The two patrolman stood on either running board of the taxicab, which gradually overtook the second automobile, a Chevrolet sedan. Patrolman Roelich leaped from the taxicab and landed on the running board of the Chevrolet while both cars were going at top speed.

Patrolman Cooke told the taxicab driver to keep on after the Chandler. Then the cab hit a bump and Cooke was thrown to the ground. Coming toward him was the Chevrolet.

"The driver started deliberately for Cooke as he lay on the ground," said Patrolman Roelich later. "I grabbed the wheel, swerved the car to the side of the road and brought it to a stop."

The taxicab took Cooke to the hospital. Roelich returned to the Flushing station house with the Chevrolet and its driver, Julius Gaal.

Detective Fallon of the Flushing precinct said Gaal had been arrested previously for stealing automobile tires in Corona. Fallon said that Gaal questioning made possible the recovery of a quantity of stolen automobile tires.

The Chevrolet sedan was identified and claimed by Nicholas Gilroy of 10 Leavitt avenue, Flushing. Weincke's garage had been forcibly entered.

BRITAIN REDUCING ADVERSE BALANCE

Further Recovery Indicated by Last Month's Foreign Trade Figures.

(Special Cable to the New York Times and Montreal Gazette).

London, Aug. 20—The foreign trade figures of Great Britain for July are recognized here as showing further though comparatively slight recovery from the deep depression which had prevailed. The adverse balance of £13,000,000 for the month since March, and was £10,000,000 less than in June. Compared with a year ago, it had been reduced more than one-half.

The inference from the figures is that England is feeding herself more cheaply, because although the quantity of wheat received was greater than last year by about 2,000,000 cwts., the value was slightly less than in 1921. Imports of raw material continue to rise, a fact from which it is inferred either that stocks on hand have fallen unduly low or else that better trade is expected.

It must be rembered, however, that the increase of £16,250,000 in exports as compared with a year ago was due very largely to the fact that last year our exports were being curtailed by the disastrous coal strike. During the first seven months of 1922 the excess of imports over exports, £83,000,000 was only about one-half the similar excess during the same period last year.

POSING FOR PICTURE, BATHER DROWNS

Swept Into Deep Water as Her Father was About to Snap Camera.

New York, Aug. 23—While posing in her bathing suit for her father to take a snap shot photograph of her, Miss Elizabeth Mautner, sixteen years old, of 1,317 Franklin avenue, the Bronx, fell in the Rahway River at Rahway, N. J., and was drowned. The drowning occurred a block from the Rahway Yacht Club pier, but the accident was so sudden that the girl could not be rescued.

Miss Mautner, who could not swim, was standing knee deep in the water. A sudden rush of the current is believed to have caused her to lose her footing. She slipped and fell almost within arm's length of her father, and was quickly carried out from the bank into deep water.

James Stevens, nineteen years old, who was returning from fishing, jumped from the bank with his clothes on in an attempt to save the girl. She grabbed him about the neck as he approached. He broke her hold and started to swim with her ashore, when she seized him again, pulling him under water. Stevens broke her hold for the second time, but was so exhausted that he regained shore with difficulty.

In the meantime Miss Mautner had sunk for the third time. Her body was recovered forty minutes later.

IS 11 YEARS OLD BUT A DESPERADO

Boy Holds Up Officers, Terroroizes Town and Escapes with $30,000 Loot.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 23 — Claude Eagle, the 11-year-old 'bad man" of Corbin, Ky., has temporarily ended his desperate career. After terrorizing the town, holding up two officers, who chased him to a moving freight train, eluding a posse and escaping with nearly $30,000 loot, Claude was arrested in Richmond, Ky.

He was caught while trying to sell a woman's gold watch and chain which he had stolen in Richmond, which town he reached by walking 50 miles over the mountains.

None of the money and jewelry with which Claude left Corbin has been recovered. He is in jail in Richmond, but he is so small he can slip between the bars of his cell, and Jailer Rogers watches him constantly.

Under the terms of the agreement freight handlers will be increased two cents an hour over the old scale. Vacation and sick leave with Saturday half holiday have been restored to the men, it was said.
