THE TORONTO WORLD.

THURSDAY MORNING, FEB. 12, 1885.

THE WASTE OF CITY WATER.

When the waterworks committee met at the city hall yesterday afternoon, Ald. Walker (chairman), Mayor Manning and a full quorum of the members were in attendance.

Mr. Carswell put in an appearance to ask an allowance of discount on a water bill not paid before the period for granting discounts had elapsed. Mr. Carswell's bill was something like $300, and as the members hated to see him lose too much they gave him $114 discount.

The city engineer's report dilated on the need of efficient measures to check the waste of city water. Mayor Manning gave his support to these views. No action was taken.

A sub-committee was ordered to consider whether Contractor Hamilton should not be engaged to make repairs to the pumping well at the engine house.

The engineer reported that owing to a defect in the tubes of a boiler at the engine house fourteen hours were lost in repairs. Further investigation will be made.

A request for a $15,000 extra interim appropriation was held over.

The committee talked and finally united to ask applications for the position of waterworks manager at $1500 a year.

Property Committee.

In the property committee Ald. Irwin, chairman, presiding, and all the members being present, the following business was transacted:

A sub-committee appointed to come to an agreement with the police commissioners about the new west end police station. The aldermen consider the station now contemplated is far too costly. A sub committee was named to act with Mr. Solicitor McWilliams on the Holt lease matter. The lease, the committee think, should be forfeited. Accounts were passed and the committee adjourned.

A Budget of Methodist Church News.

The Gerrard street church was organized three years ago as a mission of the Sherbourne street church with a membership of five. The members now number 124, and during the past quarter they contributed for ministerial support alone $170, besides paying all running expenses of the church.

According to the Guardian, the revival services in Berkeley street church, continues with unabated interest, and almost every night witnesses the conversion of souls.

At the time of D. L. Moody's visit to Toronto, representatives of the different churches pledged themselves to raise their proportionate share of the expense. The proportion that was to be raised by the methodist church has not yet been made up. About $150 is still required. Wm. Gooderham will receive subscriptions.

Sherbourne street church, though one of the youngest city churches, has already won front rank in zeal and liberality. In missionary gifts it stands second in the province and third in the dominion, being surpassed only by the Metropolitan, Toronto, and St. James street, Montreal.

The attendance at the Metropolitan Sunday school last Sabbath was the largest on its record, there being present 584 teachers and scholars. It is now, with the new rooms and apparatus, probably the best equipped school in Canada.

A very interesting meeting is now in progress in the Carlton street church, at which quite a number have presented themselves as seekers, several of whom have professed conversion.

The Gloves Were Worn Out.

Eg Brothers engaged a short time ago as coachman for Wm. Croft, Rosedale, and was presented with a cape and pair of driving gloves, the understanding being that Brothers was to return them when leaving. He only remained in the situation two weeks, but meantime the gloves were lost, and Croft demanded that they be paid for. The coachman kicked, but Croft was obstinate and took the amount from Brothers' wages when settling. The result was that Brothers had Croft before the magistrate, charged with non-payment of wages. While the complaint was giving evidence Croft, jr., who appeared for his father, asked him if the gloves were not considered part payment of wages, and he replied that the gloves were so badly worn out that he would not wear them. The magistrate ordered Croft to pay Brothers $2, the amount retained.

At the Police Court.

The drunks were rushed through to quick music yesterday. John Callon alias Webster, assaulting Ida Hawkins, was ordered to pay $2 and costs or spend 30 days in jail. Wm. Brown and Frank Roberts, stealing two woolen shirts from I. J. Cooper, pleaded guilty and were each sent down for five days. Cornelius Driscoll, stealing roll of cloth, remanded for week. For neglecting to use a snow shovel and remove the snow in front of their residences the following were each fined $1 and costs or ten days: H. Bell, R. Millichamp, Geo. Pearsall, Geo. Gall, D. Dunn, H. Franklin, James Robinson, D. G. Williams, Henry Pellett, Mrs. Fulford, F. Sykes, Patrick Kinnear and E. O. Bickford. A number of other snow cases were enlarged.

About St. Andrew's Church.

The fifty-fourth annual report of St. Andrew's church, Toronto, has just been issued. The number of communicants on the roll is 647; added during the year, 85; removed by certificate, 22; by death, 5; net increase during the year, 17. The income of the church for the year was $23,404, and the expenditure $21,055. The report shows that the liberality of contribution to the schemes of the church and for worthy benevolent purposes has been amply maintained. The two missions, St. Mark's and Dorset, have been well sustained and have done excellent work during the year. A handsome addition was also made to the salary of the pastor, Rev. D. J. Macdonnell, B. D.

Wholesale Law Business.

Martin Frawley of Parkdale is bound to secure damages from some one, he having issued writs against the village of Parkdale, the city of Toronto, the Grand Trunk, Toronto, Grey & Bruce, Northern & Northwestern, and Ontario & Quebec railways to recover the sum of $5000 damages, claiming that on account of their negligence he fell into the subway on the boundary line between Parkdale and the city while crossing Queen street, and received severe injuries.

BOARD OF TRADE BUSINESS.

Additional British Mails—A Word in Behalf of Smelting Works.

There were ten proposals of membership at the meeting of the board of trade yesterday, as follows: C. Brough, A. A. Allen, James Pepler, M. J. Mitchell, G. F. Frankland, W. B. Milner, R. J. Score, Philip Jacobi, James Carruthers, Hamilton Kane and R. J. Wylie.

President Darling submitted a letter from the postmaster in reference to the British mails, in which Mr. Patteson said:

I find that any list I can get of steamer sailings to be totally unreliable, the list furnished by the New York postoffices and from the various steamer offices being entirely dissimilar. The most I can do in our February guide is to add the name of the line carrying each mail, and I have also obtained permission to send a mail by the Union steamers leaving New York fortnightly. Ships sail Tuesday (one day before Cunard) and the mail will have to close here at 2.30 p. m. Saturdays in winter, and 9 p. m. Saturdays in summer.

C. J. Pusey having addressed the board in support of an application now before the local government to give a land grant for the purpose of assisting to build a short line of railway to reach the smelting works at Snowdon, in the Haliburton district, on condition of the performance of settlement duties; it was moved by Wm. Ince and seconded by H. S. Howland:

That this board having heard the statements of Mr. Pusey, and his explanation of the prospects of the company, and being anxious to see the resources of the province developed, be it resolved that this board use its best exertions in urging the provincial government to aid the project of granting the necessary wild lands to enable the company to proceed with the smelting of iron ore in the townships of Snowden, Glamorgan, Monmouth, Cardiff and Faraday.

On motion of Mr. Rose the following gentlemen were appointed a deputation to wait on the government in reference to the matter: The president, Messrs. Howland, Ince, Jaffray, Elliot, W. D. Matthews and W. B. Hamilton, with power to add to their number.

Opening a New Organ.

The grand organ which has recently been placed in St. Andrew's church, King street, was opened last night. The church was filled to its utmost capacity. Edward Fisher presided at the organ and played selections from Mendelssohn, Beethoven, Batiste, Lemmens and Bach. These numbers afforded ample opportunity for the display of the wonderful power and mechanical qualities of the instrument. The execution was characteristic of great clearness and sympathy, and displayed a thoroughly artistic conception of the compositions. The choir, seventy strong, rendered "The Heavens are Telling," Haydn; "Unfold" chorus from Gounod's Redemption, and the "Hallelujah" chorus from the Messiah, the first two being particularly well executed. Several hymns were also sung, in which the audience joined heartily. Rev. D. J. Macdonnell, the pastor, delivered an address entitled Church Music, in which he dealt with his subject under the heads of Hebrew and Christian music, tracing it from the earliest records of its origin down to the present time. He favored the use of the organ in church and congregational singing, and he also thought that anthems were helpful rather than detrimental to true worship, if they were listened to in a proper spirit. A collection was taken up on behalf of the organ fund.

At the Grand.

Upwards of four hundred people were disappointed on account of there being no matinee yesterday. The only Wages of Sin matinee will be Saturday afternoon, the sale of seats for which commences today. The play is above the ordinary and is produced in good style.

Joaquin Miller's new play, entitled Tally-ho, will be the attraction Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Wednesday matinee, Feb. 16, 17 and 18. The Brooklyn Eagle says of it: Illuminated by the genius and artistic ability of so competent an actor as Mr. Downing, it is destined to achieve a far wider success than either the Danites or Forty-nine, and to take the place in public estimation so long held by My Partner, with which favorite drama it has much in common. In Tally-ho the writer has sought to present a living picture of the famous old stage driver of the Sierras, Hank Monk, whose name is indissolubly linked with that of Horace Greeley. In the pursuit of this purpose he has constructed a simple story, which is at once interesting, entertaining, refreshing and invigorating, and, above all, probable and real.

The Bon Marche for silks and satins.

A Water Pipe Explodes.

The water pipes connected with a stove at No. 354 Ontario street froze Tuesday night, and when the fire was started yesterday morning they exploded, smashing the stove to smithereens. The inmates were badly frightened, and rang an alarm, giving the firemen a run in the cold breezy morning air with the thermometer at 18 degrees below zero, for nothing, as the house did not catch. Damage estimated at $25.

His Nose the Weak Spot.

This is a blawsted country, anyhow," said a strapping big Englishman to a reporter yesterday. "Why here, I've only been in the bloomin' place four weeks, and I've had my nose froze four times." The nose was indeed a sight to behold, being as large as a turnip, and nearly akin to the color of coal. He vowed he would start for "'ome" again, and never more visit these shores.

Captains at Loggerheads.

Taylor v. Hall was the first case called before Judge Boyd at the maritime court yesterday. Captain Taylor sues Captain Hall, owner of the tug W. T. Robb, for $130 for wages, damages and wrongful dismissal. Defendant counter claims for $2100 damages received by tug while bringing a tow down Lake Superior under command of plaintiff.

Little Left.

Information was received by Assistant Deputy Chief Stewart yesterday forenoon that Thomas Little, the man who shot Constable Armstrong, was hiding in a house on River street, and a posse was despatched, but on arrival discovered that a mistake had been made, as the house was occupied by a respectable widow who had never heard of Little.

Rising Young Canadians.

Parnell and Walters are making quite a reputation for themselves as Irish comedians. They took part in an entertainment at St. Andrew's hall the other night under the auspices of St. Vincent de Paul society and brought down the house with their songs, dances and funny stories. The two make a strong team and deserve to prosper.

Where Does He Live.

He lives up at 205 Queen street west, and you just take that old turnip of a watch up to him and he will make it keep time like a chronometer. He fixed mine, and mind you Doherty takes the bun for repairing watches of any kind.

LOCAL NEWS PARAGRAPHED.

Ald. Piper won the $150 music box raffled at Headquarters last night.

The plan of seats for the Twain-Cable readings opens this morning at Suckling's warerooms.

The flagstaff on the main building, exhibition grounds, was broken the other night by the strong wind blowing.

The amateur minstrels may play in Hamilton on Feb. 21. They meet to-night with a view of making their organization permanent.

Chief of Police Willing, London, is in the city looking hale and hearty. He called on his old friends at police headquarters last night.

For the week ending Feb. 7 the total number of letters delivered by carriers were 160,148; of these 5776 were registered. Total number of newspapers 44,779.

A building permit was issued yesterday to J. B. Eager for the erection of a pair of semi-detached brick dwellings on Beverley street, near College street, to cost $5000.

Richard Searls is now suffering from a broken leg, the outcome of a sleigh ride Tuesday night, when the horse ran away and threw him out on the corner of George and Queen streets. Dr. Cassidy set the injured limb.

The concert and social in Albert hall on Monday night was given by the Maple Leaf and I. C. B. U. bands and not by the Emerald society, as stated. D. A. Carey occupied the chair, J. J. Murphy being unable to be present.

The World has once more the proud honor of being the only one cent morning paper in Canada, Peter Mitchell, the new proprietor of the Montreal Herald, having raised the price of that paper to its old figure, three cents.

Messrs. Rowan, Duncan, Jackson, McMath and Richardson (warden) were appointed a sub-committee yesterday by the courthouse committee of the county council to obtain legislation in connection with the agreement with the city relating to the new courthouse.

Manager Dill's Benefit.

The keen, cold, icy wind which crept into the small of one's back, and brought to mind the north pole, did not retard large crowds of merry young people from flocking to Manager Dill's benefit at the Adelaide street roller skating rink last night, thereby attesting to the popularity of that gentleman. Although there were many skaters, the crowd of visitors was still larger, and altogether it was the gayest and largest crowd that was ever present in the rink. "King of Bicyclists" is the only name by which W. G. Hurst can be called. The skill with which he managed his machine was wonderful, and the tricks performed were numerous and varied. He turned somersaults, back somersaults, handsprings, etc., from the bicycle, and caught the machine before falling. His closing act, which was to vault clean over the bicycle, mount it, and turn a somersault, was successfully performed, and in response to repeated encores he bowed his acknowledgements. Mr. Hurst is amateur champion all round gymnast of America, and is now winning fresh laurels on the "fiery untamed steed." The two mile race for a silver cup was very exciting, and was won by Thompson.

Art Loan Exhibition.

The loan collection exhibition will probably open Saturday, Feb. 14. The pictures are now upon the walls, and the catalog will be out to-morrow. The most attractive pictures will be the St. Celia of Gab. Max and the Organist, by Eakins. Both are on large canvasses, and painted in a masterly manner by artists of entirely different schools. Those who viewed the picture of Max's, the Raising of Jarius' Daughter, will in the St. Celia see an equally great painting. This picture is all light; that of Mr. Eakins veiled in deep and rich shadow.

Uncle Tom's Cabin at Mouford's.

Uncle Tom's Cabin appears to good advantage at Montiford's museum this week. The play is in good hands and the plantation singers and bloodhounds tend to make it quite realistic. Performance every afternoon and night.

UNITED STATES NEWS.

The coal companies have advanced prices at the mine 10c. and 15c. a ton.

Three female paupers were burnt to death in a shanty near Monticello, Ill., on Monday night. Their remains were handed to some medical students, who marched through the town flourishing the bones.

Mrs. Dudley was arraigned at New York yesterday on a writ of habeas corpus, but the judge declined to interfere with the ordinary course of justice. Mrs. Dudley is accordingly at the mercy of O'Donovan Rossa and a lot of democratic ward politicians.

The diary of Lieut. Kislingbury, who was one of the victims in the Greely expedition, has been thrown open to public inspection at Washington. It is a record of continual bickerings between Greely and the deceased, reminding one forcibly of the jealousies of the Englishman and the American in Jules Verne's Sea of Ice.

A Full Wallet.

The Hamilton Spectator of yesterday has this to say about a citizen of this fair city: John Cash, M.D., a member of the Toronto medical fraternity, was picked up early this morning by Constable Barrow near the corner of James and Rebecca street. He was enjoying a peaceful slumber while the icy breath of a blizzard swept over him, nipping his ears and fingers. He was quite unconscious of the state he was in, but his eyes were opened when brought before the magistrate. His ears by that time had assumed tremendous proportions, and the effects of his outing were plainly discernable. The magistrate took compassion on him and said he might go. He went, with many thanks, and proceeded to a drug store to have his frost bites attended to.

An evening paper publishes the following as coming from a member of one of the toboggan clubs: "If the editor of the Herald will visit one of the hills and take a slide with the writer, he will promise that an accident will happen that will be worth publishing an account out."—Montreal Gazette.

People are saying that the Royal Montreal Golf club ball was one of the prettiest ever given in the city. It was a brilliant success. The committee's arrangements as to music and other accessories were perfect, while it is said there have been very few balls where there were more pretty girls.—Montreal Star.

A trotting meeting will be held at Woodbine on Thursday and Friday, Feb. 19 and 20. On the first day there will be a race for 2.50 trotters and 2.30 pacers and trotters. On the second day a local race and a free-for-all will make up the program. Seven hundred dollars will be given in purses for the four events. Joe Duggan is treasurer and Frank Martin secretary.

A meeting of the stewards of the Province of Quebec Turf club was held Tuesday afternoon, when the following were elected officers for the ensuing year: President, Andrew Allan; vice-presidents, Joseph Hickson and John Crawford; honorary treasurer, Chas. Cassils; secretary, Duncan Robertson. There was also some discussion on the question of procuring a site for a race course, and the feeling of the meeting seemed to be strongly in favor of the movement.

The race recently rowed over the Thames course, London, between professionals and an amateur eight from the London Rowing club, was a peculiar one. The amateurs rowed with sweeps, and the professionals occupied a boat which was rigged for eight pairs of sculls. The amatours concluded that the sculls alone had defeated them, and not the men, but on changing boats the professionals again beat the amateurs with sweeps against sculls.

The news comes all the way from Australia that Hanlan contemplates ordering a paper shell in addition to his cedar boats. The latter he probably has by this time, but if he wants the paper affair he would be well advised to cease contemplating and send his order unless he also "contemplates" rowing across the Pacific in her. He doubtless also contemplates beating Beach next month, and it is to be hoped he will do it so thoroughly that the Australian will think he knows more about ferry boats than rowing in a racing shell.

There was, it is rumored, to have been a billiard hippodrome last night in Albert hall, in which Schaefer and Wallace, two manipulators from the other side, were to show up in form. The pair at last accounts were snow-bound in the country that suffers no inconvenience from wintry weather, and whose people are accustomed to poke weak fun at Canada, a country that has so far suffered considerably less than Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, Wisconsin and Michigan, to say nothing of such God-forsaken holes as Oregon, Washington Territory, Minnesota and Montana. When they are thawed out it is stated Schaefer and Wallace will probably materialize. In the meantime the affair is indefinitely postponed.

CABLE NOTES.

Turkish papers have been prohibited from publishing news from the Soudan or commenting upon the situation there.

A Norwegian bark bound for New York and the British steamer Zoe collided near Gibraltar yesterday. Both vessels sank, but the crews were saved.

The First Instalment.

Dominion Churchman: Immediately the decision was given in Langtry v. Dumoulin, checks for $1000 each were sent to the several rectors interested. The money soon melted away in the discharge of legal liabilities and honorary obligations incurred owing to the very inadequate incomes of several of the recipients. "Owe no man anything" is a very hard precept when the stipend is not sufficient for the needs of a family. It was hard also to fulfil the latter clause "to love one another" when a half-starving clergyman saw his wife and babes in want of necessaries, while another was hoarding up by scores of thousands the very money which was legally the property of the one in distress! That scandal is ended.

A Frozen Lake.

From the Hamilton Times.

The western end of Lake Ontario is covered with ice and snow for many miles. As far as can be seen from the top of the mountain the ice stretches away down the lake. The extent of the ice is greater than ever before known on Lake Ontario. There is a travelled road on the lake from the Beach across the bend to Burlington. City Clerk Beasley's father once crossed Lake Erie on the ice from Port Dover to the American shore, but no one can recollect a passage across Lake Ontario on the ice. A few winters ago Bronte fishermen claimed to have been far enough out on the ice to see Port Dalhousie. It seems probable that the lake could be crossed as far down as Oakville now. Tremendous ice banks are piled high along the shore at the beach, and the ice will remain firm as long as the wind continues from the west.

Seventy-five cents will buy a dog-skin muff at the Bon Marche.

DEATHS.

NUDEL—On the 9th inst., John T. Nudel, clerk of the police court, aged 55 years.

The funeral will take place on Thursday, the 12th inst., at 3 p.m. sharp, from his late residence, 89 Charles street. Friends and acquaintances will please accept this intimation.
