THE MASSES AROUSED THE SLEEPING DOGS

Witte Says That Lloyd-George Alone Is Not Responsible.

[Canadian Phess.]

London, April 20.—It is reported that the Government has decided to accelerate the passage of the veto bill through the House of Commons, so that it may go up to the House of Lords by May 16. If necessary, this reason will be attained by a recourse to the guillotine measure.

Widespread discussion has been aroused on the continent by the far-reaching changes in Great Britain's constitutional system, which are involved in the bill. The Telegraph publishes an article from Count Witte, the famous Russian statesman, who says: "Mr. Lloyd-George has been accused of bringing things to a crisis. It was he, they say, who roused the sleeping dogs. I cannot share this view. The economic reform with which he has associated his name is one of those ideas which no man calls into being. In time the masses will assimilate them."

"They become forces which it is dangerous to open up in England."

FORMER GALT MAN KILLED AT DETROIT

Clothing Caught in Wheel, and His Body Pulled In.

Detroit, April 20.—William Vollmer, aged 32, engineer at the Michigan Beef Company, Waterman and Dix avenues, was killed yesterday by being mangled in one of the machines near which he worked. There were no witnesses to the accident and he was found afterward as he lay unconscious on the floor.

It is supposed his clothing became caught in one of the wheels and his body pulled in. One of his legs was torn from its socket and his body otherwise mutilated. He died on the way to St. Mary's Hospital. His clothing was torn to shreds.

He roomed at 1089 Vermont avenue, and formerly lived in Galt, Ont.

TEACHERS FOR SUPERANNUATION

Committee Appointed by Convention to Agitate for It.

LAY PLAN BEFORE GOVT.

Important Step Taken by the Gathering at Toronto Yesterday.

Toronto, April 20. — A firm determination on the part of the teachers of the Province to bring to a successful issue the movement inaugurated some time ago to establish a superannuation fund for those who, through old age or other causes, are compelled to retire from active work in their profession, was shown at the general meeting of the Ontario Educational Association held in Convocation Hall last evening.

The report of the committee on superannuation was adopted. It recommended the appointment of another special committee representing all the sections and departments of the association, with instructions to urge as strongly as possible a superannuation fund scheme upon the Government.

Two interesting addresses were delivered at the meeting, one by Mr. F. W. Merchant, president of the association, on the ideals to be maintained in educational circles, and the other by Dr. A. Ross Hill, president of the University of Missouri, on the subject of "Vocational Training and Culture."

The officers of the association for the ensuing year were elected also. Mr. J. H. Laughton, of Parkhill, was elected president. It fell to the trustees' department of the association to nominate a president this year, and Mr. Laughton was the only nomination. Mr. R. W. Dean, for the thirty-first time, was elected secretary of the association, and Mr. W. J. Hendry, of Toronto, treasurer.

Idealism and Realism.

President Merchant's address hinted upon the interrogation, is there any opposition between ideas and practice or realization? His answer was in the negative. He outlined briefly what was meant by idealism and realism, and showed how a large number of people had come to regard them as incompatible systems of thought, and in what respects such an attitude as this was erroneous. He strongly affirmed that they were not distinct and separate ways of thinking about the conduct of life, but were only two phases of one mode of conduct and thought, and that it was by no means an impossibility to harmonize the two. Especially in educational processes, he declared, was this fusion or harmony both desirable and easy to accomplish. Education which did not effect a harmony between idealism and realism, between theory and practice, was not education.

President Hill, who is a Canadian by birth and a graduate of Dalhousie College in New Brunswick, outlined the problem confronting educators, both in Ontario and in the states of the middle west, as to how to strike a balance between vocational training in the schools and the means whereby a broad culture in the students may be attained. He stated that there was an increasing demand in the primary and secondary schools and the colleges of the United States from the students for vocational training.

The vocational motive, he said, was an entirely worthy one, and educators should remember that truth-seeking was not a matter of direct concern in itself on the part of the students. Culture was a matter of insight into and appreciation of modern needs and problems. On the other hand there were dangers lurking in the attempt to gain a vocational training solely. "The very exactness and definiteness and precision of instruction," said he, "afforded in technical schools is liable to produce narrowness of view and application." He concluded by saying: "We ought to welcome the movement in favor of vocational training, but we need to watch its tendencies, for we may lose sight of the tremendous significance of fundamental insight. Our highest ambition should be to make the students independent of us."

PERSONAL HYGIENE FOR CURRICULUM

Teachers Urge Plan to Preserve Moral Purity in Schools.

Toronto, April 20.—"Resolved, that a petition be sent to the Hon. Dr. Pyne, minister of education, urging him to take the necessary steps to place personal hygiene and moral purity in the curriculum of studies, and to have treatises on these subjects printed in pamphlet or booklet form for teaching and reading by the pupils."

This resolution was passed by the trustee section of the Ontario Educational Association yesterday afternoon, following a lengthy discussion on the subject. At the morning session a deputation from the Canadian Purity Education Association was received, and all who participated in the discussion of the matter expressed the opinion that conditions of a generally immoral nature prevailed among school children, especially in Toronto.

Dr. A. D. Watson, president of the Purity Association, in introducing the deputation, said:

"I am sure that every member of this association is in sympathy with the hope that the youth of Canada may be able to hold their own with the youth of other lands and worthy to become leaders in the best life and thought and achievement of the age. That such an ideal shall be realized without systematic attention to the laws of life and health and the principles of truth and justice and faith-keeping seems to me impossible."

Dr. Watson said he believed the time had come for the Government to take action in regard to proper sex morality training in the schools of the province. Many were prejudiced he said, against the social purity lectures that have been delivered to men and boys during the past few years on the ground that they wrought more harm than good. He agreed that this was partly the case, and attributed the cause to the exhibition of pictures that only lent a vulgar aspect to the lecture and depicted low ideals and suggestions.

PLAN DEMONSTRATION AGAINST MORMONISM

Clergy and Laity Unite to Bring Growing Agitation to a Head.

[Canadian Press.

London, April 20.—In order to bring to a focus as rapidly as possible the growing agitation against Mormonism, a demonstration, representing all religious denominations, will be held in Holborn Hall, London, on April 28. The Right Rev. James Cowell, dean of Manchester and formerly bishop of Calcutta, and Metropolitan of India, will preside. Addresses will be made by prominent members of the clergy and laity, and the Government will be urged to take measures to prevent the luring of British girls to Utah.

NEW SARNIA PLANTS IN EARLY FUTURE

Several American Companies to Establish Branch Factories.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, April 19.—It is pretty nearly an assured fact that before very long Sarnia will have a couple of new industries, and that several of those already located here will make large extensions. At the council meeting on Monday evening, a letter was read from the Port Huron Creamery, in which the company stated that they wished to locate in Sarnia, and asked the council to relieve them of the transient traders' fee. This will be agreed to, and the creamery will be located in the old Cromwell street depot of the Grand Trunk until a suitable site can be obtained.

It has also been learned that the American Brewing Company intend locating a branch in Canada, and at present negotiations are under way to bring the plant here. It is altogether likely the move will be successful, as representatives of the firm have been in town and are favorably impressed.

A Refinery Extension.

The refinery is planning an extension which will employ 100 extra men, and it is likely the work will be started right away.

The Sarnia Fence Company are also preparing plans for an addition to their new plant on South Christina street. The company has just lately moved into their new premises, and they have found it necessary to keep running their old plant in order to keep up with the orders.

The foundations for the Ontario Canning Company factory have been completed, and the rest of the work will be rushed ahead. A large gang of men are at work on the property, and it is thought the plant will be in full running operation before the middle of the summer.

The prospects of having a new sash and door factory located here are exceedingly bright, and already a large amount of money has been subscribed towards the enterprise. Mr. A. H. Diver, of Trenton, has invested $25,000, and on the strength of this, and Mr. Diver's well-known business abilities, a large lot of local capital has been subscribed. A suitable site has been found, and work will be commenced shortly.

INTERNATIONAL POLICY AND OVER-SEAS LANDS

Imperial Defence Committee to Confer With the Various Premiers.

London, April 19.—In the House of Commons, the Hon. Rupert Guinness moved: "That this House is of opinion that the discussion of the international situation should be added to the programme of the Imperial Conference." He urged the appointment of a responsible minister to travel through the dominions overseas, and suggested that each of the dominions should have an imperial minister. If the foreign office had been in closer touch with the dominions they might have been brought into previous consultation on the declaration of London. The colonies now finding themselves in touch on many points as to their relations with foreign nations, some were providing their own fleets, and it was certain that in future there would be an inclination to stand more on their own. Unless the dominions were consulted freely on matters of foreign policy, serious differences of opinion might arise.

Mr. Ormsby Gore seconded the motion, urging the necessity of knitting close the world-wide Empire for purposes of defence. What was suggested was that before the Imperial Conference discussed the motion of Australia for the close co-operation of the imperial navy with the dominions' navies, the dominions' premiers be instructed by the foreign secretary on the foreign policy of the mother country and its relation to their naval policy.

Mr. Eliot Crawshaw-Williams argued for a consultative commission, in which could be found closer co-operation for the carrying on of the Empire.

The Right Hon. Thomas McKinnon Wood explained that there would be several opportunities for the consideration of international matters by members of the imperial conference, and private discussion with the foreign secretary could be supplemented by discussions at the conference regarding matters of defence involving international relations and by consultations with the committee of imperial defence.

The Right Hon. Alfred Lyttelton asked whether the under-secretary would give a pledge that the premier and foreign secretary would meet the representatives of the dominions, explain the lines of foreign policy, and take the visitors' opinion on it.

Mr. Lewis Harcourt said it had always been the intention of the Government to take them into consultation. "We shall withhold no information they desire, and proffer them all useful knowledge that may be of use to them in the great service they have to perform, but we shall do so with absolute secrecy, and I must warn this House that we cannot be liable to be asked what information we have given and on what subjects.

"It has always been our intention," continued Mr. Harcourt, "to summon those prime ministers to a meeting or meetings of the committee of imperial defence. Of that committee the prime minister is president, and many of the ministers, including myself, are members. It will meet the dominions' premiers in secrecy and they will be able to receive that information, and probably more than that which has been suggested even by the debates in this House."

The Hon. Rupert Guinness thanked the Government for the announcement and withdrew his motion.

DIAZ TO STICK.

London, April 20.—A late edition of the Mail prints the following from Diaz, replying to the Mail's inquiry as to his rumored retirement:

"I occupy the post of president at the republic's mandate. As long as the country needs my services it is my duty to give them it following the same line of conduct which I have always observed."

EPLOSION AND FIRE.

Chicago, April 20.—Three persons supposed to have been burned to death in a fire which followed an explosion last night at the wholesale liquor store of Jos. Morici & Co., were reported today as having left the building safely. Morici and his partner Peter Mussuracet whom the police arrested for alleged suspicious action during the fire each had a loaded revolver when taken into custody. Nothing was found which confirmed the explosion theory caused by Black Handers.
