RATES LOWERED FOR CALL MONEY

Encouraging Indication at New York — More Gold Shipped to Ottawa.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Reduction in the rate for call money from 8 to 7 per cent. was the most significant financial development today. The higher rate was established soon after the outbreak of the war and has prevailed since that time for most day to day loans. Large amounts were placed at the reduced rate and some relaxation of long-time maturities naturally followed.

Foreign exchange was stronger as the direct outcome of a call to participants in the recent New York City $100,000,000 note issue for payment of another instalment. The rise in exchange was attended by large gold shipments to Ottawa. Cables on London rose to 498¾ and eight drafts were a cent lower. Francs were again nominally quoted, but the market seemed to be bare of marks.

In point of fact, today's exchange market was extremely dull, except for some business in cotton bills. Brokers declared that another fortnight of exports on the scale recently reported will be productive of a large credit balance in London, with resultant lowering of existing rates of exchange at this centre.

PORTO RICO NET EARNINGS.

Net earnings of the Porto Rico railways for September were $29,312, compared with $27,229 for the same period a year ago. The total net earnings for nine months are $272,402, compared with $277,570 in 1913.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5.—Trading was active in futures on the grain market today and values comparatively steady following the gradual advance of the last few days. The undertone continues bullish, influenced by rapidly dwindling receipts here and good buying of futures by exporters. Wheat opened ¼c lower to ⅛c higher and closed ⅛c to ½c down. Oats were ¼c to ½c lower and flax advanced ¼c to ⅞c.

The demand for all grades of cash wheat was brisk, exporters being principal buyers. Oats and barley were also in demand.

WHEAT UNLOADED PRICES DECLINED

Skepticism Shown Regarding Reports of Heavy Export Sales.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Selling pressure from a number of leading firms acted as an offset today in wheat. There was an unsettled close at ¼c to ¾c net decline. Corn finished ⅝c to ¾c down, oats off ⅜c to ½c, and provisions varying from the same as last night to a loss of 22½c.

Orders to sell flooded the wheat market as soon as prices at the opening showed a tendency of advance. Most of the unloading came from speculators, who bought on yesterday's upturn and who had become skeptical in regard to the gossip that export transactions were being concealed to a much greater extent than was generally supposed. The ensuing decline was followed by two strong gwells, due to seaboard estimates that European buying today at Winnipeg, Duluth and Chicago and in the southwest amounted to 1,500,000 bushels to 2,000,000 bushels. The effect, however, failed to last, as the figures for the most part could not be confirmed.

Better Weather For Corn.

Prospects for better weather tended to ease corn. Country offerings remained small, but the majority of traders were expecting a material enlargement of the crop movement soon.

Oats developed a good deal of resistance to bear attacks, as eastern shipping demand continued good. The market nevertheless gave evidence of some sympathy with the weakness of other grains.

Packers buying rallied lard after an early break suffered by provisions owing to a decline in the price of hogs. Pork and ribs lacked support, however, and seemed unable to rebound.

NOT MUCH WORK LIKELY ON HIGHWAY THIS YEAR

Difficulty of Wage Minimum and Route to Be Chosen Delay Action.

It is by no means certain as yet that work will be begun on the Toronto-Hamilton highway this fall. Altho members of the commission in charge are straining their efforts to have the necessary agreements closed, there are still obstacles to be encountered. The Ontario cabinet can take no steps until the details are worked out by the commission. When affairs are in a condition to justify procedure, the formal sanction of the government will be given.

George H. Gooderham, M.L.A., chairman of the commission, stated yesterday that he hoped matters would clear up so quickly that they might send out the first gangs by next Wednesday, but he made it clear that the march of events was uncertain.

As the road proposition stands today, an agreement has not been reached with Toronto, which is the largest contributor to the paved road scheme. Hamilton, after some delay over labor prices and bridge construction, has fallen into line, and is urging procedure before the season ends. The Toronto difficulty is understood to concern wages. Some officials are inclined to hold out for a uniform rate of 25c per hour, whereas the contention of the commission is that it cannot be much in excess of 15c.

Another difficulty is faced in Toronto Township, Peel County, where the residents demands the middle road, in spite of the agreement of the original conference where the choice was unanimously left to the commission.

In view of the number of the difficulties in the way of progress and the various appeals made by different centres, conservative authorities are not counting upon much work being done this fall. The hope is that in the spring when unrest will be most severe the roadwork will provide a means of great relief.
