PROSPECTUS
OF THE LANCET.

A New weekly paper, under the above title, will shortly be issued in St. John, N B, by late Editor and Proprietor of the "Loyalist,"
T. HILL,

The LANCET will be about half the size of the ordinary weekly papers, and published every Saturday, in the quarto form; but although small, it will contain a fair amount of reading matter, as advertisements will be excluded, and it will be closely printed in small type. It will be devoted chiefly to politics and satire.

In politics, the chief aim of the publisher will be to effect a union of the British North American Colonies, and to obtain a Constitution which shall secure to the United Colony power to regulate her internal affairs, and to enter into any trade arrangement she may deem necessary or judicious.—This the Publisher firmly believes is absolutely necessary to secure the allegiance and prosperity of British North America. The satirical articles will be written with a view to reform local and administrative abuses.

TERMS:—Three pence per copy payable on delivery or ten copies sent to one address three months on payment of one pound in advance.

Subscription lists for St. Andrews will be found at the residence of Mr Isaac Snodgrass, and at Mr. E. Pheasant's Hotel.

☞ Only the exact number of copies ordered will be sent to St. Andrews. They will be left in care of Mr. E. Pheasant, and delivered to subscribers only at 3d. per copy.
