LIBERAL OFFER.—A publisher in the United States has commissioned M. W. Thomas of Paris, to make an offer to M. Mazzini for the purchase of a work to be entitled "Memoirs of Revolutionary Europe from 1830 to the Present Time," which, it is understood, M. Mazzini is now composing. The terms offered are $2000 per volume of 400 pages, 8vo. to be paid on the completion of each volume, with four per cent. interest in the meantime. M. Mazzini will be requested to state beforehand the number of volumes in which his work will appear, and the periods at which they will be ready. M. Thomas is going to London immediately upon this business.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times, says:—"The Committee on Foreign Relations of the House, it is understood, have agreed to report unanimously a resolution in favor of the interposition of the United States as mediator between the Allied Powers and Russia, similar to that submitted by Mr. Clingman."

The St. Paul Daily Times exultingly tells its readers, that its first bridge across the Mississippi will be the wire Suspension Bridge at St. Anthony. Eight cables, containing about 1000 strands of wire, have been thrown over the stream, and in a short time crossing will be possible. This structure will be put up at a cost of sixty thousand dollars, and may well be regarded as a great achievement for a territory not yet ten years old.

Holloway's Pills for Debilitated Constitution, Disordered Liver and indigestion.—The wonderful efficacy of this medicine, and the good effects it has produced on patients suffering from diseases of the stomach, liver complaints, bile and indigestion, would appear incredible, if it were not daily confirmed by proofs of the cures effected by them. The exhilarating properties of these invaluable Pills entirely banish all nervousness from the system, strengthen the tone of the stomach, thereby promoting digestion; persons suffering from dropsy should use Holloway's Pills, as they are the most safe and certain remedy ever known for that dreadful malady.

HASZARD'S GAZETTE.

Wednesday, January 31, 1855.

We have heard that it is the intention of some of the members of the Provincial Parliament, to introduce a Bill into one or other of the Houses during the present Session, for the Incorporation of Charlottetown, and that it is likely to pass and be assented to. As this is a matter which concerns all who reside in town, there should be, we think, as much publicity as possible given to it. "Where no counsel is, the people fall, but in the multitude of Counsellors, there is safety," saith Solomon, and although there are various Acts of the Assemblies of the sister Colonies that might be safely taken as models; still, whichever might be selected, ought and must be altered so as to meet the peculiar requirements of the place to which it is to be adapted. What might be very right and proper for Halifax, Quebec, Montreal, or Hamilton, may not be exactly so for Charlottetown. It is besides, of the greatest importance, that a measure which will have a tendency to effect so great a change—for the better, we do not for a moment doubt—should not have the appearance of being concocted in secret, and hastily passed into a Law without its provisions having undergone a thorough scrutiny by those who are to be bound by them. Above all things, it must not be a party measure, either of the one side or the other, but one in which all should join, laying aside—for the purpose of rendering the measure as perfect as possible—all party feeling, and uniting and combining talent and information, produce a Bill of Incorporation that will render discussion in the Assembly, as little needful as possible. All Local Acts should be well considered by the parties seeking them, before being submitted to either branch of the Legislature. All that the Provincial Parliament need to be satisfied about is, that the measure is perfectly in accordance with constitutional principles, and that the proposed Act, which gives certain rights and privileges to the intended municipality, does not encroach upon, or infringe the rights of others, individually or collectively. There is sufficient time to call a meeting of towns-people, to which the intended Act might be submitted, and by which if need were, a Committee might be appointed to co-operate with those by whom the labor of expediting the Bill through both branches, has been undertaken. We throw out these hints at random, for though we have heard from several that such a Bill is to be introduced, we have yet to learn by whom, and on what principle, or after what model.

TO THE EDITOR OF HASZARD'S GAZETTE.

Dear sir,—Your leading article of Saturday so changed the sense of my plain words, on Thursday evening, probably through not being clearly understood or distinctly heard; that I enclose you a copy of what I did say, and if it is not too long for insertion, I will esteem it a favor. Yours,

JOHN ORLEBAR.

We willingly comply with the above request. What was inserted on Saturday, was solely from memory, and we are always glad to correct any involuntary error, and are particularly well pleased to be able to present the narrative in the lecturer's own words.

About 25 years ago, long before I knew the right object of life, or recognized the virtue of Temperance, I was on a voyage to the South Seas; we were to visit Pitcairn's Island. I had heard of the causes that had led to the peopling of this little Island; how a few of the mutineers of the Bounty fearing punishment for their crimes sought a refuge in this secluded spot. How they had induced some native Tahitians to accompany them. Alone on that Island surely so small a company, in all 20 persons, might have lived peaceably and escaped observation. But no, sin was there, and unrestrained of God, it worked in them death; by the help of the native women, they soon arrived at the manufacture of a spirit from the Ti plant; they drank to excess—they lusted—they oppressed and ill-treated the weaker Tahitians—they quarrelled—they fought—they committed murder—2 died raving mad from drink, and at the end of a short time, the retributive justice of God, leaving them to the dominion of their own brutal passions, saw the miserable death of all but one of those wicked men. Pitcairns during those years was the Hill of drink; the horror of a thick darkness, was upon it; but again a ray of light pierces the deep gloom. Adams was then the sole survivor, with the women and helpless children—he saw and sorrowed for the evil done. His eye fell upon a prayer book and bible, found in the chest of one of his comrades, he read them and as he read, he prayed. He now began to know the purpose of life, he gathered the children about him, he prayed and read with them daily and abhorring his sin of drunkenness, he made a law that no one should make or drink fermented liquors—He was obeyed, behold the change—that family grew up teetotallers happy and contented, and although Adams had died before our visit to the Island, his laws were still observed with constancy and cheerfulness. When I visited them in 1830, they came on board and dined with us, but they would drink neither wine nor beer; on shore I observed the same thing—and yet I have never seen a handsomer or more active race of men.—Indeed those 60 persons then making up the population of that small Island, in their warm-hearted happy piety, were a wonder to us. Years have rolled by since my visit to that Island, but the remembrance of that God-favored and God-fearing family, has often had a wholesome influence upon me, and when I contrast that little Isle on the broad Pacific with the beautiful Island God has allotted to us in this Northern clime; I see that nothing but drunkenness keeps us back from making this Island as it should be

"First gem of the Ocean, first Isle of the Sea"

But at present I painfully remember, that Prince Edward Island has not been persuaded to cast off the vile habit of slavery to drink, and whilst this vice is so common amongst us, we cannot be respected abroad, or happy and united at home.

(For Haszard's Gazette.)

Mr. Editor;

Sir,—In your issue of the 21st inst., you gave an extract of a letter, the writer of which (in error) signs his name "Fair-play." The subject of Mr. Fair-play's epistle, is the appropriation of the purse and its contents presented by the Liberal Ladies of Charlottetown to the then living, active and powerful, and still living and vigilantly-watchful Reform Association; had—as you fairly intimate in your comment on his production—this Gent. of pleasing name, made enquiry of any of your contemporaries, (with the exception of one) he might have had every dark doubt removed from his pure and ingenuous mind; for nothing done by the Reform Association costs or needs secrecy. Mr. Fair-play may be pleased or displeased to know that the Treasurer's Books are at all times open to the inspection of all who have contributed to the Funds of the Reform Association.

I am Sir,
Yours faithfully,

Jan. 26th, 1855. JOHN TRENAMAN.

PRINCETOWN LITERARY AND SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY.

The Annual Meeting of this Society was held in the School Room on Monday evening, the 1st inst., George Sinclair, Esq., Vice President, in the Chair. The Rev. Dr. Kier delivered a lecture on "Civilization," after which, the President having taken the Chair, the report for the past year was read, and the accounts submitted and passed; balance in Treasurer's hands, £15 4s. 5½d. (It was agreed that a sum sufficient to pay for apparatus ordered from Scotland, be placed in the hands of the President.) Office-bearers were then elected as follows, viz:

The Rev. Dr. Kier, President,
George Sinclair, } Vice Presidents,
Benj. Bearisto, sen., }
James Bearisto, Secretary & Treasurer.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.—Last evening, Heath Haviland, Esq., M. P. P., delivered to a large audience, an admirable Lecture on "Chivalry," showing the objects of its institution, and the effects that it had produced upon the World's History in the early—or, as some designate them—the dark ages. He clearly and satisfactorily proved that the order of chivalry had been organized to check the insolence of overgrown oppressors, to succor the distressed, to rescue the helpless, to protect the weak, especially woman, to redress wrong, and remove grievance, and he concluded his lecture by drawing the attention of the audience to the deeds of valor that had been achieved in the Crimea, in the glorious battles that had been fought in behalf of Liberty, and the preservation of the balance of power in Europe, clearly proving that altho' the order of Chivalry had become obsolete, yet, that its spirit still animated the breasts of the heroes in the Allied Army. An animated discussion followed.

His Honor the President announced that His Excellency the Lt. Governor, had been pleased to present to the Institute, several volumes of useful information, to be placed in the Library. A vote of thanks was unanimously passed to His Excellency for his kindness and liberality.

On next Tuesday evening, the Hon. Charles Young will (D.V.) lecture on "Physiognomy," or, the Lineaments of the "Human Face Divine."—Com.

THE MAILS.—There has been no Mail since our last issue. We have been favored however with Wilmer and Smith's Times of the 6th Jan.—the day the English Steamer left—from which we have made further extracts.

The CONCERT proposed to be held in aid of the Patriotic fund, has been postponed, in consequence of a letter addressed by the Leader of the Band to the Committee, stating "that it would be impossible for them to be prepared with proper pieces for the Concert," and suggesting the propriety of "postponing it for a future evening, at some early period." We understand that the Managers have sent to Halifax for some Music, appropriate for the occasion, not for the brass instruments, and that so soon as the Band are in sufficient practice, the Concert will come off.

We understand that the Legislature of New-Brunswick will meet for the dispatch of Business on the 1st of February.

Died,

At St. Andrew's, on the 20th inst., after a protracted illness of 15 years, which she bore with resignation to the Divine will, Mary the beloved wife of James Farquharson, Esq., aged 62 years, leaving a disconsolate husband, and a distressed family to mourn their irreparable loss, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

On 20th January, at Cable Head, Lot 41, Sergeant John Macneill, pensioner, of the late Nova Scotia Regiment of Fencibles, aged 73 years.

The Vestry and Church Wardens of St. Paul's Church, desire, on behalf of the congregation, to express their sense of obligation to Mr. Gibson, and to thank him for his very handsome present of a Church Clock.

LIVER COMPLAINT.

☞ This dangerous and often fatal disease had long baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians, when the discovery of Dr. M'Lane's Liver Pills solved the difficulty, and presented to the world the Great Specific for that complicated malady, which has attained such widely spread celebrity for its certainty of cure. This successful remedy was the result of many years' study in which the symptoms were narrowly observed, and are thus described by the Doctor himself:—

"Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.—Pain in the right side, and sometimes in the left, under the edge of the ribs—the patient being rarely able to lie on the left; pain sometimes under the shoulder-blade, frequently extending to the top of the shoulder—often mistaken for rheumatism in the arm; sickness of stomach, and loss of appetite; bowels mostly costive, but sometimes alternate with lax; dull, heavy sensation in the back part of the head; loss of memory, with uneasiness of having neglected something; sometimes dry cough: weariness and debility; nervous irritability; feet cold or burning, and prickly sensation of skin; low spirits, lassitude, with disinclination to exercise, although satisfied it would be beneficial. In fact, patient distrusts every remedy."

Have you any, or all of these symptoms? If so, you will find a certain remedy in Dr. M'Lane's Pills.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills, and take none else. There are other Pills, purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public. Dr. M'Lane's Liver Pills, also his Celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States and Canada.
