The Financial Situation.

Henry Clews of New York, in his weekly financial review, says:

"We have to record another week of dulness and weakness on the stock exchange. The season's investment demand appears to have been satisfied, and the speculative movement that set in with the restoration of ease in money has exhausted itself by advancing prices to a level that leaves little room for further rise until some new element of stimulus is forthcoming. "Bear" attempts to force prices to a lower level do not afford encouraging results, and the fluctuations are consequently within such a narrow range of prices as to discourage operations. Under these circumstances the market is a narrow one and transactions are largely confined to a few specialties, which are affected for the time being by exceptional considerations.

Factors connected with politics and legislation hold the market in suspense and are producing an unsettled undertone. Mr. Windom was undoubtedly the chief intellectual force arrayed against further commitments to silver currency; and it may be reasonably feared that the loss of his firm counsels will leave the President more exposed to the astute management of the silver men. Unless a strong successor to the deceased Secretary is appointed, a new set of uncertainties must surround this question. London is now becoming an important element concerning the future of this market. The action of the Bank of England in reducing its rate of discount from 5½ to 3 per cent. is conclusive evidence of decided ease in the money market. What that ease means and what effect it may have upon speculation are open questions. Judging solely from the present condition of the London stock market, it might be inferred that the ease in money is in a measure caused by the absence of demand from the Exchange. Speculation is, at the moment, as dull in London as it is here; and, even on the very day that the Bank reduced its rate, London was a seller of securities at New York. It is reasonable to expect that the holders of the large mass of new securities issued in Great Britain within the last three years will avail themselves, as far as possible, of the ease in money for reviving their suffering specialties; but how far such a movement would extend to American investments remains to be seen.

The local money market continues to exhibit extreme ease, and so far from offering any obstacle to speculation affords to it every facility. Money is flowing to this centre from the interior in liberal volume, the net receipts of the banks from that source during the week just past amounted to $2,750,000. The transactions with the Sub-Treasury, however, show a net loss to the banks of $3,600,000; which is mainly attributable to the current specially large payments of duties at the custom house, consequent upon the termination on Feb. 1 of the period within which goods may be withdrawn from bond at the old rates of duty.

Business Embarrassments.

W. J. Eby, merchant tailor, 779 Queen-street east, has assigned to G. M. Gardiner. His liabilities are $400 and assets $75.

Alexander & Co., wholesale drygoods, Winnipeg, have assigned. They owe about $30,000. This is not the firm's first experience in this line. At the last failure McLachlan Bros. & Co., Montreal, became security for Alexander & Co., notes being given to the Montreal house both for the composition and for goods supplied since the failure.

The creditors of McGinnis Bros., Parkhill, are said to have demanded an assignment. The liabilities are estimated at $100,000. This failure is the outcome of the recent insolvency of Wilson & McGinnis, Montreal, whose house went down in the crash of McLachlan Bros. & Co. and Lindsay, Gilmour & Co.

Parker & Popham, wholesale clothiers, Montreal, have assigned. Galt Bros. & Co. are the principal creditors. The insolvent firm is said to have lost heavily lately through some of its debtors being burned out.
