HEROES OF YPRES LEAD PARADE TO MARK GREAT DAY

Returned Men of London March To St. Paul's.

THRONGS LINE STREETS

Men Who Participated in the Fight To Save Calais in Front Rank.

With brilliant sunshine, bands playing and flags flying, Ypres Day is being celebrated in London. Throngs of people lined the market square and streets in the vicinity as the hour of 2 o'clock approached, to view with smiles akin to tears the parade of veterans of the war, the men who had been through the fight and safely returned to home and country, even if battle scarred.

The Hussars' Band led the way, and nearly three hundred in all lined up, the veterans of Ypres taking the place of honor in the procession immediately behind the provost marshal, Major Osborne, who was mounted. Next came the veterans, being represented according to the seniority of their battalions. Lieut.-Col. W. E. Coles marched at the head of the 1st Battalion Veterans, Mayor Stevenson walking beside him.

Autos for Disabled.

For those who were unable to march, automobiles were provided by the Ontario Motor League, a dozen in all in the line of parade, which wended its way along King street to Wellington, north to Dundas, west to Richmond and thence to St. Paul's Cathedral, where headquarters staff awaited to receive the veterans.

Music was furnished by the A. M. C., Kilties Band and the Hussars Band.

Pupil's Raise Flag.

Pupils at the Talbot Street Public School marked Ypres day by a flag-raising on the school grounds. The children were addressed by Pte. Parker, a returned man who fought at the Battle of Ypres. Verses of "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall," "The Maple Leaf" and "God Save the King" were sung and three cheers were given for the flag and the king.

The Service at St. Paul's.

Seldom has a service held in the city equalled in impressiveness that which took place in St. Paul's Cathedral in commemoration of the battle of Ypres and attended by practically all the returned men of the city, and a great many citizens. The order of service was as follows:

Hymn—"O, King of Kings."

Lesson.

Hymn—"O God, Our Help in Ages Past."

Creed and prayers.

God Save the King (Played by the band).

Address—Rev. Dr. Tucker.

Hymn—"Forever With the Lord."

Burial prayers, comfort for the sorrowing, second part of service, conducted by the Lord Bishop of Huron.

Last Post—Sounded by Sergt. Nanfan.

Recessional Hymn—"To All the Souls."

By way of introduction to his stirring address, Rev. Dr. Tucker briefly sketched the part played by the Canadians in the present war, which has meant the introduction of Canada into the universal sphere, as Paardeburg meant her introduction into the imperial.

When They Saved the Day.

Touching upon the heroism of the Princess Pats at St. Eloi, the gallant conduct of the Canadians at Festubert, Givenchy and Vimy Ridge, the speaker dwelt at special length upon the engagement at Ypres, when the Canadians saved the day.

A glowing tribute of honor was paid to the noble men who had made the supreme sacrifice and sympathy expressed for the bereft. The need was emphasized of extending help to the returned men, to help them to help themselves. In conclusion, allusion was made to the principles for which Britain and her allies are fighting and a call was sounded to be worthy of the great sacrifice that has been and still is being made for principles of civilization, righteousness, liberty and justice.

GREATER LABOR PARTY TO BE FORMED IN CITY

Trades and Labor Men Plan to Make Workers a Political Force.

The Trades and Labor Council at the next session will discuss the advisability of organizing a Greater Labor Party in London.

There is a similar organization in Toronto, and efforts will be made to get it going in this city.

The matter has been discussed informally by some of the labor leaders here, but no action towards that end has been taken as yet.

The idea is to cement the workingmen into a political unit. Where it is deemed advisable, candidates will be run, but where it is not deemed advisable, only the candidate supporting the labor platform will be indorsed and supported.

GLASS BULLETS USED BY GERMANS AGAINST RUSSIANS ON THE NORTHERN FRONT

Petrograd, April 23—Via London.—The Germans on the northern part of the Russian front have been firing glass bullets from their rifles at the Russian lines, says today's war office announcement. The statement reports exceptionally bad weather both in the Carpathians and on the Rumanian front, where blizzards have prevailed in the mountains and rain in the valleys.

Hostile activities by Kurds against the Russians in Persia are increasing, according to the announcement, which reads:

"Caucasus fron: Hostile activity towards our military on the part of the Kurds has increased in Persia. On April 15, at Cheraban, 25 versts southeast of Kizil-Rabat, Arabas fell upon our squadron escorting an English military agent. The squadron forced a passage to Bakuba. On the remainder of the front there has been rifle firing and scouting with aerial activity.

"In the region of Lake Miadzol our artillery brought down a German airplane. Enemy airplanes threw bombs on the hamlet of Turetz."

WOULD HAVE EVERYONE BECOME "BUG ON BIRDS"

W. E. Saunders Tells Rotarians of Practical Benefits.

W. E. Saunders, the latest member of the Rotary Club, addressed the club at noon today on "Birds and Businessmen." His exposition of the subject was brief, owing to the time limit.

He wanted to make every member a "bug on birds." He declared that it would repay every minute of the time spent on the subject, and would give all an interest in life never before had. The bird enthusiast might not get up at 5 o'clock in the morning, although he would miss much by not doing so, nor need he take long tramps into the country, but he would be profited by this exercise, with the added interest that the birds would give.

He spent some time discussing the humming bird, showing the many peculiarities of flight and feeding that these pretty little fellows are expert at. He also showed the Kentucky cardinal, a very beautiful bird, and gave its call, and explained its methods of life and living. The fallow bird, found on the western prairies, was also shown. The female is the regular suffragette among the bird family. The male must build the nest, and hatch the eggs, and rear the young.

Grant Milligan played a most enjoyable violin solo. Howard Thurston, magician, did some interesting card tricks.

W. R. Yendall, chairman of the committee in charge of the back yard garden campaign, explained what had been done. The city was being circularized, and good results were being obtained. More would be accomplished.

YPRES ANNIVERSARY SOLEMNLY MARKED IN DISTRICT CHURCHES

St. Thomas, Woodstock, Galt, Ingersoll and Other Places Commemorate Victory.

GALT'S ST. JULIEN DAY.

GALT, April 22.—Today was St. Julien Day, anniversary of the battle in which Canadians won great honor, and in which many soldiers of the maple leaf fell in battle or were wounded. This anniversary was marked in Galt by the Great War Veterans' holding a large crowd gathered, including many relatives of soldiers. A most impressive and patriotic service was held, with stirring addresses by Revs. P. M. Wootton and J. Strachan of Galt, and Rev. Neil Leckie of Kirkwall. Special music was rendered by the choir. The service was preceded by a parade of the returned soldiers, boy scouts and automobiles containing relatives of men who have given their lives and others who are still at the front.

IMPRESSIVE WOODSTOCK SERVICE.

WOODSTOCK, April 22.—Solemn and impressive was the service held in Knox Church this afternoon under the auspices of the Great War Veterans Association in commemoration of the national memorial day which was observed all over the Dominion in honor of the memories of the Canadians who have fallen in the great war, and in memory also of the battle of St. Julien at which the Canadian forces first established their record as worthy sons of the Empire. The returned soldiers and the veterans of the Fenian Raid combined in a parade to the church, and the city council also attended in a body. Of the general public so many were present that the big church, with a seating capacity of some 1,400, was barely capable of providing adequate accommodation.

Rev. R. H. Shaw presided, and practically all the local ministers took an active part in the service. Captain Spencer, a returned officer of the old 71st Battalion, read out a list of the names of all the local men who have died in the service of their country, a list containing 52 names. Lieut.-Col. McMullen, who went overseas with the 168th Battalion, followed with a short description of the battle of St. Julien, explaining why the veterans of the great war had thought that the anniversary of this battle would be the most appropriate day for a national memorial day.

Rev. Dr. Crews made the address of the afternoon. The men who had died, had given their lives in the most noble cause for which men ever fought. He believed thatt heir bereaved mothers, fathers, sisters and sweethearts could find real consolation in the knowledge that they had played men's parts and had not been found wanting when the call of duty came.

The service concluded with playing of the Dead March in Saul by the organist, the whole congregation meanwhile remaining standing.

ST. THOMAS CHURCH TOO SMALL.

ST. THOMAS, April 22.—St. John's Church was not only filled to capacity this morning for the special services in commemoration of "Ypres Day," but many were turned away, including a company of the 153rd Battalion. The Returned Soldiers' Association, Veterans of '66 and South Africa, and the collegiate cadets, led by the 25th Regiment band, paraded to the church.

Appropriate music was rendered by a full choir.

Rural Dean W. F. Brownlee, rector of the church, preached from the text, "There was a very sore battle that day." Samuel, 11-17.

The service, he said, was unique in that it was commemorating events in a war before that war was over. The rector spoke of the fitness to give thanks to God for the strength, courage and endurance of its young men, and in terms of affection referred to the fallen, and with pride to the returned heroes. He then spoke of several of the incidents in the battle of Ypres which characterized the great heroism of both officers and men in holding back the hordes of the German army.

"The battle was great in its intensity and in its issue," said the speaker. "The Canadians have instilled a whole some fear into the German troops, as evidenced also at Festubert, Givenchy, and recently by the splendid victory at Vimy Ridge."

Remember Returned Men.

The speaker pleaded that citizens should remember the returned soldiers on Ypres day, giving them material assistance as their due for the splendid work and sacrifice accomplished.

"Emulating his its fascination, active service appeals to patriotism and consciousness of those looking on, but the returned man is apt to be forgotten. This must not be."

Dean Brownlee also spoke a few words to the veterans, all men ripe in years, of the memories of '66, and to the cadets, as those who have their life and manhood still before them, concluding with the message that our country and empire is still calling for men to fill the ranks and make up the C. E. F. and to all young men who follow the path of duty will regret the sacrifice.

Soldiers Could Not Get in.

The rector spoke regretfully of the fact that a company of the 153rd Battalion were unable to gain admission to the service, the church being filled to capacity before their arrival, of which he had not received previous notice.

80 VETERANS MARCH.

BRANTFORD, April 22.—The Brantford branch of the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada held a parade and commemoration service St. Jude's Church this morning, in memory of their fallen comrades, and to commemorate the day on which the Canadians held the line at the second battle of Ypres. About 80 returned men participated in the parade, which included the 215th Battalion. There are about 150 returned men here and 31 veterans of the 4th (Mad Fourth) Battalion, which was at Ypres.

Capt. Rev. C. E. Jeakins, late chaplain of the 58th Battalion, delivered a stirring address to a gathering which was packed in the church, and which included a number of civic and women's organizations. Last evening on the market square in the presence of a large crowd the returned men were presented with their colors, a handsome flag, by the Women's Patriotic League and the three chapters of the I.O.D.E.

SOLDIER'S BODY EXHUMED OVER "ACCIDENTAL" DEATH

Quebec, April 23.—It will be remembered that last October, Pte. T. Gagne of the 167th Battalion was found dead at the foot of a three-hundred foot cliff at Levis with a fractured skull. Foul play was then supposed, but a verdict of accidental death was rendered. Today a year later, the body has been exhumed at St. Joseph, Chicoutimi, and the skull has been sent to Ottawa by the military authorities. At the inquest last week, there were five physicians present, three from Ottawa and two Quebecers.

LATE ORDERS CACEL MOVEMENT OF TROOPS

All Departures for Day Have Been Postponed.

A number of units and drafts from units in this district, which were expected to leave for eastern training points today, will not do so, orders cancelling the date of their departure having been received.

Among those who were expected to leave were the members of drafts from the 63rd Battery, and the Division Ammunition Column, Queen's Park; the 153rd Battalion at St. Thomas, and the 241st Battalion at Windsor.

BATTERY MAN SPEAKS.—Driver "Bill" Illingsworth of the 63rd Battery will have full charge of the services at the City Mission this evening. This will be his last opportunity to address the gatherings there, and a full attendance is requested.

GRAIN.

Chicago, April 23.—Material declines in the price of wheat resulted today, chiefly from a noticeable falling off in speculative buying orders and from reports of improved crops Southwest. There were also estimates current of a probable 10 per cent increase of seeded acreage in Canada this season as compared with 1916. Discussion of peace posibilities tended likewise to favor the bear side.

Opening prices, which ranged from 2⅛c off to ⅛c advance, with May at $2 31@2 32½, and July at $1 96⅜@1 98, were followed by a slight rally, and then a sharp setback all around to well below Saturday's finish.

WALL STREET.

New York, April 23—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—The mixed changes which have characterized recent operations in the stock market were again observed on the resumption of trading today. First quotations tended toward higher levels, especially in equipments, munitions, shippings and standard industrials. Ther ewas recurrent heaviness, however, in motors, Industrial Alcohol and utilities, Ohio Gas making a drop of 4 points. United States Steel soon forfeited its slight gain, and metals inclined downward on light dealings, accompanied by irregularity in rails, Harvester and oils.

Noon.—Operations proceeded with extreme caution, this being most evident in the insignificant turnover of the morning. Offerings were tentative, and the demand equally narrow. Prices hardened very generally in the first hour, effacing most early losses and adding moderately to initial gains, but the rise was stubbornly opposed by the professional element. United States Steel made an extreme recovery of about a point, and other leaders moved in like manner, but coppers and specialties made little resistance to further pressure, the list yielding again before noon. Bonds were irregular.

1:30 p.m.—Coppers were almost the sole exceptions to the marked improvement of the afternoon. Early losses of 2 to 5 points in specialties were more than retrieved, and representative industrials and shippings showed underlying strength.
