London's Defeat and the Senators' Win Puts the Tecumsehs Back in Second Place

RED SOX PLAYED BRILLIANT BALL AND EASILY DEFEATED INDIANS

Some Listless Base Running On Part of Bowermanites Also Helped Kane's Men Considerably---Donovan and Silcox Pitched Excellent Ball, the Former Receiving Better Support.

[BY JINX.]

Mr. Red Sox Kane and his Dykers removed a game from the schedule of the Canadian League and tacked it on the London lost column at Tecumseh Park yesterday without saying very much about it. The moving-van accompaniment was supplied by Mister Frank Bowerman's salaried artists, who at certain times performed as though they were trying to beat a few of Mr. Ringling's clowns out of a job. However, these little off-days will creep into even the best of regulated ball clubs, and besides it was ladies' day yesterday. Had it been agreed before the game that third base would be the home plate, Mr. Bowerman's boys would have won hands down. However, as Mr. Kane insisted on playing the game in the usual way of four bags to every run, the Redskins lost by the score of 4 to 1.

Somehow or other ladies' day is proving a sort of hoodoo to the Bowerman outfit. They have lost on that day for the past three weeks. Whether it is because the boys are a little shy with so many pretty faces and lovely voices to encourage them is hard to say. We won't even insinuate such a thing.

RED SOX PLAYED GOOD BALL.

The chief cause of Mr. Kane's victory was the fact that his noble athletes played the game at all times and all places. There was not a moment when they were not up to their neck in the pastime, and they deserved to win. On the other hand, the Tecumsehs seemed possessed with an idea that reaching third base was about enough work for the afternoon. Sometimes they only reached second, and then again there were times when they did not even reach first, but when they did get on and started going, they generally burst a tire or ran out of gasoline at second or third base.

As a result of the win, Mr. Kane will gloat with joy for the next few hours or until his team loses another game. The cause of this mirth is the fact that London drops into second place, Cook's Cookies having surprised the natives by beating Mr. Schuman, of Guelph. It was at the expense of Mr. Kane and the Kanines that the Bowerman bunch went to the top, so Amby is real happy now that he was able to heave the locals back into second place.

DONOVAN CAME BACK.

When the Indians went to bat they faced Mr. "Wild Bill" Donovan, who, it will be remembered, took a prominent part in Monday's little affair, but he left hastily before the proceedings were over owing to a tendency to pitch 'em at the catcher instead of over the pan. Since Monday Mr. Donovan has been practicing pitching the kind to aim at, and in yesterday's little frolic he was the real big noise. Just six Indians faced him in the first two spasms, Mr. Connors, the new left fielder whom Mr. Bowerman has taken into the wigwam, got the first hit, which was something of the scratchy variety. Donovan pitched a good game and was given great support. He held the locals to five hits, and when a pitcher can hold a team of batters like the Bowerman outfit to five hits, he deserves to win. However, Donovan did not have anything on Silcox, who also pitched great ball. He was touched up for six hits, two coming in the first, two in the fourth, and two in the ninth. In the other innings the Red Sox went out one-two-three.

Red Sox Score First.

An inkling of what the red hosierieed gerts intended to do came in the first, when they scored without the slightest effort on two perfectly good hits, both doubles in Mr. Connor's direction. Novak, who bats left-handed, surprised everybody by pelting the pellet over Mr. Nichols' lofty brow and reaching second before the pill was returned. Mr. Courtney sacrificed and Mr. Kane ambled to first base on four perfectly bad ones. He also tried to amble down to second, but Mr. Silcox called his bluff and Amby was short-circuited between the two bags. Mr. Ivers, however, banged out another two-base affair to left, and Mr. Novak wandered home. Burrill grounded out Brant to Powell.

In the Indians' half of the same session, Lindeburn struck out, but Bierbauer was handed a pass. Cocash, who, by the way, is nearly due for a hit on the home grounds, banged one at Elcock, and Looey was caught at second, while "Coka" was doubled at first. In the second only three batters on each team faced the pitcher, and there was nothing stirring in the hit or run column. Silcox was traveling nicely in the third and once again only three Kanites faced him.

The First Hit for London.

In the London half, Connors, the first man up, plastered one at right field which was partially intercepted by Mr. Elcock, but not enough to catch the runner. Benny Speer sacrificed nicely, and Silcox banged one at Ivers, which that gentleman could not resist the temptation to stop. With two out, Mr. Donovan got himself into more troubles by hitting Lindeburn on the uniform, the ball ticking a piece of the cloth. Mr. Phyle considered that Linde's clothing was a part of him inasmuch as he never went without it, so Linde was waved to first base. Into this bunch of excitement walked Looey Bierbauer, whose batting average so far this season would make good reading for ambitious ball players. However, Looey allowed Mr. Donovan to kid him into believing he was going to hit it, and instead he struck out.

It was in the fourth that the dykemen tacked the game onto London's lost column. Our old friends, Amby Kane, of whom much has been written concerning his run-getting possibilities, led off with a very scratchy hit. He laid the ball down half way between Speer and Silcox, and in the mad scramble that followed, he was safe a mile. Mr. Ivers bunted and Sil threw to catch the elusive Amby at second base. Kane being called safe, and also Mr. Ivers. Mr. Burrill walked up to the plate at this thrilling time breathing trouble in every heave of his manly chest. He was not very long in deciding what it was going to be, for he grabbed one of Mr. Silcox's siants with the end of his bat and placed it down safely in centre field, Kane and Ivers scoring. The next three batters died hopelessly.

When the Lone Run Came.

It was in the fifth, that by some freak of chance, Bowerman's braves managed to break into the run column. It was the lone counter of the day, and the fans have to thank Mr. Charley Nichols for preventing a shut-out. Had Charley not been in the game, there would have been no chance for the ladies to do a bit of cheering for the local pennant snatchers. "Nick" was the first man up, and he gave Mr. Clark a chance to work for his salary by banging a beauty out to that gentleman's territory in right garden for two bases. Connors received a friendly tap on the chest from Mr. Donovan, who seemed determined to hit somebody when the Indians got a man on a bag. Speer wiffed three times without producing anything more than a foul, and Silcox flied out to Clarke. Lindeburn came up at this stage and binged to right. The hit was easily good for two bases and Nichols and Connors romped home, while Lindeburn perched on second before the ball was returned. It was here, however, that something happened. Connors, during his mad rush from first base to score, failed to touch second, and "Billy" Phyle's eagle eye spotted it. The result was that Connors was called out for not touching the bag, and only one run counted. Lindeburn was also robbed of a two-bagger, his hit only going for a single.

A Lost Chance in Seventh.

Nothing happened again until the seventh, when Brant and Nichols both singled, Brant reaching third and Nichols second base. With no one out it looked as though a run was coming. Connors hit to Donovan who fumbled and then threw to first base, throwing the runner out. Brant meanwhile stayed at third, but it looked as though he could have scored.

Speer, the next man up, struck out again, and Brant was caught at third by a quick throw from Lamond. The locals never had a chance after this, and the Red Sox added another in the ninth just to make sure of it, Ivers' three-bagger and Burrill's single turning the trick.

What the Others Are Saying

Glints From Papers on Canadian League Circuit.

LAYING FOR US.

Ottawa Free Press: When Frank Bowerman's sluggers from London come here next Monday, every baseball fan in the capital will be in that big stand to shout the Senators through. It will probably produce one of the most exciting series pulled off here this season. Ottawa missed a grand chance to pass the London outfit yesterday, but the hits were not there at the right time to bring across the runs.

WHY HAMILTON DID NOT PLAY.

Hamilton Times: Our peerless athletes returned to our midst last night after a fairly successful journey on the road, and as there is no game they will spend the afternoon improving the breed of horses in Canada by coming across with one and a half simoleums each to see the gee-gees run at the track. A double-header is on the card for tomorrow, the Berlin Dutchmen being the proposed victims.

ALL WILL BE FORGIVEN.

Brantford Expositor: Brantford has a chance today and tomorrow to earn encomiums by beating London. The fans here want to see London trimmed. The week thus far has been rather disastrous, but it will be forgotten if the Red Sox take two straight from the leaders.

SHOULD BE CALLED OFF.

Hamilton Times: The celebration of the winning of the pennant by the Kolts has been postponed for a few weeks.

SCOTTY IS FORGOTTEN.

Berlin Telegraph: Bert Schwind is making the fans forget all about Scotty Cameron by the way that he is handling himself around the shortstop position. His hitting has been of late right at some fielder, and he hopes though to soon hit them where they aint.

A CORRECTION.

Ottawa Free Press: The suspension of Frank Burke was the result of an incident that occurred in the Ottawa dressing-room after the game Tuesday, and not at the time the decision was made by Davis at the plate.

Berlin Telegraph: Here's some stuff just like London: London has protested the game won by Berlin Wednesday, alleging that Cancella had made a bet on the outcome.

NEED SOME LUCK.

Berlin Telegraph: With a little more luck than what the Busy Bees have been getting of late, you will soon find they are crowding some of the teams away from the first division.

WHAT, AGAIN?

Berlin Telegraph: Ernie Dinsmore has found his batting eye, and something will be doing from now on with this youngster.

OTTAWA JUMPS INTO LEAD AGAIN AS RESULT OF WIN OVER GUELPH

Shuman Blew Up in the Fifth With Guelph Leading---Fryer Gets a Home Run---"Lefty" MacDonald Was No Mystery to theSaints, Who Beat Peterboro.

Ottawa, June 21.—Gueiph hit Kubat hard in the fourth inning today, Wright's double and Fryer's home run giving them a lead of 3 to 1, but Schuman blew up in the fifth and filled the bases with walks. Dolan, formerly of Peterboro, made his debut at first base, replacing Champene. He drove in one run and was robbed of a possible homer when Fryer made a sensational one-hand stab in deep centre. Pitcher Renfer reported tonight and will be worked out tomorrow afternoon. Score:

CLEVELAND WINS AGAIN FROM TIGERS

Eddie Summers Had His Last Chance to Make Good, But Was Batted Out.

WASHINGTON WINS ONE

Defeated Athletics Easily by Score of Eight to Two—Boston Makes It Three Straight From the Yankees.

Detroit, June 22. — Eddie Summers, on whom waivers were asked, had one more chance yesterday afternoon. It went very badly for the big fellow, for in the first inning the Naps hammered him for four hits, which practically gave the Clevelanders a five-run lead. Covington came to the rescue and pitched fine ball. One of the runs in the opener came in when Stanage had a passed ball on one of "Tex's" pitches, but only one tally was actually scored off Covington. Cleveland finally won 6 to 2. The score:

MARQUARD MAKES IT SIXTEEN IN ROW

Lanky "Rube" Was Outpitched By Perdue, But Was Better Supported.

DODGERS BEAT QUAKERS

Rucker Was Too Much for Dooin's Men and They Were Shut Out—Cubs Beat St. Louis.

Boston, June 21.—"Rube" Marquard, the Giants' lanky southpaw, came into his sixteenth consecutive victory this afternoon, when New York bested the Boston Braves, 5 to 2.

Marquard was outpitched by Perdue and gave no extraordinary performance, but his mates came across with the necessary tallies and support, making it comparatively easy sailing. Doyle did first-class work at bat.

It was announced that "Doc" Miller and Titus, both outfielders, have been traded on even terms. The score:
