PROSPECTUS.

Some pious and intelligent friends, of other denominations, having proposed to the projectors of the Canada Religious Intelligencer to unite with them in establishing a paper on a more extended basis, the Baptist friends who engaged first in the undertaking, have consented to this Union, and now issue in their joint capacity the following

REVISED PROSPECTUS
OF THE
Canada Religious Intelligencer.

TO BE PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

THE utility of Periodical Literature, in the influence it exerts upon a community by the diffusion of useful knowledge, is too obvious to be disputed. While publications of this character furnish to the man of study and research an agreeable employment in the moments of relaxation, they contribute to the improvement of those classes of society who have neither the leisure nor the capacity to master profound and learned treatises. Of all subjects claiming the attention of rational and immortal man, Religion is confessedly the most important; and yet scarcely any other has been so completely overlooked or neglected. The want of a Religious Journal in this Province has been long felt, and the establishment of one much desired. In the Upper Province, the Christian Guardian, conducted by the respectable Society of Methodists, has been well supported, and productive of much good in their own and other denominations. That which is now about to be submitted to the public, will collect and communicate intelligence of general interest to every section of the Christian community, and its continual aim will be the advancement of pure and undefiled religion, as equally contributing to the happiness of individuals, and the prosperity of states. This paper will, therefore, advocate every sentiment, measure, and institution which may contribute to the extension of Christian truth, and the mental, moral, and spiritual improvement of all classes throughout the Colony, in the Upper as well as in the Lower Province.

The principal objects in the view of the Conductors of this Journal, are, to promote the spread of true religion and piety, by presenting to its readers the practical and experimental doctrines of the Bible; to enlarge their hearts and fire their zeal in the cause by advocating Bible and Tract Societies, Sabbath Schools, and Missionary efforts, and giving from time to time a copious view of these efforts and their success in every part of the world; to increase benevolence and good-will among men by inculcating temperance, peace and industry, by encouraging Hospitals, Asylums, Houses of Industry for the Poor, week-day Schools, and every means calculated to do good and promote the well-being of men in time and eternity. For the attainment of these ends, the columns of the Intelligencer will be open to the communications of all who may wish to advance them—the Conductors reserving to themselves the right of deciding what shall be admitted, and what excluded.

With Political discussion this Journal will not intermeddle, except in so far as any measures adopted or pursued shall have a tendency to abridge or injure the cause of Religion; but the grand principles of Religious Liberty and Equality will be stoutly and unflinchingly contended for. The paper will be open to all parties for the discussion of this important question, on the sole condition of abstaining from intemperate or abusive language. The supporters of this paper having no wish to injure the public journals of the Province, every thing will be excluded which would interfere with them, except a brief notice of the general news of the day, for the benefit, principally, of country readers who may not be able to subscribe to a political paper in addition to this.

Agriculture, so important to the welfare of the Colony, will meet with the attention it deserves. Information on all subjects connected with it will be carefully selected, and occasionally inserted; while communications will be earnestly desired from all who are interested in its progress. Articles of Domestic interest will be readily admitted; and to adapt the paper more completely to Family use, the improvement of the youthful mind will be kept in view, and the principles of social happiness and duty enjoined and illustrated by examples.

Advertisements will be inserted on the same terms as in other journals; but a careful discrimination will be exercised, and none will be admitted which relate to the sale of intoxicating liquors, or to theatrical amusements, or to any thing inimical to public morals or to the best interests of the community.

The Paper will be published every Thursday morning, on good paper and type, at 6s. delivered in town; or, when sent by mail, 6s. postage included.

All communications to be addressed (post paid) to Mr. W. Gatto, at the Montreal Depository for Religious Publications, No. 197, St. Paul Street, Montreal.

Newspapers in the Upper and Lower Provinces are respectfully requested to give the above a few insertions.

Montreal, August 17, 1836.
