Daring Escape of Convicts—A Deeply Laid Plan.

SING SING, N.Y., August 17.

An extraordinary affair occurred at Sing Sing Prison to-day. At a quarter to 12 a tug boat, having a canal boat in tow, and going north, was observed approaching the prison dock with considerable rapidity. The guard warned the pilot to keep off, and the warning was apparently heeded, notwithstanding the steamer glided close to the pier. Immediately a dozen convicts, understanding the whole movement made a rush from their work, leaped on board the canal boat and ran pell mell over it to the tug and into the engine room. The engineer was dislodged and one of the convicts dashed into the pilot house and took charge of the wheel immediately. The tug was headed for the West shore. An alarm was given as quickly as possible, and many of the regular prison guards rushed towards the pier. They aimed their pieces at the convict and shouted for him to stop, but he crouched down out of sight, and the vessel still kept moving as quickly as possible Mr Woods of the prison at once started up the track to the Sing Sing depot and got a sloop underweigh filled with armed men.

At this time the greatest excitement prevailed, as the news of their outbreak became noised about Sing Sing village, and hundreds of people hurried to the prison. One of the vessels sent out to capture the convicts overhauled the tug near Rockland, when the convicts took to the small boats in the vicinity which some boys had, and rowing quickly to the shore, escaped to the mountains. One convict who got into a boat with a boy, was pressed so closely that he seized the boy and placed him before him, so that the guard would not fire. The guard did fire, not at the escaping convict, however, but with an intention to intimidate him and cause him to surrender. He kept on pulling instead, and reached the shore, where he joined his associates. Mr. Laflin, Inspector, states that the convicts are now in the woods near Rockland, and says they will be recaptured, as they are surrounded. He believes the affair was planned two weeks ago by persons in New York city. The tug boat was the Dean Richmond, Capt A. M. Norton; the engineer was Mr. Farrell. Both are under arrest.

THE HORSE.—Of the great number of animals under the control of man the horse is unquestionably the most serviceable, but is it not strange that so many whom horses and who are dependent on their labor for a living, should neglect to give them that care and attention which their own interest no less than the safety and comfort of the horse demands. The best medicine for horses is "Darley's Arabian Heave Remedy and Condition Medicine;" of this there can be no doubt—it is safe and easy given. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for the Canadas. Sold by all medicine dealers.

I can testify to the high therapeutical value of Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and consider it deserving of attention by the professian generally.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.
