VIOLATED ITS CHARTER.

IMPORTANT DECISION IN THE SUGAR TRUST CASE.

The Judgment of the Lower Court Affirmed—Partnerships of Separate and Independent Corporations Not Legal Through the Medium of a Trust—Judge Finch's Decision.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 24.—The court of appeals' decision in the sugar trust case—the North River Sugar Refinery Company—was handed down to-day. The decision was written by Judge Finch, and in it he says: The judgment sought against the defendant is one of corporate death. The state which created it asks us to destroy, and the penalty invoked represents the extreme rigor of the law. Its infliction must rest upon grave cause and be warranted by material misconduct.

Two questions open before us: First—Has the defendant corporation exceeded or abused its powers; and second, does that excess or abuse threaten or harm the public welfare. We find disclosed that it has become an intregal part and element of a combination and dictates the extent and manner and terms of its entire business activity. All its stock is in the central association, dominated by a board, and consisting of only 11 individuals, who took and distributed to his own stockholders certificates of the board, carrying a proportionate interest in what it describes as its capital stock. It has lost the power to make a dividend, and is compelled to pay over its net earnings to the master whose servant it has become. Under the order of that master, it has refused to refine sugar, and by so much has lessened the supply upon the market. It cannot stir unless the master approves, and yet, it is entitled to receive from the earnings of the other refineries, amassed as profits in the treasury of the board, its proportionate share for division among its own stockholders owning the substituted certificates. In return for this advantage it has become liable to be mortgaged, not for its own corporate benefit alone, but to supply with funds the controlling board when that board reaches out for other coveted refineries. All this is admitted by the defendant. The question to be determined is whether the corporation became the servant of the board by its own voluntary action or the will and power of the other.

The court finds that the action of the North River Refinery Company and the other 19 refinery companies that form the trust was entirely voluntary, and continues: In all of the points which were reviewed, it is found that the corporation was doing a public injury, and in avoiding the state law which compels reservation of corporate rights, proved unfaithful to its charter and duties. It is a violation of law for corporations to enter into a partnership as shown in the case of Whittendon vs. Apton, 10 Gray, 596, which furnishes the reasons at length. If the trust had been properly formed as a corporation under the laws, the 20 separate companies would have been dissolved, and not remain in existence as in this case. The present corporation or trust puts on a market a capital stock, proudly defiant of actual values and capable of unlimited expansion. It is one thing for the state to respect the rights of ownership, and quite another thing to add to that possibility a further extension of those consequences by creating artificial persons to aid in such aggregations. If corporations can combine and mass their forces in a solid trust, with little added risk to capital already in, without limit to magnitude, a tempting and easy road is opened to enormous combinations, vastly exceeding in number and strength any possibilities of individual ownership. The law seeks to protect individuals rather than combinations.

Concluding, the opinion says: "The defendant corporation has violated its charter and failed in the performance of its corporate duties, and that in respects so material and important as to justify a judgment of dissolution. Having reached that result, it is needless to advance into the wider discussion over monopolies and the problem of political economy. Our duty is to leave them until some proper emergency compels their consideration, without either approval or disapproval of the views expressed by the court below. We are enabled to decide that in this state there can be no partnerships of separate and independent corporations, whether directly or indirectly through the medium of a trust; no substantial consolidation which avoids and disregards the statutory provisions and restraints; but that manufacturing corporations must be and remain several as they were created, or one under the statute." The judgment appealed from is affirmed with costs. All of the court concurred.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The trustees of the sugar trust will deal with the situation created by the adverse decision of the court of appeals at a meeting to be held on Monday next.

It is understood a programme has been decided upon whereby the various refineries forming the trust will forfeit their charters; that the property will be bought in by the trust in the form of a great corporation organized under a Connecticut charter and in such a shape the great combine is expected to be impregnable against all legal assaults.

TORONTO, June 26.—Some days ago a traveller from the wholesale cigar firm of Goldsmith & Co. of Montreal, visited St. Catherines and found he could not sell any imported cigars even to his own customers. The matter was reported to the department of Inland revenue and extensive seizures have been made.

HIS PLEADING SUCCESSFUL.

Husband and Wife Re-united After Twenty Years—A Romantic Story.

NEWARK, N. J., June 25.—A romantic story is connected with the departure of Mrs. John Conway, of this city, for the west a few days ago. Mrs Conway was matron of the Essex County Insane asylum, and after a few weeks of married life her husband left her and for a long time was lost sight of. About a year ago he returned to this city, with long flowing locks and sombrero, and all the appearance of a wild westerner. He appeared to have plenty of money, and spent it lavishly. He announced that his idea of returning was to claim his wife, and return with her to the west, where he owned an extensive ranch.

His wife, who had worked and struggled alone for years without him positively refused to go with him. He pleaded and urged but in vain. She refused to leave her comfortable and lucrative berth in the asylum. He became so presistent in his efforts to induce her to return with him that she appealed to a lawyer for the purpose of having a legal separation from him.

Then her husband became discouraged and shaking the dust of Newark from his feet he took himself back to the wild west. He did not give up his efforts to reconcile his wife but wrote to her frequently, sending recommendations and vouchers of his general good character, improved habits and increased fortunes. The result was that the matron softened towards her husband and finally consented to resume marital life. He hastened back when she relented and on Wednesday the pair were united after twenty years' separation.

THE FERGUSON FAILURE is still the interesting topic in business circles. The police have been unable to capture Ferguson. It is stated that he left Fredericton at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, and, it is thought, drove across the border to take the train there for the western states. The banks here lose heavily through discounting his paper, as will also several individual parties. It is rumored that Messrs. McKeown & Kierstead were on Ferguson's paper to the extent of about $4000. Many firms here and also in the upper provinces, who furnished him with supplies, will be badly singed.

Davis, of Worcester, returned home last evening from a fishing trip to Victoria lake. They have been absent from this city about a week, and not only have had a pleasant outing, but they were highly successful in casting the fly and landing the trout. Last Tuesday the party took in 54 fish weighing from one to two pounds each in the short space of an hour and a half, and during the preceding days of their sojourn at the lake they had just as good luck.

The Kings County.

A magnificent four masted ship, the Kings County, arrived in port about 5 o'clock last evening in tow of the tug G.D. Hunter. The Kings County is 2300 tons register. She is 255 feet over all and 45 feet beam. The owners are C. R. Burgess, J. F. Tufts and Geo. W. Borden of Wolfville; Mr. Videtto and Capt. Milledge Munro, the commander, of Bridgetown, and Samuel C. West of Halifax. The after cabins of the Kings County are finished in mahogany, walnut, ash and cherry, and are marvels of neatness. There are six staterooms opening off this apartment. The dining room is all that could be desired. Carpenters, joiners and riggers are now finishing up their work, and when the Kings County leaves this port on her maiden voyage she will be fitted out in true clipper style.

More June Weddings.

A quiet wedding was celebrated in St. Rose church, this morning by the Rev. Fr. Collins, when Mr. Daniel J. Jennings, the well-known book store proprietor, was united in marriage to Miss Cecelia McMurray, daughter of the late Patrick McMurray of Pleasant Point.

Mr. Jennings many friends old and young will wish the happy couple joy in their union.

The Catholic church at Norton, Kings county, yesterday morning was the scene of another wedding ceremony of interest to St. John people. The occasion was the marriage of Miss M. A. Ryan, daughter of Squire Ryan of that place, to M. J. Nugent of this city. The ceremony was performed with nuptial mass by Rev. Father Belliveau of Sussex. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss M. J. Ryan, and the groom was supported by James Murphy of St. John. The bride was attired in a handsome directoire costume of a pretty shade of light drab, trimmed with brown silk, Neapolitan straw hat, ostrich tips, aigrettes and ribbons to match costume. A sumptuous repast was subsequently served at the residence of the bride's father.
