TRADE COMMISSION FROM BRITISH GOVT. LOOKING LONDON OVER

Steps Being Taken for Closer Imperial Union.

"One of the purposes of my visit to London is to seek information as to its attractions for British firms who may desire to establish plants in Canada after the war." Fred W. Field, the British Government's trade commissioner in Ontario, made this statement to a representative of The Advertiser in an interview last night.

The commissioner is also getting in touch with manufacturers' agents and importers who are interested in British trade in Ontario. He will be glad to meet any of them at the Tecumseh House from 2 to 4:30 today.

Broke Relations.

"Manufacturers' agents in Ontario," he said, "will be interested in the knowledge that cases have recently been brought to the attention of the department of overseas trade (development and intelligence) of the British Government by its various trade commissioners, in which United Kingdom firms have broken off their relations with their agents abroad on the ground that, owing to preoccupation on war work or other difficulties, they are unable to deliver goods for export.

"The difficulties experienced by manufacturers in maintaining their overseas trade are fully appreciated, but the department has stated it is also well to bear in mind the position of overseas agents who find themselves unable to obtain their normal supplies of goods from the United Kingdom. It will not be disputed that a good agent is as valuable an asset to a manufacturer as any unit in his manufacturing organization, and that the retention of his services may assist materially in keeping together the good-will of the manufacturer's connection, even if orders from overseas cannot be executed. It may also be pointed out that the severing of connections with a good agent must necessarily lead to the agent seeking other principals, and so transferring his services and experience to a competitor.

Arrange Commission.

"The majority of British manufacturers have no doubt taken these facts into account, and instances have been brought to the attention of our department in which the manufacturer has arranged to pay his agent a sum based on the commissions earned by him in more normal times. There have, however, been cases in which it has appeared that the position of the agent cut off from his normal supplies is not always fully realized, and the department has therefore deemed it worth while to call attention to representations made more than once by trade commissioners that a manufacturer who is unable to execute orders from abroad owing to war conditions, should give serious consideration to the desirability of taking special steps to retain the services of a good agent, whether by the payment of a retaining fee or in some other way.

Offered to Government.

"The facilities of the trade commissioner service of the United Kingdom has been offered by the British Government to the various governments of the British Empire. In the case of Canada, the offer has been accepted at points where the Canadian Government has not its own trade commissioner. This service is one of the many practical steps being taken by the Imperial and Dominion Governments to weld the various parts of the Empire in a commercial way. In the past the first benefits of our trade and natural resources have often gone to enemy countries. The tendency now is to conserve those benefits first for the Empire.

"Among the principal duties of the British trade commissioner are the keeping in close touch with the government and state authorities in the dominion to which he is attached; the visiting of the principal commercial centres in his area and the establishment of touch with the members of the commercial community (hence my visit to London), and the making of an annual general report on the conditions and prospects of trade in his area, supplementing it by special reports dealing as exhaustively as possible with particular questions which are likely to be of interest to British firms."

SENT FOR TRIAL

Express Employee Will Be Tried at General Sessions for Jewelry Thefts

William Hewitt, who appeared in the police court yesterday on two charges of theft, laid by Detective Walter Smith of the Canadian Express Company, was committed for trial at the next general sessions, and allowed out on bail which was fixed at $2,000. It was necessary to hold a special session of police court yesterday afternoon in order to complete the hearing of the evidence, after which Magistrate Graydon committed Hewitt for trial.

It is alleged that Hewitt, while in the employ of the express company, stole two watches and three diamond rings, the latter being disposed of in Detroit by a companion. Hewitt pleaded not guilty to both charges.

ITALIAN RESIDENTS OF CITY CELEBRATE BIG PIAVE VICTORY

Parade Was Followed by Speeches and Concert

PRAISE ALLIES' WORK

May Mean Beginning of the End, Says Lieut.-Col. Smith.

Led by the Marconi Club Band, local Italian residents turned out in full strength last night, and in a parade followed by a band concert and speeches in Victoria Park, celebrated the big victory achieved by their fellow-countrymen on the Piave River.

The parade, in honor of the first big victory that has fallen to the Allied arms for months, recalled the days when Italy entered the war along with the other Allies in their fight for freedom.

Forming up at the headquarters of the Marconi Band in Fullarton street, about 7:30, the revelers, 200 strong, with the band leading, moved by way of Talbot, Queen's, Waterloo, Dundas and Richmond streets to the park.

Immediately behind the band, was borne the Canadian flag, on either side of which were the Italian flag and the flag of the Italian Society. Then followed autos bearing Mayor Somerville and other officials, and other cars carrying prominent local Italians. Many in khaki from the local camps were conspicuous in the procession.

At the city hall, and again at the Advertiser and Free Press offices, the procession halted, while the band played "Rule Britannia," "O Canada," and the Italian National Anthem. Cheering crowds marked the line of march, and even from the verandas along the residential streets, cheers rang forth as they passed by.

On arrival at the park, where a large crowd had gathered, speeches were delivered by Mayor Somerville, and Lieut.-Col. H. D. Smith, representing the headquarters staff here.

Mayor's Address.

"We are gathered together for a few moments here, following the fine procession of which we are all proud, to mark the occasion of the brilliant feat of arms performed by your people," said Mayor Somerville. "The procession brings home the value of the victory not only to Italy but also to all the Allied armies.

"This victory which has been achieved by your armies is the first that has come to us for many months. All that we have been able to do for months was to hold our ground, and we are glad that our allies in Italy have succeeded in hurling the enemy across the Piave.

"The Italians who have come to the city are among the best of our citizens, and we are glad that all the Allied men are mingling together on all the fronts. It will create a beneficial rivalry and will help the Allies to hold their own.

"As Canadians we are proud that our boys have been able to hold their own, and even to go on offensive, such as those at the Somme, Vimy Ridge and Paschendaele.

Tremendous Results.

"Such fighting as that on the Italian front will have tremendous results, and we are glad to meet our Italian friends and to help them celebrate this tremendous victory, so that the Hun nation may be put in the place where it belongs."

Lieut.-Col. Smith, after explaining that he had been directed to represent the district officer commanding, Brig.-Gen. Shannon, who had by a previous appointment been prevented from attending, congratulated those present on the magnificent victory their incomparable army had achieved on the Italian front in the past few days.

"Those who understand and study military events are not at all surprised at the showing made by our army, not only during the reverses, but also during this victory, that possibly marks the beginning of the end of the great war.

"We congratulate you also because alongside of your wonderful men are French and British troops, who were moved from France some months ago. The fact that today British, French and Italians are fighting together under one general marks a great advance.

Saved From Ruin.

"We congratulate you for another reason. We know the awful ravages that resulted from the German advance in Belgium and France. Under an Austrian advance what is probably the greatest art city in the world would have been in ruins, and it has now been saved from disaster.

"I am told that 100 or more of your race have left the city to join your army. That speaks well for you, who have come to this country to make a living, and shows that you have found in the free air of Canada an incentive to go back and fight for this country and their own.

"The result of this victory will, I have no doubt, be the demoralization of the Austrian army, and if so, it will mean the beginning of the end."

The speeches were most enthusiastically received throughout, and were punctuated by almost continual applause.

Cheers for Kings.

At the conclusion of the speeches Mayor Somerville led in giving three cheers for King Victor Emanuel III., and for Gen. Diaz and his valiant men. Master of Ceremonies Joseph J. Famularo then led with three cheers for His Majesty King George.

The arrangements were made by a committee composed of D. Cusolito, C. Catalano, and S. Sansone, of the Marconi Club, and J. J. Famularo, of the London Italian Society.

The following program was rendered by the band, under Prof. P. Venuta, during the concert at the park: Trent and Trieste, patriotic march; Risviglio, patriotic march; Trieste, symphony; Garibaldi's Hymn; Marseillaise; America, patriotic march; The Bayonet Charge, march symphonic; The Firmness of the Allies.

BOYS "RAILROADED" TO INSTITUTIONS IS CHARGE MADE BY CITY INSPECTOR

Serious Allegations of Official Presented to Finance Committee of Council.

WILL TAKE UP CASE

Children's Aid Society and Magistrate To Be Interviewed.

Are London lads, who err during their irresponsible boyhood days, railroaded to different institutions by officials of the city of London? Such an insinuation was made Wednesday night at the meeting of the finance committee. Relief Inspector J. W. McCallum was the official who made it.

The charge is a serious one. It involves not only the officials and the homes of the boys, but also the city. Mr. McCallum's allegation was that the officials in charge of this work in London were loading up institutions with boys of the city at the expense of London. Every time a boy is sent to one of these homes it means that the city must assume the cost of his keep until he reached the age of 21. This is now charged at 30 cents a day.

The committee was considering the case of a 12-year-old lad recently sent down by the magistrate. He is 12 years of age. During the discussion Mr. McCallum remarked, "There is a man in the city hall who takes a delight in saddling the city with boys sent down for trivial offences. It is time he was checked up. Only a short time ago he sent a little colored boy down there for mitching from school, and now the city must support him until he is 21 years of age."

Mr. McCallum explained that if the boys sent to these schools are apprenticed out the officials of the schools do not send the city notice. Instead they continue to charge the city for their keep.

"He is too keen at taking boys and having them sent down," declared the inspector, referring to the official.

The committee discussed the question at some length.

"If matters are going to the extremes that the inspector says they are, it is time it was looked into," declared Controller C. H. Merryfield. He believed that the heads of the Children's Aid Society and the magistrate ought to be interviewed. It was decided to refer the charges to the Children's Aid Society.

Mr. McCallum said that in many cases boys were taken before the magistrate and when they were sent down to the schools the mothers were told that they were only sent down for a month or so. One boy's mother said her 13-year-old son was gone for a month. There was a sad awakening coming to her when she found that he was there until he was 21 years of age. He also knew of another mother who was told that her son was sent down for two months. She is preparing to have him home soon. She also is doomed to disappointment.

WANTS $1,000 PAID IN BY MIDDLE OF JULY

"Earn and Give" Committee Already Has $222.70.

Up to date $2,500 has been subscribed to the "Earn and Give Campaign" by the members of the Boys' Division of the local Y. M. C. A.

The boys entered in this campaign agree to earn and give ten dollars to the Y. M. C. A. This money will be used for Y. work overseas. An employment bureau has been arranged for so the boys may secure work in this way. Many boys have already been placed on odd jobs such as cutting grass, cleaning windows and folding letters in many business offices and banks in the city.

The committee in charge of the campaign intends to have $1,000 paid in by the 15th of July. Already $222.70 has been paid in, and the following eight boys have paid up in full: Stanley Chappell, Andrew Know, Jack Macgregor, Clifford Morgan, Gordon Morris, George Yendall, Fred Beatty and Edward Keenleyside.

The committee in charge of the campaign will try and arrange an "Earn and Give Race" at the Great War Veterans' annual field day to be held July 1 (Dominion Day).

Army 'Blue-Bonnets' Blue In Disposition Because of Orders

Distinguishing Band of Draftees' Escorters Must Be Ripped Off.

The famous "Blue Bonnets" who have guided the unwary steps of innumerable draftees through the treacherous sands andasphalts of this city to the khaki-guarded dugout at the mobilization centre, are no longer blue. The feelings of some of them, are said to be quite blue, though.

Alas! The only thing left them by the relentless army orders is their bonnets. The blue is due to disappear. No more will the gaily baby-ribbon bedecked soldiers meet trains and lead the newly-arrived soldier along the proper way for newly-arrived soldiers to go. "Plain khaki" will meet the trains in future.

Orders are adamant, and when they say that his majesty the pompous conducting sergeant must rip off the dainty blue band, and look like any ordinary common garden variety of sergeant, there's no getting away from it.

"It's pretty tough," said one of the B. B's, as he wiped a tear from his eye with the end of his blue band, which he had juxed from his sleeve. "What a tough luck, after strutting around dolled up like a jazz band for several months, to have our colors reduced. War sure is ——, but wot's the use?"

VOTE NECESSARY TO ALLOW NATURAL GAS, SOLICITOR'S VIEW

City Official Makes This Ruling—FranchiseExpired?

The ratepayers of the city may be asked to vote on the question of allowing the City Gas Company to mix natural gas with its artificial supply. This has been recommended by City Solicitor Meredith. This and the statement of the solicitor that the Gas Company's franchise expired in 1914 featured the solicitor's report on the request for the council that he draw up an agreement to allow the mixing of the gas. Mr. Meredith's report to No. 1 committee last night was to the effect that in 1913 he had given Mayor Graham the opinion that the gas company has no right to lay pipes for natural gas or to introduce natural gas into its pipes without a bylaw being passed by the council granting it authority so to do.

"I also stated that in my opinion such a bylaw falls within the provision of the municipal franchise act and requires the assent of the electors." He added, "I still adhere to that opinion."

Mr. Meredith after touching on the 1916 proposal re allowing the use of natural gas for manufacturers, said the act provides that such a bylaw shall set forth the terms, conditions and period of such a right. He also calls attention to the fact that in 1917, when the city was applying for legislation respecting the City Gas Company, the claim was made on behalf of the city that the franchise, as it is called, of the City Gas Company expired on July 6, 1914, and that the term of the existence of the London Gas Light Company, which was incorporated on February 4, 1879, was 50 years from February 4, 1879.

Will Be Delayed.

The matter was referred to the special gas committee, and ask that it arrange for taking a vote of the people.

"Too bad," added Ald. Holmes, "that it will be delayed until January, as the gas will be needed before that."

City Engineer Brazier, in his check of the lights of the city, finds that there are many more lights in the city not being used than what the city was given credit for in the rebate made by the utilities commission.

Mr. Brazier's report is that there are 446 lights unlit. The utilities allowed for 295, a difference of 151 lights.

A further cut will be asked.

Food Examiner.

The committee decided to ask the minister of labor to appoint J. W. McCallum as food controller. Mr. McCallum said that he had asked the cold storages for information and was refused. This was a specific instance of a refusal to give information as was asked for by the minister.

There is another Londoner who wants wildcats in the city controlled. Walter G. Wright says these animals have played "hob" with his garden. There are others he says, who must have suffered similarly. He suggested that it be made a municipal offence to allow such animals to run at large He suggested that they be kept tied up during the period from May to October. Sarnia, he said, had found such a law a benefit.

The council has such a proposal in hand already. It is waiting on W. E. Saunders for further information on the subject.

The question of charging a higher rate for market stalls was up again. The motion to jump them up $3 resulted in a tie vote and so the matter goes back to the council.

The committee indorsed the resolution of the Toronto city council asking that the price of gasoline be fixed by the Federal Government, as the present price is "abnormally high."

Youths Charged With Assaulting Rabbi Escape In Court.

George E. Bennett, a Front street resident, appeared in police court today charged by a neighbor with trespassing on his property. Evidence was given to show that Bennett was in the habit of crossing the complainant's property while taking his horse to pasture, and it is alleged that he refused to keep off the property when requested to do so by the owner. Considerable argument was involved between the respective counsels over the title of the land in question, and Magistrate Graydon fined Bennett $2 and costs.

An auto owner, who neglected to burn the midnight oil on his car, contributed $2 to the treasury.

Three juveniles from the south end, who appeared in court charged with disturbing services at the Wellington Street Jewish Synagogue and also with assaulting Rabbi Aidenoff, were discharged with a warning by Magistrate Graydon.

PEOPLE TO VOTE ON PURCHASE OF TRACTION LINE

This Is Statment of Mayor in Discussing $279,000 Offer for Road.

If the city council approves of the recommendation of the board of control that the city pay $241,000 for the London and Lake Erie Transportation Line, and if such a price is acceptable to the company, the ratepayers will then be asked to vote on the proposal, according to Mayor C. R. Somerville.

The company has advertised for tenders for the purchase of the railway. These will be opened on July 2, the same day as the council will meet, so that it is likely that the council may know in time for the meeting, when the board of control's recommendation will be presented, whether or not the price mentioned will be acceptable to the company.

Mayor Somerville says he does not know whether or not it will be acceptable.

This is the city's first definite offer for the line. The company asked $420,000.

The city's offer, with bonuses added, will bring the price to $279,000.

GRADED CERTIFICATES WILL BE GRANTED TO ONTARIO ENGINEERS

Applications Will Be Received January 1, 1919.

Graded certificates will be granted the stationary engineers of Ontario, and applications for these will be received by the board of examiners after January 1, 1919. This announcement was made last evening at the convention of the C. A. S. E. in Hyman Hall by Dr. W. A. Riddell, superintendent of the trades and labor branch of the Ontario Department of Public Works.

There will be four grades. Fourth class certificates will be issued to firemen, night watchmen and other engineer assistants. The examination for this grade will be oral, relating to the practical operation of boilers, etc. This certificate will be optional for some time.

The third class will correspond to the present compulsory certificate, and the present standard will obtain. Any person must have this grade before he can operate a boiler of 50 horsepower or over and carrying 20 pounds or more of steam. The examination for this certificate will be along practical lines of boiler operation

The second-class certificate will be optional, and will be one step higher than the present license requires. A written examination combining practice with theory in steam usage and requirements will be required from the applicant for this grade. Holders of the present licenses may be granted a second-grade certificate if in the opinion of the board their experience, standing and character warrant the granting of this class. The length of time the applicant must have operated steam plants before being given this certificate will be later decided by the board.

First Class Optional.

The first class certificate will also be optional to the engineers. The applicant must hold a certificate of the second class or one of equivalent value from some board other than the Ontario board of examiners. He must also have had ten years' continuous experience in the operation of steam plants. This grade can only be obtained by a written examination on questions of a highly technical and practical nature relating to power plants. While the board will receive applications for these certificates on the first of January next year they will not be general until the year 1920. After the 1st of January of that year applicants for any grade must have the certificate of the grades below or their equivalent. Failing this he must take the examinations in the lower grades first. It is the intention of the board to have all the application forms which will be returned to that body next year, classified with respect to grades by January, 1920.

Dr. Riddell told of the work of the trades and labor branch along the lines of employment offices and farm labor. He also intimated something of the investigations which are being carried out with a view to lessening the danger in factories manufacturing explosives.

Vocational Training.

Some action would be taken in the near future regarding vocational training for boys, he hoped.

Addresses were also given by Fred R. Raven, national secretary, N. A. S. E., Chicago; E. F. Valiquet, member of the stationary engineers' examining bureau for Quebec; W. C. McGhie, chairman of the examining board for Ontario; Jack Armour of New York.

Hearty votes of thanks were passed to the various speakers. Dr. W. A. Riddell, F. R. Lowe, F. W. Raven and A. M. Wickens were made honorary members of the C. A. S. E. The oath was administered by President Gofton.

Gordon C. Keith, secretary of the Exhibitors' Association, occupied the chair, and distributed the prizes. A box of silverware was presented him in recognition of his services on behalf of the convention. George E. Moll was also remembered and was given an umbrella as a slight token.

The drawings for the special prizes which were presented by the exhibitors occasioned much merriment. Various articles, from dolls and teddy bears to pyjamas, were drawn by women and men alike.

Picnic at Port.

As guests of the Exhibitors' Association, the delegates, accompanied by their wives and families, spent a pleasant afternoon at Port Stanley, where a good program was carried out. What was described as one of the fastest and one of the most scientific games of baseball was played by teams picked from the engineers and the supply men. The score at the end of the fifth inning, when the last call was made for supper, was 14-10, in favor of the engineers. W. G. Walters captained the engineers and L. F. Mayne led the supply men to a near-victory. The pitchers were L. F. Mayne and George F. Galloway, and the catchers were John Middleton and George Ayrscott.

In the young ladies' race, Agnes England led, with Kathleen England and Florence Galloway tieing for second place. Mrs. D. R. Laver and Mrs. Dan Freedy demonstrated their speed in the potato race, winning first and second among a number of competitors.

The fat ladies' race was won by Mrs. S. Nash and Mrs. A. Clements.

Mrs. D. Freedy with John Whittaker and Mr. and Mrs. D. Laver won the prizes in the thread-and-needle race by a small margin.

In the boot-and-shoe race G. F. Galloway led, with S. Balmfirth next.

John Whittaker and S. Balmfirth crossed the line ahead of the rest of the fat men.

In the "over 40" class W. L. Roadhouse and John Agroff carried off the honors.

The biscuit-eating contest was won by Mrs. William Middleton and Mrs. D. R. Laver.

G. F. Galloway with J. Whittaker, and C. N. Schrag with S. Balmfirth, after numerous tumbles, headed the list in the wheelbarrow race.

Mrs. D. Laver and Mrs. S. Nash for the ladies, and J. Thompson and C. N. Schrag for the men, displayed their ability in picking clothespin off a line with their teeth and beat all other competitors easily.

J. Williams of Guelph was the oldest engineer on the grounds who is actively engaged in the operation of a steam plant.

The prize for the largest family was not awarded. Apparently engineers have no families. At any rate, several who intended trying for this prize could not gather their children together at the time of the judging.

C. B. Turner and George E. Moll were the judges.

After a war luncheon served in the cafeteria, the party left for London in special cars.

GIVEN WATER SET.

On Tuesday the members of Hyatt Avenue Methodist Women's Missionary Society gathered at Springbank for their annual picnic and had a most enjoyable time. Mrs. (Rev.) H. D. Moyer president, on the eve of her departure from London for Seaforth, was presented with a beautiful cut glass water set and an address, read by Mrs. J. Grieves, secretary.

DANDRUFF GOES! HAIR GETS THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Save your hair! Double its beauty in a few moments! Try this!

Hair stops coming out and every particle of dandruff disappears.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach, and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food, will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate, and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."
