This week the Salvation Army are practicing self-denial and giving all money saved thereby to the Army. The money realized will be spent in the country in which it was raised.

Letters from England state that Bishop Lewis' health has been much improved by his sojourn in Scotland. He has left Edinburgh for London and will soon leave for Egypt to spend the winter.

Violins, accordeons, concertinas, guitars, banjo's, mouth organs, Jew's harps, flutes, fifes and violin, guitar and banjo strings, violin bridges and bows kept in stock at Ross' photo gallery, Central Block, Athens.

The Auxiliary of the Methodist Church has arranged for a missionary entertainment Thursday evening, Nov. 12, to commence at 7 p. m. The programme will be found in another column and is worthy of a large audience.

Go to G. W. Beach's for Men and Boy's Overcoats.

Yesterday Harry, the little son of Frank Blanchard, broke his arm while wrestling with a companion. The services of Dr. S. S. Cornell have placed the little fellow in a fair way for recovery. The injury was purely accidental.

Geo. H. Latham, who resides about a mile east of Athens, has decided to give up farming here and remove to Gananoque where he will engage in business. On Monday, Nov. 16, commencing at 12 noon he will offer for sale all his farm stock, implements, etc.

A by-law of the Brockville market forbids those attending from selling fresh pork in less quantities than a quarter. For some time the law has been evaded by sprinkling a little salt on the pork, but on Monday a number of farmers were brought before the Police Magistrate and instructed that in future this evasion would not do.

The pea-shooter has arrived and public safety, comfort and convenience demand that it be promptly suppressed. The little missiles are positively dangerous as well as annoying. The manipulators of the little guns are no more respectors of persons or places, and they were introduced into one of our village churches last week.

Mrs. Knapp opened her school of Stenography here and commenced giving instructions last evening. A goodly number were in attendance, giving great encouragement for an increase in number at the next lesson, which will be given Monday next. Mrs. Knapp is also conducting, very successfully, classes in Newboro and Delta. A knowledge of shorthand is now indispensably necessary in many business pursuits, and studens who intend taking a course will find Mrs. Knapp's instruction thorough and her charges reasonable.

Consult your own interests by giving me a call if you want to purchase a piano, organ or sewing machine. Curtain poles complete from 5 to 12 feet long at G. W. Beach's.

Mr. John Tennant of Caintown has an extra fine field of fall wheat. It looks like old times.

Don't forget to call and see the Dress Goods and Mantle Cloths, also the new Dress Trimmings, at G. W. Beach's.

Messrs. Mott & Robeson have arranged their large warehouse specially for the reception of grain of which they are buying large quantites.

Thursday, Nov. 5th was a St. Bartholomew day for the fine hogs that had lived high and fared sumptuously in Caintown. A week ahead the weather prophet had appointed the day—as fine a day as could be desired.

Thirteen years ago Miss Russell, who kept a dressmaking shop at Westport lost a chain and locket in her boarding house. The house was being repaired inside, when the chain and locket were found in a mouse's nest last week.

Messrs. W. Fredenburg and Jas. Conley, of Westport last week captured a fine buck that weighed over 200 lbs. They pursued it with a steam yacht and on coming up with it lassoed it with a rope and dispatched it with a knife.

Thursday of this week has been set apart for the annual return of thanks. In the method adopted of doing this great diversity of taste will be manifested, but it is pretty certain that every one who owns or who can borrow a gun will take to the woods.

The well known trotting stallion, J. C. Rysdyk, owned by D. C. McClary, was sold last week to Mr. Flynn, of Prescott, for the sum of $500. Mr. Flynn intends next season to keep this horse partly on his old route. This horse left this section with a high reputation.

When filling his silo last year, the children of R. R. Sangster, Lancaster, who were playing about, threw a number of large coarse apples among the cut corn. When the silo was emptied during the winter, the apples were found thoroughly cooked, as if in a stove and of excellent flavor, though tasting a little of corn.

Dr. Jas. Hall leaves Brockville on Thursday afternoon via the C. P. R. for Vancouver and thence to his foreign mission field. In this section where Mr. Hall is so well known all wish him a safe and pleasant journey and will be glad to read the record of his travels and labors which he has promised to send to the Reporter.

Our neighbors are now "having lots of fun" with the defeated candidates. The day after the election The New York Sun fired this paragraph at Mr. Sloat Fassett:—"Sound trumpets, sound a wailing note, a doleful dirge for busted Sloat; with dismal drop, with sickening thud, soupward he slid—his name is Mud!"

The alacrity with which the price of a man's property will go up when he imagines he sees a chance of selling it, or when he is trying to make an impression on his friends, is slow pace when compared with the agility with which he comes down when the asses or inquires its value. But in this world we all have our little ups and downs.

The following graceful lie comes from an enterprising Montana newspaper: It says a farmer in Gallatin county raised 1,000 bushels of popcorn and stored it in a barn. The barn caught fire, the corn began to pop and filled a ten-acre field. An old mare in a neighboring pasture had defective eye-sight, saw the corn, thought it was snow and laid down and froze to death.

Mrs. Lucy R. Fitzsimmons, wife of the celebrated jail breaker, and who was recently convicted of murder in the second degree, was sentenced at Pittsburg, Pa., Saturday, to eight years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. Detective Gilkinson was killed in her presence while attempting to arrest her husband. Fitzsimmons escaped in time to avoid trial, and is still at large.

The steamer Rothesay, sunk between Brockville and Prescott, has been sold to Canadian parties, and will be raised this fall. The Rothesay was sunk by colliding with the tug Myra Sept. 12th 1889. In the two years she has been lying on the bottom, her upper works having been entirely torn away and mud formed about the hull so as to make the work of raising very difficult. It is thought the machinery is little damaged as it has been entirely covered with water since going down.

Rev. W. A. Phillips, for several years the popular pastor of the M. E. Church here, has been recently appointed to the Western Ave. M. E. Church, Chicago. We are sure his many friends here will join with us in congratulating him upon his advancement to so important a charge. From the financial statement of the church for 1891 we learn that it requires about $6,700 to run the church for a year, and that of this sum the pastor receives about $3,100. The church has a membership of over 800, and the building has seating accommodation for 1,200. Mr. Phillips' address now is 998 W. Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

The editor of the Kingston Whig says: "When we cannot earn a newspaper living on independent principles we will take to peddling cigars." While we question the editor's taste and judgment in looking upon cigar peddling as the resort of an unsuccessful newspaperman, we think the day far distant when the ranks of that profession will be recruited from the Whig office. The Whig is one of the very best city and district papers published in Canada, and its "independent principles" stand out as prominent as the cartilaginous protuberances on the back of a sturgeon.

A lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars has been established at Addison. This village was for many years a centre of temperance thought and temperance work, and the new lodge will no doubt have enrolled among its members many who in former days were closely identified with the pleasures, trials and triumphs of the old lodge. The new lodge comes into being at a time when the great body of temperance workers are engaged in running new lines, while continuing to work on the the old, and will no doubt do their full share towards bringing that consummation so devoutly hoped, prayed and worked for by all enemies of the liquor traffic.

For the Ladies.

HAVING just learned the latest style of dress-cutting, called "The Standard French Tailor System," all ladies wishing to have their dresses made perfect in fit and workmanship would do well to patronize Miss A. RICHARDS, next door to Mrs. F. F. Bristow's millinery rooms, Centre Street, Athens. Also, an apprentice wanted to learn the dress-making.

UNDERTAKING

Our line of Funeral Furnishings was never more complete. We can supply on the shortest notice the plainest coffin or the handsomest burial casket. We are not in any combine and our prices are just as low as we can make them.

Our Hearse is one of the handsomest in the county and our very reasonable charges for it are proportioned to the distance it has to go.

We cannot offer to the public—even on paper—a free vault, because there is no such thing in Athens, as the following letter will show:

"Athens, Nov. 3rd, 1891.

"A resolution passed by the Methodist Trustee Board granting to Stevens Brothers and R. D. Judson, undertakers in Athens, the right to place bodies in the vault for the sum of two dollars each body (said undertakers responsible for the payment of the two dollars.

A. W. BLANCHARD, Secretary Board."

The sum of $2 has to be paid for each body stored in the vault and whether that sum is paid directly or indirectly makes no difference to our patrons. The vault rent has to be paid; that is very plain. And it is equally plain that no one undertaker has a preferential right over another.

Our methods of doing business are fair, open and above-board, and will stand investigation.

Furniture.—Our stock of Furniture is complete in every respect, and we offer it at nearly cost price for the next 30 days. Intending purchasers will do well to call and see for themselves.
