a self-made man: Go and ask him about his early origin, rise and progress, and he will tell you "For many years I had to row against the wind and tide." And if you ask him, "Then what did you do?" his reply would be "I persevered and kept rowing on to be sure. Well here is the secret again revealed. Young Man, just entering on the duties of life—anxious to leave behind thee a name that posterity will hold fast to universal admiration.—"Go thou and do likewise." For if a poor worldling would exert all his power, to add to his stock of earthly possessions, don't you be outdone by such a person in storing your mind with useful and religious knowledge. "Row On!" should be your motto; and rest assured, if you will only keep a sharp look out, and take advantage of the little favourable breezes which all have, more or less in the voyage of Human Life you will obtain a satisfaction of mind, not to be described by language, and an immortality worth more than a monarch's crown.

It is impossible in one single article to do justice to the present subject. The field is so wide; and so much may be said. As we are the creatures of habit, too much pains cannot be taken to acquire a character for firmness and decision. Unflinching courage and perseverance should be traits in the character of all young persons, let their situation in life be what it may. When we see a person with a determination of will; a resolution to press on; and they are on the right track, and in the pursuit of a good and honorable end, success is sure in nine cases out of ten. "But," says the young man "I see briars in my path, that I cannot meet and conquer." If this be your feeling, and it is not abundoned, you will never do any thing. All situations in life have their peculiar difficulties; but the only cure is, to adopt the motto at the head of this article. Another one says "I am a poor apprentice and labour all the time, and my hours of study are "few and far between." So much the more need of application to improve these leisure hours aright. "Row on!" young man; many have been born in the midst of ignorance, and have not acquired one tenth part of your advantages, and yet they have forced their way among the learned: just the same way so many poor people in the world have become rich in silver and gold! Says another, "But my father was poor before me, I can boast of no rank, titles, nor worldly grandeur." A laughable objection, but a very common one.—Young Man, do you know what constitutes True Nobility? These things you envy are good in society, but in themselves considered, they are mere earthly baubles. The treasures of an upright heart are the only treasures that moths may not corrupt and thieves break into and steal. The refinements of the mind are refinded, what constitutes nobility of demeanour, and cannot be dispensed with; they polish with much higher lustre than any court of etiquette; they give that native elegance which has superior charms to any that can be acquired. Says another "I am a poor man, with a tribe of children to support; I find work hard to get, and very hard to do when it is got; what can I possibly do?" Why you must do the same thing—Persevere.—Row on!—The difficulties of this poor man are great; but will they ever be remedied, by "standing still," and looking at them? Let him go forward—by and by he will come to an open sea—and bring his voyage to a successful termination. It is only on these principles he can expect to arrive from obscurity to eminence. The old saying is a true one, "Faint heart never won fair lady."

In conclusion, I would say to every person, that having deliberately determined on the course we ought to adopt, it is only by pursuing that course with undeviating firmness and unwearied perseverance, that we can hope to obtain the object of our pursuit. This remark will apply to many of the situations in which we are called to act. Whatever is the object of our pursuit, whether science, or virtue, or fame, the only rational means of success, is continued Perseverance. This is the only way for young men to make themselves, and to make themselves well; and the only support under disappointment and defeat, is that dignified firmness, which will enable us to say, in view of all the calamities of life,—"None of these things move me."

PROVINCIAL ASSOCIATION.—A second meeting of the Provincial Association was held at the Hall of the Mechanics' Institute, on Thursday the 18th January, 1844,—when the following Gentlemen were nominated and appointed Office Bearers for the ensuing year:—

John Owens, Esq. President,
Mr. Robert Robertson, } Vice Presidents,
Mr Robert D. Wilmot, }
M. H. Perley, Esq. Secretary,
Mr. Thomas Gilbert, jr. Treasurer.

COMMITTEE.

Walker Tisdale, Farmer; Edward L. Jarvis, Merchant; Robert Keltie, Brewer; Wm. A. Robertson, Tailor; Thomas Allan, Founder; Wm. W. Emslie, Cordwainer; Barzilla Ansley, Tanner; Andrew Scott, Tallow Chandler; Jacob Myers, Pail Maker; Joseph Lawrence, Cabinet Maker; John J. Munro, Carpenter; John McLardy, Baker; John Kinney, Fisherman; Wm. F. Smith, Mason; John Gillies, Farmer; John R. Marshall, Blacksmith; Robertson Bayard, Barrister; John B. Gaynor, Blockmaker; James Dunn, Farmer; Charles Adams, Shipwright; John Berryman, Baker; Jas. Moran, Farmer; Thomas Trafton, Farmer; Michael Thompson, Painter; Wm. O. Smith, Druggist; John W. McLeod, Flour Dealer.

After which, it was Resolved, that Rules and Regulations for the good government of this Association be prepared by the Office Bearers, and be submitted for approval at the next General Meeting.

Resolved, That the Office Bearers do issue Circulars to the leading Gentlemen, Farmers, Merchants and Mechanics' in all parts of the Province, requesting them to become Members of the Association, and to give it their support by the formation of Branch Associations within their District, or in such other manner as may be deemed most beneficial to its interests.

Resolved, That the Committee do without delay proceed to business, and endeavour by all proper and legal means, to carry out and effect the great objects for which this Association has been formed; and that they be invested by this Association with full power and authority for that purpose.

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this Association, that the rates of duties lately levied in this Province on Foreign Importations, have been such as to waste the resources of the Country, and by their unequal and oppressive operations, have inflicted the most serious injury on the Farmer, the Mechanic, the Fisherman, and every other interest of this Province.

Resolved, That the Committee do forthwith prepare a Petition to the Provincial Legislature, praying that body to adopt such a scale of Duties, as will give just and equal protection, to all classes of Her Majesty's subjects, and lead to the development of the extensive and valuable resources of New Brunswick.

Last week we were under the necessity of administering to the Editor of the "Roper's News" a rather caustic remedy for the disease of a disposition to Rebellion, under which he has for some time past laboured. We are pleased to find, from the way he bellowed out, that the Medicine had the desired effect. Should he again attempt to foist his Republican notions on this public, we may find it necessary to enter into detail of his Political career in a Province that is not British, as well as give a sketch of his "Modus operandi" while on his sojourn.

"Declarations of Insolvency."—Richard Wilson, of St. John, Carpenter; George Eaton, of St. George, Merchant; Ambrose S. Carman, of Woodstock, Merchant; John Bowes, of St John, Merchant; James S. Beek, of Fredericton, Merchant; Robert Barbour, of St. John, Stonecutter.

WOLVES.—These ferocious and destructive animals, we learn, are very numerous on the branches of this river. An individual informs us that he saw one on Thursday last, at Indian Town Brook, when he and others gave chase with their axes but did not succeed in coming up with him. He also acquaints us that two were killed on the North W. during the last week, one of which, being caught in a trap in the woods, dragged it out on the ice, where he was perceived by an Indian, who immediately ran to dispatch him, but was attacked by the wolf—a contest ensued, and after a hard fight "Brother" came off conqueror. We would warn those frequenting the basin after night to be on their guard.—Miramichi Gleaner, Jan 3.

BANDITS EXECUTED IN HAVANA.—A correspondent of the New Orleans Courier writing from Havana, under date of the 14th ult., mentions the execution of seven individuals, which had taken place that morning, one of whom had been dead 24 hours. To avoid, as he supposed he could, the disgrace of a public execution, he cut his throat; but the authorities were determined that the 'spectacle' should not thus be diminished in its original extent. His corpse was brought out, tied to the stake, and shot with the others! It is said that these men are part of a regularly organized band of robbers, that existed in the mountains previous to the time of Tacon, and which he dispersed. Recently some depredations of the few remaining—and they were men of substance, having a little property and living decently, caused their arrest, trial and condemnation. Seven more will shortly share the same fate, and then it is supposed, the band will be utterly exterminated. Justice is prompt and severe in Havana. Since the days of Tacon, not only are instances of robbery, or other acts of violence, of rare occurrence, but when the criminals are caught, the punishment is swift and sure.

The Bishoprics of England and Wales were instituted according to the following order of time, viz., London, an Archbishopric and Metropolitan of England, founded by Lucius, the first Christian King of Britain, A. D. 185; Llandaff, 185; Bangor, 815; St. David's 519. The Arcabishopric of Wales from 550 till 1100, when the Bishop submitted to the Archbishop of Canterbury as his Metropolitan; St. Asaph, 547; St. Augustin (or St. Austin) made Canterbury the Metropolitan Archbishopric, by order of Pope Gregory, A. D. 566; Wells, 604; Rochester, 634; Winchester, 650; Lichfield and Coventry, 656; Worcester, 679; Hereford, 680; Durham, 691; Sodor and Man, 898; Exeter, 1050; Sherebore (changed to Salisbury) 1056; York, (Archbishopric) 1067; Dorchester, (changed to Lincoln), 1070; Chichester, 1071; Thetford, (changed to Norwich), 1088; Bath and Wells, 1088; Ely, 1109; Carlisle, 1123. The following six were founded upon the suppression of monastries by Henry VIII.—Chester, Peterborough, Gloucester, Oxford, Bristol, and Westminster was united to London in 1538. Westminster was united to London in 1550.

SUICIDE.—G. T. McCoin Esq. Barrister of Shelburne, put an end to his existence on New-Year's day, by discharging a ball from a musket through his skull. He was brother of the gentleman who jumped overboard from the steamer N. America, a short time since, on the passage from St. John to Boston.—Yarmouth Herald.

ONE DAY LATER FROM ENGLAND.

The Bank of England has given notice that they will, from and after the first day of January, cut, break and deface such gold coin below the legal current weight as may be tendered to them; and they will, up to the above mentioned period receive at the price of £3 17s. 11½ per ounce, gold coin below the legal current weight.

Intrigues are quite rife at Constantinople—the Russian and English embassies are endeavouring to check note each other. Several Pachas have been disgraced growing out of the execution of the Armenian, which created so much commotion among the foreign Ministers; the Sultan being angry that the affair was concealed from him.—Great efforts are making to get rid of Riza Pacha, and the Sultana Valide takes a lively interest in these movements. He has been appointed Minister to Paris.

The London Times admits the wrongs and grievances of Ireland, and would have them redressed.

The Anti-Corn Law League increases in numbers and enthusiasm. The subscription has reached an enormous amount, and Sir Robert Peel has been compelled to inform the agricultural interest that they must look for formidable opposition.—Nothing short of a total repeal of the Corn Laws will, it is supposed, produce a dissolution of the League.

From an official statement just presented to the Government of Great Britain, it appears that since the year 1829, no less than forty five thousand new houses, forming seven hundred and fifty new streets and squares, have been erected, or are in the course of building, in London and its suburbs.

SPAIN.—Louis Philipp's operations in Spain have all been overthrown, by the removal of his friend Olozaga.

Greek Pirates continued to cruize in the Archepelago.

Moncrieff, the author of three hundred plays, now old, blind, and poor, has had a comfortable place provided for him in the Charter House, by order of the Queen.

☞ The Temperance Meeting at the Hall of the Institute, on Tuesday evening was addressed by Mr. Francis, Mr. Ryder, and the Hon. L. A. Wilmot, of Fredericton.—The Meeting at Portland Village last evening was also addressed by Mr. Francis and several others.

☞ A large and very numerous meeting of the Provincial Association took place at the Hall of the Institute last evening, of which we will notice more fully on Monday.

☞ The English Mail, which was to leave Liverpool on the 4th inst., may be looked for in this city, on Monday morning.

☞ ROBBERY.—On Tuesday night last, the premises occupied by Mr. George Green, on the corner of Duke and Charlotte Streets, was broken into, and robbed of 5 pair of of men's boots, and 10 or 11 pair of shoes. One shoe was found next morning near the corner and one pair under the stoop of the house occupied by Mrs. Halsall. Suspicion rests upon the parties, and we hope they will, ere long be brought to justice. Herald.

☞ A cargo of Flour, manufactured from American wheat at this place, has just been shipped by the manufacturer (Mr. S. Hersey,) for Liverpool, on speculation.

☞ FEVER.—We regret says the Hilifax Herald, that the Scarlet fever is very prevalent in this city, at present. Several children have fallen victims, and a number of grown persons are 'down' with it.

WOLVES IN THE STATE OF MAINE.—The Portland Advertiser publishes the following extract of a letter dated January 1st:—"Wolves are very numerous upon this (the Narraguagis) river.—They are destroying the deer very rapidly. Carcases are found in all directions in the woods. A wolf was caught at Beddington, a week or two since, 3 feet 2 inches in height, 6 feet from the tip of the nose to the end of the tail, and weighing about 100 pounds. The howling in the night is represented as tremendous, by every one who passes the night in the woods. They are not unfrequently seen by those travelling up and down the river. Nine were seen together, near the settlement in Beddington last week. It is propable, that when they shall have thinned out the deer pretty thoroughly, the sheep-folds, &c. near the sea board, will suffer."

☞ The first newspaper was published at Venice in 1630; first in France, 1631, first in England, 1641.

SALMON FISHERY AT GASPE.—La Canadienne, a French journal, of the 18th ult, has the following piece of intelligence for our friends at the Bay:—"In the Assembly on the 4th Dec. Mr. Hamilton moved that a humble Address be presented to His Excellency, praying him to nominate Commissioners to meet other Commissioners on the part of New-Brunswick, and proceed with them to examine the Restiguouche, and other rivers of Gaspe, in order to obtain the marks [Renseignements,] relative to the Salmon Fisheries, and to make their report at the next Session of the Legislature. This motion was adopted!"—Miramichi Gleaner.
