CAME FOR PIANO; GOT "WIRELESS"

Which Failed to Connect With Money-Making Joints of Business World.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 31.—George Wheaton, a farmer living near Bloomington, Ind., came to Chicago today to buy his daughter a piano, but changed his mind and paid $400 for a wireless telegraph instrument. At noon he was willing to trade the instrument for a hand organ, and in the evening he would have exchanged it for a jewsharp.

Incidentally he invoked the aid of Justice Underwood in a vain endeavor to catch the other party to the deal.

Wheaton arrived at 8 a.m. and started for the piano district. At the corner of Adams street and Wabash avenue he heard a strange, clicking sound. Investigation revealed a prosperous-looking individual producing the sound from a small, shiny-looking instrument. Wheaton's curiosity was aroused. He was told that the instrument was a "wireless telegraph," and that the owner was just then wiring inside information on the wheat market to a friend in New York.

"It's easy money," volunteered Wheaton's chance acquaintance. "I won $20,000 on the Jeffries-Munroe fight by getting the result ahead of everyone else. All you need do is to call up New York, Boston or any place and tell them what you want, I had the first tip on the rust knocking out the wheat crop up in Dakota. Now listen. I'm going to send this wheat report to New York."

Mr. Wheaton listened. He heard the click of the instrument.

"My friend will buy wheat in New York. He will clean up $50,000. Just like falling off a log if you have one of these."

Mr. Wheaton asked the price. He was told the instruments were not for sale.

"Of course, you can rent one," said the stranger. Mr. Wheaton gave up his $400 for a four months' lease on one of the instruments. He was also given a code that he was to memorize. He tried all morning. He called up New York and Philadelphia, but got no answer. He asked about the rust in the wheat of the Dakotas, but the only time the instrument clicked was when his fingers were on the keys.

Mr. Wheaton called at Justice Underwood's court in the afternoon. He wanted to prosecute. He wanted a warrant, but he didn't know the name of the man who "rented" him the instrument. He is trying to find him now.

LADY COLIN CAMPBELL

With Clo Grave, Has Produced a Satire on Society.

London, Aug. 31.—One of the cleverest women in England is Lady Colin Campbell. She is a young journalist who writes with a pithy vim and a penetrating vigor so very seldom encountered in British papers. Her latest venture is a play, a satire on London society, which is to be produced in a few weeks in London. She has written it in conjunction with Miss Clo Grave, a brave little woman who is self-educated and his gained the foremost rank of magazine writers in England.

Not long after her marriage, which took place in extreme youth, Lady Colin Campbell joined the staff of the London World, and she has done much admirable work for that paper, including a delightful series entitled "A Woman's Walks," a selection from which has been reprinted in volume form. Her only signed contribution to the World has now been for some time the art column.

Lady Colin Campbell has published but one work of fiction, a novel entitled "Darell Blake," which was said at the time to be a pen portrait of a noted journalist of the day. Few women in society rival this energetic literary worker in the matter of outdoor sports; she is a keen fisherwoman, a fine horsewoman and a champion fencer.

DANGEROUS EXPERIMENTS

German Physician Gets Into Trouble Over Operations.

Berlin, Aug. 31. — An unusual scene was witnessed at a recent sitting of the Berlin Medical Society.

Prof. Jacob, assistant physician and the chief medical clinic in the Royal Charite Hospital, an institution under the direct control of Government through the Berlin University, made a report of experiments which he had conducted on patients under his charge. The experiments were made on tuberculosis patients with the object of watching the effect of the application of the method of treatment which he wishes to introduce.

Dr. Westenhoefer said that in two cases at least Prof. Jacob had made an incision in the patient's throat to allow him to syringe the lungs with medicaments when the operation was quite unnecessary, and that the operation and experiments had accelerated the death of one of the patients.

Dr. Lazarus supported Dr. Westenhoefer, and added that Prof. Jacob had aggravated his position by deliberately concealing the fact that he was making experiments, and the opinion of the meeting was entirely on the side of the two speakers.

Prof. Jacob made such a lame defense that the meeting finally refused to hear him, and the excitement became so general that the chairman adjourned the debate.

The fact that a physician of Prof. Jacob's attainments and standing is called sharply to account by the members of his profession for conducting dangerous experiments on unwilling patients shows what progress has been made by the movement to put down this practice.

Summer Diarrhoea in Children.

During the hot weather of the summer months the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels should have immediate attention, so as to check the disease before it become serious. All that is necessary is a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, followed by a dose of castor oil to cleanse the system. Rev. M. O. Stockland, pastor of the First M.E. Church, Little Falls, Minn., writes: "We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for several years and find it a very valuable remedy, especially for summer disorders in children." Sold by all druggists.

BUILDING LOOKS BETTER

Bethany Methodist Church, Thames Road, Repaired and Reopened.

The Bethany Methodist Church here has undergone extensive repairs recently. The auditorium has been tastefully papered, repainted, windows refrosted and a new roof put on the building. The basement has been kalsomined, repainted and windows refrosted, and a new floor put in, so that the church is very cheerful as well as comfortable. The cost of the improvements will approximate $200.

The reopening services were held on Sunday and Monday last, when Rev. S. Anderson, of Kirkton, preached instructive sermons to large congregations, morning and evening. On Monday evening the ladies provided a most wholesome and palatable supper in the basement. After supper an excellent programme was given. It consisted of addresses by the resident ministers, Revs. Fallis, Cooper and Fletcher, and also by Rev. William Godwin, of Exeter. Miss Mildred Godwin, graduate in elocution of Alma College, gave several selections in her most pleasing style, and the Hensall Male Quartet furnished excellent music. The proceeds amounted to over $100.

DAMAGE EXAGGERATED

Only 10 Per Cent of Wheat Crop Hit by the Rust.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 30.—The weekly crop reports issued by the Canadian Northern Railroad and the Canadian Pacific Railway show that the past week has been a great improvement in crop conditions. At many points harvesting operations have started and will be general by next week. Weather conditions, with the exception of the past two days, have been all that could be wished for, and the report is that, while in some places rains which were not needed have interfered with the harvest, there has been no damage done.

At no point will the rust do damage to the extent of more than 10 per cent. Frost was reported at Oakville, the only point so far visited.

WE HAVE no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhoea, cholera and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

If you are not feeling well just take another look at the last bill your doctor rendered and it's ten to one you will feel better.

A MEDICINE FOR THE MINER'S PACK.—Prospectors and others going into the mining regions where doctors are few and drug stores not at all, should provide themselves with a supply of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It will offset the effects of exposure, reduce sprains, and when taken internally will prevent and cure colds and sore throat, and as a lubricant will keep the muscles in good condition.

A man likes to think that others think he is better than he is.

It is difficult for some widows to keep up a sorrowful appearance long enough to collect the life insurance.

Adversity has its advantages. Bores do not trouble you and so-called friends do not attempt to bleed you.
