Ald. J. Knox Leslie Will Appeal From the Report of the Master in Ordinary in the McLatchie Case.

Alderman John Knox Leslie, the defendant in Preston v. Leslie, succeeded at the expense of a bill of costs in obtaining from the Divisional Court (Q.B.) an order allowing him to appeal from the report of the Master in Ordinary, which finds Mr. Leslie liable for a sum of money, come to his hands as executor of the McLatchie estate. BOARD OF TRADE NOTES.

The Council of the Board Have a New Insurance Plan Before Them.

The Council of the Board of Trade met yesterday afternoon, but adjourned without accomplishing much. The question of reorganization of insurance scheme came up, and a sub-committee, composed of President Gurney, E. Rogers, A. E. Kemp, J. L. Spink, M. C. Ellis and H. N. Baird, was appointed to report to the council next Thursday. This committee will meet on Monday at 3 o'clock.

Messrs. A. McBean & Son yesterday morning signed the bond to arbitrate in the case referred to yesterday, and the matter in consequence was not brought before the council.

Toronto Grain Markets.

Editor World: In Tuesday's issue of The World I noticed an article headed "Toronto Wheat Market." I was pleased to see that The World's attention had been called to this matter, and also that we had one journal that was not afraid to express an opinion upon the grievous injustice that is being perpetrated upon the farmers of York County. A great deal has been written and said during the last few years in reference to the decline in business on the farmers' market. Many reasons have been advanced, but the grain dealers have themselves to blame largely for the present state of affairs by their unfair treatment of the farmers of this county in marketing their grain. In the first place, in reference to prices paid, as you pointed out in your article, some of the Toronto dealers were paying 3c per bushel more at outside points than were being paid on the Toronto market for the same article. Now, why was this?

But this is not our only grievance; another and greater one exists, and I will state it. This week a neighbor of mine took a load of grain on the market and was given a ticket at 86c per bushel, and when he got the load delivered at the elevator he received a ticket for 66c per bushel, and when he asked the reason for this he was told that his wheat lacked 7 lbs. of the standard weight of 60 lbs to the bushel, and in consequence the price had to be reduced by 20c per bushel. Now what the farmers want to know is this: is the law such that we are compelled to submit to have our grain go into the hands of a second party before we know what price we are to get; or can we force payment according to price stated on our ticket received from the buyer on the market? It seems to me that this new mode of buying grain is only a new mode of swindling the farmer. Whoever heard of any of the buyers of the past 40 years acting as our present ones are doing? I have been acquainted with most of them during that time, and I never heard of a Meredith, or a Charlton, or a Bradford, or a Brown taking such a course as our present dealers are doing. Now, if the law is such as to compel us to submit to this unfair treatment, we want to know who is to blame for such a law being upon our statute books. If you will enlighten us upon these matters you will confer a favor upon the farming community.

High Park Liquor Cases.

The case of Ell Andrews, the High Park refreshment booth man, has brought out some tall swearing in the Police Court, and an effort is being made to find out who is lying. Then perjury charges will be instituted. Benjamin B. Priest and Thomas Horner swore they purchased intoxicating liquor at the refreshment booth. Richard Libby said that he was in company with the two men on one occasion, but what he got was not whiskey. Andrews and his daughter, Ada, declared that no intoxicating liquor had been sold at the booth in the four years they had occupied it. The case was enlarged for the purpose of obtaining other witnesses.

TORONTO FRUIT MARKET.

The deliveries of fruit were larger again to-day, especially peaches, which were somewhat cheaper. Other kinds of fruit sold at prices much the same as on Wednesday. Peaches sold at 15c to 30c per basket for the general run, and 35c to 45c for choice lots; plums 15c to 30c; apples ranging from $3.12½ to $4.30 per cwt.

Mr. Levack purchased some at $3.25 and $3.50 per cwt., and a few extra choice picked lots at $3.75 and $4 per cwt., but the latter prices were very rare.

Good export bulls are scarce and are wanted at prices ranging from $3.75 to $4 for picked heavy ones. Light export bulls are worth from $3.25 to $3.50 per cwt.

Feeders and stockers were plentiful and for good ones in each class we could not see any change in prices. The market was not quite as brisk as usual, most of the dealers waiting for Friday, but ready to sell if they got their price.

C. Zeagman has been down in the Eastern Townships near the city of Quebec, and purchased over 300 young cattle, all suckers and feeders, the bulk of which he expects to sell to Ontario farmers and the balance he will ship to Buffalo market. Crawford & Co. bought two feeders weighing 1000 lbs. at $3.40 per cwt., also one car load of light feeders averaging 910 lbs. each at $3.50 per cwt.

A. M. Buck bought 5 steers weighing 950 lbs. each at $3.55 per cwt., 6 steers weighing 1000 lbs. each at $3.80 per cwt., and 5 steers weighing 1040 each at $3.80 per cwt.

Very little business was done in milk cows, and only 5 were on the market; prices ranged from $20 to $38 each.

Prices for sheep were about the same and export ewes sold at $3.50 to $3.60 per cwt., and bucks brought $2.50 to $2.75, but it does not look as if these prices would be maintained very long, as the British market, for sheep has declined 75c per head.

Lambs sold at $4 per cwt., or $2.50 to $3.25 each.

The hog market was firm at $5.75 to $5.87½ per cwt. for best qualities.
