HOT SHOT FOR BRECKINRIDGE.

W. C. Owens, His Opponent, Makes a Lively Speech at Georgetown.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., May 23.—The Hon. W. C. Owens, candidate for Congress against W. C. P. Breckinridge, spoke here to an immense crowd. Three hundred women were present wearing Owens badges. This is part of what he said:

"That I may be elected it is unnecessary that you destroy the respect the people of the country have in common with those of the Ashland district for the courts of justice of the land. It is not necessary for you to believe in order to elect me, that these courts have been converted into injustice, nor do I want you to believe that every newspaper man in the country is a base liar. To elect me it is not necessary to charge that more than one-half of our Democratic friends and the good women of our district have become slanderers. To elect me it is not necessary to tear the vestments from the sacred altar and proclaim that the ministers of the holy religion have abandoned their high calling and entered into a league with the devil to destroy the Lord's anointed." (Tremendous applause and uproar.)

In closing his address, Mr. Owens said "That never in the history of the world was a man under such circumstances as the present incumbent finds himself ever elected by a free people to a post of honor. The eyes of 60,000,000 people are upon you, and your verdict will be awaited with the greatest anxiety."

A set of resolutions indorsing Mr. Owens as a moral and honorable man, possessing the entire confidence of the people of his county, was passed by a rising vote.

PATRIOTIC LORD ABERDEEN.

The Governor-General on the Duty of Canadians.

Co-Operation All Nationalities and All Creeds Required Here.

OTTAWA, May 23.—At a meeting of the Canadian Royal Society yesterday, the president read an address to Lord Aberdeen, in the course of which the following paragraph occurred:

"Ever since your Excellency and the Countess of Aberdeen have come into this country, Canadians have had many evidences of the lively interest which your Excellencies take in every subject affecting not merely the material advantages of the Dominion, but the culture and education of the people at large. It is with deep interest that the Royal Society has noted the ability and energy with which her Excellency the Countess of Aberdeen is identifying herself with a national movement, which must tend to make the women of Canada far more important factors than they are now in the social and intellectual life of this new country."

Lord Aberdeen's reply contained the following statesmanlike remarks: "There is one point in the constitution and character of the society which I cannot help thinking would in itself commend it to the grateful approval of all intelligent Canadians. I refer to the opportunity and incentive which it affords to harmonious co-operation between different branches and races of our community in the matter of promoting not only literature, art and science, but indirectly a community of interest and good feeling. (Applause.) It must be evident that when one section of the community shows respect and courtesy and consideration towards another section, they show respect to themselves and also to their country. It is obvious also that any deficiency in this respect is inconsistent with true patriotism and with the dictates not only of courtesy and duty, but of common sense —(applause)—and the community at large must be grateful for the example in the carrying out of this necessary principle which is afforded by your society. I say 'necessary,' because obviously any permanent want of co-operation, harmony and sympathy as regards the affairs of the country at large would be fatal to its true progress and happiness." (Applause.)

A LION IN MITTENS.

Sandow's Wrestle With the King of Beasts Was a Fake.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—The wrestling match between Sandow and the lion, Commodore, last night was unsatisfactory, the beast refusing to attack. He lay crouched on the floor of the arena, from which he was aroused only when Col. Boone lashed him with the whip. His mouth was confined in a heavy steel muzzle and his paws were incased in mittens. Sandow did as he pleased with him. The audience shouted "fake," and "he's dosed," and hissed.

HOPPED OUT.

Millions of Baby Grasshoppers Killed by the Snowstorm in Michigan.

WILLIAMSBURG, Mich., May 25.—Last year great armies of grasshoppers infested the Grand Traverse region and in same localties the crops were destroyed. This army deposited their eggs and for two weeks they have been hatching out. Millions of them have been noticed, but since the storm, search has been made and not a sign of a grasshopper can be found, for the cold rain and snow has destroyed them.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.

Mr. Brinsmead Corrects a Free Press Misstatement.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

I see on reading an account of Mr. Meredith's speech in the Free Press that they have my name as being on the platform. That is true. Myself and wife, with a gentleman friend, had to pass across the platform as we entered the Opera House from Richmond street. We had no means of reaching the body of the hall except by crossing the platform, but I was not on the platform in the sense that the Free Press wishes to convey. Yours respectfully,

May 23. HENRY BRINSMEAD.

RAM'S HORN BLASTS.

Any honest thing we can do can be done for God.

We punish ourselves when ever we hate others.

It is well to hope for success, but it is much better to deserve it.

Among the blindest of men are those who think they have no faults.

The hypocrite never tries to behave himself except when he thinks he is watched.

It won't do any good to confess your sins unless you are willing to forsake them.

How many people would be wonderfully amazed to get an answer to the prayers they make in prayer meeting.

The moment we become willing to forsake our sins we can count on God to help us.

Everything God does means something.

Temptations resisted are stepping stones to heaven.

No man can know the meaning of happiness while doing anything that will keep Christ out of his heart.

The devil has never undertaken to do a meaner thing than to destroy the religion of a child.

One of the men of whom the devil is the surest is the moderate drinker who thinks he is safe.

The man who owns the landscape is seldom the one who pays the tax on it.

The devil's sandals are so constructed that those who wear them can only walk toward the pit.

You cannot make a success of your religion unless you have enough of it to make a success of you.

The marvelous success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is based upon the corner-stone of absolute merit. Take Hood's throughout the spring months.
