HOW COL. SPARLING WON HIS LAST BAR

Canada Gazette Tells Story On Which Officer Is Silent.

Lieut.-Col. Albert W. Sparling, D.S.O. and two bars, while here with his unit, the 1st Battalion, refused to make any statement concerning his decorations or how he won them.

"The credit all goes to my men," was his response to each question.

The Canada Gazette of May 3 throws a little light on the work accomplished by Col. Sparling. He was gazetted a D. S. O. July 26, 1917; first bar gazetted 2nd December, 1918, and the second bar Canada Gazette May 3. Col. Sparling is one of the few battalion commanders to win two bars to his initial decoration.

Of his winning the second bar, the Canada Gazette says: Lieut.-Col. Albert Walter Sparling, D.S.O., 1st Battalion, Canadian Infantry, Western Ontario Reajment. For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty north of Hendecourt on August 31, 1918, and in the neighborhood of Cagnicourt on 2nd and 3rd September. This officer was the only surviving lieutenant-colonel of other senior field officers having become casualties. He was twice ordered to deal with serious situations on the brigade front, first, in the case of an enemy counter-attack, and a few days later when there was some confusion and loss of direction of our troops. In dealing with these matters he had to cross open ground and appreciate the situation under heavy fire. His conduct and example inspired all ranks to successful completion of their tasks.

Singer Warbles as Thief, Out of Sight, Steals His Clothes

Loser Smiles Again When Off-Stage Apparel Is Recovered.

"There are smiles that make you happy," warbled Frank Callen over the footlights to the audience at the Majestic Theatre last night.

"There are smiles that make you sad," mumbled he to himself in his dressing-room when he discovered that some sneak thief had entered it and made off with all his off-stage clothing, valued at over $60.

Today in court he repeated the lines "There are smiles that make you happy" as Sergeant of Detectives Thomas Nickle handed him back his clothing and Police Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon remanded Fred Stotten for a week on a theft charge.

In court the prisoner stated that he was formerly an employee of the theatre, but that he had joined the army six weeks ago, and becoming tired of the life he was attempting to get out of uniform.

Wants To Get To Work So Chief Will Help Him

David Hyde Has Been Unfortunate and Is No Longer Young.

Chief of Police W. T. T. Williams is attempting to secure a new start in life for aged David Hyde, now on remand in the county jail on a vagrancy charge, and who is pleading so hard for a chance to go to work on a farm that the chief is making attempts to secure him a place.

"He has a good record," stated the chief," but has been a bit unfortunate and now that he is down and trying to get up again I will try and lend him a hand. If some farmer wants a good man I will recommend Hyde."

Hyde was found on the streets here without visible means of support and the police have since learned that he was likewise found in Goderich and after doing a few months in jail there he walked out and came to London.

MOTHERS' CLUB FINISHES MOST SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Mrs. Fred Logan Elected President of Aberdeen Organization.

Reports presented at the annual meeting of the Aberdeen Mother's Club held on Thursday evening, told of a most successful year's work. A financial balance remained of $119.75, a generous amount of which was voted to various charitable and welfare objects. At the same time, a substantial sum was reserved to be used from time to time for delicacies for the military hospitables.

During the election of officers, Mrs. John Gemmill, vice president of the Union Mother's Club, was asked to take the chair. The election resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. Fred Logan; vice president, Mrs. Blackwell; secretary, Mrs. Swan; treasurer, Mrs. Langford; pianist, Mrs. Brown; press reporter, Mrs. L. Jolliffe.

The following were appointed conveners of committee: Program, Mrs. Desand; social, Mrs. Thomas; visiting, Mrs. Brown; welfare work, Mrs. H. Cook.

A pleasant social hour followed the meeting, when a dainty supper was served.

EARN AND GIVE BOYS WORK ENTHUSIASTICALLY

Today's advance in the aerial race which is being run by the boys of the city as the feature of their campaign shows steady progress. The fellows who were in the campaign last year are coming back and the proposition seems quite an easy one as compared with the effort to undertake to earn the sum of ten dollars. Boys who undertook to earn this last year know what it is to feel that they have done something that has really filled a gap in some other fellow's life. Besides, it has given him a broader idea of interresponsibility.

The earn and give fund has made possible a work among boys and the promotion of Canadian standard efficiency training in the distant field of India. Last year $2,500 was spent in this way, and "earn and give" directors are now confident that the boys will so stand behind the work this year that a man may be sent to continue a definite program for boys in that land and in China.

The fund will directly apply to the promotion of the same training among the foreign boys who are even now crowding the large Canadian cities and affording much study by those in charge of social work. Every fellow who comes forward with his pledge to earn and give his five dollars is assured that he is making possible the beginning of a course of training for another who has not had the same privileges as he.

C. OF C. DIRECTORS SUPPORT INSPECTION OF HARBOR SUNDAY

Point Out Need For Choice of Day.

CONDEMN THE CRITICISM

And Express Appreciation of Hon. F. B. Carvell's Visit to Lakeside.

In connection with the Sunday inspection of Port Stanley harbor by Hon. Frank Carvell, the board of directors of the chamber of commerce passed the following resolution at their meeting today:

Whereas, the immediate improvement of the harbor facilities at Port Stanley is a matter of deep concern, not alone to the cities of London and St. Thomas but to a large portion of Western Ontario, to the fishermen at Port Stanley and to shipping generally;

And whereas, there is not at the present time one safe harbor of refuge on the north shore of Lake Erie into which vessels may easily come in time of stress, thus increasing the dangers to which the sailors of the lakes are exposed;

And whereas the Government of Canada has, for many years past, been memorialized to take steps to make Port Stanley a safe harbor for shipping, and has during the present session of the Dominion Parliament been strongly urged to carry out the necessary improvements, and has given indications of its interest in this project as a national work;

Looked Over Harbor.

And whereas, Hon. F. B. Carvell, minister of public works in the Federal Cabinet, did, at the request of prominent London and St. Thomas citizens, stop off in London on Sunday, May 4, and looked over the harbor at Port Stanley in order to become better acquainted with conditions there;

And whereas, there was necessity for such immediate acquaintance on the part of the minister of public works with the harbor situation at Port Stanley in view of the fact that the matter is now before the Government, and in view also of the fact that the pressure of public business at this period of the parliamentary session would probably make it impossible for the minister to make a special visit during the course of the present session:

Therefore, be it resolved, that this body express its full approval of the action of the minister of public works and of those citizens who were instrumental in securing this informal visit from Mr. Carvell, and that the thanks of this body be further extended to Mr. Carvell for his attention to this matter of harbor facilities on the Canadian side of Lake Erie.

Not Unmindful.

This body is not unmindful of the divine ordinance that sets apart a day of rest for mankind. But neither is it unmindful of the fact that the Creator of the Sabbath laid down the principle that the welfare of mankind was of more importance than the mere letter of Sabbatical regulations.

This body is strongly of the opinion that, in view of the stress of after-war work resting upon the ministers of public works, the short time at his disposal for becoming acquainted with a matter even now before Parliament, and the recognized need of safe harbor facilities on Lake Erie, at the earliest possible moment, the attempt that is now being made to discredit the minister of public works and those who were associated with him is to be regretted as misrepresenting both their actions and their attitude.

And that a copy of this resolution be sent to the minister of public works, to the local and federal members for London, to the federal member for East Middlesex, to the acting mayor for London, to the mayor of St. Thomas, and to the press of St. Thomas and London.

48TH HIGHLANDERS GET WARM WELCOME ON THEIR RETURN

Toronto, May 9.—The famous 15th Battalion (the oevrseas contingent of the 48th Toronto Highlanders) is arriving here in two widely-separated trains today, and the expected big parade and civic reception in honor of the return of the battalion has been postponed till tomorrow. One train arrived this morning, bearing the first section of the battalion and was given an unprecedented reception at the exhibiteion grounds.

The battalion returns under the command of Lieut.-Col. Bent of Cumberland, N. S. Col. John A. Currie, M. P., who took the 15th overseas, will, in the reception tomorrow, command a guard of honor composed of men of the battalion who have already returned and been discharged.

CHURCHES SEND NAMES, BUT FORGET THE MONEY

While a large number of churches of the city are planning to decorate the "mothers of sacrifice" who are members of their congregations, in connection with the Mothers' Day services on Sunday, according to Mrs. H. A. Boomer, president of the Local Council of Women, only a few of the churches which have sent in lists of mothers to be decorated have at the same time forwarded contributions to the fund to purchase the badges.

"The badges will be provided ready for the celebrations in any case," says Mrs. Boomer, "but it will make it easier for those promoting the work to receive as complete returns as possible before the final list of donations is offered to the public."

Scores of names have been sent to the committee in charge, of mothers who have lost sons in the war, and for

ELECTRICIANS DENY STATEMENTS MADE REGARDING DEMAND

Not Asking 65 Cents, But 60—Weekly Increase of $4.35.

E. Ingles, organizer of the Electrical Workers' Union, said today in conversation with The Advertiser that statements made by local employers and published in a local paper were not in accordance with fact.

"They say," said Mr. Ingles, "that they have offered 55 cents an hour, which is true; and they claim that this would represent an increase of $4.80 a week. This is not true, because whereas we formerly worked on a 49-hour week, we now have a week of only 44 hours. The actual amount of the increase, if the employers' offer were accepted, would be $2.15 a week, which is not enough to buy the butter used by an average family.

"The employers also say that we are demanding 65 cents an hour. That again is not true. We did ask for 68 cents, but we have reduced our demand to one for 60 cents, which would produce a weekly increase of $4.35, less by 45 cents than the employers say would be involved if they paid only 55c an hour."

Standard Time in Morning; Daylight Saving Afternoon

Barbers of the city adopted standard time yesterday, but before nightfall they went back to daylight saving time. On Wednesday they had decided that they would operate by eastern standard time on the following day. All went well. They began to work on that time. However, as the sun rose higher in the sky, the barbers began to see the folly of missing their usual morning customers by staying in bed another hour. Noon saw their minds changed. Daylight saving time was adopted again and everything continued smoothly once more. By changing the time they had lost an hour's work that day.

INSISTS ON STANDARD TIME FOR THE SCHOOLS

But D. H. Flannigan Admits Hours May Be 8 to 3.

D. H. Flannigan is still on the warpath. He visited the city hall quite early this morning, and announced his fixed and unalterable determination to bring the board of education to "time." In other words, he will endeavor, through the courts, to compel the observance of standard time in the schools of the city.

Mr. Flannigan, however, is understood to have admitted that the board would be within its rights in fixing the hours of attendance at 8 oclock to 3 instead of 9 to 4, which would produce the same effect as that which is at present in force.

Existing regulations set out that the hours shall be from 9 to 4, unless the board of education shall determine on a change. Whether this provision does give the board power to adopt a different school period is still to some extent a moot point, but, to be on the safe side, Secretary R. M. McElheran, acting on the board's instruction, has already addressed a letter to the provincial minister of education asking for authority to make the change suggested. It is believed that Dr. Cody has already given the necessary permission in Toronto, and that he will not withhold consent in the case of London.

A Tempest In a Teapot

I do not like you, Frank Carvell. The reason why I'm going to tell,

For, as I know and know full well,

You travel on Sunday, Frank Carvell.

We owe a debt of gratitude to Messrs. Reid, Little, Beck and the rest of the good fellows who are out for a Bigger, Better and Brighter London, and who entertained Hon. Mr. Carvell on his visit here recently. There is no doubt that he went away with the finest impression of our city and in all likelihood intended to do far more for us than he had promised.

Then came the Tempest in the Teapot, and for what reason nobody knows. The heinous crime of going to Port Stanley on Sunday had already been committed and a hundred resolutions could not overcome the tremendous evil which had been done.

But it looks like a deliberate insult to Mr. Carvell and some of the very best of our citizens, and there is one thing certain that London won't get an extra dollar from Ottawa through the poor advertising this action of the Rev. Sirs have given us. Why is it in London that every time we have a good Boost the Echo is a Knock?
