The authorities there getting wind of it, had one or ...both of them arrested, they then returned and con... ...ded to settle the matter here. The ground select... ...was near the road leading from Belleville to Bloomfield, about half a mile from the former place and about two miles from this city. They met on the ground about 12 o'clock, noon, with their respective friends, and after the usual preliminaries had been arranged, they took their stand.

At the first fire, by some oversight, the second of Mr. Vallentine not having cocked his pistol, his fire was lost, and Mr. Herbert's did not take effect. At the second fire Mr. Vallentine's ball grazed the whisker of Mr. Herbert, but without doing any injury. Mr. Herbert's did not take effect. At the termination of this fire, Mr. Herbert's second proposed a reconciliation, but this was opposed on the part of Mr. Vallentine, assigning as one reason that Mr. Herbert had already two shots to his one.

The parties were again stationed, and at the third fire the ball of Mr. Vallentine passed through the lower part of one leg of Mr. Herbert's pantaloons, and just grazing the upper part of his boot or leather gaiter. A reconciliation was then effected, and the parties with their friends separated.

We understand that the whole affair was conducted upon the strictest rules usually adopted on such occasions, and that the conduct of the parties was marked with the utmost coolness and courage.

Mr. Herbert is an Englishman, and Mr. Vallentine is also a foreigner. The sending of a challenge and fighting a duel are crimes of a high grade under our laws, and we trust the parties in this case will yet be made to feel their force.

☞ We are happy to state that Dr. Boyd has so far recovered his health as to be able to resume his professional duties at the Provincial Marine Hospital.—Courier.

The funeral of the late Lieutenant Colonel Selwin, R. E., took place yesterday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. He was buried with the usual military honors accorded to his rank in the army. The body being placed on a gun-carriage, drawn by 6 horses; the flank party consisted of the 77th Regiment.—The corpse was followed by nearly all the Officers of the garrison, among whom we noticed Major-General the Hon. Charles Gore. A number of civilians also paid the last tribute of respect to his memory, by joining in the cortege. Colonel Selwin had but recently arrived in this country, and had only been a few weeks in Montreal.—Montreal Courier.

A Bill has been introduced into Toronto City Council to restrain vagrancy and mendicancy. The city has erected a House of Industry, into which the street beggars refuse to go, audaciously asserting that they can make more money by mendicancy.—The Corporation has, therefore, determined to take steps for removing them from the streets by force.—Ib.

LONDON, DECEMBER 1.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

In the Court of Queen's Bench on Wednesday, the case of "the Queen v. Chadwick," involving the validity and legality of a marriage between a man and the sister of his deceased wife, came on for argument. Sir F. Kelly supported the legality of such marriage, contending that it was not contrary either to the law of God or the common law. On Tuesday Mr. Apland addressed the Court against the validity of the marriage and on Saturday Sir F. Kelly will be heard in reply. Lord Campbell sat upon the bench during the whole of both days, listening to the arguments of Counsel.—London paper.

QUEEN'S BENCH. (Sittings in Nisi Prius.)

IMPORTANT DECISION.

The Queen v. Chadwick.—Marrying a deceased wife's sister.

Sir Fitzroy Kelly this morning addressed the Court, in reply to the arguments adduced on the other side, that a marriage with a deceased's wife's sister was within the prohibited or Levitical degrees, and therefore such marriage was illegal, and contrary to the law of God. The learned Counsel contended at great length that such marriages were perfectly lawful, as they were fully in accordance with the law of God, and repeated, in support of this view the arguments advanced by him on Monday.

Lord Denman delivered judgment. He said during the arguments they had heard it had been asserted that there were no less than six different interpretations of the passage in Leviticus. The Court could not, however, inquire whether the interpreters of the Bible had discharged their duties properly, or whether they had fallen into error on these points. They must look entirely at the law in force on the subject; and in his opinion, under the Act of William the fourth, the marriage with a deceased wife's sister was void. The Lord Chief Justice referred at length to the different alterations made in the law since the time of Henry VIII., and in the course of his voluminous address expressed his sincere regret at the consequences which might ensue from the decision of the Court.

The other learned Judges agreed in the judgment of the chief Justice.

According to Sir F. Kelly, the decision of the Court would destroy the legitimacy of 5,000 children, besides rendering these marriages in the eye of the law incestuous, and against the law of God.

IMPORTANT FROM MEXICO!

New York, Tuesday, Dec. 21, A.M.

Advices from Vera Cruz to the 7th inst., have been received at New Orleans. Santa Anna has in a degree recovered his power, and had boldly pronounced against the provisional government and demanded 5000 men, immediately to resume hostile operations. His present force consists of 4000 men, with which he is attempting to overawe Congress, and prevent a peace, which a majority of the members are in favour. Gen. Scott had despatched General Worth, with a strong force, to Queretaro, with a view to protect the government against any violence on the part of Santa Anna.

At the last advices, General Pilosola was near Queretaro, with 2000 men. Bustamante was at Guanajuats with 2000. It was reported that the military troops at Queretaro had declared in favour of Santa Anna, and that he had assumed the chief command of the army.

Thirty four wagons of merchandise, a part of a train on the road from Puebla to Mexico, had been captured by the guerillas, under Generals Rhea and Torrejon. They were pursued and attacked by General Lane near Tlascala. Seventeen guerillas were killed, a number of officers taken prisoner, and [illegible] wagons recaptured.

[illegible] had taken place near Vera Cruz, between the Louisiana volunteers and a body of guerillas. The guerilas were defeated, with some loss.

We have not unfrequently called attention to this article in the columns of our paper, and we have no so with the full confidence that it was a good one, and deserving the patronage of the public.—We have had a chance to witness its effect upon some of our friends, which in addition to the high encomiums passed upon by our brethren of the press, not to paid puffs, but in honest candid statements, from having derived a benefit themselves makes us desirous of advising all those who have occasion to resort to a remedy for pulmonary affections, to avail themselves of it. We have too much confidence in Dr Fowle, the proprietor, to believe he would trifle with us, or any other medicine upon the community, unless he had full faith in its efficacy—in confirmation of which the proprietor offers a bottle of it free of cost to any person who may be afflicted with any of the diseases for which it is recommended. Neither would we be understood as saying that this will always cure consumption after it is seated, though it seldom fails to relieve the worst case—but at this season of the year almost every one is liable to a cold, which if neglected, will [illegible] fatal results—by taking this medicine, we doubt not many lives may be saved.
