Analysis of the Water of the Georgian Spring.

I have made a careful quantitative analysis of a quantity of this Water sent me by the Proprietor of the Spring, Captain Kaine. It is a Saline Water, containing earthy Chlorids, with portions of Bromide and Iodide, thus recembling the Plantagenet Water, from which it differs chiefly in the presence of a portion of Sulphates, which are not often met with in Waters of this class in the Province. It has a specific gravity of 1008.75, and contains in one pound avoirdupois, the subjoined quantities of the following substances:—

	Grains.
Chlorid of Sodium	66.22000
Chlorid of Potassium	.72000
Chlorid of Calcium	.31008
Chlorid of Magnesium	6.45082
Bromid of Magnesium	.02016
Iodid of Magnesium	.01904
Sulphate of Lime	1.25044
Carbonate of Lime	2.02000
Carbonate of Magnesia	2.54016
Carbonate of Iron	Trace
Silica	.14560
	76.57015

T. S. HUNT,
Chemist to the Geological Commission.
Office of the Geological Survey,
Montreal, May 26, 1851.

Having compared T. S. Hunt's, Esq., analysis of the Mineral Water of the Georgian Spring with the analysis made by him of the Plantagenet Spring Water, I may state that the Water of the Georgian Spring contains all the ingredients found in the Plantagenet, with the addition of Sulphate of Lime, differing however in some respects as to quantity.
I have great pleasure in giving my opinion of the efficacy of the Georgian Water, in order that an opportunity might be afforded me of speaking more confidently of the advantages to be derived from its use, which I have witnessed in several cases, cases from no only of an apoplectic, nervous and chronic, and also in alleging the distinctly generic effects of this Water, which I have found to be very marked. I have no doubt but the Georgian Spring Water will be found equally beneficial in the cure of Rheumatism, Scrofula, and Dyspepsia, as any other Mineral Water met with in the vicinity of this city.
