Are you a Cunuh-munuh ?

By BALKARAN UDIT

The Caribbean is basically a multiracial society with negroes forming the majority of the population. Because our ancestors came from different lands and our history was dominated by colonialism and the plantation system, our culture has been greatly influenced by the British, Africans, Spanish and East Indians. The last batch of Africans came to the West Indies in 1834 and the last batch of East Indians came in 1917. During the last decade several of the Caribbean countries attained independent status from Britain. As a result of a long separation through geography and time, these various imported cultures have been modified to some extent. Today what we have is our own unique culture evolved over time through adjustments, modifications and innovations. Our way of seeing, feeling, being what we are, and our way of living, is truly West Indian, and not African, Indian or British.

In terms of influences, from the British we have inherited the English language. English is our mother language, but our creolese language or a broken form of English has become a living part of our cultural heritage. Creolese is our own innovation, evolved on the plantation system. For example, in creolese, if a man is extremely attentive to his wife despite the fact that she might be conducting extra-marital affairs he is referred to as a cunuh-munuh. From the British we have also inherited the Christian religion.

From the Africans we have inherited certain tribal customs and music. the Yaruba culture is still practised by some in Brazil, Haiti, Cuba and Trinidad; the Ashanti in Jamaica and Ibo in Barbados. From the East Indians we have inherited people's names, Hindu and Moslem religions and certain customs and beliefs.

Our metagee (home-made soup), curry and roti and cooked-up rice are dishes peculiar to the Caribbean. The steel-band, calypso and reggae music owe their origin to the Caribbean. Our arts and literature were given international recognition at the 2nd Black Arts World Festival in Lagos, Nigeria, 1977.

Because of the different elements and different influences that comprise our culture, the Caribbean culture then is a mosaic richly blended together to give a tone, colour and contrast unique only to that culture.

UNB Camera Club's Exhibition

By JEFFREY FRYER

Over your midterm break, why not look through your old slides and prints and find some prize winners? Or go out and take some pictures of Canada in winter. Yes, it is once again time for the Annual UNB Camera Club's Exhibition in Memorial Hall. Your chances of winning a cash prize of some amount are good - last year about 20 different photographers won one.

Entering the exhibition is easy. Entries may be either slides or prints (though prints must be mounted and 5x7 or larger) and must include the photographer's name, phone number, and title (if any). They should be brought along with a 50 cents per item entry fee to Roger Smith's office in Loring Bailey Room 229. The deadline for entries is March 12. The exhibition runs from March 15 to 25 in Memorial Hall and all entries and prizes can be picked up from Loring Bailey Hall room 229 after March 27.

For further information, we economy anyone to come to the March 7 Camera Club meeting at 8:00 in SUB room 6 or you may call Jeff Fryer at 454-9044.
