WANT A BRITISH COMMANDER.

London, Nov. 30—China has invited Capt. W. M. Lang to resume the command of her navy. Capt. Lang is now commander of the battleship Devastation, Devonport. Capt. Lang was formerly admiral of the Chinese navy, from which position he retired, owing, it is said, to the machinations of a clique of anti-foreigners at Foo Chow.

TO CLOSE UP THE GAPS.

London, Nov. 30.—A dispatch from Madrid says that in addition to the 30,000 troops recently dispatched to Cuba, 13,000 more are preparing to go to that island. Of this latter number 10,000 are recruits and the remainder volunteers and returned deserters. This force is designed to supply gaps caused by fighting the disease.

A LESSON FOR THE POWERS.

London, Nov. 30.—The Standard publishes a dispatch from Vienna saying that the powers, who a day or two ago were not unanimous on the Turkish question, have again fallen into line. The Sultan knew there was a hitch of some kind, and his obstinacy regarding the guardship firmans resulted therefrom. The lesson will not be lost on the powers.

DYNAMITE IN WARFARE.

Havana, Cuba, Nov. 30.—A dispatch received here from Puerto Principe announces that the insurgents have blown up with dynamite the engine of a train in the vicinity of Neuvitas, that province. The engine was demolished the engineer and two firemen were terribly mutilated, and seven passengers were injured, among them being the widow of ex-Gen. Ygnacio Agramente. The insurgents have also blown up a culvert on the railroad between Caibarien and Remedioz, Province of Santa Clara, destroying ten cars loaded with cattle and killing 70 head of cattle. The engineer of the train was seriously wounded, and railroad comumnication between the interior and Remedioz is temporarily interrupted.

MIDNIGHT CONFERENCES.

London, Nov. 30.—The Times prints a dispatch from Constantinople, dated Nov. 28, saying the Ministers sent a new report to the palace relative to the guardship matter after Wednesday's council. The first dragoman of the British embassy was at the palace all night. The Sultan sent Said Pasha on a confidential mission to the British ambassador long after midnight.

Most people in Constantinople regard the concession demanded by the powers as disproportionately small. The Turkish conviction is that its smallness proves that the powers collectively are not in earnest.

Said Pasha followed his nocturnal visit to the British ambassador by visits to all the other ambassadors, who, on behalf of the Sultan, he tried to dissuade from persisting in their demands.

A dispatch to the Times bearing date of the 29th, says that Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador, had a private audience with the Sultan today.

THE POPE'S ALLOCUTION.

Rome, Nov. 30.—The allocution pronounced by the Pope at the consistory aludes to the situation in the East. The Pope said he was thoroughly aware of its gravity. The Holy See, he added, was never indifferent to the condition of the Armenians, and desired to see the various peoples of Turkey governed on an equality and with equity. The Pope was somewhat exhausted towards the end of the consistory, which lasted nearly two hours. Dr. Lapponi, his physician, ordered him to take some cordial. The Pontiff's spirits were not impaired, and he asked, smilingly, of Cardinal Rampolla, the Papal Secretary of State, "Who knows who will preside at the next consistory."

SURPRISED AT SALISBURY.

Vienna, Nov. 30.—A dispatch to the Politische Correspondenz from Constantiople says that the Sultan and his Ministers were painfully surprised at Lord Salisbury, the British Prime Minister, reading the Sultan's message to him at the meeting of the National Conservative Union on Nov. 19. The message was strictly confidential. The Sultan's request that Lord Salisbury deliver another speech presumably meant that he should make a speech that would neutralize the effect of the speech he delivered at the banquet given by the Lord Mayor on Nov. 9, without making any reference to the fact that the Sultan had asked him to do so.

STOLE £100,000 AND ELOPED.

London, Nov. 30.—Mrs. Fontane Besson, wife of a manufacturer of musical instruments in this city, New York, Paris and St. Petersburg, who was arrested in Seville, Spain in October, and extradited to England, was arraigned here yesterday upon the charge of having stolen from her husband securities valued at $500,000. Her husband's counsel said that Mrs. Besson had eloped with a Spaniard, taking the securities with her, and that it was the intention of the eloping couple to go from Spain to America. Already, counsel asserted, the defendant had disposed of $150,000 worth of stolen securities.

Mrs. Besson's lawyer stated that the husband had taken his wife's name, and did not deny that the property was hers, but sought to manage and administer it because of the community of goods under the marriage contract, which was drawn according to the provisions of the French law. The case was adjourned, the defendant being liberated under bonds in the sum of $25,000, which were furnished by herself.

A TALE OF HORRORS.

London, Nov. 30.—A dispatch from Julfa, dated Nov. 28, says that the Armenian villages between Persia and Van, probably to the number of 46, have been destroyed by the Hamidieh cavalry. All the reports say that the number of persons killed was very large. The refugees are mostly going to the city of Van. There will probably be a massacre in Van soon. Cannon are trained on the houses of Armenians and trees along the streets have been felled to give free range to their fire. Reports say that the Hamidieh cavalry are raiding the entire Province of Van and committing horrible atrocities. Many women have been carried off to the mountains. Van is the only place that has been untouched by the Kurds, who are seizing large numbers of sheep and cattle. The whole population of the village of Jurtalon, numbering 200, have been killed. The Hamidieh cavalry attacked Kotomor, a Persian village, but were repulsed by the garrison within the fort. Turkish regulars waited outside the village to join in the prospective plunder. After being repulsed the Hamidieh cavalry destroyed a small Persian village. Armed bands of Armenians are entering Van from Persia. One band fought the Hamidieh cavalry for two days near Serai. Many are reported to have been killed. The cavalry withdrew and plundered and destroyed Serai. Many Nestorians in the Basbkola district are reported to have been killed.

Scalded to Death!

Shocking Fate of a 3-Year-Old William Street Girl.

Fell Backwards into a Pail of Boiling Water—Died in Eleven Hours—Mr. Gibson's Hard Luck.

A simple yet terrible accident occurred yesterday afternoon in the North End whereby a little 3-year old girl lost her life. Yesterday was wash day at the residence of Mr. Geo. F. Gibson, 802 William street, and about 4 o'clock in the afternoon the hired girl, who had been scrubbing, left some boiling water in a pot in the kitchen. Little Alice, the bright 3-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, was toddling about the house and fell backwards into the scalding bath.

A terrifying shriek brought the equally terrified mother to the child's side. She snatched her out of the pail and tore off her clothes. A doctor was sent for immediately and everything possible was done to alleviate her distress. Her back was horribly scalded as high as her neck. Despite the efforts of a physician she died at 3:30 this morning.

Coming Conventions and Show—Co-operation Needed.

John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, Toronto; Theodore Louis, Wisconsin; John Gould, Ohio; Prof. Robertson, Dominion dairy commissioner, Ottawa; Prof. Dean, O. A. C., Guelph, and a number of oher practical men.

As Woodstock is in the center of the oldest and most important dairy district in Canada, and has good railway connections, a large attendance of representative dairymen from all parts of Western Ontario is expected. The official programme will be issued about Dec. 15.

Considerable interest is being shown in the dairy show in connection with the Provincial Fat Stock Show at Guelph on Dec. 10, 11 and 12. A large number of special and cash prizes will be given for dairy cows. On the evening of Dec. 10 a joint meeting of dairy, sheep and swine breeders will be held at the city hall, Guelph, when addresses will be delivered by Hon. John Dryden, Prof. Robertson and others.

The secretary of the association recently attended a meeting of cheese factory representatives at Embro to devise some means of promoting more co-operation among factories. After considerable discussion several topics affecting the interests of the factories represented the meeting adjourned to meet again on Dec. 13.

More co-operation is nedeed among cheese factories, and if factory representatives in the various sections would meet to discuss, and, if possible, adjust, some of the existing difficulties, such as the over-lapping of milk routes and cutting into each other's territory for milk, and also to promote more co-operation in the selling of cheese, the paying for milk by test, and the general management of the business, the manufacturing of cheese could be carried on more economically and a better quality of goods produced.

Quality is the essential thing in maintaining our position in the world's cheese trade, and to improve upon and keep up the quality, the heartiest co-operation is needed on the part of the patron, the cheese-maker and everyone connected with the industry.
