merchant, mechanic, &c., and these again with them and each other, is the principal object to be cared for. To have this rendered easy and beneficial, neither too stringent in its means on the one hand, nor too lax on the other, so that the country can be improved, its latent recources developed, its prosperity secured, and the people well rewarded for their labour, is the chief end to be pursued, both in the legislative and executive departments of public business, leaving our foreign trade to take its subservient & secondary place If it could be shown that any proposed measure—that the making British silver a legal tender to any amount, would raise the amount of exchange on New York, for instance—would have some unfavorable effect on foreign trade, that is a consideration that can have but little weight, if the supposed measure promoted our domestic trade. The assumed or proved ill effect must be taken as an incident of foreign trade, and compensated by a sufficient additional price, as in fact, all such incidents are. It would be unheard of anomaly that the whole mass of the community should suffer for the interests of half a dozen foreign traders; or that the whole of a people's public and domestic affairs should be regulated by a part of their external trade, and sacrificed in a vain attempt to build up that on the people's ruin. This would not be dreamed of even in Holland, which has depended more upon external trade than any other people of the present day. It would be better to be without the American trade, than the whole of the Province should be without money. Instead of imposing restrictions, every facility should be given for the full employment of such capital as we can command, for all is far too limited for the wants and resources of the province. The Parliament will assemble in about six weeks, when the usual bank returns must be made, and the public will see how much the currency has been protracted by the conjoint operation of the causes that we have heretofore mentioned.

The School Bill.

The Rev. Mr. Murray, Superintendent of Education, being at Brockville, the School Teachers assembled there, addressing him, requiring information respecting the School money. The following is the Rev. gentleman's reply, which applies to all parts of the Province:

Brockville, 20th July.

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 19th inst. in behalf of the common School Teachers in the Johnstown District, requesting information as to the course they should adopt in order to obtain their proportion of the public grant for Common Schools for the present year, &c.

In reply, I have to state that the information you request, should be given by the legal adviser of the District Council, rather than by the Superintendent. But as you in common with many of your brethren in the Districts where the Municipal Councils have taken no notice upon the School Bill, are placed in very peculiar circumstances, I would recommend the following method of arrangement as equitable, and legal for the present year, according to the last clause of the 12 section of the School Bill. The School commissioners in each Township, should certify to the District Treasurer, the time that each school in their respective Townships has been in operation, and the average number of Scholars in attendance. This I should suppose would be a sufficient warrant for the district Treasurer to pay the several teachers their just share of the Common School Fund, in the ratio of their time and average attendance.

As the teachers have been living in anxiety, and labouring under great disadvantage, it would be cruel to make them also sustain a pecuniary loss from the want of action on the part of those over whom they had no control.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen, your obedient Servant,

ROBERT MURRAY.

HOUSE OF LORDS, Tuesday, June 30.

The Canadas.

The Earl of Mountcashel said that, with the permission of the Government, he had to put a question on a subject of very considerable importance to a large class of emigrants who had gone out to Canada. It was well known that in the course of the last and present year, very considerable numbers amounting to 6,000 emigrants, had crossed from the United States into Canada. Most of these were paupers, who had gone out as emigrants, and who, owing to the state of difficulties of that country, were unable to obtain employment. These, let it be borne in mind, were in addition to 16,000 or 17,000 poor persons who were already in the Canadas, for the greater part without employment. In 1841 a sum of money was proposed to be raised, by way of a loan, for the purpose of carrying on public works in Canada; and Lord Sydenham who was then governor announced to the House of Assembly that Her Majesty's government would call on the Imperial Parliament to give aid to the local Government.—He hoped that the present government, tho'h he would admit that they were not bound by the acts by the acts of their predecessors, wol'd gurantee the loan for the sake of carrying on on public Works, and thus give employment to large numbers of those who were otherwise unable to procure work. There could be no risk run in government guaranteeing the loan, as the whole province of Canada would be security for it. The question which he would he wish to ask was, whether such arrangements had been made by the government, as to the loan, as would enable the local government to carry on the public works, and thereby give employment to the distressed emigrants in Canada?

The Duke of Wellington said that, as the noble Earl had given notice of his question, he should have an answer. The noble Earl, besides his question, had also made a speech, but as he had not concluded with a motion, he (the noble Duke) would not notice it.—With respect to the question, he would say that there was no intention on the part of Her Majesty's government, of not performing the promise made by the late Governor General to the Provincial Assembly. The subject of the loan was under the consideration of Government, and they were in communication with the Governor General, with the view of ascertaining which is the best mode of carrying it into effect for the benefit of Canada, for that was the object of the guranteed. As the noble Earl had made no motion, he thought he should best consult the regularity of their lordships' proceedings by not saying a word as to his speech.

The Earl of Mountcashel expressed himself satisfied with the answer of the noble Duke.

Waterloo Chapel Case.

It will be remembered that not long ago we inserted a short article from a correspondent headed "Important Decision relative to Methodist Church property," stating the decision at the Kingston Assizes on the Waterloo Chapel Case, and that the improperly called Episcopal Methodists lost the case. Last Wednesday a long, incorrect, and disrespectful letter appeared in the Examiner, signed "An Episcopal Methodist," denying the truth of the statements of our correspondent. All that we shall say in reply is, that "An Episcopal Methodist" is really or wilfully ignorant of what he affirms, and that instead of finding fault with what he cannot mend, and prolonging a resistance to the claims of equity and law, submission is a duty—a duty he must perform. We now inform him, and all who think with him, that what was done at Kingston in justice to our Church, and stated in the Guardian, has been confirmed by the recent decision of the Judges in Queen's Bench, who have refused to grant the Episcopals a new trial thus confirming beyond doubt the decisions of the Judge and Jury. The Judges would not hear the case argued, having ascertained that the Counsel for the Episcopals had no new facts different from those which were adduced in the Belville Chapel case, and reproved him for protracting litigation in a case which had already been decided by them that if he wished to proceed further in the case, he must appeal from their decision. Will the next reckless step show that the Judges of the land are treated with contempt?—Christian Guardian.

LOSS OF AN EMIGRANT SHIP.—Letters were received on Monday, at Lloyd's of the total loss, of the emigrant ship Kent, Capt. Gardner, on the night on the 8th of last month, in the Western Ocean, off the Seven Islands, during a heavy snow storm. The vessel, it appears belonged to Greenock, and was bound to Montreal, nearly seventy emigrants on board. The disaster, it is said, occured between 11 and 12 o'clock, by the ships running on to a mass of sunken rocks a short distance from the coast. Owing to the severity of the storm which prevailed at the time, for a length of time it was expectedt hat she would fall to pieces. Providentially, however, she held together until day break, when the whole of the emigrants were safely landed on the coast, though in a most deplorable conditon, many of them having lost every thing they had possessed. The ship was about 600 tons burthen, and is, together with her cargo, reported to be insured.

A DESERTER TAKEN—On Thursday morning after drill, a private of the Second Battalion, took a canoe and passed over to the other side. He was pursued by some of the soldiers, & even after he landed was taken & brought back in spite of the manifestations of a desire to succour him, by the labourers in the Brick yard hard by.—Sandwich Herald.

It is said that the 89th lost by desertion while remaining in Amhersburg, upwards of one hundred and thirty men! While the Rifles, since they have been embodied as a Regiment have not lost one man by the same cause. This speaks well for the stability and fidelity of the latter.—Sandwich Herald.

Commercial.

The large dealers in Flour do not seem disposed to submit to much reduction in prices; the scarcity of Exchange, and the moderate rates demanded for freight, encourages the sellers to be firmer, than under other circumstances might be prudent.

The price of Canada Flour, made from Ohio Wheat, is nominally, 32s. 6d per bbl; below which rate, it is not probable that the market will decline, until the causes now in operation cease.

A small sample of Wheat, consisting of 400 bushels Western Canada, was offered yesterday at 6s 6d. The quantity was too small to attract the notice of shippers; and millers cannot afford to pay above 6s. 3d. per 60 lbs.

The Provisions, shipped from Canada this year, will prove a loosing affair to those interested, as may be gathered from the following circular, furnished by a Liverpool House:—

* On the 5th October next, by the new Tariff, Foreign Provisions will be permitted to Ships, for stores, free of duty.

Several holders of Beef and Pork, anticipating large arrivals from Canada have since the 18th ult. been realizing their Stocks at very low prices. A sale of a large parcel (850 Barrels) of old "prime" Beef was made at 18s. per barrel. Some "mess" Pork was let go at 23s and 30s.

Good new Cheese is wanted, and the first arrivals will meet a ready sale.

There are buyers of Lard at 34s. but it is generally held for more money; a large quantity will be released for consumption as soon as the reduced duty comes into force.

Grease Butter is in very small Stock here, but considerable supplies are daily expected into the Clyde, prices in consequence do not further advance.

THE ARMY.

MONTREAL July, 28.

Yesterday afternoon, the mortal remains of Mr. DUTTON, late Paymaster of the 71st Regiment, were committed to their last resting place. This lamented gentleman was well known to a large circle of acquaintances, civilian as well as military not only in this garrison but in the numerous places in which the distinguished crops to which he belonged have been quartered by whom his loss will be long and sincerely regretted. By his brother officers and the men of the 71st., Mr. DUTTON was held in much estimation—as was sufficiently apparent yesterday, from every officer, and almost every man off duty, being present at the last sad rites. Besides the officers of the 71st, we observed in the funeral procession the officers of the Staff, and of the different corps in Montreal and its neighbourhood.

☞ ADVERTISEMENTS in order to receive insertion, must be handed in as early as 3 o'clock, on Thursday afternoon.

EXTENSIVE SALE OF

REAL ESTATE.

CRYSLER, the following eligible estates, offering, opportunities for investment to capitalists and men of business such as are seldom to be met with, viz:

C.] containing 166 acres of excellent land, with a grist Mill, having 4 run of stones, two Saw Mills, and an extensive Distillery, surrounded by a beautiful Wheat country. Catfish Creek is navigable for schooners of a large size to within a half a mile of the Mills, and boats containing 200 barrels of Flour can reach the Mill Dam without obstruction. 200 Schooners could lay up and down the Creek with safety, the distance from the Mills to the Lake shore by the Creek being about three miles. Above the mills is a fine wooded country, and in the spring of the year Saw Logs can be floated down the Creek to the mills. It forms altogether a highly desirable estate, and offers an advantageous opportunity to any capitalist desiring an extensive and profitable investment.
