THE PROHIBITION APPEAL.

OPENING OF THE ARGUMENT BEFORE THE PRIVY COUNCIL.

Mr. Maclaren Argues in Behalf of the Province That, as the Legislatures Had Conferred Upon Municipalities Prohibitory Powers Prior to 1867, That These Powers Still Belong to the Province.

London, Aug. 1—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council to-day began the hearing of the prohibition appeal to decide whether the power to pass prohibitory liquor legislation belongs to the Federal or the Provincial authorities in Canada. The appeal is against a judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada, handed down on January 15, 1895, and questions regarding the right to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors are also raised. Lords Halsbury, Herschell, Watson, Morris and Davey and Sir Richard Couch formed the committee of the Privy Council. J. J. McLaren, Q.C., and Richard H. Haldane, M.P., Q.C., were the counsel for the appellants, the Province of Ontario, and E. L. Newcomb, and H. W. Lochnis for the Dominion of Canada; while Hon. Edward Blake, Q.C., M.P., and Mr. Wallace Nesbitt watched the case in the interests of the Brewers and Distillers' Association of Ontario. Judges McLellan and Burton and Sir Oliver Mowat, Aemilius Irving, C. W. Moss, N. W. Hoyles, all of them Canadian Queen's Counsel, were also present.

History of the Litigation.

Counsel Maclaren narrated the history of the litigation, and submitted the seven points which had been adversely decided by the Supreme Court of Canada, and asked that an affirmative answer be given to each. All of the points submitted, he maintained, came within the classes and subjects, enumerated in section 92 of the British North America Act of 1867, which, he maintained, put the powers of prohibition of manufacture and sale of fermented and intoxicating liquors into the hands of Provincial Legislatures.

Powers of the Province and Dominion.

Answering a question by Lord Halsbury, Mr. Maclaren submitted to the committee the proposition that municipal institutions had powers which, though not stated in section 92, were not, on the other hand, conferred upon the Federal Dominion by the provisions of section 91.

Lord Herschell—"Then you contend that all of the powers not conferred upon the Dominion by section 91 are conferred upon the Provinces?"

Mr. Maclaren—"Though such powers are not expressly conferred they are yet within the rights of the Provinces, they having previously held them."

Lord Herschell said that he understood that all powers had been taken from the Provinces by the act of 1867. Then new powers were given by section 92 of the act of 1867. He could not see anything in the statutes relating to any powers having been retained. Moreover, by the Act of Confederation the Provincial legislatures were debarred from amending the acts which had existed before the formation of the Dominion, the powers conferred by such acts having been vested in the Dominion.

Municipal Restriction Prior to 1867.

Mr. Maclaren continued his argument, saying that prior to the passage of the Act of 1867 the Legislatures of the several Provinces had conferred upon the municipalities within these Provinces large prohibitory powers in the regulation of the liquor traffic. He then read copies of judgments rendered by Justice Burton and others in defence of this contention and proceeded with his argument. In the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario, he said, restrictions had been placed upon the retailing of liquors by the Local Legislatures.

Lord Herschell—"It should not be assumed because certain restrictions came within the scope of the municipal powers prior to 1867, that necessarily the powers be considered to belong to a specified municipality now." It was his opinion that if these powers could not be brought within the scope of section 92 of the section 1867, they were always open to being overruled by the authority of the Dominion.

Mr. Maclaren said that the Legislature of the Province of Ontario only held that so far as it was not overruled by any existing Dominion law, the powers conferred were not liable to be overruled.

Mr. Maclaren had not finished his argument when the committee rose and the hearing was adjourned.

Maclaren's Argument Without Force.

The Telegram's correspondent in his report says: Lord Watson, a member of the comittee, remarked during the course of Mr. Maclaren's address that it was questionable whether the Dominion Parliament could lose so great a power to hand over to a Province, and further said that some of the arguments advanced by Mr. Maclaren contained no force.

Hon. Edward Blake, who was present, representing the Brewers' and Distillers' Association of Ontario, was prepared with an address, but it looks now as if he would not be required to deliver it.

Bad Literature an Incentive to Murder.

London, Aug. 1.—The finding of the coroner's jury in the case of Robert and Nathaniel Combes, the two boys who were accused of having murdered their mother, was officially announced to-day. The jury found a verdict of wilful murder against Robert, the elder son, while Nathaniel was held as an accessory before the fact. The jury added a rider to their verdict urging that the sale of inflammatory and shocking literature be stopped, on the ground that it is answerable for many crimes. Actions on the advice of the crimes. Acting on the advice of the coroner, the jury ignored the case of Fox, the half-witted man, who helped the boys spend the money obtained by them by pawning goods taken from the house after the murder of their mother. Fox's case is considered distinct from that of the two youthful criminals.

DR. MCCONNELL DIES SUDDENLY.

Seized With Apoplexy While Attending the Supreme Court of the Foresters in London.

London, Aug. 1.—(Telegram Special)—During the session to-day of the Supreme Court Independent Order of Foresters, Dr. John McConnell of Toronto suddenly died. Deceased arrived here on board the Kensington with delegates from Canada and the United States, and to all appearances was enjoying the best of health. Apoplexy is said to be the cause. His fellow-Canadians here are much cast down over the event.

It was about 4.30 o'clock this afternoon that the doctor left the session, and 15 minutes afterwards he was found in the lavatory lying upon the floor, his face being slightly bruised from the effects of the fall. An inquest will be held to-morrow, and the remains will be embalmed and sent back to Toronto by the Foresters.

Dr. John McConnell was born in the County of York and practised medicine in Dundas-street since 1882 or thereabouts. In 1884 he was reeve of Brockton, and upon the amalgamation of that suburb with the city he sat in the City Council for about six months in 1884, beginning March, 31. He was a coroner for the city and county, and for a long time was member of the Reform Club.

He leaves a wife and three daughters and one son, all the children being grown up. The doctor had been for many years an attendant at St. Anne's Episcopal Church, where he was a prominent member of the congregation.

SANDWICH POSTMASTERSHIP.

A Change Made, It is Said, at the Instance of Hon. J. C. Patterson.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 1.—A few weeks ago Postmaster Ouellette of Sandwich was suspended. Among a number of applicants for the place were C. F. Pequegnote and John Spiers, both general merchants of the town. It was given to Pequegnot, but the appointment was made without consulting Hon. J. C. Patterson of Essex, who was on a western trip. On his return he took a hand in the appointment, with the result that Pequegnot's commission was recalled yesterday and Spiers appointed.

FAST ATLANTIC SERVICE.

Sir Charles Tupper Again Confers With Mr. Chamberlain.

London, Aug. 1.—Sir Charles Tupper, Canadian High Commissioner, had a long interview with the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, yesterday. Sir Charles made a number of suggestions regarding a subsidized service between Canada and the Mother Country, and Mr. Chamberlain made counter suggestions. No decision upon the subject under consideration was reached. Sir Charles Tupper is preparing to submit his proposition in fuller detail to the Colonial Office.

Another despatch says: Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, has under consideration the question of assisting in the establishment of a fast Canadian steamship service across the Atlantic. With the view of arriving at an early decision, the Colonial Secretary has instructed the Departmental Committee having the matter in charge to expedite its report on the subject.

American Fruits in London.

London, Aug. 1.—Another consignment of California fruit, comprising 1550 cases of pears, 730 cases of plums and 270 cases of peaches, was sold at auction in the Covent Garden Market to-day. Although the greater part of the fruit was in bad order, being considerably over-ripe, the prices realized were slightly in advance of those obtained at last week's sales. Bidders were very cautious, however, owing to the losses they sustained after the first sale, the fruit having spoiled before it could be gotten rid of by retail sales. Some dealers here attribute the condition of the fruit to its being picked too green, or to the fact that the temperature of the steamer was too low.

AN INVASION OF BLOOMERS

ALL THE LADY BICYCLISTS IN TORONTO WILL WEAR THEM.

They Wear Them Now as a Matter of Fact, But Concealed By a Skirt—The Skirt a Menace to Life That Will Speedily Be Dispensed With.

Prepare for the bloomer invasion! The knickers are coming. Some fine morning conservative Torontonians will look out of their windows and see all the lady bicyclists in town riding about in the pretty and modest Turkish trousers. In the first place the bicycling craze has hit the ladies hard.

It is a fact, attested by all the bicycle firms in Toronto, that they cannot import or manufacture enough ladies' wheels to keep abreast of the present demand, and in the second place The World Young Man has discovered by inquiries among the fair cyclists that the ordinary skirt is a dangerous and rather immodest garment when used for wheeling.

Trustee Bell may sit in his corner and howl, but he cannot stop the triumphant march of the bloomer. It will be flounted in his face, and he will be made to realize that in truth it came the sooner on his account, because it was the enlightenment spread by the discussion, his attempt to suppress it aroused that awakened womankind to the beauty and utility of knickerbockers.

As yet there have not been many bloomers seen in the streets, notwithstanding the fact that the ladies' tailors, when interviewed, stated that a great many Toronto girls have had their "knickers" made in readiness for the outburst that is to come.

A World Young Man asked a lady cyclist what was being done with all these new-made garments.

"We wear' em under our skirts," she blushingly replied.

"What do you do that for?"

"Well, I'll tell you all about it," said the maiden confidingly: "There was a picture in one of the papers the other day and that told the whole story. It showed seven girls in bloomers, and they were as plump as the cattle in Joseph's dream, and seven more with the knickers too, but they were lean enough to symbolize any number of years of famine.

"Its this way; there's one kind of girl who looks lovely in bloomers, and there's another kind of girl, who, well she simply can't wear them at all. Up to date the girls who can't wear bloomers, but would like to, have thrown up their hands and lifted their eyes and pronounced knickers shocking. They've raised such a scare about them, in fact, that we're afraid to drop our skirts just yet. And yet the bloomer is modest and pretty and nice. Its the most comfortable thing you can wear, and you are in danger of your life as long as you wear a skirt.

"You see a skirt in wheeling is so immodest that you have to keep it strapped down; otherwise it flies about and is awfully suggestive. This doubles the danger on the crowded streets. A man can spin in and out among the drays and the trolley cars, and if he strikes a snag he can jump or make a quick turn. But how's a woman encumbered with a skirt and straps to do that. Why, she simply takes her life in her hands every time she comes down town. If ladies are to continue to ride the bicycle, the bloomer is bound to come and I don't think they'll stop wheeling because a lot of badly nourished women pretend to be shocked.

"Just now, of course, I'm wearing my knickers under my skirt, but that won't be for long. As soon as the first surprise rubs off you'll find everybody wearing them. We've all got the garments ready and we're only waiting. The bloomers will all bloom together some morning and in a week the public won't see anything to wonder at or be shocked about in them at all."

Charges Corruption Eleven Years Ago.

London, Aug. 1.—A great deal of excitement has been created in Birmingham over the publication of a pamphlet written by Ald. Manton of the Birmingham City Council, charging the Birmingham police with having resorted to the most corrupt, dishonorable and dishonest methods in securing the conviction of the dynamiters Whitehead, Eagan and Daly, in 1884. Manton was chairman of the Birmingham Watch Committee at the time the conspiracy of Eagan, Daly and others were discovered.

Alleged Attempted Lynching at Stratford.

Stratford, Aug. 1.—William Renwick has complained to the police that he had a narrow escape from being lynched last night. While going home three men attacked him and gagged him, and then dragged him about the streets with a rope around his neck. The three men have been arrested and will appear in court on Friday. Renwick's story is regarded as being of the ghost variety.

CRUSHED TO DEATH BY A LOG.

Little Ernest Combs of Waterloo-Avenue Killed While at Play on a Log Pile.

Four-year-old Ernest Combs, son of W. B. Combs, 13 Waterloo-avenue, a blacksmith in the employ of the Northey Manufacturing Company, was killed killed yesterday afternoon within a few yards of his mother's door.

Ernest was one of a family of five children. Some time during the afternoon he had, unnoticed by his mother, left the house and crossed the street to the G.T.R. yards.

The mother missed him at 3 o'clock, and as his sisters and brothers had not seen him, she became anxious and sent them in search of him. They made a thorough search of the neighborhood without success, and when 6 o'clock came with no tidings of the child Mrs. Combs became alarmed.

The father reached home, was informed of the child's absence and joined the searchers. Instinctively he first turned to the railway yards, where he feared an accident the boy had befallen. His surmises proved correct, as pinned to the ground with a heavy cedar log, he discovered the lifeless body. The boy had been dead for some time, as the body was almost cold.

It is thought the little fellow had been climbing the large pile of cedar logs, when one became loosened and rolled down onto him. Death was instantaneous, as the ribs were broken and crushed down into the heart. Dr. Hunter was called and he notified Coroner Lynd, but it was thought unnecessary to hold an inquest.

TRAINS TO RUN FROM TORONTO TO TO HAMILTON IN 40 MINUTES.

The Double Track Road Between the Two Cities To Be Built This Fall—Wall Allowed Out on $6000 Bail—Hamilton Bay Lower Than For Forty Years Past, Rendering Navigation Very Difficult.

Hamilton, Aug. 1.—Several corps of engineers were out making a final survey of the T., H. & B. line between Hamilton and Toronto, and they expect to be through their labors shortly. F. S. Upton, a director of the T., H. & B., stated to-day that the line between Hamilton and Toronto would be built this fall, and he thought work would be started in about a month. No cost will be spared in making the road first-class, so that trains can run between the two cities in 40 minutes. There will be a double track, which will run between the Grand Trunk and the Lake Shore. Mr. Upton said that the company had no doubt that the T., H. & B., from Welland to Waterford, via Hamilton and Brantford, would be completed and in operation by the end of the year. Almost every mile of the road between here and Welland is covered with men and teams and work is progressing rapidly. Contractor Onderdonk is experiencing great difficulty in excavating Hunter-street for the tunnel, the work being more difficult than he thought, owing to the great amount of hard pan and concrete along Hunter-street. The roof is being put on the handsome new station, which is just as commodious as the T., H. & B. men said it would be before the bonus bylaw passed.

The Bay Drying Up.

The lowness of the water appears to be general in the great lakes. During the past week the water in Hamilton Bay has gone down three inches, while it is almost two feet lower than it was last year and over four feet lower than it was previous to three years ago. Veteran sailors here say they have not seen the water so low since 40 years ago, when it was about the same depth as it is at present, but no one appears to be able to give a satisfactory reason for the lowering process. Vessels coming into this port can draw 10 feet of water only, while in other years they could draw 14 feet, and their loads have consequently to be much lighter.

The Contract Finished.

The Kraemen-Turner Asphalt Paving Company completed its contract for paving King and James'-streets to-day. Expert Spellman of Toronto has made his final report on the work, and while it makes few adverse criticisms, it points out that owing to the poor grading pools of water lie in places, and the asphalt is not 2 1-2 inches thick all over, but the average thickness is two and a half inches. Chairman Judd of the Board of Works, Engineer Haskins, and Street Commissioner MacLaghlin will make an official inspection to-morrow.

News Notes.

The monthly custom house returns at this port have shown an increase for the last two months over the returns of the same month a year ago, which is looked upon with great satisfaction as an indication of a revival of trade. The duty collected in July amounted to $46,209.75, while it was $10,231.91 less in July, 1894.

Archbishop Langevin Starts a New Crusade—Murderer Gauthier Pleads Insanity.

Montreal, Aug. 1.—Mr. Louis J. A. Papineau, son of the Louis Joseph Papineau of Rebellion fame, and who was made celebrated some time ago by renouncing Catholicism to become a Presbyterian, has contributed $100 to the Chenier monument fund, which, by the way, appears to be dragging just now. Mr. Papineau says: That it was worthy of the oligarchy that rules Canada to-day, when they had just admitted free of duty the statue of its idol, Sir John Macdonald. This oligarchy, says Mr. Papineau, is the near paraent of that beauroracy which it took such efforts and suffering to destroy at one of the most memorable periods of our history. What we want is a new generation of patriotism to recognize our liberty. Signed, Louis J. Papineau.

Montebello, Aug. 1, 1895.

French Colonization Crusade.

Archbishop Langevin ardently desires to strengthen his position in Manitoba if a second school difficulty should present itself in the near future. Rev. Abbe Morin, apostle of colonization for the Northwest arrived in the city to-day and states that His Grace of St. Boniface has given instructions to the Rev. Abbe Corbeil of that diocese to go to work in the interest of French settlement in the Prairie Province. Up to the present time all efforts in this direction have been confined to the Prince Albert and other districts in the territories. It appears, however, that Archbishop Langevin is about to make an attempt to fill up the unoccupied lands in Manitoba with French speaking people and that with this end in view the Rev. Abbe Corbell will be started out to preach the new colonization crusade.

Gauthier Pleads Insanity.

Azarie Gauthier, the murderer of Celina Costigny, was up before Judge Desnoyers to-day. Mr. E. N. St. John appeared for the prisoner and will put in the plea of insanity. Gauthier told Detective Lafontaine that the deceased had confessed to him a secret, and ever after he had an uncontrollable desire to kill his sweetheart. The prisoner says he wants justice and does not want to be treated like Chatelle. The inquest will be finished to-morrow and Gauthier will go to the Queen's Bench for trial. The court officials do not put any faith in the insanity plea.

Tried For Murder Once Before.

Gauthier is the young man who was arrested about eight years ago and tried for the murder of a farmer named Monteith in the Lower Lachine road. The case was a celebrated one at the time. Gauthier and two other young men named Belanger and Dherien went to Monteith's farm to steal apples. Mr. Monteith detected the thieves and ran after them. Being three to one, they showed fight, and the farmer, who had a pitchfork in his hands, ran at Gauthier, who drew a revolver and shot him. Monteith died a few days afterwards, and Gauthier was tried for murder, but was acquitted, his friends proving that he shot in self-defence.

A PECULIAR CASE OF INSANITY.

A Boy Who Sleeps a Week After Each Fit and Wakes Up All Right.

Somerville, N.J., Aug. 1.—Physicians here are much interested in the case of Peter Brockley, a bound boy of A. D. Baird, a farmer of Frankfort. The boy has had peculiar fits of insanity several times in the last year. After tearing his clothing and flesh he would fall into a sleep lasting a week. Then he would wake up in his normal condition.

To-day the boy was brought here bound hand and foot and tied in the bottom of Baird's wagon. Baird intended to have the boy committed to the asylum, but when he found that would take so much time he carried the boy back home.

Dublin, Aug. 1.—The Irish Catholic, the organ of Timothy M. Healy, says: "The first result of Lord Salisbury's victory is the demolition of the compact limiting the extent to which Irish National rights should be urged. We rejoice at this. Ireland is once more free to seek the absolute repeal of the act of union."

Gerrard-Street Extension.

Township Engineer Gibson has surveyed and staked out Gerrard-street from Greenwood-avenue in the city to Coxwell-avenue. With the exception of two gullies of no great extent, he finds that a road can be formed at inconsiderable cost. Mr. Gibson intends to bring the subject up at the meeting of the York Township Council on Monday next. It is said if the property-holders along the route will give the right of way through the property the council will likely open up the road and put it in shape for the passing of vehicles.

HOLMES IN DREAD OF HATCH

THE MAN OF MANY MURDERS TALKS FREELY.

Refuses to Discuss Whether the Little Rock Convict Is Hatch—He Asserts That the Police of Toronto Have No Evidence to Convict Him of Murder.

Philadelphia, Aug. 1.—H. H. Holmes, who is charged with about every crime in the calendar, made a statement yesterday in the county prison regarding the latest developments in the chapters of murders with which he is accused.

"The Chicago officials," he said, "may claim that I am responsible for the death of Minnie Williams, Emily Cigrand and Mrs. Conner and little Julia, but I can show conclusively that these people have not and could not have been done away with by me. I am willing to admit that Emily Cigrand was employed by me as a clerk and typewriter for quite a while, but I canot say where she is now." Holmes declared that Minnie Williams is alive.

When Holmes was asked about the identity established between Allen, alias Caldwell and Hatch, who is now confined in the Little Rock Penitentiary and the imminent confession of the man, he said he was not disposed to discuss that matter at present. "I will say, however," he went on, "that the police out west are away off in this case. They do not know what they are talking about. I will tell you frankly that I do not care what number of confessions Allen makes. But Hatch is the man I fear. He is responsible, or at least can account for the disappearance of the Pitezel children. He took them from Toronto and I have not seen them since. Should the police find Hatch he is liable to turn around and acuse me of murdering these children. Of all other things, I am accused wrongly in that case. As long as Hatch keeps out of the way they cannot prove that I murdered the Pitezel children, but if he is found and acuses me of that crime, I do not know what to do. It would be a case of dog eat dog, for he can swear just as strongly as I can."

I can confidently say that neither the police in Chicago, Toronto, Philadelphia or anywhere else, can produce evidence to show that I ever murdered anybody."

It is stated by officers of the Fidelity Insurance Association, the concern that Holmes swindled, that Hatch, Allen, and Caldwell are the same men whose true name is Hatch. An officer of the Fidelity also positively said that Hatch could not have been in Toronto at the time Holmes took the Pitezel children there, as he was then in the Little Rock Penitentiary, where he had been sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment.

No Case in Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—So far not enough evidence has been secured to make out any sort of a case for to warrant a request that Holmes be tried in Chicago.

SIR FRANCIS WADE DEAD.

The Noted Oriental Diplomat Dies a Cambridge.

London, Aug. 1.—Sir Thomas Francis Wade, K.C.B., G.C.M.G., died at Cambridge yesterday. He was born in 1818. He entered the British army in 1838, and served in China and elsewhere until 1847, when he retired with the rank of lieutenant. He held at different times various official positions at Hong Kong and Shanghai. Owing to his familiarity with the native language and character, he was appointed a member of Lord Elgin's mission to China and accompanied the mission to Pekin in 1860. In 1871 he was appointed Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary and Chief Superintendent of British Trade in China. He was advanced to the rank of K.C.B. in 1875 for negotiating important treaties with the Chinese Government and obtaining trade facilities in that empire. In 1889 he received the Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

The Cape Annexes Bechuanaland.

London, Aug. 1.—A dispatch from Capetown says that the Cape Colony House of Assembly passed a bill annexing British Bechuanaland to Cape Colony. During the debate on the bill the Opposition severely criticised the British conditions relative to the liquor, land and native jurisdiction questions as tantamount to interference with the colony's institutions. No free people, the speakers declared, could accept these conditions and retain their self-respect, and the British Government would not care to attempt to enforce such conditions in the Australian Colonies.

Lively Steamboating in the Northwest.

Duluth, Aug. 1.—The steamer Moose, which could not be run on Crane Lake because she drew too much water, went over Kettle Falls, which are eight feet high, a few days ago. In making the descent she struck several bowlders and would have gone to the bottom of Rainy Lake had she not been run ashore at once. Capt. Trengrove and W. C. French were the only ones to make the fearful trip. The engineer refused to go, and so the captain worked the valve in the engine room by a wire from the pilot house, and sent the boat over the falls at full tilt, shutting off the steam as soon as he was over. Several boats with ropes were stationed below to save the two men in case of wreck.
