THE ONLY WAY WITH GREECE.

LONDON, To-day.

The Times to-day says it understands the note was drawn up at the Entente Allied conference in Rome, and had been despatched to Greece. It requires, the Times adds, prompt compliance with all the previous demands of the Allies and notification of acceptance of these demands by the Greek Government within a period which it is believed does not exceed forty-eight hours.

SITUATION SERIOUS IN ROUMANIA

LONDON, To-day.

The capture of Fokshani, the western Bastion of the fortified Sereth line, by the Teutonic Allies is commented upon here as rendering grave the situation in Roumania. The fact that the capture of the town was not mentioned in the latest Russian official statement is regarded as probably being explainable by the Russian communication being of an earlier date than that of the German war office. The consensus is that the loss of Fokshani is a serious menace to the whole Sereth position. The Times to-day goes as far as to say: "It means that the Sereth lines are turned and that our Allies must now fall back once more. There is no sign of slackening in the enemy's determination. It may well be as our correspondent at Jassy, the new Roumanian capital, suggests, that he designs the complete subjugation of Roumanian territory." The Times pays a tribute to the great efforts Russia has put forth in Roumania's behalf, and says: "Her attempt to hold the Sereth lines has failed as the attempt to save Bucharest failed; but she has delayed the Germans for weeks and made them pay a heavy price for their successes. The main brunt of the recent defensive has fallen on Russia, for the bulk of the Roumanian army has been withdrawn behind the Russian lines to be refitted and reorganized. Russia could hardly hope to do more than delay the enemy's advance. Field Marshal Von Mackensen has three large armies at his disposal and we may be sure of Austria's superiority in big guns." With both their extremities now in the enemy's hands, the Sereth lines so far as they run west of the river are useless. No doubt the Russians are on their way by this time to the next main defensive, the River Sereth itself. Behind that line again is the formidable river line of the Pruth. Von Mackensen is now almost within striking distance of Russian territory, but he must either attempt the passage of the Danube from Dobrudja or must force the river positions of the Sereth and Pruth before he can set foot on it.

Pansy League.

Government House,
January 9th, 1917.

To Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Would you please let me tell all my friends through your paper of the very happy Christmas I spent. Like many other folks, the first thing I looked for was my stocking—just a small one, you know. Someone lent me one of their socks; it was tied up with pink and blue cord, now for the contents: A nice lot of candy, a packet of the famous Gem Cigarettes; all the boys like them, and some girls I have heard, even sing a song of them. I had also a Smiling Bilykins (model in soap). No wonder he smiled, he felt so happy looking at dear old Father Christmas putting the jolly things in all the folks stockings. Also he was still holding a Union Jack and he still holds it and is still smiling. Just beside my bed was a motor car full of kisses, the driver a dear smiling Pig. Thank you, Tabby and Bob. I had also a nice woolly ball and two roses made of paper. What fun my kittens and myself can have with those. Now right at the very toe were some coins also one five dollar and a two dollar bill, ten dollars in all. Dear Biddy and Peggy, Santa Claus was pleased to bring your $5. How hard you have been working to earn all that money. Many thanks, you are good friends to me. Many thanks, Chin Chin, oh, yes, I found that on Christmas morning in my stocking. Many thanks, many thanks, dear friends, for the pretty cards, I found them on my bed. Dear Humphrey you do look a bit of real Scotch in your photo, no wonder you are turning your eyes. Why those must be real English Dog biscuits and, yes dear, they do look tempting. I thank you for your nice letter and I do not mind your chasing cats for you see, like me, they know where home sweet home is. Oh, I do like your card. All Scotch, yes, but you are a real good sport, how nice you look in that Scotch bonnet. I must put that card and your photograph in my album. I thank all the many friends who have sent me such nice jolly letters wishing me still further success and I think your wishes will be granted; 531 members and the promise of many more. Many people have asked me what the Pansy League is and what is it for. Well, I am just a cat, some people don't think much of animals of any kind and the Pansy League is formed for two very good reasons: First and foremost it is to help support the Church of England Orphanage here in St. John's. The second reason is also very important for it will prove how much pleasure is gained by studying our dumb animals. Take for instance a kitten. If you are good and kind it will prove itself a true friend to you and how it looks for your return when you go out. Why I first mention a cat is because it is the least expensive to keep and takes up very little room, even in a small house and no license (lucky for many of comrades) need be paid. A dog also is a sweet companion to many and here they are very useful for drawing carts and sleighs. Horses are very useful in this Colony and I think we could not do without them. I have many horses in my league. I hope I have clearly explained the object of the Pansy League. To some people it is a strange idea for animals, birds and fishes to help children. But you see they do and are going on with it too. What a very horrid world it would be with no children animals or birds. I do hope all owners of any animal, birds, etc., will let them all become members. Having no pets why just become a member yourself. The fee for each member is 25 cents (or more if you like) paid each year not later then June. The King's Birthday month. I am now working for the $100 for 1917. I have $17 in my box. I have asked two friends of mine to help me give an entertainment next Saturday afternoon. You see I cannot sing or dance so others will do it for me and some good friends have offered me some candies to see. Oh, yes, I shall be there, please come and see me in my bed nicely tucked in, also my kittens. Then one kitten will be seen sitting in a chair knitting socks. If you do not care to come in person buy some tickets and send some good boys and girls to represent your good spirit in the Pansy League, but must tell you all about that in the next letter. I am in hopes our little friend Rex will entertain us with some of his clever tricks. Now you other chappies what will you do. Rex has a lovely fur coat and wears his medal. I wonder if his Missy supplies him with a handkerchief, mine does, it is in a nice silk bag hanging on my bed.

Many thanks dear Tibby of Grand Falls for the new members. Ah, I see you are going to get Grand Falls the record number of members. Well done, but who is going to outrun Tibby? I must away now because my good Friend the Editor will think my letters much too long. So with love and many grateful purrs.

Yours loving friend,
PANSY.

WINTER FISHERY.

The winter fishery is being carried on with but very little success to date on the Western banking grounds. Operations were suspended for practically all of last week owing to adverse weather conditions. At Burgeo, LaPoile and Channel, which are among the principal fishing grounds in that region, the weather is continuously stormy and fishing cannot be carried on.

9TH ANNOUNCEMENT.

Clothing.

"What should I wear on a trip to the West Indies?" is a question asked by prospective passengers.

It is not wise to encumber one's self with an excessive quantity of luggage, so take only one suit of heavy clothing for use this side of the Gulf Stream both going and returning, and also one suit of summer clothes. Linen suits and such light underclothing as you may need can all be obtained in Bermuda and the other Islands, and at remarkably reasonable prices.

A Wonderful Show.

The matinee yesterday at Rossley's British Theatre was largely attended by a very delighted audience. The night show was also well patronized considering the various attractions. The "Blackbirds" went great, the girls being encored on every number and the big plantation dance received round after round of applause and had to respond to an encore which the youngsters did with great enthusiasm. The pictures were very fine. "The Coast Guard's Sister" was put on in place of The Schemers. The Indian picture "Camping with the Bleck Feet" and "Love's Labour Lost" a very laughable cartoon. In the "Coast Guard's Sister" the leading roles are taken by Miriam Nesbit and Mare McDermott. Matinee every day.

EXERCISE FOR HEALTH.

If your eliminative organs are sluggish and have been very much neglected you will need more strenuous exercise. They must be stimulated to activity. This can only be done by proper exercise. One of the best for this purpose should be taken in bed before rising.

Before you get up in the morning, lie out straight in bed with your hands at your sides. Then slowly raise the legs until they are at right angles with the body. Lower just as slowly and repeat ten times. Now jump out of bed, and follow this exercise with another, whose purpose also, is to induce peristaltic action. Stand erect, raise hands over head, and twisting the body to the right, at the waist only bend from the waist and try to touch the fingers to the floor. Turn the body to left at the waist only and repeat. Your legs are next in order. The following exercise while giving suppleness of movement, will also act upon the eliminative organs:

Put hands on hips and swing first the right leg forward and back, and then the left leg. Try to keep your balance without taking hold of any support. After you have done this ten times raise the right leg until the knee is on a line with the waist. Hold it there a moment and lower. Repeat with the left leg.

You will find that these exercises, if vigorously done, will work miracles for you in your internal economy.

If you are careful to exercise daily, to add fruit juices to your diet, to avoid irregularity in meals, eating between meals, excess of sugars, starches and fats, and to Fletcherize your food, I do not think you will need any artificial aid to keep the interior of the body clean.
