SIXTEENTH YEAR — WEDNESDAY MORNING JULY 24 1895. — ONE CENT.

IN D'ALTON M'CARTHY'S HANDS

The Third Party Will Frame Manitoba's Reply.

HON. MR. ANGERS TALKS TO THE WORLD

His Reasons for Resigning Portfolio.

Will Hold No Meetings to Criticise the Government's Action, But Will Await the Reply of Manitoba, Which He Believes Will Be an Evasive One—Meantime He Will Settle Down to the Practice of His Profession in Montreal.

Montreal, July 23.—The World received to-day the first statement made to the press by the Hon. Mr. Angers since the ex-Minister of Agriculture withdrew from the Cabinet, and it was made in reply to the following question:

"Is it true, Mr. Angers, that you propose holding a series of meetings in this province in order to explain the reasons which prompted you in leaving the Cabinet?"

"No; such is not my intention, and I will tell you why. My position has been in favor of minorities wherever they might be found, for had the liberties and rights of the minority in Quebec province been placed in jeopardy I would have taken a still firmer stand, and, perhaps, I would then have been better understood. However, as the Government has promised that justice will be done, I will wait and see what the outcome will be. I may also say that I think it would be most unwise to hold meetings just now, or attempt anything like agitation. If meetings were held here for the purpose of promoting Remedial Legislation, contrary gatherings would be called in Ontario and elsewhere, and the situation would be rendered even more complicated than at the present time."

Hon. Mr. Angers further explained to The World that he had never been opposed to the delay or unofficial negotiation with Manitoba, but it was the idea of the Government re-opening negotiations with that province that he could not approve of."

"What in your opinion will be the Manitoba Government's answer?" asked the correspondent.

"Manitoba is in the hands of D'Alton McCarthy, and he will frame her reply, which, I believe, will be an evasive one."

To Begin Life Over Again.

The ex-Premier was then questioned as to his future plans professionally, and his reply was as follows: "I have to begin life over again, and, although I leave for Quebec this evening, I think it is quite likely that I will settle down here in Montreal, and practice my profession."

Before saying good bye to The World, Hon. Mr. Angers stated that he believed people gave him credit for acting throughout according to the dictates of his conscience.

OFF ON THEIR VACATIONS.

The Cabinet Ministers Preparing for a Holiday—Crop Reports

Ottawa, July 23.—A telegram received at the Department of Agriculture to-day from Mr. Saunders, director of Experimental Farms, contained the following crop report: "Brandon, July 23.—Have seen crops between Winnipeg and Brandon to-day. They look very promising. The growth is in most places even and strong. Grain well headed, lodged in spots in a few places only. Weather bright and warm. A grand crop if weather continues favorable. Crops on experimental farm very good."

Writing from Calgary, N.W.T., July 17, to the Secretary of the House Committee on Agriculture, John Craig, horticulturist to the Dominion Experimental Farms, says: "The crops in Manitoba and such parts of the territory as I have seen will be phenomenally large unless caught by frost. They have now had ample rain to carry through the grain to maturity, and the condition of the whole country is one of hope and encouragement."

The Department of Agriculture is in receipt of information from Ebenezer Wells, Croydon, England, to the effect that the system adopted by shippers of binding Canadian hay with wire has led to losses among the live stock to which it is fed. Mr. Wells is anxious that the matter should be brought to the notice of Canadian agriculturists, with a view to remedying what he regards in our hay as "its only defect."

Sir Mackenzie Bowell leaves Friday for Regina, accompanied by Hon. Mr. Daly.

Lord Aberdeen will formally open the new creamery at Renfrew on Thursday. The Countess of Aberdeen will on the same day perform the ceremony of dedicating Aberdeen Park. Their Excellencies will leave the same night for the west, their intention being, after the opening of the Territorial Exhibition, to proceed through to the Pacific coast.

There was a protracted sitting of the Privy Council to-day. The Ministers were engaged in the transaction of Departmental and other work accumulated during the declining days of the session of Parliament. Next week the majority of the Cabinet will have departed for their summer holidays.

The reorganization of Customs Board on the lines of the bill recently passed by Parliament will be commenced without delay. The new appointments to the board will be made by order in Council.

The Controller of Customs will be in Halifax next week attending the meeting of the Grand Lodge of British America, of which he is grand master.

Hon. Mr. Costigan left yesterday for the Maritime Provinces. During his absence of a fortnight or so the affairs of the Marine and Fisheries Department will be administered by Sir Charles H. Tupper.

THE CANADIAN KENNEL GAZETTE.

Interesting Items of the Coming Fall Dog Shows at Toronto and Montreal.

In the July issue of this bright journal, four pages of Canadian Kennel Club registration bring this department right up to date, and the news of the month is fully set forth in several pages of "Notes and Comments." Interesting articles appear on the "Modern Field Spaniel" and the Bedlington Terrier. The Irish Setter, Red Brian, winner of the fifty dollar silver cup at the late Toronto show, is depicted on the frontispiece, as is also his sire, Toronto Jim, a winner at the Industrial show of 1892 and Ottawa 1893. Copies can now be had from John P. McKenna, Bookseller, 80 Yonge-street, price 10 cts., postpaid 12 cts.

SIR W. VERNON HARCOURT ELECTED.

Still Declares Temperance the Chief Plank in His Platform—Labor Leaders Defeated—Standing of the Parties.

London, July 23.—To-night the standing of the various parties in the House of Commons is as follows:

309 Conservatives.
55 Unionists.
129 Liberals.
56 McCarthyites.
9 Parnellites.

On to-day's returns the Conservatives gained three seats, the Unionists the Parnellites one.

Among the defeated candidates are the labor leaders, Messrs. Mann and Clem Edwards, who share the fate of many of their fellows.

Mann ran as an independent labor candidate in the Colne Valley district of Yorkshire, and had as opponents Sir J. Kitson, the Liberal representative, and Harold Thomas, Unionist. The Liberals won with a smaller majority than they had in 1892, and Mann was third in the race, with 1245 votes. Clem Edwards had the Liberal and labor support in the Tottenham division of Middlesex. At the start he had to face a Conservative majority of 1720 in 1892. This year the Conservatives piled up a majority of nearly 2600.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt, who was defeated in Derby, has been returned for West Monmouth by a majority of 7243, 23 less than the Liberal majority three years ago. Mr. Warmington, who resigned his candidacy in favor of Sir William on the latter's defeat in Derby, was to have stood without opposition. Sir William, notwithstanding his experience in Derby, persisted in declaring in his speeches in West Monmouth that temperance was still the chief plank in his platform.

Hudson Will Hang

London, July 23.—Robert Hudson, who murdered his wife and child at Helmsley Moor, Yorkshire, about a month ago, in order that he might marry again, was sentenced to death. At the time of his killing of his wife and child, whose bodies he burned on Helmsley Moor, he was advertising under the name of Hunter for another wife.

The Gun Exploded.

Toulon, July 23.—A breech gun exploded on board the warship Bouvines during a trial here to-day, killing one sailor and wounding Admiral Chateauminois and two of his officers and several members of the crew.

Rioting in Brussels

Brussels, July 23.—A riott occurred today at a match at which King Leopold was a spectator. Cries of "Down with the school law," were hurled at the King and the loyalists responded with shouts of "Vive la Roi." The mob tried to rescue ten persons who were arrested, but the police charged the crowd and captured more of the rioters. Ten of those under arrest will be tried on the charge of insulting their Sovereign and seven for issuing manifestoes without the printer's name.

The Macedonian Troubles

London, July 23.—A despatch from Constantinople says it is announced that the mobilization of 20,000 men of the Third Army corps at Monastir, Macedonia, has been ordered.

A fight between Insurgents and Turkish troops is said to have taken place at Uskup, in which 13 were killed and 30 were wounded.

The reported mobilization of troops in Macedonia excited little attention here, as similar statements are printed daily, and officially denied the day after.

The Standard to-morrow will publish a despatch from its Constantinople correspondent saying it is reported that the Council of Ministers had decided to call out the reserves along the whole seaboard of the empire and in all European vilayets. This, the correspondent adds, will entail great financial sacrifices, and can only be explained by an acute sense of the critical nature of the situation.

Bedouins Attack Lighters.

London, July 23.—A despatch from Jeddah says that a party of 150 Bedouins attacked five lighters lying at that port, and, after firing a volley, boarded and plundered them. Sixteen of the persons on board the lighters were wounded.

SARAH JAMES'S SAD DEATH.

An Inquest Opened But Adjourned Until To-Morrow Night.

The inquest into the cause of the death of Miss Sarah James, the young woman whom the police believe died from the effects of a criminal operation, was opened by Coroner Johnson at the undertaking establishment of E. J. Humphrey, 407 Queen-street west, yesterday. The jury was sworn, and an adjournment made until Thursday evening.

Detective Slemin left last evening for Bandu, and it is expected his investigations there will result in one or more arrests in the matter.

Norman Ridout Buried.

The funeral of Norman Stuart Ridout, who was accidentally killed at St Anne's, Quebec, on Saturday, took place yesterday from the family residence, 125 Tyndall-avenue. Rev. Charles Inglis of St. Mark's Church conducted the services at the house and at the grave in St. James' Cemetery. The pallbearers included a number of cadets of the Royal Military College at Kingston.

Another Fool Leaps From Brooklyn Bridge.

New York, July 23.—King Callahan, a bartender, who gave his address as 434 Third-avenue, dropped from the Brooklyn Bridge into the East River at 6.50 o'clock this morning. He was picked up by two men in a rowboat, and taken to the Hudson-street Hospital, where he now lies in a dangerous condition, having sustained internal injuries. A wager was made several days ago by which Callahan was to win $1700 if he successfully jumped from the bridge. Callahan is under arrest.

"If there was only one bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil in Manitoba I would give one hundred dollars for it," writes Philip H. Brant, of Monteith, Manitoba, after having used it for a severe wound and for frozen fingers, with, as he says, "astonishing good results." 246

HALIFAX AND BERMUDA CABLE.

The British Government to Grant a Subsidy and the Cable to Be Extended to the West Indies.

London, July 23.—I have good authority to state that the British Government has agreed to grant a subsidy, which, in conjunction with the aid granted by the Canadian and other Governments, will enable the Halifax and Bermuda cable to be extended to the West Indies. This information is supplemented with the statement that departmental details are being now finally arranged for the grant. This matter is of the highest consequence to Canadian trade with the West Indies, which is now altogether dependent upon the American cable channels. I also believe that J. L. Huddart's scheme for the fast Atlantic and Pacific mail subsidies is making headway at last. Lord Ripon before leaving the Colonial Office left a memorandum strongly urging the matter upon Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, his successor. The latter gentleman expresses keen sympathy with all practical movements for improving the inter-imperial relations. The British Treasury is at the present time fully filled, and the new Chancellor of the Exchequer, Hicks-Beach, is more sympathetic to the idea than was Sir W. Vernon Harcourt.

FAVOR THE BLOCK SYSTEM.

Verdict of the Jury in the Craig's-road Disaster.

Quebec, July 23.—The coroner's verdict in the Craig's-road accident was rendered at 4.30 o'clock this afternoon. They find that the collision was due to the carelessness and incompetency of the employes of the G.T.R. Co., then in charge of the train driven by Engineer McLeod. Moreover the jury shares the opinion that the "block system," as enforced on certain railway lines, would ensure security to passengers, if applied to the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada. The employes of the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada should be made to undergo an examination for color blindness once a year. Furthermore the jury regrets that it has been duly established by evidence that Driver McLeod in charge of Conductor McCabe's train supplied himself with a quart of beer at Arthabaska station, this being strictly against the company's rules.

WHO OWNS THE SUGAR?

Two Boys, a Horse, a Wrecked Wagon and an Irate Expressman

Three boys were seen driving an old horse attached to an express wagon, which contained two barrels of sugar, last evening along the Esplanade. They turned north in Bay-street, and when they had reached Front-street one of the wheels of the wagon collapsed. On pretence of going for another wagon the boys unhitched their horse and made off. The wagon and its contents remained there until after 11 o'clock, when Joseph Mussey, 109 Terauley-street, called at Police Headquarters and reported his wagon missing. Sergeant Hales had learned of the break-down at Bay and Front-streets, and took Mr. Mussey down to see if the vehicle was his. It transpired that it was, and then it dawned upon the police that the sugar may have been stolen. The patrol wagon was called out, and the sugar sent in to Police Headquarters, where it will likely remain until some one presents proofs of ownership. At midnight the boys and horse were still at large.

FOUND HOGAN'S BODY.

The Firebug Jumped Into the Canal After Applying the Match.

St. Catharines, July 23.—At 9 o'clock to-night when a party of young men were in bathing in the new canal, just below Lock 7, they noticed a man's head protruding just above water. They secured a raft and towed the body to shore, and on examining found it to be that of Hogan, colored, the firebug, who, it was supposed, committed suicide after firing Stewart John's premises on Saturday night.

Has Conscientious Scruples.

Detroit, July 23.—Manager R. S. Break of the Detroit Railway Company, the Pack-Everett Line, has resigned his $2500 position rather than work on Sundays, against which he has conscientious scruples. The company has several of its lines in operation, and especial attention is to be given to the Sunday traffic. Mr. Break was formerly superintendent of the London, Ont., Street Railway.

Great Estate Sale.

A large consignment of high-class horses and carriages will be sold on Tuesday next by Messrs. Silver & Smith. The stock is all in first-class condition and includes a very fine pair of bay coach geldings, 6 and 7 years, 16.2 hands, winner of first prize at the Toronto Industrial Exhibition for the last two years; also landau, Victoria, Brougham, dog cart, single and double harness, etc., and large number of horses of all classes.

The Lucan Firebug Committed.

Lucan, Ont., July 23.—John Williams, a colored man, aged 40, married, was arrested at midnight Monday in connection with the burning of Stanley & Digbt's warehouses at 11 o'clock the same night. Andrew Patton, the McGillivray farmer, who was passing the buildings on the night in question and who claimed to be able to identify the firebug, was taken to Williams' house while the fire was yet in progress, and positively identified Williams as the man he saw setting the fire. Williams was sent for trial.

The managers of Barnum and Bailey's great show, finding that the baseball grounds were scarcely large enough to accommodate the immense crowd sure to be present, have decided to locate the show on a site on the corner of King-street west and Mowat-avenue, close to the back of the asylum. The show will be here next Monday, the 29th. There will be two performances—at 2 and 8 p.m.

A Two and a Half Million Loan

St. John's, Nfld., July 23.—Colonial Secretary Bond has returned on the steamer Corean from England, where he negotiated a loan of $2,500,000, to save the colony from bankruptcy. He failed, however, to obtain a separate loan for the savings bank on advantageous terms, owing to the English bankers contending that the Whiteway Government broke faith with them in the retrenchment scheme. The Whiteway supporters in this city are preparing a demonstration in Mr. N. Bond's honor, to take place tomorrow night.

STOLE FROM HIS UNCLE.

Conspiracy to Rob the Goldsmiths' Company.

FOUR OF THE TOOLS UNDER ARREST

But the Principal Is Safe in New York City.

Gerard Fudger, Nephew of Mr. H. H. Fudger, President of the Goldsmiths' Stock Company, Rifles the Vaults of the Firm—Systematic Stealing Which Has Been Going on for Months—The Missing Man Peaches on His Companions—Four of the Parties to the Conspiracy Arraigned in the Police Court Yesterday and Remanded.

Through the shrewdness of a Kingston jeweler, a well-conceived scheme of large proportions for robbing the Goldsmiths' Stock Company has been discovered. Mr. Walter J. Barr, manager of the company, assisted by the police, has spent some days in getting to the bottom of the conspiracy, and it is now believed that all of the guilty parties but two have been discovered.

The supposed principal in the conspiracy is in New York. He is Gerard A. Fudger, a clerk in the employ of the company, and the nephew of its president, H. H. Fudger. All the chief parties to the robbery are youths of respectable parentage, whom no one would have reason to suspect of criminal tendencies.

Four Under Arrest.

Those under arrest are:

F. W. SMYTH, 124 John-street.
W. ROOTS, 22 Catherine-street.
FRANK CABLE, 241 Beverley-street.
FRANCIS WURSTER, 470 Queen-street west.

Warrants are out for the arrest of George Metcalfe of Kingston, Ont., and for the principal above alluded to. The prisoner Roots was an employe of the Goldsmiths' Company, and a companion of Fudger's.

For some time past Mr. H. H. Fudger, the president of the company, and Mr. Barr, the manager, have suspected that robberies were taking place, but as the stock is a large one and the goods of a portable nature, the thief could not be detected, nor was there any positive evidence of theft.

Exposed by a Kingston Jeweler.

In a wholesale jewelry establishment, where most of the stock is under cover, thefts are not discovered easily, except through a laborious system of stock-checking, which is used only at stated intervals. Odds and ends were occasionally missed in the establishment, but suspicions had taken no definite form in the minds of the proprietors until a few days ago a letter was received from Messrs Johnston & Bro., jewelers of Kingston, Ont., to say that a watch had been offered to them at a rate which led them to believe it had been dishonestly obtained. From the nature of the goods offered for sale with the watch, the Messrs. Johnston believed the stock to have come from the Goldsmiths' Company.

The Scheme Adopted

They wrote that the explanation offered by the party who wanted to sell the goods was that a jeweler in Western Ontario was in financial difficulties and was quietly unloading his stock by this means. Messrs. Johnston & Bro. wrote, not with the idea that a theft had been committed, but to suggest that the Goldsmiths' Company find out which of their customers was trying to defraud them in this way. They enclosed the number of the watch offered for sale as a guide.

Messrs. Fudger and Barr, on receiving this letter, made investigations, and discovered that no watch of that denomination had been sold, and that one of the number in question should be in stock. Mr. Barr immediately went to Kingston to make investigations on his own account, and discovered that some $400 worth of the company's stock had been sold at low rates to different people in Kingston.

A Veterinary Student From Kingston.

He got the names of several men who had offered watches for sale, and interviewed them, only to discover that they were selling them on commission for George Medcalfe, son of a well-known citizen, who during the winter had been a veterinary student in Toronto. He also learned that a young man named Smyth from Toronto had visited Medcalfe quite recently, and Medcalfe finally admitted having obtained the goods from Smyth, with whom he had boarded in John-street during his course as a veterinary student.

Coming back to Toronto, Mr. Barr caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of Medcalfe, but before it reached Kingston the bird had flown. Investigations in Toronto showed that Medcalfe and Smyth had been the chums of young Gerard Fudger and from him Smyth says he got the jewelry. The latter, hearing that inquiries were on foot, had also flown the coop.

Through a Trusted Employe.

It was learned that the employe in question had been the leading figure in a group of half a dozen youths of lively tendencies. Smyth, Medcalfe, Roots, another employe of the company, and Frank Cable, were all members of the charmed circle. Fudger, since his flight, has given information which led to the arrest of his partners and made admissions which tended to show that there were at least two distinct channels of distribution. One was through Kingston, where the conspiracy was discovered; the other was in Toronto by means of Francis Wurster, a jeweler at 470 Queen-street west, who is a cousin of Cable's.

A Well-Planned Scheme.

Fudger, as a nephew of the president, was allowed access to the vault, a privilege not afforded the other clerks and which enabled him to steal with easy. It would appear that the ringleader of the group arranged matters so that he never appeared as a party to the sale of any of the jewelry stolen, but used his friends as tools, and they in turn followed the same system, so that before a stolen article was disposed of it had passed through several hands, and got farther and farther away from any parties who might be suspected.

The method used by Medcalfe at Kingston was to go to some friend working in a large establishment, and offer him a commission if he could sell any watches to his fellow-employes. Mr. Barr brought back some $400 worth of stolen goods he had recovered from different parties, and in Wurster's two stores, one in Queen-street and the other at Weston, articles to the value of $150 were recovered yesterday.

Prisoners Remanded for a Week.

So far as is known, there were no other channels of distribution, but this is by no means certain. Roots, Smyth, Cable and Wurster were all arraigned before the Police Magistrate yesterday and remanded for a week.

Mr. Barr said last night that no stone would be left unturned in securing the punishment of the thieves, as wholesale jewelers are more at the mercy of their employes than other merchants, and are obliged to protect themselves accordingly. Both Roots and his fellow-employe were trusted men, long in the company's employ.

WHO IS RAYMOND M'INTYRE?

Claimed to Represent an Alleged Toronto Jewelry Firm

Rochester, July 23.—A tall young man, with smooth face, who said his name was W. Raymond McIntyre, and that he was engaged in establishing branch offices for the firm of McIntyre Bros., importers of jewelry, of Toronto, walked into a leading jewelry store here yesterday, and after displaying a business card of this supposed firm he jollied the proprietor several minutes, and said he would purchase a watch, "just for a joke, hoping you will return the compliment when you are in want of goods," and picked out a timepiece valued at $150. He then discovered that he had only $28 with him, and tendered a cheque in payment for the rest. He had a card printed showing office rooms in the Power block. The Rochester jeweler said he would take down the number of the watch. He then quietly despatched a boy to the Power building, and found the rooms were unoccupied. He then refused to accept the cheque, and the Canadian disappeared before an officer could be called.

DENY HIM IS INSANE.

Her Curious Actions Due Entirely to Nervous Prostration.

John and Charles Hirschmann of New York, father and brother of Josie Hirschmann, who became insane at 294 George-street in this city and went to Niagara Falls, arrived at the Falls last evening.

The father is said to be a retired merchant tailor of New York, and reputed to be wealthy. The brother was very indignant over the fact that the report regarding his sister's insanity was circulated in the press, and denied it was so. He said she left New York about five weeks ago in search of health. The lady herself laughed at the idea of being insane, and said it was nervous prostration, brought on by sickness, not having eaten anything for four days.

Don't Like the Sectarian Bill.

Brussels, July 23.—A Radical and Socialist demonstration was made here today against the Government's sectarian education bill. The names of the King and his Ministers were hooted and the crowd became so disorderly that the police interfered. The efforts of the police to disperse the crowd met with much resistance, but after a time they succeeded in breaking up the gathering. Fifteen persons were arrested.

Lundy's Lane Anniversary.

On Thursday, July 25, the unveiling of the monument in memory of Lundy's Lane takes place, and in order to enable the large number of people who will no doubt wish to see this interesting ceremony, the steamer Empress of India is running a special cheap $1 excursion to Niagara Falls and return on that date. There will be a number of eminent speakers there besides the members of the Lundy's Lane and Niagara Historical Societies, the Veterans' music, etc. The celebration should certainly draw a large number of Toronto people. Tickets can be obtained at any Empress of India ticket office, or at the head office on the wharf.

A Great Ribbon Sale.

Anybody taking a peep behind the ribbon counter of McKendry & Co., about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and see the piles of ribbon paper on the floor would come to the conclusion at once that a great many hundred yards of ribbon had been cut off. We are informed that five more cases have just arrived from Europe and will be ready for sale to-day. The ladies should avail themselves of the opportunity to secure the latest styles and colors at the lowest prices.

A FREE EXHIBITION.

Only at One Place in Toronto Can the Fivefold Combination Be Seen.

With the passing of July the evenings are cooler, and straw hats are not the proper wear after dark. Hence the zephyr felts and light silks are always worn after the evening meal. There is only one place in Canada where the best of these prized hats can be bought. That is Dineens', at King and Yonge-streets. Here are to be seen the styles of the five big English manufacturers—Henry Heath, Tress & Co., Lincoln & Bennett, A. J. White, and Victor Jay. Each of these firms is a prize medallist, and each concern has a reputation of a couple of centuries. Dineens offer these English felt hats in the best qualities and spring shapes at $3.50; the silks at $6, which were $8; fine fedoras for $3, recently $4. It will be news for most readers that there will be very little difference in autumn shapes in hats, hence those selling now at reduced prices here will be in the fashion this fall. The 50 per cent. reduction in all kinds of straw hats and light caps continues.

Resumption of the Inquest Into the Kingston-road Trolley Fatality—The Injured Motorman Testifies.

The adjourned inquest into the circumstances surrounding the death of James Stewart, who was killed in the trolley collision in Kingston-road on July 13, was resumed before Coroner Aikins at the General Hospital last night. The Crown was represented by Mr. Raney, the Toronto Railway Company by Mr. W. Lount, Q.C., Motorman Graham by Mr. J. A. McIntosh and Mr. G. Gibson appeared on behalf of the parents of the deceased boys, James Stewart and Frank Townsend.

Were Shy on Conductors.

James I. Carney, car starter of the Toronto Railway Company, was the first witness. He said Graham had been in the employ of the company for two years, but that he was now only an extra motorman. The reason there was only one conductor for the motor and trailer that met with the accident was that they had not a sufficient number of conductors that day.

Henry M. Hooper, secretary of the Sackville-street Mission Sunday School, said the number of passengers on the ill-fated cars was about 160 or 170.

Only Been Over the Road Once Before.

John Urquhart, conductor of the excursion car, said he had only been three weeks in the employ of the company at the time of the accident. He was an extra man, and had only been over the Scarboro road once before. When his cars passed the Scarboro car on the Norway switch he saw Mr. Germain speaking, but could not hear what he said. He did not hear any specific instructions given to the motorman. After the accident occurred he may have said that Motorman Graham was reckless, but he wished to withdraw the statement now, as he had no reason for saying it.

John Joseph Ryan, motorman of T.S.R. Co., sworn, said: I was motorman on the car at the Norway switch when the excursion car passed by the car that went up before he special told me the excursion car was coming. We left the Norway switch, and in a short time I saw the special ahead of me, so backed up to Norway switch again. Roadmaster Germain was on our car and he told someone in the special to wait at Walter-street for the Park car and let it take the curve. I heard no reply.

A Dangerous Curve.

The curv enear the scene of the accident is a dangerous point, owing to the view along the line being obstructed.

When a special comes into our system we depend for information on what is told us by the men on cars wemeet. We do not depend on the roadmaster for this information. Mr. Germain got on my car after leaving Walter-street and before we reached Norway switch. We depend on our own common-sense as well as instructions from the roadmaster for information about specials entering the Scarboro line. I think the instructions Mr. Germain gave the men in the special car could have been heard equally well by the conductor.

Edmund Jaques Bird, barn foreman in the employ of the Toronto Street Railway Company, deposed that he received written instructions from Superintendent Gunn to send out the two cars, and handed a copy to Mr. Carney.

Motorman Graham Testifies.

The evidence of James Graham, the injured motorman, was then taken. The official and the jury went to his cot upstairs, where he corroborated a statement made to the coroner to this effect:

When his car had left the Woodbine he shouted to a conductor on a Scarboro car that he was following him up and asked him to tell conductors of other cars that he might meet. The conductor made signs to the effect that he understood. At the top of the grade Graham noticed the Scarboro car with Mr. Germain aboard and asked him where he would meet the next car, and Mr. Germain replied to the effect that he had better go on; he would meet it at Walter-street, Graham says that at Water-street he saw a car standing, and asked the conductor of it how long the car ahead had gone, the reply being that she was two or three minutes ahead. Graham went on, thinking he could reach the Blantyre switch before meeting the other car. Graham had taken out other excursions to the park, but did not know how many cars were on the Scarboro line. He had no other instructions except to pass a car at Walter-street.

Only Running 8 Miles an Hour.

The speed was eight miles an hour when he saw the other car coming, about ninety feet ahead, as he was rounding the curve. He braked his car and reversed the current. He shut off the current entirely, just as the collision occurred and that is the last he can remember. On other occasions, when he had taken excursions to the park, he had been accompanied by a roadmaster, excepting twice. On July 18 he had no instructions about crossing cars, excepting those given him by Roadmaster Germain at the Norway switch. Owing to his serious condition the witness was not further examined, but if permissible he will be again examined at the resumption of the inquest to-night.

A DEFENCE LAWYER HERE.

One of Holmes' Counsel Makes Investigations.

DETECTIVE GEYER AT INDIANAPOLIS

He Now Thinks Howard Pitezel Was Murdered There.

Continuation of the Search in Holmes' Castle at Chicago—A Bloody Garment Found in It, But No Other Results—A Warrant Issued Charging Him With the Murder of Mrs. Julia Conner and Her Daughter—His 7th and 8th Victims—Latest Developments of the Case.

Already the lawyers connected with the defence of H. H. Holmes have been active in investigating the Toronto end of the case against their client. E. Cooper Shapley, a prominent criminal lawyer of Philadelphia, and an ex-judge of the State of Pennsylvania, is one of those associated in the defence of the alleged murderer. On Friday he arrived in the city, and registered at the Rossin House. On Saturday he visited the house at 16 St. Vincent-street, and made a thorough examination of the premises. He also had a lengthy interview with Mr. Ryves, the old gentleman who will be the chief witness against Holmes, should he be tried in Toronto for the murder of the Pitezel children. Shapley went into every detail of the old gentleman's story.

Judge Shapley remained in the city until Monday, when he returned to Philadelphia. Before leaving he expressed the opinion that Holmes would be tried in Philadelphia for the murder of B. F. Pitezel, and only brought to Toronto in the event of his acquittal on that charge.

Abandoned the Search in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., July 23.—Detective Geyer of Philadelphia gave up the search for the missing boy, Howard Pitezel, in Detroit this afternoon, and left in response to telegrams received about noon calling him to Indianapolis, where, it is said, certain developments have been made in the case. He says: "There is one thing certain; if Howard Pitezel ever came to Detroit he was destroyed in the furnace at the Forest-avenue house, and the indestructible portions of his clothing were carried away by Holmes."

Still Searching for the Bodies.

Chicago, July 23.—Four laborers dug all day in the cellar of the house formerly occupied by H. H. Holmes at 63rd and Wallace-streets and found little encouragement for their toil. The building is now closed to everybody.
