DELEGATES TO CENTRAL FAIRS ASSOCIATION WERE BANQUETTED

Interests of Agriculture, Fall Fairs, Hastings and Belleville Discussed at Complimentary Banquet Last Evening—Many Fine Speeches.

(From Friday's Daily)

The complimentary banquet tendered by the Belleville Agricultural Society to the delegates and visitors to the Central Ontario Fairs Association was one of the most successful events of the the kind ever held in the city. The Crystal Hotel was chosen as the scene of the festivities and no mistake was made, for the eighty or more men who sat down to the feast, had a spread placed before them which did much credit to the hosts Messrs. Goudy and Aselstine.

Mr. Arthur Jones, president of the Belleville Agricultural Society occupied the chair. Among the guests were Mr. J. Lockie Wilson, Messrs. Nelson Parliament, M.P.P., J. W. Johnson, M.P.P., Warden Ketcheson and the members of the County Council, Mayor Panter, Ald. A. C. McFee, Messrs. H. F. Ketcheson and John Elliott of the Board of Trade, T. H. Coppin, representing the Grand Trunk Railway. W. Carnew, F. Mallory, E. B. Mallory, A. McDonald, W. C. Reid, Chas B. Meyers, M. Vanderwater, L. B. Cooper, F. Denyes, R. H. Ketcheson, president of Central Fairs Association. F. Denyes, R. P. Coulter, E. W. Hawkins, R. J. Garbutt, J. R. Garbutt, M. Sprague, J. K. McCargar, J. Miller, A. Moore, R. Bogle, A. Robinson, F. S. Anderson, Harry Ketcheson, T. H. Thompson, H. K. Denyes, D. Boyce, Kenneth Ross and many others, including the delegates,

The banquet spread was an elaborate one and excellent service was rendered by the staff of waitresses. The menu was as follows—Oyster Soup, pickles, celery, Fried Smelts, Tomato catsup, roast bronze turkey, dressing, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, green peas, baked rice pudding, apple pie, Canadian cheese, tea, coffee.

During the banquet proper, Mr. Kenneth Ross delighted the banqueters with a number of excellent piano numbers which were much enjoyed

The first toast was "The King," which was honored with a pledge and the national anthem.

The chairman, Mr. Arthur Jones, president of the Belleville Agricultural Society welcomed the visitors and guests. He referred to the absolute necessity of having expert judges and stated that the provincial grants should not be reduced in these days of stress when increased production is urged. Belleville citizens should lend their entire support to the fall fair. The farmers are behind the yearly exhibition.

"OUR AGRICULTURAL INTERESTS'

Mr. J. Lockie Wilson complimented the hosts on the splendid banquet. The day has gone by when the citizens looks upon the farmer as a back-township hayseed. When the farmer became serious in his outlook on his profession he drew the attention of the city. Today the professional man looks upon farming as the staple industry. Today the farmer who is up-to-date does not sneer at the scientific farmer, whose knowledge is wide. Governments are doing much for the farming industry. Over 60,000 acres were judged in 1914 in field crop competitions

There are no more patriotic Canadians than the Ontario farmers, their wive sand sons and daughters. God help the city that has not the inflow of pure country blood. The stature of the men of the manufacturing cities of England has declined. We want grain production to feed Belgium and Russia's millions at the front and Britain's teeming millions. There are in Canada too few boys on the farm to do the work. It would be unwise to drain our agricultural population. Our farm boys are producing food for the lads at the front. They are just as patriotic. Who are the greatest patriots? Surely the women and children who never see the front. The unemployed in the cities are now a burden on the state. They should be told "we will look after your families, now go to the front for King and country or starve"

Speaking of farmers' profits, he said there were many things wrong in the relation of producers and middlemen. There are things that must be righted. If the transportation and market facilities are righted, there will be more stuff produced by the farmers for it will pay. Real estate manipulators have swallowed up enough land to feed half of the citizens of Toronto. There are vast differences between farmers' and retail prices.

The times call for men of power and repute to sound the note—we want more patriotic and well doing resolve than patriotic talk.

God is in heaven and right will prevail in this great war.

Germany broke the Belgian treaty And the United States has broken it. Woodrow Wilson sends birthday congratulations to the man, the Kaiser, who has desecrated the homes of Beglians, and whose soldiers have cut off the hands of whole families. And one hundred million Christians in the the United States say to the motherland, "don't touch our ships, there might be trouble." German Christianity is lack of Christianity. We in Canada were drifting from the teachings of the Man of Nazareth by indulging in bridge and tango. But a change has come. We are now following the teachings of the Man of Nazareth in thinking of others.

"Our boys will fall into the hands of God, not into the hands of the Anti-Christ of Germany"—(cheers)

Warden Ketcheson in reply was given an ovation. He congratulated Mr Wilson and endorsed what he had said It is only natural resources that give our country its great wealth. The dollar bills are doing the harm in Canada. Where is the farmer, making 13 per cent. or 50 per cent. per year? The government should control the money and handle this capital at cost and let the surplus population till the soil. A farmer to make profits had to work and produce.

The chairman said that any man who invests in a farm has the safest investment today

Mr. A. D. McIntosh, B.S.A., Agricultural representative of Hastings referred to the organisation of farmers' clubs, and institutes, and breeding clubs, and the benefits resulting therefrom. Mr. McIntosh referred to the rapid changes in modern life by electrical inventions. We are just on fringe of things and what may we not expect? Let the farmers be ready and abreast of the times.

Song—"Tipperary"

Mr. J. W. Johnson, M.P.P., congratulated Warden Ketcheson. Belleville fair was restored in his regime in the city council. The fairest damsels in Ontario were to be seen at Belleville and Frankford fairs —(laughter). He remembered the old provincial fair. He believed that after this war the farms in Canada will double their value. He recommended every man with money to invest to buy some Ontario freehold. He was glad that bankers were present. There was a time when bankers did not give any consideration to the farming community. Today they are willing to give advice and aid. The banks in Canada form the best system in the world—the branch system. The stability of Canadian banks is due to deposits of Canadian farmers.

The farming industry has the first claim on the legislature.

Mr. Johnson spoke of Mr. Elliott's interest in immigration and in the cheese industry.

The only insurance against the King's enemy is the British navy—(cheers). Let us uphold their hands in every way and by the actual sacrifice of something in their behalf.

Mr. Nelson Parliament, M.P.P. for Prince Edward, spoke he said as a farmer. His aim would be to urge the legislature to increase the fair grants. If we do not get good advertising for these fairs, we have missed the aim of the fairs.

Exhaustive newspaper accounts should be given of the stock at the fall fairs. Critical appreciations of the stock exhibits should be as necessary as the judging.

Speaking of the British Navy, Mr. Parliament told a pathetic story of the auctioning of a sailor's clothing to show the true nobility of a sailor's heart. Humanity will not have to pay too great a price, even in this awful war, because our beloved principles shall prevail.

Mr. Parliament urged co-operation among the farmers. You must strengthen the hands of your representatives by your own ideals. Let us get rid of the idea of partisanship after elections and work for the good of the community. If you do not live up to your ideas of citizenship, you are not faithful to your God, your neighbor and yourself." (cheers)

An excellent piano number was given by Mr. Kenneth Ross

"The best dates for fall fairs,"—This subject drew apt remarks from delegates to the Central Ontario Fall Fairs Association

"OUR GUESTS"

Mr. R. H. Ketcheson, president of the Central Fairs Association, proposed the health of the guests. The provincial grants should not be reduced The cutting off of the fall judges should be investigated.

Mr. Ketcheson read a copy of the resolution passed at the association.

Mr. Johnson said he would be pleased to present copies to the Premier and the Minister of Agriculture.

Mr. Garbutt of Peterboro suggested to Belleville the holding of banquests at all fair board meetings. It had been a departure for Peterboro to send a representative to the Central Fairs Association.

Mr. John Miller ex-warden of North umberland and Durham, referred in glowing language to the hospitality of Hastings and Belleville. He had been delighted with the annual meeting, the banquet, and the attitude of the representatives of West Hastings and Prince Edward towards agriculture.

CITY OF BELLEVILLE

Mr. W. Carnew in proposing this toast, said he was glad to meet the farming community. Belleville he was pleased to call his home. There is no question that something had to happen to raise that patriotism required. We are a cold-blooded people, but the war has warmed us up and will make men of us all.

Mr. Carnew said he was pleased to extend the freedom of the city to the farmers and delegates.

We should strain every nerve in great conflict to bring down the German Kaiser

"Belleville is all right," said Mayor Panter, "because it is surrounded by an excellent farming community. Belleville extends all its privileges to the farmers." Mayor Panter thanked the association for the privilege of being present.

Mr. H. F. Ketcheson, president of the Board of Trade referred to the Belleville fellowship and hospitality. The interests of farmer and citizen are identical. The home market is the most valuable. If the towns grow, there you are going to have a good market and a good price. No prices rule anywhere better than on Belleville market. There are no middlemen taking the profits here.

Mr. John Elliott, ex-president of the Board of Trade, quoted an instance of co-operation in the cold storage problem. Farmers and citizens co-operated and as a final result the Dominion Government supplied ice on all boats between the Bay of Quinte ports and Montreal.

The Belleville Board of Trade has become the center of the trade interests of the province in the farming interests

He urged co-operation and action to prevent the reduction of fair grants

The government might determine the price of wheat at one dollar per bushel for next year.

SISTER AGRICULTURAL SOCIETIES.

Mr. H. K. Denyes as vice president of the Belleville Agricultural Society, proposed the toast, to which ex-warden T. H. Thompson of Madoc responded

THE LADIES

Mr. Fred. R. Mallory of Frankford made a very fine address in proposing the toast and Mr. Mark Sprague responded in a very humorous strain.

Mr. Hill of Madoc gave an address

Mr. Robert Bogle of this city rendered two splendid recitations. Mr. R. P. Coulter of Stirling sang a song. Messrs. Harry Ketcheson and Thos. Montgomery also gave short speeches

Messrs. Goudy and Aselstine, the hosts were toasted. They made happy replies. The banquet broke up with cheers for the King and the National Anthem.

VIGOROUS PROTEST FROM CENTRAL FAIRS ASSOCIATION

At Annual Meeting Held Here Yesterday Against Having Grant Reduced—Election of Officers and Dates for Fairs Agreed Upon.

(From Friday's Daily)

There were vigorous protests from The Central Fairs' Association which held its annual meeting at the city hall here yesterday afternoon against having the grants to fairs cut in half, and against having the services of expert judges discontinued. "There should be no turning back of the hands of time in this way" said Mr. J. Lockie Wilson, superintendent of fairs, in a vigorous speech of protest

When President R. H. Ketcheson, took the seat at the head of the table at the opening of the meeting there was present a large and representative gathering of delegates and others Among these we noticed H. Coulter and Tuos. Montgomery, Stirling; Geo Carlaw, Warkworth; T. G. Wright, Picton.; Thos. Laycock, and J. U. Heath, Marmora; Philip Moran and J. David Steele, Wooler; Archy Macdonald, Shannonville; Elias Ketcheson, S. Nicholson, and F. R. Mallory, Frankford; Robt. Miller, Castleton; T Thompson, W. E. Tummon, and W. J. Hill, Madoc; J. B. Ferris and Dr Hay, Campbellford, Chas. O'Reilly, Norwood, W. J. Barber, Ameliasburg; R. Snetzinger, Colborne; Jas. H. Clare, Tweed, and Arthur Jones, J. Horton, Harry Ketcheson, Ald. McFee, Mayor Panter, Geo. F. Reid, W. A. Martin, R. J. Garbutt, and W. C. Reid, representing Belleville

Mr. Arthur Jones, president-elect of Belleville Agricultural Society, was called upon and addressed a few cordial words of greeting to the delegates and closed by inviting them to a banquet at the Crystal Hotel in the evening

Mayor Panter extended a hearty welcome to the association on behalf of the City of Belleville

The election of officers was then held and on motion last year's board was reelected as follows

President—R. H. Ketcheson
1st Vice Pres.—J. H. Hess
2nd Vice Pres.—Geo. Carlaw
Sec-Treas—G. A. Hay
Auditors —J. B. Ferris and P. S Ewing.
Delegate to Provincial Fairs' Association—R. H. Ketcheson.

A committee was appointed and after some time a recommendation was brought in favoring the following for the dates of the fairs this coming fall

Wooler, Sept. 3rd
Belleville, Sept. 6th and 7th
Brighton, Sept. 9th and 10th
West Peterborough Sept. 16,17,18
Frankford, Sept. 16 and 17.
Napanee, Sept. 14 and 15
Shannonville, Sept. 18
Marmora, Sept. 24 and 24
Picton, Sept. 21, 22, 23
Stirling, Sept. 21 and 22
Campbellford, Sept. 28 and 29
Tweed, Sept. 29 and 30
Castleton, Sept 30 and Oct. 1
Colborne, Oct. 4 and 5
Madoc, Oct. 6 and 7
Warkworth, Oct. 7 and 8
Norwood, Oct. 12 and 13
Odessa, Oct. 1
Ameliasburg, Oct. 1 and 2
Bancroft, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1

A committee framed a strong resolution of protest against the Government's proposal to cut in half the legislature's annual grant of $75,000 for fall fairs, and this resolution was unanimously adopted.

The association also approved of another resolution recommending the continuance of the services of expert judges at fall fairs.

Mr. J. Lockie Wilson, provincial superintendent of fairs was present and delivered a vigorous speech. He expressed his concurrence with the resolutions presented and considered these requests reasonable. The expert judges were giving unbounded satisfaction. From several hundred sent out in 1913 he had had only seven or eight complaints. The experts had held conferences at Ottawa and Guelph to assist them in carrying out a more uniform system of judging. After all this work had been done it was a decided step backwards to have them discontinued.

Mr. Wilson thought that the farmers by staying with their farms and increasing production were doing just as patriotic work as any soldier in Belgium There were ten thousand idle men in Toronto. They wouldn't go out to work on farms. These should be sent to the front. The comparatively small response to recruiting from the farming section was due to the depletion of the rural population by the exodus of young men to the city.
