LOCAL NEWS.

A Good Girl.—A girl to do general house work will hear of a good place by calling on Mrs. Frank I. Morrison. Must be obliging and well recommended. Good wages will be paid.

More Plant.—The plant of the cotton mill at Marysville has been further increased this week by one hundred-looms, and several other articles for that species of manufacture.

Confirmation.—In St. James Church, St. John, on Wednesday evening last, bishop Kingdon administered the rite of confirmation to twenty-six persons—twenty-one females and five males.

New Wharf.—St. Andrews is jubilant over the building of a new wharf by the C. P. R. at that town. Of course the new wharf means more traffic and more or less progress in the busy little town by the sea shore.

Easter.—Easter was duly observed in all the churches in the city and vicinity. Many of the churches were very tastefully decorated and all held services specially prepared for the occasion. The music generally was of a high order.

The Exodus.— Dr. H. D. Currie, D. D. S., and wife, left on Tuesday morning for Cambridge, Mass., where the doctor will practise his profession in future. The best wishes of a large circle of friends in this city follow them.

Fire.— Mr. Dibblee, M.P.P., in the house on Wednesday received a despatch that his residence and barns at Woodstock were totally destroyed by fire. House and furniture were insured for $3500 which will about half cover the loss.

Broke Her Hip.—On Monday last Mrs. Payne of Oromocto, when crossing the room fell and broke her hips. The accident is a severe one, as she is seventy years of age, and this will likely compel her to spend the rest of her years in bed.

U. N. B. Lectures.— The second of the series of four lectures at the U. N. B., will be given by rev. J. DeSoyres on Tuesday evening next, subject, Civilization. The other lectures will be by Mr. Powell, M. P. P., and S. D. Scott, editor of the St. John Sun.

Normal School.—The pupils of this institution had a very pleasant and successful Friday afternoon entertainment yesterday. There were many new features in the form of drills, all well carried out. These afternoons are a great help to the students when they become teachers.

Received Degrees.—The following New Brunswick members graduating at McGill college received their degree on Tuesday: A. D. Coburn, Keswick Ridge; Edward DuVernet, Gagetown; G. W. Fleming, Chipman; F. B. Gunter, B. A. Fredericton; and W. J. Lawrence, Lower Dumfries, York Co.

At the School Room.—The social held by the S. School children of the Methodist church on Monday evening was quite successful. They met in the school room of the church and had a fancy sale and a pleasant program was also rendered. Miss Flinn, Mrs. Fisher and several others took part.

Delegations.—This has been a week of delegations at the legislature. The tax reduction association of St. John had C. N. Skinner, Ald. Lewis, A. O. Skinner, Mr. Waring, and T. H. Hall here to favor their bill; while a delegation consisting of Ald's Kelley, Chesley and Baxter appeared against the association.

Easter Election.—At Gagetown on the 3rd inst. the following officers for St Johns church, at that place, were elected: W B Dingee, H B Hall, wardens; G DeVeber, L DeVeber, T N Gilbert, N Hamilton, J Mc Kenny, Norval Otty, W Graham, R Graham, A McAllister and T H Gilbert, vestry; H B Hall, N B Dingee, delegates to synod; T H Gilbert and G DeVeber, substitutes.

Log Driving Co.—On Wednesday forenoon the annual meeting of the St. John River Log Driving Co. was held at the Queen hotel. The election of officers resulted as follows: W. H. Murray, president; C. F. Woodman, Franklin Stetson, G. B. Dunn and Robert Connors, directors; and J. Fraser Gregory, secretary-treasurer. Under his contract Fred Moore will do the driving this year and next.

At Stanley.—The Easter elections at Stanley resulted as follows: Wardens—H W Gregory, M D, Andrew Douglass; Vestry—John Clarkson, Robert Waugh, William Biden, Josiah Foreman, John Robins, John A Humble, Charles Robins, William Best, Thomas Clarkson, Alfred Clarkson, Thomas Wilkinson, John Sands; Delegates to synod—John A Humble, H W Gregory, M D; Substitutes—Andrew Douglas, Wm Best.

Musical Reading.— On Monday evening next the Epworth League in connection with the Methodist church, will give a musical reading in their school room. It is entitled "The Babes in the Basket," and will be under the direction of Mrs. Dr. Coulthard, assisted by a number of vocalists. Among its specialties will be a sailor boy's chorus, and a solo by little Millie Tibbitts. The entertainment will begin at eight o'clock; admission twenty cents.

Nashwaak Bridge.—The bridge is making satisfactory progress, though of course it is not being built as rapidly as some of the residents of either side of the river would desire. The work is one that takes time, and the present spring is early and the ice has become weak earlier than for years. The work has also been somewhat retarded by want of suitable lumber; but in a few weeks at the outside the bridge will be completed, and it will be a good one when done.

The Ice.—So far as can be learned the river is open from St. Jonn to Oromocto, although there are several places where the ice yet holds from side to side of the river preventing the passage of boats. The heavy wind of Thursday did much good in starting the ice. From this city to Woodstock the ice still holds firm, although there is considerable open water. Next week may see boats here from St. John. In this neighborhood the ice is quite solid and teams crossed at the Gibson landing on Thursday. The water is very low, perhaps the lowest at this season for years.

Feel Sore.—The ring which controls the municipal council of York, though fully aware that in their opposition to the public health act they were endangering the health and perhaps the lives of the people of York, now feel sore because the provisions of that act will be enforced and the bills paid without their sanction. It was necessary that this should be done as every other place on this side of the Atlantic is taking precautions against cholera. People of this county could not be left to suffer because certain councillors are opposed to the local government and will do nothing to guard the country districts against infection.

Found Dead.

A clock repairer, known as R. B. Jackson, a boarder at Manzer's hotel, was found dead there on Thursday afternoon. He was sitting in a chair and apparently died without a struggle. He had been drinking heavily and it is supposed that this with heart failure caused his death. Dr. Coulthard, coroner, took charge of the corpse, and on Friday morning his remains were taken to St. John where he has a wife and one or more children. He was about sixty years of age.

THE PARENT PROPERTY.

It is Worth in the Neighborhood of Three Millions.

About fifteen of the heirs of the late Solomon or Daniel Parent, through the Manzer branch of heirship, met at the Manzer hotel, this city, and held an informal meeting on Tuesday last. The object was to gather statistics proving their descent from Solomon Parent. These statistics are to be laid before a Baptist clergymen in New York who is engaged to look after the matter. A result of his researches will be learned in a short time when a delegate, perhaps a lawyer, will be sent on to make further investigations.

In this connection the St. Andrews Beacon says: At the time of the American revolution, over one hundred years ago, Daniel Parent was the owner of very vast estates in the neighborhood of New York city. He lived in a palatial mansion of brick, and as he was the possessor of two score or more slaves he was regarded as a man of great wealth.

Unlike many of the Englishmen who were resident in New York, when the revolution broke out, Mr. Parent did not abandon his estate and seek a home in Canada. He held on to his property until after the war was over, and it was not until the flag of the United States was thrown to the breeze from every hill top around him that Mr. Parent began to weary of his surroundings. He grew restless, and finally determined upon abandoning his property in New York and seeking a home in New Brunswick. He came to this province somewhere between 1785 and 1788, and it is said took up lands on the St. John river. He lived in this province until his death, which is said to have occurred at Queensbury, near Fredericton. When he died he left behind him a goodly company of sons and daughters, who handed down to their children and children's children the stories of the fabulous wealth which their progenitor had left behind him when he threw off the Yankee yoke and took up his abode under the Union Jack.

It is said that the property which Daniel Parent turned his back on, so many years ago, is now in the wealthiest part of Brooklyn, and that it is worth in the neighborhood of three millions. His descendants in New Brunswick are combining for the purpose of pressing their claims thereto, and as soon as their plans are perfected, they intend taking determined steps to secure the coveted prize.

The McNeill branch of the family, which numbers over twenty, met on Deer Island last week and chose as their representative Capt. James W. Leonard. He was in town last week in connection with the matter, and appears quite sanguine.

PURVIS VS. JOHNSTON.

The Millville Road Suit up for Hearing.

At the equity sittings on Tuesday, Judge Fraser presiding, one of the cases up for hearing was that of Thomas W. Purvis vs. Peter Johnston, commissioner for highways in the parish of Southampton, York. It was an injunction suit growing out of a difficulty over the boundaries of the main highway road running through Millville, where both parties reside. This case has been in contention for over a year. Purvis purchased a piece of land at the junction of the highway and the railway at Millville, and there he built a store. On the opposite side of the road are several other stores and buildings. The point in dispute is as to whether Purvis built on the highway or is within his limits. Johnston had Purvis convicted and fined for obstructing the highway, Purvis paying the fine but refused to remove the building in which he was doing a fair trade.

On the 28th May last Johnston, acting on authority of highway act, called some special constables and threatened to tear down the building. He was restrained by an injunction from the chief justice till the rights of the parties could be known. It has been the leading topic of discussion at Millville for the past eight or ten months, and a large number of the residents were here on Tuesday. J. A. Vanwart and Wm. Wilson appear for plaintiff, Black, Jordon and Bliss for defence.

On Wednesday the case was resumed; a jury of seven being empanelled and witnesses being called. The case will occupy the court for several days.

After all the evidence has been heard it is believed the jury will visit Millville to see the situation of affairs for themselves.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT.

In the Methodist Church at Canterbury Station.

The teachers and scholars of the Canterbury Station school gave a highly successful concert and literary entertainment in the Methodist church on Saturday, 25th ult. The program was a lengthy one and was admirably rendered. It consisted of vocal and instrumental music, dialogues, recitations, readings and tableaux. The opening chorus was sung in a manner that showed much careful training on the part of Miss Chapman who looked after the musical part of the program. Warrie Law did much credit to himself by rendering his solo, Uncle Joe in a manner that would be hard to improve on by an amateur. The tableaux were well selected, that representing Jacob's Ladder being the gem of the evening, the audience evincing their pleasure by rapturous applause The readings were exceedingly well done and showed careful training on the part of the teacher of the advanced department, E. N. Drier.

The programme was concluded by a stirring address by L. Lawson, after which the audience dispersed, all being of the opinion that it was the most successful entertainment ever given there. The proceeds, about twenty dollars, will go towards buying a library for the school.

A BUSY LIFE.

David Pugh Retires from the Surveyorship.

David Pugh, who has for about thirty years filled the responsible position of surveyor of lumber for Alex. Gibson at Marysville has felt constrained on account of ill health to give up the work and settle down to a retired life. During that period of time he has surveyed about one hundred millions of logs or about one thousand millions of feet. Large as this is, however, the work has been almost double of this, as most of it he surveyed in the woods and re-surveyed at the boom. Few men in this province have held such a responsible position for such a length of time; and it can be said that very few indeed could have done the work with such satisfaction to all concerned. It must be considered in this connection that the amount of lumber above quoted comprised that hauled by 50 or 60 different parties, winter after winter, and to keep all correct was a work of some difficulty, and required more than simple education. It is hoped by his many friends that Mr. Pugh has before him many years yet of a useful life as his has certainly been in many ways. He will continue to reside at Marysville. The vacant position will be filled by a surveyor from St. John.

No Use in Grumbling.

Some little friction has been caused because the bridge was closed to teams part of each day and all sorts of insinuations were made respecting the cause of stoppage. It is conceeded that one hundred and fifty teams cross the bridge every day, making about fifteen every hour or one every four minutes. The number is greater than this, but with this it means that the carpenters would have had to wait one or two minutes out of every four, so that they would have barely worked half time if the teams had been allowed to cross. It is said that the work might have been done earlier but the lumber could not be got. The work is finished; and those who find fault should first consider how they would manage if the bridge had never been built.

DAVIS, STAPLES & CO.

Alonzo Staples Goes Out, Mr. Mack, of St. John, Goes In.

Another drug store has been added to the already overburdened list of that class of shops in this city. Alonzo Staples, who has for years been the visible head of the firm of Davis, Staples & Co., has gone out of the concern and will open up a drug store in the building recently occupied by G. I. Gunter as an express office. It is apparent that Mr. Staples was that part of the company which made the business successful, and that he will carry with him all his old friends. The firm will now be known as Davis, Mack & Co. Mr. Mack is a stranger to the townsmen, as also to the farmers of the vicinity, and other things being equal, will not and cannot expect to carry the trade which Mr. Staples has done. His brother druggists will not oppose him, but of course it is natural that they should be anxious to help along one of themselves. Mr. Staples leaves the firm with a great deal more knowledge of human nature than he had when he entered that firm, and if he has not advanced in pocket it is certain he has learned where to look for friends. In opening up he will have the best wishes of all his old patrons and a host of new ones.

The Davis part of the old concern is pretty generally believed to be George F. Gregory, although he has not been considered a practical chemist, whatever his other abilities may be. It is presumed that Mr. Mack will be a wiser man in respect to the drug business in this city within a year from this than he is at present; and will likely also gain other experience that will perhaps prove beneficial to him after he leaves the city.

The Cronkite Case.

The case of Geo. A. Cronkite vs. Peter F. Cronkite was before the equity court during the week. This is an interesting suit, the order having been obtained to restrain defendant from selling certain lands of the plaintiff, situated in the parish of Southampton and morgaged to defendant, by plaintiff, by an indenture of mortgage in which there were conditions contained providing for the support and maintenance of the defendant, who is plaintiff's father, as long as he lived, upon breach of which, defendant was to have power of sale as an ordinary money mortgage. Plaintiff claims to have fulfilled all the conditions, and defendant contradicts this assertion. The case was partially settled out of court last June, but a failure in the negotiations ended in another appeal to the equity court. J. H. Vanwart, Q. C., and Wm. Wilson for plaintiff. Black, Jordan and Bliss for defendant. It was in an affidavit made in this suit by Henry A. Cronkite, one of the defendant's witnesses, that a certain statement was made, for which he has since been under examination, on charge of perjury. This latter matter has been before P. M. Marsh for preliminary examination, and was adjourned till Friday. The case was further postponed on Friday morning owing to the absence of counsel but will likely be decided this afternoon.

ROCKY GLEN.

Annual Easter Concert at Armstrong's Corner.

Last Sunday being Easter day, the commodious and handsome hall at Armstrong's Corner was literally packed to listen to the annual Easter concert given by Rocky Glen Sabbath school on that evening. The work selected this time was Easter Dawn by J. E. Trowbridge. It was well rendered, and the superintendent, Robt. Anderson, and the musical conductor, John B. Barton, may well feel pleased with the success of the work. The singing of the choir in the opening anthem was particularly fine. The soprano parts were taken by the Misses J. B. Woods and B. Barton; the altos by Essie Woods; the tenor by Wm Brittain and J B Barton; the bass by Wilbur McKenzie and William Woods, jr. The soprano solo by Lettie Mitchell was one of the best features of the evening. Miss Lettie possesses a very sweet and powerful voice for a child, and with care will develop into a singer of no mean ability. The quartette by the Misses Woods and Barton and Messrs. Brittain and McKenzie was very fine. The singing by the chorus of seventy odd children was done in perfect time and tune. Special mention must be made of the very creditable manner in which the recitations of the Misses Ida Quinn, L and R Anderson, Mina Corbett, Tina Reed, and Mary Morrison, and Charles Crozier, and Wm McCracken were rendered. The conductor was ably assisted by Miss Lizzie Anderson at the organ. Rev. Wm. Wass addressed the school at some length at the close of the exercises, and spoke in a very encouraging manner of the standing of the school, which has been in existence for some years and has a membership of over eighty, and is what is termed an evergreen school. The service was brought to a close by singing Coronation, and the benediction by Rev. Mr. Wass. The hall was decorated with lilies from the homes of Mrs. Robert Anderson and Mrs. Thomas Barton.

THE TOMB.

On the 30th ult., Mrs. Charles F. Cody died at her residence, Johnston, Queens Co., at the age of fifty-one, leaving a husband and two children to mourn. Deceased was a daughter of William and Margaret Armstrong. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the community.

The funeral of Mrs. Banks, formerly of Durham, this county, took place at Marysville on Sunday last. The deceased, previous to her marriage, was a Miss Bubar. The interment took place at Durham, many attending from Marysville. She was in her sixty-third year and generally esteemed.

S. A. Akerly, whose life has been despaired of for some months, died at his home, Brunswick street, Friday morning, the 7th inst. Deceased was at one time in the hardware business and had an extensive acquaintance. He was in his eighty-fifth year. He had only been confined to the house for three weeks.

Mrs. W. A. Garrison died at her residence, upper Gagetown, on Sunday last, the 2nd inst. She was in her seventy-third year. Her remains were brought here for interment on Thursday last. The funeral took place at half-past ten that day in the old burying ground. She was laid beside her first husband, the Rev. Sanford Boies.

It will be learned with much sorrow in this city and St. Marys that Mrs. James Wetmore died at her residence, Blackville, on Tuesday last, the 4th inst., after a lingering illness. Deceased with her husband and family removed from Gibson to Blackville about a year since. While at Gibson she was much esteemed, being ever active in the work of the Episcopal church and as president of the W. C. T. U. The bereft husband and family have the deepest sympathy of all. She was a daughter of the late Peter Drake of Carleton, and sister of Uriah Drake of St. John. The remains were interred at Fairville on Friday afternoon.

St. Marys Churchyard.

We have been supplied with the following information as to Lower St. Marys churchyard, and although it has been given to us unofficially we have reason to know that it is correct:

Burials in the churchyard at Lower St. Marys are subject to the following terms: All members of the English church in the province of New Brunswick, have a right by the terms of the deed of gift, to burial in this churchyard. In view of the small amount of ground in the churchyard remaining unoccupied, each application for burial from others than the aforenamed, will be considered upon the merits of such application. The fee charged to non-contributors and non-parishioners continues to be as before, two dollars. The law of the church as to the burial of the dead, in the diocese of Fredericton, contained in the Rubrics of the burial service in the prayer book, will be strictly maintained. Applications for burial in the above named churchyard to be made to Geo. Armstrong and Charles Biden, St. Marys.

Queens County Coal.

Edward Jack has been before the St. John board of trade by invitation and made an address dealing with the Queens county coal fields. In the course of his remarks he said that the coal mined at Newcastle and vicinity is the best soft coal that can be got and in proof of his statement gave the testimony of several well known men who have had a large experience with coal. It is believed that there will be a rush in this industry the coming season, and the whole province will feel the benefit.

Marysville News.

Some of the gangs in the old mill started for the season's sawing on Monday.

There are but a few serious cases of illness now; all the patients are convalescent.

It is proposed by the town council to build a sidewalk on the eastern side of the river as soon as planks can be sawn for that purpose.

Edgecombe's carriage works are running at full blast and all sorts of vehicles are being manufactured. Orders attended to at once. This firm have carried off prizes at all competitions and have proved that their manufactures are superior to the upper province wagons both in style and durability. If you require a carriage of any kind you should get their terms before purchasing elsewhere.

A beautiful assortment is what the ladies say of the new stock of spring and summer mantles, jackets and capes at Tennant, Davies & Co. Those who are looking for a stylish garment should call early. There are many novelties this season and this firm have secured some of the most beautiful. Call and see them whether you wish to purchase or not. Tennant, Davis & Co. Don't forget the place.

St. John's Mayor.—The St. John election for mayor takes place on Tuesday next and promises to be a lively one. H. L. Sturdee and hon. T. R. Jones are leaving nothing undone to capture the seat. The fight will draw out the full voting force of the city.

To Antigonish.—Miss Seery of this city, so well known in connection with the milinery business, left on Tuesday last for Antigonish, N. S., where she will take a position with McCurdy & Co. Miss Seery will be quite an acquisition to the social life of Antigonish.

Boys Wear.—F. B. Edgecombe, who is the pioneer in the boys clothing trade in Fredericton, has now open in the boys department an immense stock of nobby suits, overcoats, pants, underwear and headwear for the rising generations. He carries a much larger stock than any other dealer, and one does not find any difficulty in getting fitted in first class style, while his facilities for buying these goods enable him to sell at much closer prices than any other house.
