COPIOUS WEEPING HEAVENS

Spoiled the Plans of the Celebrationists at Hamilton,

But the Army and Navy Veterans Unveiled the Monument, Notwithstanding the Rain—Anglo-American Sentiment in the Ambitious City—Stationary Engineers' Convention—Other Notes.

Hamilton, Aug. 8.—(Special.)—The plans of the Army and Navy Veterans for the unveiling of the soldiers' mounment were rudely disarranged to-day by the copious weeping of the heavens for a couple of hours prior to the time set for the ceremony, and it was found necessary, after all, to have the speech-making in the Armory. Chapin Post, G.A.R., Buffalo, Commander Orr in charge, came 300 strong, accompanied by twice as many excursionists and members of the Women's Relief Corps and Daughters of Veterans and the 74th Regiment Band. The Buffalo party arrived during the morning by the Grand Trunk, and there was also a large contingent of veterans from Toronto. The regiments represented by the Veterans were the 47th, 16th, 62nd and Rifle Brigade. The time set for the procession to start for the cemetery was 1.30, but for more than half an hour prior the rain came down in torrents, preventing a good turn-out of either the 13th Battalion or Fourth Field Battery. About 2 o'clock the Buffalo Post, Cooke Post, G. A.R., and the Army and Navy Veterans were ready to march, but the skies still threatened more rain, and it was decided to proceed to the Armory.

At the Armouries.

There the visiting Grand Army men, the Veterans and the volunteers and bands, with the citizens, made up a large assemblage at the west end of the hall. Before the addresses began the Buffalo band and the 13th band exchanged courtesies. The 74th played a medley of American airs that raised hearty applause and cheers, and the 13th followed with the Star Spangled Banner, when the cheers were redoubled. The speeches were delivered from the officers' gallery, Secretary Gardner of the Veterans' Association, having charge of the proceedings. Among those in the gallery were: Col Moore, Col Grant, Col Van Wagner, Major Stoneman, Chaplain Forneret of the 13th; Capt Revell, Chapin Post; Chaplain Sparrow of Chapin Post; Chaplain Beavis of Cooke Post; Vice-Consul Butler, Mayor Colquhoun, Mrs Colquhoun and the Misses Colquhoun.

Secretary Gardner, in a brief speech, requested Mrs. Colquhoun to unveil the monument. Mayor Colquhoun replied for her in an address, in which His Worship made many pleasing references to the good feeling that existed between Canada and the United States. Vice-Consul Butler followed with a highly patriotic address, which stirred the audience to repeated applause. Private Ewell was the last speaker, and his address was filled with kindly appreciation for Canadians. He referred to the 150,000 Canadians who had fought side by side with the Northern troops during the civil war, eulogizing their bravery. Sacrifices and noble deeds, he said, were not the exclusive property of any country, and Canada's honored dead were America's honored dead. He expressed Chapin Post's thanks for the hospitality extended to them and closed an eloquent address with a beautiful reference to the noble life of the ruler of the British Empire.

Unveiling the Monument.

At the close, Mrs. Colquhoun, accompanied by the officers of the Veterans' Association, drove to the City Cemetery and formally unveiled the monument, which is a substantial piece of work of handsome design and with appropriate inscriptions thereon.

Election of Officers.

After this ceremony the marchers proceeded to a hall, which was provided by the Mayor, and held the election of officers as follows: Corp Nunn, chairman; Color-Sergt Stagg, secretary; Sergt-Major Cunningham, Sergt Luke Smith of Toronto and Corp Blackmore, Pte J Day and Pte J Macdonald of Hamilton. It was also decided to have the organization go by the name of The 10-Years' Veterans' Association. Regret was expressed at the disappointment caused by the delay of the answer to the petition to Her Majesty the Queen. It is likely that Crairman Nunn will call a meeting of all the old members of the Bedfordshire Regiment in the fall, to be held at Toronto. Mr. Nunn while in the city was the guest of Corp. Blackmore and Col. Grant.

Replies to the Petition.

The replies to the petitions which were forwarded to Her Majesty the Queen and the Governor-General are as follows:

Ottawa, July 13, 1898.

Sir,—With reference to previous correspondence on the subject of the petition of certain Army and Navy Veterans to the Queen, I am directed by His Excellency Governor-General, to forward you the enclosed despatch from the Right Honorable, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, on the subject. I have the honor to be sir, your obedient servant.

C. J. Jones.

For the Governor-General's Secretary.

Mr. John Nunn, Chairman Army and Navy Veterans, 78 Duke-street, Toronto.

War Office, London, June 24, 1898.

Sir,—With reference to previous correspondence on the subject of a petition submitted for presentation to Her Majesty through your Department for certain naval and military veterans residing in Canada for deferred pensions, I am directed by the Marquis of Lansdowne to acquaint you, for the information of Mr. Secretary Chamberlain, that the petition in question has been laid before the Queen, and Her Majesty has no special directions to issue in regard to it.

I am further to state that the claims of the 95 army veterans have been very carefully considered by the commissioners of Chelsea Hospital who have communicated with every one of them. In eleven cases it has been found possible to award either special campaign pensions or deferred pensions, and the commissioners have informed the others of the reasons of their ineligibility.

With reference to the claim of the naval men, His Lordship understands from the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty that it is not possible to trace the services of the men in question, and even if the necessary information were available, provis on is not made for deferred pensions on account of service in the Royal Navy.

I am etc., (Signed) R. H. Knox.

The Under Secretary of State, Colonial Office.

Stationary Engineers' Convention.

The ninth annual convention of the Canadian Association of Stationary Engineers opened this morning in the Odd Fellows' Hall, John-street north. Mayor Colquhoun extended a welcome to the delegates on behalf of the city, and Mr. R. Mackie, president of the Hamilton Branch, welcomed them on behalf of the local members. President Philip replied to the addresses. The regular business will commence tomorrow morning, when special papers will be read. The convention will continue till Wednesday. A banquet will be tendered the delegates on Wednesday evening.

The officers of the association are: E. J. Philip, president, Toronto; W. F. Chapman, vice-president, Brockville; J. G. Robertson, secretary, Montreal; R. C. Pettigrew, treasurer, Hamilton; G. B. Bisler, conductor, London; G. C. Mooring, doorkeeper, Toronto.

Did He Steal the Bike?

Peter Skye, an Indian, who also gives the name of Jesse Jamieson, was arrested today in Brantford on the charge of stealing a Reliance bicycle belonging to the R. Simpson Company, James-street north, some weeks ago. He was brought to the city this evening by Detective Coulter. The prisoner has made an extensive tour, including Buffalo, since he left Hamilton with the wheel. When arrested he was trying to sell the bike.

A Dundas Case.

Melrose Mendell, a young city man, was arrested to-day by Detective Campbell at the Grand Trunk Station. He will be charged with stealing a watch from a Dundas resident. Chief Twiss of Dundas is the complainant.

MAIN'S CIRCUS.

Probability That the Headquarters of the Show Will Be in London.

St. Thomas Journal, Aug. 6.

Mr. Walter L. Main, the proprietor of the circus, thinks seriously of making London his winter quarters at the conclusion of his Canadian tour. He intends wintering somewhere in Canada in order to avoid the war tax of $100 per day over the border. This is imposed on all circuses, whether traveling or not. If Mr. Main decides to make London his headquarters, Mr. Davis, his agent, says it will mean $40,000 or $50,000 spent there among the merchants. Mr. Main has to keep a full complement of men all winter to prepare for the spring opening. Most of the performers also remain with the show. The occupants of the menagerie are big eaters, and must be fed. All the supplies are purchased where the circus is located. Yesterday Mr. Main visited the London Fair Grounds. He will probably negotiate for the use of the fair buildings, and if terms are satisfactory will make his headquarters at Queen's Park. He has been offered strong inducements to winter in Toronto, but thinks London a more central locality.

THE FLOUR KING BADLY HURT

Mr. W. W. Ogilvie's Horse Became Restive at a Crossing.

Mr. Ogilvie Was Badly Bruised—Grand Trunk Passenger Agent Davis Refused to Talk—Inspection of the G. T. R. to Begin To-Day—Pallium Conferred on Mgr. Bruchesi—Other Montreal News.

Montreal, Aug. 8.—Mr. W. W. Ogilvie, the flour king, was seriously injured at 9.30 this morning. He was crossing the G.T.R. shunting tracks on St. Etienne-street, near Wellington-street. When in the middle of the track his horse, a spirited one, got restive and before he could make it go on, a coal train was upon him. Mr. Ogilvie was thrown fifteen feet and so badly bruised that he had to go home in a carriage. The buggy was reduced to match wood, but the horse escaped. The watchman at the crossing blames Mr. Ogilvie's horse for the accident.

Youth Drowned.

A 15-year-old youth named Savole of Longueuil, was drowned yesterday afternoon while bathing in the river near Varennes. The body has not yet been recovered.

Pure, Sweet Water.

In the course of excavating for the new C.P.R. Dalhousie Square Depot, the workmen have discovered a spring of fresh, sweet water. It runs at the rate of twenty miles an hour and is icy cold. The C.P.R. miles an hour are having the water analyzed with a view to seeing whether the spring can be used for supplying the new depot, instead of city water.

Returned to Duty.

Mr. Davis, General Passenger Agent of the G.T.R., returned from Chicago this morning, from the Interstate commerce commission. He refused to be interviewed, stating that the time to talk would be after the finding of the commission.

Mr. J. L. Dalrymple, secretary to Mr. Reeves, General Traffic Manager, who has been in Toronto for the past six weeks during the absence of Mr. White, the district freight agent, returned this morning to his post at the G.T.R. offices, Mr. White having sufficiently recovered to resume his duties.

Grand Trunk Inspection.

Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, President of the Grand Trunk Railway, and his party, accompanied by Mr. C. M. Hays, General Manager, commence their inspection of the system to-day, commencing in Ontario. The party left here Saturday evening and went through to Niagara Falls, where they spent Sunday. They take all the branch lines first. Mr. Joseph Price, vice-president of the road, will arrive in New York, from England on Wednesday and come direct from Montreal. He will afterwards join the inspecting party in Ontario after they have concluded with the branch lines.

Mr. W. E. Davis, General Passenger Agent of the Grand Trunk Railway, returned to the city this morning from Chicago, where he has been attending the meeting of the Interstate commission in reference to the passenger rate war. He states that th commissioners gave both sides of the case patient hearing, and he hoped that the recommendations which they make will have the effect of settling the trouble. They promised to hand down their finding as promptly as possibly.

Pallium Conferred on Mgr. Bruchesi

The ceremony of conferring the Pallium on Archbishop Bruchesi was successfully carried out at Notre Dame Church this morning. Archbishop Corrigan of New York and thirteen other archbishops were present. Archbishop Duhamel of Ottawa officiated, and Father Lecocq, superior of the Theological Seminary of St. Sulpice preached the sermon. Notre Dame was crowded with an immense congregation to witness the ceremony.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company's half-yearly dividend will be declared tomorrow. It is expected it will be either 1½ or 2 per cent.

A Tragic Death.

Mr. Louis Provost, Canadian customs officer of the C. P. R. has received the sad intelligence of the tragic death of his son at Tacoma, Washington, some days ago. No details of how the young man met his end, whether he was the victim of foul play or an accident, have yet been received. A brother of the deceased, who lived in Victoria, has gone to Tacoma to make enquires about the case.

Blackballed by St. James' Club.

An incident has occurred in the attempted election of a number of prominent Methodists to St. James' Club, that will probably lead to a radical change in the methods of electing members to Montreal's most popular and yet most exclusive social organization Not many days ago some half-dozen well known and prominent Montrealers were proposed in the conventional manner for membership of the club.

In voting for or against in such elections, it is customary for the different established members of the club to vote for or against the name proposed, and appearing on a printed list, and this marked list, accompanied by the voter's card, is then dropped into the ballot box. The card must be in no way attached to the list, its presence in the ballot-box being simply to prevent any irregularity in the number of lists put in by members, and not to determine which way any particular member may have voted.

Last week when the last consignment of proposed members came up to be voted upon, it seems that a number of St. James' clubmen determined that certain ones among the proposed members should not be elected to their club. So strenuous was their opposition, that there appeared an unauthorized number of voting lists in the ballot-box, and which blackballed the gentlemen on whom the set was made. These were accompanied by blank cards.

This violation of the rules of the club, of course, will lead to the deterring of the proposed members' election, and, if they still desire to stand as candidates, will necessitate another ballot.

The action of certain members of the club has caused a good deal of comment in social and business circles throughout the city. Whatever is may eventually lead to, it will at least bring about a revision of the methods of balloting for proposed members. This has already been announced in the letter calling the next meeting.

ALL WERE DEEPLY MOVED

Queen Regent and Ministers Approve of the United States Terms of Peace.

New York, Aug. 8.—A despatch to The World from Madrid says: Spain's reply submitting to America's terms received its finishing touches to-night. In its final form, as carefully revised by the Foreign Minister and re-approved by the Queen and Cabinet, it accepts without discussing the four preliminary conditions of peace imposed by the United States.

But care is taken to explain that Spain gives way to the force of events, again asserting that she had neither sought nor done anything to provoke the war into which she was driven by the conduct of America.

Nothing is said about a Cuban debt.

The note suggests a suspension of hostilities in order to facilitate the subsequent negotiations, and offers to appoint commissioners to act with the American commissioners to determine what shall be done with reference to the Philippine Islands.

The Spanish peace commissioners, it is generally believed, will be the Duke of Almodovar, the Minister of Foreign Affairs; Mgr. Merry del Val, the Spanish Ambassador to the Vatican, and Leon y Castillo, the Spanish Ambassador at Paris.

The Madrid Government's response to the American ultimatum was sanctioned by the Queen Regent yesterday, and the first draft of it as submitted to her by Premier Sagasta was approved by the Cabinet last night. It then was referred to the Foreign Minister for careful revision, and to be put in conventional diplomatic form and sent on. The Duke of Almodovar placed before the Queen Regent the momentous document which gives official assent of Spain to the loss of the last remnant of her empire in the New World. Both the Queen and the Minister were deeply moved. Then the Duke conveyed the document to the council, at which the Ministers also showed their sense of the painful, mournful solemnity of the occasion imposed by necessity upon the rulers of Spain.

Spain's Acceptance.

M. Cambon, the French Ambassador at Washington, received Spain's reply to the United States peace conditions yesterday. The reply came in sections, and the concluding paragraphs were received so late that nothing definite could be announced last night. Nothing was given out officially, but it was said the terms of the United States have been accepted. The only matter of importance to be considered by the commission to be appointed was in regard to ratification by the Cortes of Spain and the Congress of the United States. A peace treaty will, it is said, have to be ratified by these bodies, and it is feared that some delay may be caused by a discussion on the points named.

Three transports loaded with United States troops sailed yesterday from Santiago for the United States and more will follow to-day.

One thousand Spanish, sick and wounded, will be embarked from Santiago to-day.

Veritable Act of Friendship.

Paris, Aug. 8.—The Times says: "It is to be hoped the noble resignation of Spain will touch the heart of President McKinley and that he will consider it honorable to show the United States is strong, great and magnanimous enough to spare the vanquished enemy, not to abuse the victory and to desire, by the generosity of its acts, to make the treaty with the people they have learned to respect on the battlefield a veritable pact of friendship. It is certain Spain will be rewarded for her wisdom. Freed from the Cuban incubus, she will regain energy and vitality and march with joyful steps toward a calm and prosperous future."

GARCIA IN HIGH DUDGEON

Because United States Refused to Permit Him to Take the Reins of Government.

New York, Aug. 8.—A despatch to The World from Santiago says: General Calixto Garcia and his 1200 insurgents have stopped drawing rations, and Garcia has left the province in high dudgeon because the United States authorities refused to permit him to take up the reins of Government of the province. The last heard of him he was west of Holguin, proceeding to Nuevitas, in the province of Puerto Principe. His purpose is probably to form a junction with General Gomez, who is supposed to be in Santa Clara Province.

Gomez proposed to continue his guerilla warfare regardless of any armistice between the United States and Spain. It is understood that Gomez and Garcia will send to Washington a joint protest on behalf of the so-called Cuban Government against the Shafter, ignoring the claims of the insurgents to administer the affairs of the conquered territory. The American officers here are carrying out the orders from Washington in their relations with both the Cubans and the Spanish.

Council's Everlasting Gratitude.

Berlin, Aug. 8.—The Federal Council has sent Prince Bismarck an address of condolence. It refers to the deceased as "the great, heroic First Chancellor of the United Fatherland," and continues: "The two decades during which he worked at our head have become imperishable landmarks of Germany's greatness and welfare, and his spirit was so powerful that it will continue to make itself felt for centuries to come. His name will always be honored as the supreme essence of true patriotism and nation-leading statecraft. To him is assured the everlasting gratitude of the Federal Council and of the whole German nation."

WAS LEON BOYER MURDERED?

A Brother of the Deceased Suspects Foul Play.

Riopelle, Who Was Last Seen With the Victim, Unable to Account for Nearly Two Hours' Time Consumed in Traveling a Mile and a Quarter—Other Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Aug. 8.—The verdict of accidental death rendered on Saturday at the inquest on the body of Leon Boyer of Black Bay, who was found dead on the Eardley-road with his face battered in, has not concluded the case. Foul play is suspected by a brother of the dead man, and the case has been placed in the hands of Crown Prosecutor Garrett of Hull. At the inquest Andrew Riopelle, who was in the wagon from which Boyer fell to his death, was not examined.

Boyer and Riopelle are farmers, and were in Hull on Friday on business. Both drank considerable liquor while in that city, and, returning home together in a wagon, they stopped at Aylmer and had several drinks together. While drinking together a dispute arose over a law suit which was pending between the Boyer and Riopelle families. The dispute wound up in a fight in Holt's hotel yard. The difference was dropped for the time, and both men got in the wagon and started for home. What occurred after leaving Aylmer is a mystery. All that is known at present is that when about seven miles from Aylmer Riopelle was alone. He was first met by two men, Joseph Lusk and William Lemon, from Lusk's Corners, who spoke to him. He told them that if they met his companion, Boyer, to tell him to hurry up, as he was going on and would not wait for him. These men turned off the main road about half a mile from where the body was found, and knew nothing until later of the horrible occurrence. The next to meet Riopelle were two men on their way to market, but it does not appear that any thing beyond a salutation passed between them. Proceeding on their way a mile or so, they noticed a man lying on the road. They were horrified to find, on examining, that the man was dead, and his death had been caused by violence. There was a cut in the neck, the head was cut and bruised, while his bulging eyes bore testimony to the awful choking which he had received. Joseph Hurdman, the nearest resident, was summoned, and a general alarm was given, which roused all the neighbors in the section. The body was taken to Hurdman's to await the coming of the coroner. In the meantime Riopelle continued on his journey, and on arriving home informed his father and mother that Boyer had not been able to finish his business in Hull, and had stayed there. He did not seem to be at all agitated, and acted as coolly as though nothing had happened. He told Mrs. Boyer, wife of the dead man, that Boyer would come home the next morning with Mr. Mulligan, a butcher of Aylmer.

Riopelle's story is to the effect that he and Leon Boyer left Aylmer shortly after 7 o'clock. They drove along at an ordinary gait towards home, and their probable speed was four miles per hour. He was then a short distance, probably half a mile, from the scene of the tragedy. Boyer had a lunch with him, and expressed a desire to eat.

Riopelle says he offered to drive the team. His offer was refused, as Boyer said he had a pair of colts and he wanted to drive them himself. At this Riopelle said he was sleepy and would lay down in the wagon and sleep. He says he had too much beer and felt heavy. He was awakened by the shaking of the wagon, caused by the horses running away. He rose to a sitting posture, and, seeing that the wagon was liable to strike a tree close to the road, jumped out. He states that he jumped from the rig and fell. He then picked himself up, ran after the rig, caught one of the horses by the head and so brought the team to a standstill. The ground over which he ran is a steep, down grade. He says he caught the team at the foot of the hill and in ten or twenty minutes met Joseph Luck and William Lemon. He did not know these men, but spoke to them, and told them if they met Boyer on the road to tell him to hurry up and he would drive on slowly until he (Boyer) overtook him. These men, however, turned up off the main road before they came to the place where Boyer's body lay.

Some Weak Points.

The weak points in Riopelle's story are these: He is utterly unable to account for nearly two hours' time on the road home, during which there was only one and a quarter miles traveled. This is shown by the time he claims he fell asleep and the time he met Lusk and Lemon. As to the difference in the several stories he told he says he was sleepy and full of beer and yet he was sober enough to remove the bits from the horses' mouths to which them twenty minutes after he woke up. His lie to Mrs. Boyer he accounts for by saying he did not want to make her uneasy by telling her the truth.

As to the place where he awoke when the horses were running away, he says simply he was too drunk to know.

Has Barbeau Been Drowned?

Fred Barbeau of Aylmer, late of Creighton-street, New Edinburgh, is missing, and it is supposed he has been drowned. On Saturday afternoon Barbeau, in charge of a party composed of J. G. Bisgard and K. Thomas of New Edinburgh, George Gale of Wilbrod-street, Charles Stephens, Waller-street, and C. McCarthy of the C. P. R. Railway, left on a steam yacht for a fishing trip at the mouth of the Lievre, near Cumberland. After setting their lines the party returned to camp for the night. About 1 o'clock Barbeau got up and went out for the purpose of attending to his lines. That was the last seen of him.

The D. R. A. Meeting.

The Executive Committee of the D.R.A. met in the association's office in the Metropolitan Building Saturday evening, Lieut.-Col. Tilton presiding. Among others present were Lieut.-Col. Ibbottson, Major Blaiklock and Capt. McKay of Montreal. Arrangements were made for the annual meeting of the D.R.A., commencing on Monday, Aug. 29, at the Rockliffe range. The prize list submitted to the meeting was approved and will be issued in the course of a few days. It contains very few changes from the list of last year. Lieut.-Col. Delamere of the Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, was agreed upon, subject to their consent.

Plebiscite Vote September 29.

The announcement sent out from Ottawa that the writs for the prohibition plebiscite were issued Saturday and fix November 3 as the day of voting, is incorrect. The date of voting has not been changed from that originally fixed by council, namely, the 29th of September. The writs, however, are returnable on the 3rd of November. They bear date of the 5th of August and are being made ready for issue as fast as the printing bureau can turn out the requisite forms in connection with the plebiscite.

J. W. L. FORSTER — PORTRAIT Painting. Rooms: 24 King-street west, Toronto.

The request was forwarded through the British Ambassador at Washington by telegram and the prompt reply of the Canadian Government was that the permission was granted with much pleasure.

He: Miss Autumn told me her age was 24.

She: Umph! I told you she wasn't an up-to-date girl.
