PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

A MIDNIGHT BELL.

"A Midnight Bell," said to be one of Charles Hoyt's best comedies, will be presented at the Grand to-morrow night by the popular comedian, Digby Bell, and his company, including Laura Joyce Bell. The piece, which will be repeated on Thursday and Friday evenings, will be mounted with special scenery and an excellent presentation may be looked for. Saturday matinee and night, "The Hoosier Doctor" is to be presented. It is a domestic comedy drama in three acts from the pen of the celebrated author, Mr. Augustus Thomas, who it is claimed has in his latest effort, "The Hoosier Doctor," written a comedy surpassing in atmosphere, comedy and pathos as well as dramatic construction his preceding successes, "Alabama," "In Mizzouri," or "The Burglar." With the memory of the phenomenal successes achieved by the last-named comedies, and the distinct and emphatic favors bestowed upon them by the press and public generally, it is a matter of gratifying pride on the part of the management to be enabled to present for the first time in this city a comedy from the hands of the same author heralded with such universal praise by the various exchanges throughout the country and with the addition of the favorite American comedian, inimitable Digby Bell, in the title role, supported by the famous comedienne and contralto, Laura Joyce Bell, and an especially selected company of metropolitan artists.

THE OLD BRITISH BALLADS.

It will be interesting at the Pinnket Greene concert to-morrow evening to observe whether the English, Scotch or Irish ballads will arouse the most enthusiasm. Though an Irishman himself, it is in the rendition of Scotch ballads that Mr. Greene has created among his auditors a furore which even Paderewski could not attain. At the same time, nothing can be more delightful than his singing of the sweet old English lyrics or more attractive than his rendering of "The Kerry Cow," "Heigho, the Morning Dew," or "The Donovans," all charming Irish songs. Madame Marie Vanderveer Green will be heard at her happiest, perhaps, in the Scotch ballads. The first part is devoted to typical examples of the higher ballad composers, including Tosti, Nevin, Blumenthal. Among Madame Vanderveer Green's numbers will be "Thou Art Like a Flower," which was composed specially for her by Oscar Meyer. The Austrian court pianist, Rudolph Von Scarpa's, numbers will be most pleasing to the lover of music.

The seats are selling rapidly, and those who have not yet done so should secure them not later than to-day.

TWO DISTINGUISHED PATRONS.

That the "Gerhard Heintzman" pianos are at the head of all Canadian made instruments and equal to any made in America is brought more forcibly before the Canadian public every day. Talented American musicians coming to Toronto to play in public are asking to have the "Gerhard Heintzman" piano used at such concerts.

Two magnificent "Gerhard Heintzman" pianos were sent to the houses of two titled gentlemen last week, one going to the home of the Premier of New Brunswick, the Hon. James Mitchell, whose family is one of the most musical in the eastern provinces; the other going to the Hon. Mr. Fisher, at Foster, P.Q.

Our best families are appreciating the high quality of the "Gerhard Heintzman" pianos.

ABBEY, SCHOEFFEL & GRAU.

New York, April 5.—The Herald says: Abbey, Schoeffel & Grau (limited) are not to be given a renewal for next season of their present lease of the Metropolitan Opera House, and they will abandon all further operatic enterprises.

A GREAT SHOW.

Mr. John E. Henshaw came to the Toronto Opera House last night, almost a stranger to a Toronto audience. Before the week is out he will have won patrons enough to pack the theatre at every performance, should he visit us next season. He is a comedian, refined, versatile and clever. He is a singer, a dancer, a minstrel, and an actor. He is original in his methods to amuse, and has a pleasing and winning manner. He is ably assisted by Frank David. The two of them are just the people to make a light and breezy performance a success.

The company is one of the best that have been here this season. The singing is one of the principal features.

Miss Clara Lavine has a voice that will one day place her in the front ranks.

"Dodge at the French Ball" is an amusing piece full of complications which for a time cause trouble for everybody. In the end all is made right, and the tangles are cleared away. The usual bargain matinees will be given to-day, Thursday and Saturday.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Yesterday's performances at the Auditorium were well patronized, and no doubt will continue to be throughout the week, for the bill presented is well worthy of witnessing. The entertainment opens with a minstrel performance, 14 people taking part, in which many new musical selections are introduced. The artists are: Baisley and Simonds, an eccentric comedy couple; Leroy sisters, song and dance; St. Clair and Loveria, impersonations; Charles Seaman and Lillian Monti, in refined popular songs, duets, etc., and Crane Bros., in an amusing comedy sketch.

AT THE BIJOU.

The present week promises to be a successful one at the Bijou Theatre, although the management were disappointed in one of the lady artists advertised being unable to keep her engagement. This has been more than made up for by the engagement of Miss Pearl Andrews, the celebrated female Chevalier, who will appear to-day. Wilbur Mack is a comedian that pleases. The three Ronaldos, Eva, Edward and Charles, acrobats, are artists in their line. Harry Waring and Hyacinth Frazer, with their trained pig, introducing tumbling and imitations, followed by Hanley, Logan and Hanley, in a farce comedy, make up a good bill-of-fare. The motograph pictures are also seen.

NO SHOW FOR CONSERVATIVES

If the Provincial Voters' Lists are Used in Manitoba—Mr. Hugh John Macdonald for Dennis.

Winnipeg, April 5.—(Special.)—Conservative leaders in Manitoba declare that if the provincial election lists of this province are used in Dominion contests, the Conservatives will not even go through the farce of putting up candidates, as they would have no show. They allege that Mr. Greenway has so well stuffed the Manitoba lists, through partisan revising officers, that he has everything his own way. The Free Press (Independent), discussing this matter, says: "It would be a mistake to suppose that protests against the Manitoba election law will come only from the party it is directed against. There are many good Liberals whose sense of fair play is far above their party attachment, and they will aim to prevent the action of what would be a blot upon the party's reputation. There now seems a likelihood of a contest in Winnipeg for the vacant seat in the House of Commons. Temperance people want a candidate pledged to the prohibition plebiscite, and may ask ex-Mayor Ryan to run as their candidate. Conservatives talk of putting up Samson Walker, a well-known Conservative, who would make a strong fight.

There is every likelihood that Hon. Hugh John Macdonald, the new leader of the Provincial Opposition, will contest Dennis constituency, rendered vacant by the death of the sitting member. Conservatives are confident of being able to get him in the Legislature.

The World's editorial, addressed to the papal ablegate, is published approvingly by the Winnipeg papers.

Hamilton Radial Road Made $400 in March.

NEW CARS WILL BE PUT ON

And the Road Will Be Extended Through to Brant Street.

Civic Matters—Meetings of Sporting Clubs—Mrs. Day Smith Waits on the Preachers in the Interest of Bad Boys—Hon. G. W. Ross Addresses a Large Crowd at the Pure Food Show—General News of the City Under the Hill.

Hamilton, April 5.—(Special from Our Staff Correspondent.)—The Hamilton Radial Electric Railway Company held its annual meeting this afternoon. The treasurer's report, which was adopted with strong expressions of approval, shows the profits of the road for March to be $400. Four new cars, with smoking compartments, will be put on the road by May 1, when a 15-minute service will be instituted. E. Larson received a contract to extend the road through Burlington to Brant-street. The following were elected directors: A. Turner, T. Leather, J. Dixon, George Staunton, T. H. Watson, J. Moody. The officials of the road will be elected at to-morrow's meeting.

THE TOLL ROADS.

The Government order respecting the Hamilton and Milton toll roads brought the County Councillors together to-day in full conclave. The Council objects to being obliged to maintain that portion of the road lying in the county, and wants the minor municipalities interested to do their share. A committee composed of Warden McGregor and Councillor Marshall of Barton was finally chosen to obtain legal advice in the matter.

CIVIC MATTERS.

The looked-for trouble at to-night's meeting of the Sewers Committee over the Wood-street sewer didn't materialize, for the reason that the members of the committee were all of one mind. A largely-signed petition from the residents of Ferguson-avenue against building the Wood-street sewer was read. Chairman Ten Eyck remarked that the order for it was wriggled through Council without the concurrence of the committee by Ald. Doran, and the sewer was not needed for at least two years. The remaining members of the committee took the same view, and no work will be done here. The question of running the operating works by electricity was touched upon, but at the suggestion of Engineer Barrow was laid over until the fall, when the electric companies will bring forward propositions for the supply of power.

The tender of J. Armstrong for the Main-street sewer at 45 cents, and that of A. Lampman for another on Homewood-avenue at 53 cents, were accepted.

MR. GALLAGHER EXPLAINS.

Mr. Gallagher, the popular lineman of the Hamilton Electric Light & Power Company, was explaining around town to-day that his name was not Hi Gallagher, as a local paper dubbed him, but "Mr. James Gallagher, Esq., Corktown, Hamilton, Ont., Canada West."

MR. WOODS' DAMAGED PHIZ.

Senator John Woods of that classic suburb, Corktown, is suing a druggist for $5 and law from the effects of a glove contest late Saturday night. The Senator feels his position keenly, and promises that it will not occur again. From the condition of his face it looks as if he had been up against a threshing machine instead of a pair of pillows.

WHEELMEN'S MEETING.

The first regular meeting of the Hamilton Wheelmen's Association was held this evening in the Y.M.C.A. building. The report of the president, J. G. Gauld, showed that during the year the association had tried to further the interests of those who indulge in wheeling. The report of the treasurer indicated that the organization is in a satisfactory financial condition. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, H. S. McBrayne; secretary-treasurer, Herbert Jones; Membership Committee, J. Newbon, J. Crawford and R. C. Ripley; Legislation Committee, R. A. Robertson, J. G. Gauld, H. M. Logan, W. E. Brown, H. Baldwin, R. Smith and K. Bethune.

VICTORIA YACHT CLUB.

The fourth annual meeting of the Victoria Yacht Club was held in the club's winter quarters this evening, the commodore, Rev. C. E. Whitcombe, presiding. The report of the secretary-treasurer was not as satisfactory as the members wished for. There were 293 members on the rolls last year, but only 142 paid their fees, and, as a consequence there is only $5 on hand. The commodore urged all present who had not paid to do so at once, so obligations could be met. The following officers were elected: Rev. C. E. Whitcombe, commodore; Frank E. Walker, vice-commodore; J. Cox, rear commodore; R. Hunter, captain; Dr. Anderson, fleet surgeon; W. Phillips, starter; George Allan, treasurer; W. Robb, assistant treasurer; E. A. Fernalde, secretary-treasurer; H. O. Gibb, assistant secretary-treasurer; A. Allan and F. Staunton, auditors; J. Lavelle, G. Wark, E. Laws, W. J. Read, H. Sache and the commodore, Sailing Committee.

THE CITY'S WICKEDNESS.

A deputation of ladies from the Hamilton W.C.T.U. waited upon the Ministerial Association at its meeting this afternoon to tell the members about the wickedness of this big city. Mrs. Day Smith was the speaker, and she asked the association to do something to prevent the smoking of cigarets by boys; to try to have the performance at the Star theatre reformed, and to take steps to get the Government to prevent the reproduction of the Fitzsimmons-Corbett fight by the Vitascope. It was really sad to see little lads puffing at coffin spikes, not knowing the harm they were doing their bodies. Regarding the Star Theatre, she said she knew little, only that small boys went there and that it had a demoralizing effect on them. The reproduction of the pictorial prize fight enterprize, she said a reproduction of the fight would be more disgusting that the original fight.

Dr. Burns, the president, thanked the ladies for the information and promised that the matters would be considered. Rev. Dr. Brethour spoke forcibly about the Star Theatre and said that, judging from the reports and posters and the gang that hangs about the door, it is veritably a gate of hell. Other members used strong language about the theatre.

The ladies retired then and the business of the association proceeded. A committee was appointed to receive B. Fay Mills, the noted evangelist, who arrives at 11.20 to-morrow morning. He will give three night meetings in the Central Presbyterian Church, commencing to-morrow evening.

JUBILEE COMMITTET.

The Jubilee Committee under Ald. Montague, chairman pro-tem, met in the Council Chamber to-night to map out a program of operations. Ald. Dixon, who has had the shaping of things so far, read out a list of 40 societies, which would form the nucleus of the demonstration, and the committee will ask each to send a representative to act on the general body. The Mayor and Ald. Montague were chosen to wait upon the chiefs of the 13th Battalion and the Field Battery to ask their participation in the great event and efforts will be made to secure the county troops as well. Ald. McAndrews wanted the committee to get as many Indians to take part as possible, as without the red ma nin war paint and feathers the show would be a failure. Ald. Dixon, Crooks and Macdonald will look after the question of grounds. The General Committee meets again two weeks from to-morrow.

SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD.

At the meeting of the Separate School Board held to-night, Father Holden asked for power to dismiss the caretaker of St. Mary's school on account of disparaging statements he had made about the trustees and the way he did his work. A committee will investigate the matter.

PRACTICAL TEMPERANCE.

The Wentworth County W. C. T. U. opened a school of methods, or a meeting for the furthering of practical temperance, in Knox Church lecture room this morning. Mrs. T. H. Pratt presided. The school lasted all day and many papers were presented. This evening E. O. Taylor of Chicago delivered an alleged scientific temperance lecture entitled "A gush of beer, analyzed." He told of the process of making beer and made several experiments. He also showed charts indicating the effects that alcohol has on the brain and system. The lecturer said that alcohol is as deadly a poison as arsenic, prussic acid or nicotine. Science, he said, has demonstrated that there are no food properties in alcohol, therefore, a person who drinks moderately is not a temperance man, but a moderate drunkard.

PURE FOOD EXHIBITION.

The pure food exhibition was officially opened this evening by Hon. G. W. Ross, Provincial Minister of Education. The Drill Hall was well filled and beautifully decorated, while sweet music was rendered by a full orchestra under the leadership of C. L. M. Harris. After a few well chosen remarks by Chairman P. R. Close, Mayor Colquhoun followed, introducing Mrs. Rohrer, the Philadelphia domestic scientist, who gave a very interesting address. Mr. H. S. Brennen, chairman Board of Education, then made a few remarks, after which Mayor Colquhoun introduced Hon. G. W. Ross, the speaker of the evening. The honorable gentleman dwelt on the benefits which the Grocers' Association would derive from the exhibition, and lauded the efforts of Mrs. Rohrer. In reference to her statement that poor food was the cause of headache and kindred ailings, Mr. Ross caused great amusement to his audience by remarking that if Mr. Rohrer was a member of the Provincial Cabinet, and had to receive a deputation from the Temperance Association in the morning, the brewers in the afternoon, and the Lord's Day Alliance in the evening, and the bicyclists before going to bed, she would hardly lay all headaches to the door of poor food. Continuing, the speaker had visited Boston and had seen much of domestic science there, and fully believed that it could be introduced into the public schools here to the great advantage of the pupils. He congratulated the Board of Education for being the first city in Ontario to introduce this branch of science in the schools, and remarked that on the other side, where the pupils had taken up this branch, it was generally an improvement on the other branches, for the pupils who studied domestic science were rather in advance, and not one whit behind the other scholars. After praising the educational system of the Dominion generally, he said from an industrial standpoint, it was able to compete with the world, and among the professions the only dearth among the people was Members of Parliament and able politicians. He favored technical schools as they have them in England. Amid cheers from the large audience he then declared the pure food show open.

HAMILTON GENERAL TOPICS.

Poor Old Martin Rowan is Out of a Job—Police Matters.

Hamilton, April 5.—(Special from Our Staff Correspondent.)—Martin Rowan, 201 Maria-street, a man of 80, who has for some years had one of the contracts for street watering, and employed his son upon it, has a small opinion of the Hamilton ward system. A change in the city watering was inaugurated at the beginning of the month, and among those dropped was Martin. The old man appealed to Foreman Anstey, who has charge of the department, and was given his job again, but his re-appointment interfered with Ald. Colquhoun's ward patronage, and old man Martin was turned off once more.

POLICE MATTERS.

The Police Court was crowded this morning, many of the visitors being street car people, when the case of William Adams, charged with assaulting Street Car Conductor Henderson, was brought up. Adams paid his fare for the trip, but because the car went beyond his point of destination, and the street was muddy, he declared his determination of staying on the car until it returned. On the journey back Conductor Henderson asked for another fare, and on it being refused put Adams off. Magistrate Jelfs decided that the conductor had not used excessive force, and fined the passenger $30 and costs.

Harvey Watson, 140 Yonge-street, was charged by his invalid wife with choking her until the blood squirted from her eyes and nose, because she refused to give him the children's food. Watson was bound over in a surety of $100 to keep the peace.

The First Methodist Church will hold a meeting on Friday night to consider the question of appointing a minister. The names of both Rev. Dr. Philp and Rev. William Rutledge are mentioned for the post. The salary is $1300, a free parsonage and a number of fat fees.

The Osler syndicate's offer to the city was the topic of conversation all day at the City Hall. Beyond a statement that it is full of big possibilities for the city, the Mayor and aldermen refused to say much about it. The scheme will get full ventilation on Thursday before the Finance Committee.

The many friends of Rev. Mr. Vanwyck will be pleased to hear that his condition was brighter to-night and his physicians say that he is more than holding his own.

At the drill of the church boys' brigade at Christ Church Cathedral to-night, the boys wore their new gingerades, which looked particularly smart with their badges of red, white and blue.

RETAIL MILK DEALERS

Are Not Satisfied With the Action of the Milk Producers' Association.

And now the retail milk dealers of the city have their troubles. Last night a number of the largest dealers met at Mr. John Ward's, Halton-street, for the purpose of discussing the decision arrived at by the producers to charge 11½ cents per gallon for milk. This does not appear to be altogether satisfactory to the dealers, many of them claiming that milk varies very much in quality and should be charged for accordingly. Several of the dealers are in favor of combining not to buy milk from a producer who does not furnish a certificate from a competent veterinary surgeon that an inspection of his cattle has been made, and that there be contracts regarding the feeding of the cattle and the care of the milk.

It was decided last night to call a mass meeting of all the dealers in the city, to be held in the Auditorium on Thursday evening, to discuss all matters in connection with the trade.

Horseshoers' Union.

A meeting of the Journeymen Horseshoers' Union No. 49 of Toronto, was held in Temperance Hall and the activity displayed by the members speaks well for the welfare of the horseshoers of Toronto. They now have in the neighborhood of 50 charter members and expect to have every journeyman in the city within the next month. They will hold an open meeting in Temperance Hall on Monday next and will have a number of prominent labor men present to expouse their cause. They are proud of their new charter and they will not leave a stone unturned to make their union a grand success.

MR. BERNIER ON THE ADDRESS

A Right Hot Speech on the School Question.

LENGTHY, CAREFUL REVIEW

From the Standpoint of a Sympathizer With the Minority.

The Hon. Gentleman Maintained That the Judgment of the Privy Council Admitted of No Compromise—In View of the Judgment the Schools of the Minority Should be Restored—The Attitude of the Present Government Claimed to be a Flagrant Disregard of the Principle of Constitutional Government.

Ottawa, April 5.—(Special.)—In the Senate to-day Mr. Bernier continued the debate on the address. He spoke for over two hours and devoted most of the time to an exhaustive and careful review of the school question from the standpoint of a representative of the Catholic minority in Manitoba. From the constitutional standpoint he maintained that the judgment of the Privy Council admitted of no compromise. He quoted from the judgment to show that the privileges of which the minority had been deprived were clearly stated, that it was declared that a wrong had been suffered by the minority, and that power was vested in the Governor-General-in-Council to hear an appeal and remedy that wrong. It was an admitted principle in constitutional law that where a wrong existed and the remedy was vested in a duly constituted power to remedy it, there was a corresponding duty on that power to exercise the remedy to the fullest extent. The full measure of the judgment ordered that the denominational schools of the minority should be restored. So long as that judgment remained unsatisfied, the minority were suffering an injustice. The terms of the judgment, he admitted, did not order the restoration of the legislation repealed by the Schools Acts of 1890, but did order the re-establishment of denominational schools. The judgment, in the exact words of the memorial presented by the minority, stated that the remedy could be applied by so amending local acts as to restore the rights and privileges taken away. That was what the minority asked for, and that was what the remedial order passed by the Governor-General-in-Council proposed to do. The attitude of the present Government was a most flagrant disregard of the principles of constitutional government. The minority had not abated one iota of its just claims, and coupled the same dignified position it had always done. In the so-called settlement it had not even been consulted; nay, more, it had been insulted at its very door by a Minister of the Crown. The sweet, flattering tones of the Premier could never atone for that insult. The present Government was acting in quite an unconstitutional a manner as the Manitoba Government had acted in passing the Acts of 1890. The Manitoba Government had treated the minority in a cruel manner in enacting legislation without any regard to the feelings or rights of the minority. It had broken its pledges, given on public platforms during local elections, that the schools of the minority would not be disturbed. In view of these facts he could not agree with Sir Oliver Mowat, that the Manitoba Government was acting in good faith in passing the Acts of 1890. The action of the present Government showed that it was animated by the spirit of unfairness. The settlement was based, not on constitutional rights, but on political exigencies. Even the reference in the speech from the throne implied that the settlement was not a full measure of the rights of the minority, but the minority was told that the Local Government would restore a fuller measure of rights in a generous carrying out of the terms of settlement. The minority, he said, was not disposed to place much faith in the generosity of a Government which despoiled it of its legal rights, especially in view of the statement of Attorney-General Cameron, made in the debate on the second reading of the bill founded on the settlement in the Local Legislature the other day, that the settlement represented the last concession Manitoba would be asked to make.

Senator Dever spoke briefly, and then Senator Scott moved the adjournment of the debate.

The Sarah Mineral Claim.

Messrs. James N. and A. E. Morden, practical miners of Vernon, British Columbia, were in Toronto yesterday, and showed The World several specimens of free milling auriferous quartz taken from the surface of a claim situate four and a half miles southwest of Vernon, on the shore of Okanagan Lake. The new claim on which this discovery was made is called Sarah, and will be associated with the Morning Glory Mining Company, of which Mr. John Thompson of 870 Queen-street west is the Toronto representative. The addition of Sarah makes five valuable claims owned by this company. This Sarah claim is on the same range with the Blue Jay and the Falcon, and the specimens shown The World prove it to be, indeed, a rich one. Messrs. Morden, who have been several years in the British Columbia mining districts, are natives of Rednersville, Prince Edward County, Ont.
