McPHAIL-ERRETT

A Pretty October Wedding Takes Place at Maple Grove Farm.

Melbourne, Oct. 30.—A very pretty October wedding took place at high noon, on Wednesday, the 28th inst., at "Maple Grove Farm," the residence of Mr. John Errett, when his only daughter, Evelyn Gertrude, was united in marriage to Mr. Alex McPhail, of Alvinston. The interesting ceremony was performed by Elder Curry, of New York, in the presence of about 40 guests.

The bride looked very charming in her traveling dress of pale gray cloth, with white silk blouse trimmed with applique, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Little Ada Carruthers, as flower girl, was also daintily pretty in white silk with trimmings of applique, and carried a bouquet of red carnations.

After the usual congratulations, the company sat down to a delicious breakfast, after which the young couple left on the afternoon train for Detroit and other points. The many beautiful presents testified to the popularity of the bride. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold watch and chain and to the maid of honor a pearl sunburst.

After a short honeymoon, the young couple will reside at Aberfeldy, Ont., where they will be followed by the good wishes of their many friends.

THE C. P. R. TO RETRENCH

Big Road May Lay Off a Large Number of Men.

Montreal, Oct. 30.—A high official of the Canadian Pacific announces that the company is about to inaugurate an important and extensive movement in the direction of retrenchment in operation expenses which will result in the laying off of a large number of men in the various branches of the company's service. It was pointed out by this official that the operating expenses for September, amounting to $2,734,735, were so heavy that there was a decrease in net earnings compared with September last year, amounting to $208,488.

It is usual at this time of the year for the management to issue a circular ordering a reduction in the working staffs owing to the falling off in the traffic usual in the fall, but this circular has not yet been issued. When it is sent out it will order much more extensive reductions than usual.

It it pointed out that the leading railways in the United States have for some time been carrying out a similar policy, and it is claimed that conditions which necessitate such policy there will in all probability hold good in Canada before long.

Regarding Shoe Horns.

There are shoe horns to be bad for nothing, these being given to the purchasers of shoes; and then there are shoe horns that cost $100 apiece or more. The shoe horn is made in these days in very great variety and of many materials, including celluloid, steel, fine woods, silver, tortoise shell, ivory and gold.

Celluloid shoe horns are made in different sizes and in all colors. They cost as low as 10 cents.

It is the steel shoe horn in its simplest form that is given away to the purchaser of shoes, and then there are finer horns of steel, nickel-plated and handsomely finished, that sell for 50 cents, 75 cents, or it might be $1. Some of these have a buttonhook at the end of the handle.

Shoe horns in fine woods are made of ebony and of snakewood. Either can be bought for 75 cents.

Ivory shoe horns come in probably fifty or more varieties. There are some a foot in length, which might prove very convenient for a man of generous girth, who didn't want to bend too low. There are horns of stained ivory, horns with carved handles, and horns perfectly plain and simple in design. You can buy one for as little as $3, or from that up to $14.

There are tortoise shell shoe horns that sell for more than the finest one of ivory. One of amber would cost $25.

There are silver shoe horns in a score of patterns as to the handles, and in a still greater number of varieties, counting styles of finish. Thus there is a silver shoe horn with a Louis XVI. handle, and one with a handle in marquise style; another with a handle in renaissance, one with a George III. handle, and so on; and in these silver shoe horns new styles are added from time to time in an endeavor for further variety and fresher novelty. Silver shoe horns are sold at all sorts of prices, ranging from $4 50 to $22.

Then there are gold shoe horns that may cost $100 or more, one of good size, but perfectly plain and simple in design and finish, of bright yellow gold with a polished finish, selling for $105.

The Dangers of Irony.

Justin McCarthy says that Thackeray often created quite erroneous impressions of himself by indulging in irony in the presence of people who were incapable of understanding it. One curious instance which he gives is this: Thackeray had been dining at the Garrick, and was talking in the smoking-room after dinner with various club acquaintances. One of them happening to have left his cigar case at home, Thackeray, though disliking the man, who was a notorious tuft-hunter, good-naturedly offered him one of his cigars. The man accepted the cigar, but, not finding it to his liking, had the bad taste to say to Thackeray, "I say, Thackeray, you won't mind my saying I don't think much of this cigar?" Thackeray, no doubt irritated at the man's ungraciousness, and bearing in mind his tuft-hunting predilections, quietly responded, "You ought to, my good fellow, for it was given me by a lord." Instead, however, of detecting the irony, the dolt immediately attributed the remark to snobbishness on Thackeray's part, and to the end of his days declaring that Thackeray had boasted that he had been given a cigar by a lord! —The Argonaut.

Lord Anglesey is credited with being the pioneer of the idea of a scented motor car. Thus when he goes abroad on his car, instead of the fumes of basoline or some other noxious odor being left in his train, there is a fragrance of eau de cologne.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Clayton McKenzie Legge appeared at the Grand last night in his own romantic drama, "Robert Burns," which deals with certain incidents in the checkered career of the Scottish bard, and more especially with Jean Armour, and the poet's love for her and other lassies. The dramatist has taken some fearful liberties with Burns' history, but in the main he has succeeded in putting together a story which is very interesting. Mr. Legge appeared as Robert Burns, and did not look unlike the accepted portraits of him. However, Mr. Legge is a clever and accomplished actor and he took the part well.

A dainty, winsome, little blonde, Miss Percita West, was the immortal Highland Mary Campbell, and her work last night warrants the belief that she is cut out for better company before many years. The other members of the company appeared to good advantage. The scenery was excellent.

Mrs. Fiske, who has been appearing in "Mary of Magdala," this week, in Toronto, and who comes to the Grand Saturday night, is meeting with unprecedented patronage in the Queen City. Toronto papers describe the scenery and stage effects as magnificent, and the whole production one of the best that city has as yet been favored with. Mrs. Fiske should be greeted by a large house Saturday night.

MRS. FISKE.

"Mary of Magdala," in which Mrs. Fiske will be seen at the Grand Opera House tomorrow night, is a play of Jerusalem during Roman occupation. In the production of this drama infinite study on the part of contributing artists has been necessary, and the production is the most authentic, as well as the most impressive, that the stage has ever seen relating to the people with whom it deals and its period. One of its scenes is Roman, representing the palace of a wealthy consul, and this, of course, offered fewer difficulties than the other scenes that are more typical of Jerusalem and the Jews. This Roman scene, however, is a triumph of stage art. It is furnished and dressed with every care to archeological detail.

"THE PRIDE OF JENNICO."

"The Pride of Jennico" will be the attraction at the Grand next Tuesday night. It was founded upon the novel of the same name by Agnes and Egerton Castle, two English writers of repute, and the work of building the play was done by Abby Sage Richardson and Grace L. Furniss, who have collaborated successfully in several other instances, "The Pride of Jennico" being their greatest success.

A GOOD COMPANY FOR FOUR NIGHTS.

The attraction at the London Opera House for four nights, commencing Monday, will be the well-known Harry Lindley Company, in repertoire and vaudeville. The plays to be presented are "David Harum," "My Uncle from Japan," "Why Women Sin," and "The Man of Mystery." Ladies will be admitted free for the opening night if accompanied by the holder of a best-seat ticket.

HOLLAND AND PREFERENCE

Manchester Free Traders at the Commercial Congress.

London, Oct. 30. — Sir William Holland, M. P., speaking at a meeting of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, pointed out that the Manchester free traders in the Commercial Congress in Canada were not likely to find themselves in a majority. The Canadian delegates could hardly be expected to object to having a substantial preference given their wares in the British market if a preference was offered. If they had chosen to bring forward a resolution stipulating for such treatment they could easily have carried it. If the Manchester delegates had proposed the resolution of the Manchester Chamber they would have been hopelessly beaten. They, therefore, tried to get the sense of the resolution embodied in the words of the resolution carried by the congress. They succeeded, which, he thought, secured that the industry of their district should be safeguarded in regard to the taxation of its raw material. Sir William declared he had returned from Canada with the clear conviction in his mind that no preference was desired by Canadians if it could be shown that the giving of a preference would in any degree injure the mother country. It was clear that Canadian manufacturers meant to protect their own market for the home producer. The preferences already given were chiefly valuable as a proof of Canadian goodwill towards the mother country, and on that ground they are to be neither underrated or despised.

CATARRHAL POISONS AND THEIR REMEDY.—The poisonous secretions from catarrh are dangerous because they affect the stomach and bowels, giving rise to an unhealthy condition of these organs. Catarrh is the source of much ill-health, and was considered practically incurable until it was demonstrated to the satisfaction of the medical profession that by the use of Catarrhozone any case of nasal or throat trouble can be permanently and quickly cured. Catarrhozone, by its unusual merit, has enlisted the support and indorsement of the more prominent medical authorities, who freely state that anyone giving it a trial is sure to receive permanent benefit. Sold for $1. Small size, 25c. At druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

The House of Peers consisted, at the end of last year, of 504 princes of the blood and hereditary peers of England, Great Britain and the United Kingdom.

THEY ARE NOT VIOLENT IN ACTION.—Some persons, when they wish to cleanse the stomach, resort to Epsom and other purgative salts. These are speedy in their action, but serve no permanent good. Their use produces incipient chills, and if persisted in they injure the stomach. Nor do they act upon the intestines in a beneficial way. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills answer all purposes in this respect, and have no superior.

An invention for manufacturing gas out of chalk has been tried in Sussex with, it is said, surprising success. To every 100 tons of chalk will be mixed about 10 tons of coke or coke breeze, and from this it is claimed 10,500,000 cubic feet of gas will be obtained.

Useful Advice to Mothers.

Cultivate a fuller acquaintance with Polson's Nerviline, which cures most of the troubles common to children. For sore throat rub Nerviline over the chest and throat. To break up a cold administer ten drops in hot water at bedtime. For indigestion, cramps, stomach ache, biliousness, there is no remedy so prompt as Nerviline, which is as good as the doctor for ordinary ills. Children like Polson's Nerviline because it makes a pleasant, invigorating drink in sweetened water. Older folks like it because it is an old, reliable, honest remedy for all pain, internal and external. Sold everywhere in large 25c bottles. Try Nerviline yourself.
