INDIANS DROP PAIR TO WILD BILL'S YANKS

Large Crowd Sees Cleveland Beaten on Sunday.

ERRORS HELP NEW YORK

Fohl's Lads Throw Away the Second — Senators Rally and Beat White Sox.

CLEVELAND, July 15.—In the presence of the largest crowd that has ever attended a game at League Park, New York took both ends of a double header, 4 to 0 and 8 to 2. Cleveland was unable to hit Fisher in the first game while errors let New York score six of its eight runs in the second.

TIGERS COME THROUGH WITH WIN ON SUNDAY

DETROIT, July 15.—Philadelphia's defense went to pieces in the eighth inning and Detroit, scoring four runs, won today's game, 7 to 2. Dauss and Myers were hit hard, but the Detroit twirler was more effective with men on bases. Bush was the batting star of the game. Score— R. H. E.

EDDIE FOSTER AND JOHNSON BEAT SOX

CHICAGO, July 15.—Eddie Foster's triple in the ninth inning when Washington had started a rally drove in two runs and gave the visitors the first game of the series here today, 6 to 5. Johnson's good judgment in passing Eddie Collins with the tying run on third and the winning run on second in the ninth probably saved the game for Washington. Score— R. H. E.

Hoblitzell and Hardner singled and Lewis, who replaced Shorten in the seventh, tripled, scoring two runs. Rogers' wildness lost the second game for St. Louis. Scores—

DONOVAN CAN STAY LONG AS HE LIKES, SAYS YANKS' OWNER

CHICAGO, July 15. — Rumors that "Wild Bill" Donovan will be let out of the managership of the New York Yankees this year, were spiked yesterday by Col. Jacob Ruppert, president of the club. He declared: "Donovan will manage the team next year and as many years after as he wants to."

WHO IS WELTERWEIGHT CHAMPION OF WORLD?

NEW YORK, July 15.—When Ted Lewis recently was awarded a referee's decision over Jack Britton, Ted immediately claimed the welterweight championship of the world. But it seems that Ted is not to have undisputed claim to the title. It will be recalled that Willie Lewis, chief advisor of Frank Moran, has taken Albert Badoud under his wing, and now Willie rises to ask the question how Ted Lewis can be welterweight champion of the world when Albert Badoud is the welterweight champion of Europe?

Willie Lewis is ready to concede that Ted Kid is the champion of this country, but he will not concede that Ted Kid is the world's champion. He insists that Ted Kid will first have to strip Badoud of his European title before he (Ted Kid) can claim the undisputed world's championship.

ANOTHER FOR SAM.

Panama, July 15.—Sam McVey, the negro heavyweight pugilist, knocked out Jeff Clarke of Philadelphia in the fifteenth round of a twenty-round match here yesterday.

QUAKER OATS FOR THE BACKUS FOUR

Good Scotch Breakfast for Thistle Club Winners of Saturday.

The rink skipped by Grant Backus won the "bacon," which in this case happened to be case of Quaker Oats, donated by Stanley Pollard, at the Thistle Club tourney Saturday afternoon. Grant is usually up there fighting at any old time, but especially if there is anything in the eating line. Quaker Oats will appear for steen months on the tables of F. E. Margrett, S. Pollard (who donated the breakfast food), G. H. English, and the aforementioned Mr. Backus.

A large number of entries have been received for the beautiful P. C. Powell oil paintings tournament, and in order to make it possible for every member to participate in this event, which has already awakened so much interest, the games committee decided that the games for this tournament may be played on any evening that may be mutually agreed upon between the skips drawn against each other, so long as at least one game be played each week. The draw will be held open till Tuesday evening next; July 17, and the rinks will be announced in Wednesday's papers.

MAYBE BAN WILL LEARN WOES OF THE UMPIRE

Ban Johnson may have a different opinion of umpiring after July 21. He has been selected as one of the arbitrators for the game that old-time Chicago players will put on on that date for the benefit of the Red Cross. Think of what might happen if Johnson should call Charley Comiskey out on a close decision, or rule that the third one was over on "Cap" Anson.

TINKER HAS KICK COMING.

The call of the Chicago Cubs for return of Catcher Dilhoefer and Pitcher Carter caused Joe Tinker to raise a howl. The Cubs agreed to send Blackburn to Columbus to replace Dilhoefer, but had nothing good to offer in exchange for Carter. Blackburn had been promised to Vernon of the Coast League, but that deal was called off.

FREAKIEST OF FREAK HOMERS

ROCKFORD, Ill., July 14.—Outfielder McCabe made what was probably the "freakiest" home run in Three-I League history in the recent series with Hannibal here. When McCabe hit the ball Outfielder Lorance of Hannibal dashed to the left field fence in an effort to get it. Lorance thrust his hands against the fence to save himself from injury and the little finger of his ungloved hand became caught between two boards.

He pulled frantically to free himself, while McCabe was tearing around the bases. Manager Castle rushed over from centre to aid Lorance, but when the finger was out of the trap McCabe had scored.

OKE WINS PRIZES AT LONDON ROWING

Skips Rink That Runs Up 3 Plus 12 Score Saturday.

T. Oke was the only skip lucky enough to send his men through for more than two wins at the London Rowing Club Saturday afternoon, and, in consequence, grabbed off the prizes. Twelve rinks took part in the play, which was close all the way through.

Jack Barry, Red Sox manager, has been "beaned" 23 times and is still taking chances?

There are more than 10,000,000 shotguns in use in the United States and Canada?

Seventy million dollars is invested in trapshooting in America.

Bernie Boland, Detroit pitcher, has set back the New York Yankees eight times in a row?

It costs more to stage the grand American trapshooting tournament than it does the world's baseball series?

FRANCIS OUIMET AGAIN CHAMPION

CHICAGO, July 15.—Francis Ouimet of Boston, former national amateur and open golf champion, Saturday won the western amateur championship by defeating Kenneth P. Edwards of Chicago one up in 36 holes at Midlothian, after two rather poor rounds, in which erratic golf was interspersed with brilliant plays and thrilling approaches alternated with miserable putts. Both players shared in the changeable golf and their medal scores were:

Ouimet ..... 37 41 39 40—157
Edwards ..... 41 38 39 39—157

Ouimet's appearance as an amateur is the only national amateur championship of the year, by invitation of the Western Golf Association, has met with approval among western followers of the game. With John G. Anderson of New York, Jesse Guilford, Massachusetts champion, Jack May, Argentina champion, and four former western champions entered, the field was all but equal to most of the past national amateur tournaments. In the championship matches all the play has been close to par 72 for the 6,583-yard course. Edwards had shot better golf during the week than Ouimet, but yesterday he appeared to be over-golfed and could not sink fairly simple putts. Ouimet was wild with his wooden clubs, putting to the rough frequently. Once the Boston man went into a creek in trying to hook around a clump of trees from a hooked drive. He halved that hole, however, as Edwards refused to take it, preferring three putts. This inclination to a multiplicity of putts caused Edwards to take 22 on the first nine holes, although his long game called for not more than fifteen. With proper putting the Chicagoan could have served a 34 and been two or three up, instead of four down, at the end of the first quarter.

Ouimet had more distance than the runner-up, but his wildness caused him to be on the defensive at many holes. Edwards was straight down the course nearly all the time, but he faltered fatally once, hooking his approach so close to a hedge on the 33rd hole that he had to shoot back towards the gallery to get out, losing the hole six and five, after Ouimet had tasted the rough himself.

Ouimet was over par on ten holes and had only one birdie, while Edwards was over par on twelve holes, with three birdies.

WOODSTOCK NINE EASY FOR LABELS

London Semi-Pros Romp Away From Visitors 16 to 1.

London ball fans who drifted over to Tecumseh Park Saturday afternoon wondered through nine agonizing innings as to who put the "wood" in Woodstock. It was there all right, as the score of 16 to 1 chalked up against the Woodstock nine by the Blue Labels will indicate.

Woodstock might just as well have journeyed here with a pitcher, catcher, a first and second baseman, with three or four youngsters in the outfield to chase fly balls. The pitcher had eleven assists, while the long, lean gentleman on first was credited with nineteen putouts. Stormoski, the visiting shortstop, bobbled his one and only chance, and stood a blot upon the landscape for the rest of the pastime. About all the other players did was take their turn at bat, with the accent at the turn. When the game finally ended at 6:07 o'clock, there was but a mere handful of snoozing fans in the stand. Eats were more interesting than the ball game.

However, we are through with wielding the hammer, and will give an account of how the slaughter took place. The locals started out in the first inning to show the visitors up. (P.S.—They waited a full hour after 3:30 o'clock to do this. Curses on the muddy roads between London and Woodstock, which were responsible for the delay). They were showed up to the extent of five runs, and the whole London nine had a chance to look over the plants of Pitcher Vance, who by the way, is a nice pitcher, and will, a fast fielding nine behind him like the St. Thomas club, would have kept the locals jumping to win.

London grabbed another in the second, and two more in the third. Jack Danford, who caught behind the bat for Doc Reisling's London Canadian Leaguers, played first base for the Cigarmakers, and showed lots of pep. He whaled out a three-bagger in the third inning, and incidentally knocked the Woodstock first baseman half the way into right field when he stood on the line.

Woodstock's one and only tally came in the fifth, when Stormoski surprised himself by popping a fly over short. He was sacrificed round to third, and came home on Giles' hit. London got three more in the sixth, when Fotheringham, Dinsmore and Bullock all crossed the pan; while in the eighth the locals had another swatfest, grabbing five more runs. The visitors went out in easy fashion in the ninth. Everybody yawned and was glad the game was over.

The box score speaks for itself.

RICKENBACHER IS PERSHING'S DRIVER

OMAHA, July 14.—The controversy over the whereabouts of Eddie Rickenbacher, the Omaha boy who in the last two or three years has taken many big prizes in automobile races, has been settled by a letter just received from him by Harry J. Van Hoven, his former manager.

It has been said Rickenbacher was driving Gen. Pershing's automobile in France, but this was afterward denied, and the assertion was made that he was teaching aviation at Mineola, L. I. The letter to Van Hoven was written at the Tower of London, which proved that Rickenbacher is with Pershing.

OLD ROSEBUD LEADS FIELD IN FRONTIER

Six-Year-Old Son of Uncle Ivory Bells Captures Classic Handicap at Windsor.

WINDSOR, July 16.—Amid thunderous applause from the throats of 12,000 or more rabid followers of the thoroughbred turf, the tumult fairly shaking the sturdy stand at the Windsor Jockey Club to its foundation, Old Rosebud, running in the colors of H. C. Applegate, won the Frontier handicap Saturday afternoon.

Back of Old Rosebud a length and a half came Boots, who in turn held Hodge safe by a substantial margin. Grump, the other candidate to finish in the money, saw Hodge's heels five lengths back.

Rain that fell just before noon-time and gave an encore several minutes prior to the scheduled time to start the handicap, caused the cancellation of all but eight of the thirteen that had accepted the weight imposts. Bad behavior of the elements couldn't control the ardor of the public, however, and as early as 11 o'clock in the morning the ferries were loaded to the guard rails bound for this side of the river.

Was Grand Struggle.

And they saw a race that will long be remembered as the classic of all turf events in the Dominion of Canada. There was enough impetus for all involved to bring about an event that can be spoken of with the most gratifying struggle between thoroughbreds in the memory of the oldest critic, too.

There was a fortune for winner, $10,000 net going to the fortunate owner, and under the circumstances it rivaled anything in value, interest and the class of horses involved that ever has been conducted for the edification and amusement of students of the sport in this section of the country.

To Jockey George Molesworth, who, while riding for Johnny Ferris at Devonshire and Kenilworth, never was rated better than a fair boy, in a large measure is Old Rosebud's victory. Except for a few moments at the outset, when Waterbass threatened to spring a sensation, the winner was a front runner strictly, and might have won, had he been set down hard, by a much larger margin.

Loftus Gets In Pocket.

Nothing about the ride Loftus gave Boots, the favorite, could compliment him, though, perhaps, Loftus was permitted to get into a pocket almost as soon as the barrier went up, and much of his strength was used up in the effort to become extricated.

Another disappointment was the performance of Bromo, Harry Payne Whitney's eleventh-hour choice to represent his stable in the Frontier, vice Borrow. Knickerbocker and Belfinger, seeing something in the easterner's confidence in Bromo, the public gave him a strong play. But Bromo never assumed a position better than fifth, and when the parade passed, Frankie Robinson's mount was barely able to beat Waterbass, who, after making the early pace, melted like butter in a hot oven.

Boots was the mutuel choice, when they pranced up to the barrier, with the ultimate winner ruling second in the affections of the public, and Bromo next in esteem. After Rancher was withdrawn by George M. Hendrie, the Canadian speculators divided their attention on the three liked candidates. Kentuckians never lost confidence in Old Rosebud, however, and 90 per cent of the cash wagered on his chances was sent into the machines by the contingent from the Blue Grass state.

All Those Long Shots.

This was a race where class told, and Old Rosebud, thought to be through forever last year, again demonstrated his right to be listed with the premier racing machines of all time.

In all due respect to the winner's performance, there was a feeling that a different result might have transpired had Loftus not mussed things up with Boots at the start. Despite the fact that the Suburban handicap winner got a lot out of him by unnecessary hard work in the early stages of the journey, due to the pocket he was lodged in, he came like a shot down the front stretch, and compelled Molesworth to ride Old Rosebud hard to stall off the challenge, although there always appeared to be something left in the leader.
