A Woman of Action.

BY REV. EZRA HURLBURT STAFFORD, M. D.

Visitors to the World's Fair will remember the "Irish Industries Association" which had its headquarters at Blarney Castle in the Midway Plaisance. This is a national movement, while the "Onward and Upward" is wholly charitable.

Nor are these enterprises carried on by agents. Lady Aberdeen was present in person at the Columbian Exposition, and superintended to some extent the construction of the Irish Village. At the inauguration of that great pageant, President Cleveland lingered for a few moments in conversation with the Countess, who gave him a handkerchief of real Irish lace as a gift for Mrs Cleveland.

Again, there is the "Woman's Liberal Federationen," with nearly a quarter of a million members. The object of this is wholly political, not to tell women how to vote, but to teach them to take an intelligent interest in the political questions of the day.

Though Lady Aberdeen has only been in Canada a short time she has already organized a "National Council of Women," whose object is religious and industrial, and which already has a very large membership.

Besides these she has inaugurated many movements which have been a boon to particular classes of the community. Who but such a woman, for example, in crossing the continent upon the train would think a second time of the dreary life which must be led by the lonely settlers on the far plains of the west. She, however, did not rest until she had instituted a medium for the circulation of reading matter among the settlers. To the lot of the household servant also she has given careful attention.

The fearlessness of this gifted and unselfish woman shows what a woman can do if she will; shows that no hard-and-fast line can separate a woman's field of usefulness from that of a man. There are a few words that have for centuries been a menace to honest and sincere effort. Such a word is Utopian. Railroads and telegraphs and balloons were Utopian until they succeeded. A woman's place in the forefront of national activity was something Utopian, too, until women came forward who could do as good work as men—and did it.

In the meantime, let women learn calmly to look upon the world as their province, and not upon a mere section of it—the home alone.

The participation of women in the greater questions of life and civilization and religion will not lead to confusion, but, on the contrary, to a greater dignity of state and to a more profound stability of religion.—Toronto, Can.

The Delineator for August is called the "Summer Holiday Number," and in every respect is a worthy representative of this popular magazine. Summery fashions are pleasing to the eye and will be found very satisfactory by those who have delayed the completion of their warm-weather wardrobes. The papers on Knitting, Netting, Tatting, Crocheting, and Fancy-Work generally, have also special interest this month. There is in addition a suggestive and useful article on Dressing for Stout Ladies. Of the serial subjects, Edith Child, Bryn Mawr, '89, contributes a very interesting paper on A Girl's Life and Work at the University of Bryn Mawr, and F. E. Parrish, a practical article on Typewriting and Stenography as an Employment for Women. The contributions on Venetian Iron-Work and Crepe and Tissue Papers provide further instruction in these fascinating and profitable home-occupations, and Eleanor Georgen's article on the Cultivation of the Voice will be found valuable both by teachers of elocution and singing and their pupils. The housekeeper will be pleased with the suggestions contained in A Few Useful Pockets and Hints on Serving Fruits, and the mother will find much sensible advice in the chapters on Mother and Daughter and How to Live Wisely. A Midsummer Night's Dream and a Mutual Improvement Club offer suggestions for Summer entertaining. The subscription price of The Delineator is $1.00 a year. Single Copies, 15 cents. Address orders to The Delineator Publishing Co. (Ltd), 33 Richmond Street West, Toronto, Ont.

Miss Ann Teak—Why don't you come to our Woman's Emancipation meetings any more? Come to-night. Miss Oldgurl is going to read a lovely paper on "The Tyranny of Men."

Mrs Henry Peck—Yes; and give my husband a chance to slip off to the smoking concert his club holds this evening. Not much!

The dude was making the girl dead tired by his long and rapid talk on the advancement of women.

Don't you wish you were a man? he asked as a kind of clincher.

No, she responded in the sweetest, most womanly way; do you?

A WOMAN'S SUFFERINGS.

How a Haldimand County Lady Regained Health.

She Suffered Excruciating Pains from Sciatica—For Four Months was Forced to Use Crutches—Relief was Obtained After Many Remedies Failed.

From the Selkirk Item.

There have been rumors of late in Selkirk of what was termed a miraculous cure from a long illness of a lady living in Rainham township, a few miles from town. So much talk did the case give rise to that the Item determined to investigate the matter with a view to publishing the facts.

Mrs Jacob Fry is the wife of a well-known farmer and it was she who was said to have been so wonderfully helped. When the reporter called upon her, Mrs Fry consented to give the facts of the case and said—"I was ill for nearly a year and for four months could not move my limb because of sciatica, and was compelled to use crutches to get around. My limb would swell up and I suffered excruciating pains which would run down from the hip to the knee. I suffered so much that my health was generally generally bad. I tried doctors and patent medicines, but got no help until I began the use of Dr Williams' Pink Pills. Almost from the outset these helped me and I used six boxes in all, and since that time have been a well woman, having been entirely free from pain, and having no further use for medicine. I am prepared to tell anybody and everybody what this wonderful medicine has done for me, for I feel very grateful for the great good Pink Pills wrought in my case."

The reporter called on a number of Mrs Fry's neighbor's who corroborated what she said as to her painful and helpless condition before she began the use of Dr Williams' Pink Pills.

Mr M. F. Derby, chemist, of the firm of Derby & Derby, Selkirk, was also seen. Mr Derby said he knew of the case of Mrs Fry, and that what she said regarding it was worthy of every credence. She had herself told him of the great benefit she had derived from the use of Pink Pills. He further said that they had sold Pink Pills for a number of years and found the sale constantly increasing which was due beyond a doubt to the great satisfaction the pills gave those using them.

An analysis of their properties show that these pills are an unfailing specific for all troubles arising from an impairment of the nervous system or impoverished blood, such as loss of appetite, depression of spirits, anæmia, chlorosis or green sickness, general muscular weakness, dizziness, loss of memory, locomoter ataxia, paralysis, sciatica, rheumatism, St. Vitus' dance, the after effects of la grippe, scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, correcting irregularities, suppressions and all forms of female weakness, building anew the blood and restoring the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In the case of men they effect a radical cure in all diseases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of any nature. These pills are not a purgative medicine. They contain only life-giving properties and nothing that could injure the most delicate system.

Dr Williams' Pink Pills are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper printed in red ink. Bear in mind that Dr Williams' Pink Pills are never sold in any other style of package, and any dealer who offers substitutes is trying to defraud you. Ask for Dr Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and refuse all imitations and substitutes.

Dr Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

He Wanted an Easier Way.

"One of the best salesmen we have on the road, if not the very best," said a well-known wholesale dealer, "came to us ten years ago from the backwoods and a greener fellow you never saw. I met him the first time he came into the store, and gave him his start. He told me about the kind of country he lived in and its remoteness, and said he wanted to sell from house to house, but he didn't want to be a common pedler.

"'We can't give you a salary,' said I, 'but we will allow you a commission of 25 per cent on all you sell for cash.'

"'I don't rightly understand this commission and per cent business,' said he scratching his head, 'seein' I ain't used to it; but I'll tell you what I'll do; you just agree to give me ten cents on every dollar's worth I sell and I'll undertake it; that's plain enough for anybody to understand.'

"I let him go at that," laughed the merchant in conclusion, "and made it up to him at the end of the year by putting him on the road with a good salary, and permission to tell the story every time we gave him a raise, and we gave him one yesterday, and I've told the story a good many times."

Incensed wife—It is impossible to live with him the way he goes on. Why, the other night he came home and smashed my piano. What do you think of that?

Polite lawyer—You will have to excuse me, madame, but it is impossible for me to give an opinion. You must remember that I have never heard you play.

He—You are the only woman I ever loved. She—Do you expect me to believe that? He—I do. I swear it is true. She—Then I believe you. Any man who would expect a woman to believe that cannot have been much in the company of women.

Minard's Liniment for Rheumatism.

Teacher—What is a right angle? Boy—Two straight lines around a corner.

Minard's Liniment is the best.

If there had been a dozen Adams instead of one, Eve wouldn't have flirted with the serpent.

Teacher (in mineralogy class)—Johnnie give me the name of the largest known diamond. Johnnie—The ace.

Garfield Tea cures sick-headache.

Sime—Your father was an old whaler, wasn't he, Jimmie? Jimmie—Yes; but near as I can remember ma did her share of it.

Minard's Liniment cures LaGrippe.

A man who is driving a horse-car in Brooklyn claims to have been a throat specialist in Vienna. He doesn't look as much down in the mouth as he used to.

Garfield Tea is sold by all druggists.

How shall I enter the money the cashier skipped with? asked the book-keeper; under the profit and loss? No, suppose you put it under running expenses.

Wonderful cures by Ayer's Sarsaparilla in every part of the land. Write for names.

Caller—This is a century plant, isn't it dear?

Miss Yellowleaf—Yes.

Caller—How very interesting. I suppose you've seen it bloom often.

Gentlemen who retain a youthful appearance preserve their hair with Ayer's Hair Vigor.

Customer—I've come in to get another bottle of your complexion bleach. Mme. Peachblow—Dear me, I wonder what I sold her last, the furniture polish or the cough drops I had on hand.

Hall's Hair Renewer cures dandruff and scalp affections; also all cases of baldness where the glands which feed the roots of the hair are not closed up.

Sunday Morning.—Wife—Come, John why don't you get up? Your breakfast was ready an hour ago, and its spoiled by this time. Husband—It is? Very well; then I don't want it. Call me in season for dinner.

If you do not know how good a remedy Garfield Tea really is for constipation and sick headache, send a postal card to D. Densmore & Co., 271 Queen Street, East, Toronto, for a free, trial package.

Mrs Houser—They almost invariably speak of church strawberry suppers as "socials," but never in that way of a church oyster supper. I wonder why. Houser—You can't expect one oyster to be social, can you?

As Old as Antiquity.

Either by acquired taint or heredity those old foes Scrofula and Consumption must be faced generation after generation; but you may meet them with the odds in your favor by the help of Scott's Emulsion.

The gentlemen that came to see papa said I was one of the most intelligent children they ever saw, said little Jack. Indeed, said the proud mother. Did you recite "Little Drops of Water" for them? No, I refused to.

A Terrible Case of Suffering.—The dreadful suffering of a man with Cholera Morbus was painfully illustrated in New York a few days ago, when an individual from the rural districts who had been filling himself with all sorts of good but undigestible things was struck down on Broadway, and had to be carried into a hotel, where two doctors worked him for an hour before he was out of danger. A teaspoonful or two of Perry Davis' PAIN-KILLER, and a flannel cloth saturated with the medicine and applied to his stomach, would have relieved him almost instantly. Get 25c. New Big Bottle.

Customer—Is this a hair tonic that you know well or——Clerk—Well, I should think so. It's been on the shelves here for the last ten years without ever being disturbed.

She—My three school girl cousins are coming to-morrow to stay a few days. He—My goodness, Maria, you'll have to order a lot more meat and things. She—No I won't. I've ordered a dozen bottles of pickles and half a ton of candy.

In The Train.—Beg you pardon, sir, but you seem to be staring at me in a strange fashion. Do you see anything about me that is familiar to you? Yes, sir; my umbrella.

Mr Howell (of the firm of Gettup & Howell)—Is there any good reason, Mr Addemup, why you should want to take the day off? Bookkeeper—Why, yes, sir; I think there is. My youngest boy fell and broke his leg this morning, the house next door was on fire when I left home, my daughter is to be married at noon, it's the Queen's birthday, and I'm sick.
