VARIOUS VIEWS.

East Middlesex Tories Differ in Their Opinions—Saturday's Meeting.

The meeting of East Middlesex Tories on Saturday, at the Masonic Temple, was a large one, the many aspirants for the nomination being present with a goodly following. The meeting's object was to take steps towards holding a convention and nominating a candidate. After J. S. Larke had made a short speech, two or three contradictory motions were put, some wanting the convention on Thursday, some believing Saturday should be the date, while others insisted that the nomination should be given to Mr. Joseph Marshall at once. The Saturday motion finally carried and conveners for the subdivisions were selected.

Richard Tooley, M.P.P., said he was going to support the choice of the convention. He was sorry to see a man who was a Conservative, and had helped him considerably in his former contests, coming out on the Independent ticket. If that gentleman, Mayor Taylor, had come before the convention and asked for its support Mr. Tooly would have supported him as he would any other nominee of the convention.

The following nominations were then made: T. D. Hodgens, J. H. Marshall, W. W. Fitzgerald, D. Macmillan, P. Elson, Thos. Robson, Thos. Duffin, James Grant, J. W. Ferguson, A. W. Brown, G. Pardee, T. Routledge, D. Baskerville, A. McMartin.

T. D. Hodgens declined with thanks.

Mr. Joseph H. Marshall defended his actions as the representative of the riding. He had been sent to support the Government and had done so—that was why he voted against Col. O'Brien's resolution on the Jesuit Bill. He was prepared to stand by his vote on that occasion. He had always been a friend of the farmer, he said, and if the convention again selected him he would continue to support the Tory party and its leader.

W. W. Fitzgerald said a great deal of pressure had been brought to bear on him to run against Mr. Marshall, but that he was willing to stand by the convention's choice.

Mr. D. Macmillan laid great stress on the necessity of shutting off the Independent candidate—George Taylor. He believed in voting as his conscience dictated, and not give a blind support as Mr. Marshall had done. If, however, they were satisfied with Mr. Marshall, they could say so, and the matter was in their hands. He hoped the Democratic party in the United States would secure a victory at the next Presidential election, and if they did the prospects for a treaty of reciprocity were very bright. He regretted that time was too short to admit of talking to all the electors of the riding. He never been called on to account for his vote that he had given while he was the member in times past, and if he was the choice again he would be a faithful representative of their riding. He had voted against the Irish sympathy resolution.

Peter Elson believed in supporting Sir John A. Macdonald. He had been urged by a number of friends to come before the convention, and placed himself in its hands.

Thomas Duffin declined to stand.

J. B. Fram energetically supported Mr. Marshall, and did not think Mr. Macmillan had dealt fairly with that gentleman.

J. W. Ferguson was willing to put his shoulder to the wheel and do anything to elect the Conservative candidate. He was not in the field.

D. Baskerville urged the meeting to pick on W. W. Fitzgerald as the candidate. The Orangemen should be recognized.

Samuel Pardee said all delegates should vote openly at the coming convention, and moved a resolution to that effect. The motion was lost.

Other nominees were called on, but were not present.

D. C. Macdonald said there was no time to lose and meetings should be held as quickly as possible.

FOUR FEET OF SNOW.

Bountiful Supply of the Beautiful in Michigan—A Montana Chinook.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 16.—J. W. Millen, of Black River, of the firm of Alger, Smith & Co., and superintendent of their lumbering operations, was at the Hotel Cadillac yesterday, having just arrived from Alger county. "We have four feet of snow up there," he said, "and the winter has been excellent all the way through for logging operations."

BOZEMAN, Mont., Feb. 16.—Friday night a chinook commenced to blow, and by Saturday morning nearly all the snow had disappeared. Saturday night at 10 o'clock it commenced snowing, has snowed incessantly for seventeen hours, and at this time, 5 o'clock, there is from 24 to 26 inches on the ground and still falling, with no wind. Thermometer above zero.

The Pace is Too Fast.

This is a question that from time to time is discussed in scientific journals, and when one sees the vast number of broken down, listless and prematurely old men found in every community, one is almost forced to admit that the race is deteriorating. The causes leading to this decline in manhood are various, and among them may be mentioned overwork, mental strain, loss of sleep, over indulgence of appetite, and excesses of various kinds, all leading to shattered nerves, loss of vital forces and premature decay, and often to insanity. To all thus suffering Dr. William's Pink Pills come as a boon. They build up shattered nerves, enrich the blood, stimulate the brain, and reinforce the exhausted system. All who are suffering from any of the causes that break down and enfeeble the system should use these pills, and will find them a sure and speedy restorative. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price—50 cents a box—by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

Miss Ellen Terry, the actress, is president of the Ladies' Cycling Club of London.

Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

THE CARRIAGE TRADE.

No Slaughtering in the Days of Low Taxation.

The Buggy Sales on the Market Came After the "N. P."

How Trade Restriction Has Kept Back Carriage Building in London.

To the Editor of the London Free Press:

I see by Saturday's issue of your paper that you have an article on the "Carriage Argument" where my name is freely used. You refer in doleful strains to the large consignments of buggies from the United States that flooded our market and were auctioned off at $65 each to the consternation and ruin of the carriage-makers of this city and country, but that as soon as the National Policy came into operation in 1879 a new era of prosperity commenced. You also state that Mr. Campbell was among those that denounced such sales and that the carriage-makers requested the City Council to levy a special tax on that class of commerce. Now, sir, I have heard all this wail before from the Tory heelers and have read the same repeatedly in the Free Press. That consignments of buggies have been sent from the United States to Canada we freely admit, and that some were even sold in the London market we do not deny; but, sir, not as you would have your readers believe in 1879 previous to the existence of the N. P., but in 1879 after the N. P. was enforced when the manufacturers were basking in its refulgent rays, and after the new era of prosperity had commenced that you refer to. It is true that Messrs. Emerson, Fisher & Co. of Cincinnati, immediately after the new tariff was enforced—believing that the price of buggies would increase in proportion—shipped a few carloads into Ontario, but soon found out that they were as cheap in this with them in the United States. The venture was not successful and not repeated. A shipment during the same year, 1879, was seized at Windsor for undervaluation, and I was sent along with another carriage-maker of this city there to raise the stock. We did so, and got our report five months after the National Policy became law. The correctness of this is easily ascertained by any doubting one. It is the custom and railroad authorities though I have lived in London 20 years I never knew or heard of American buggies being shipped here for sale until after the N. P. was enforced. Such being the case, the Free Press in its representations only demolishes the tottering fabric they are so zealous in supporting. Your statement that the carriage makers requested the Council to levy a special tax on that class of commerce is not correct. I never heard of such an absurd request ever mentioned, and I certainly would be being then a member of the City Council. I took a part in getting a free market and abolishing the tolls in the county, and regulating the stands for the hucksters, and opposed the use of our market for the exhibition of implements and other manufactured wares, so long as empty buildings heavily taxed could be rented for that purpose, and while the farmers required the room our market could afford. But special privileges were ever asked for by carriagemakers.

The Free Press could, if it would (though this would not suit its purpose at present) give an account of the scores of buggies sold by auction in the market every year since the National Policy has glutted the market. Yes, sir, and sold not for one each, what you say
