True Worth.

A keen observer has well remarked that "True worth is in being, not seeming." How often we find this fact illustrated in the shoe realm! The appearance of worth abounds in the shoe while the test of wear reveals its inferiority. If you feel that you are on the "outs," as it were, in getting your money's worth in footwear, why not try us for your next? Thirty-four years established. Most complete stock in town. Strictly cash to all. Your money back if you want it. Does this argument suit you?

The Murderer of Constable Toohey Still at Liberty—Officers Returning.

Up to the hour of going to press, the police here had heard nothing regarding the capture of the murderer of Police Constable Michael Toohey. Detective Nickle returned home yesterday morning, and last night Detective Egelton and P. C. Downs came home. Detective Nickle was detailed for duty on the frontier the greater part of the time, and was worn out by weary vigils of day and night. Egelton and Downs, as well as the six others from the city force, have slept but little since they joined in the chase. The idea of catching the murderer of a comrade was a sufficient stimulus, and all night and most of the day they have watched and searched eagerly, but the peg-legged tramp still enjoys freedom.

THE WINDSOR TRAMP RELEASED.

[G. N. W. Special to The Advertiser.]

Windsor, Ont., June 30.—The wooden-legged tramp arrested by the Windsor police on suspicion of being the murderer of Policeman Toohey, of London, was released this morning, as he did not answer the description. Tramps with wooden legs have been arrested by the police of all the little country places on both sides of the border, till one would imagine that three tramps out of four had lost a leg. It seems altogether probable that the same men have been arrested over and over again in every place they passed through.

A Much Needed Accessary to Springbank's Charms To Be Inaugurated Today.

That London's great river park is more popular this season than ever has already been proven beyond question, and though it was a foregone conclusion that this would be the case as soon as the public became more generally familiar with Springbank's charms, the fact is worthy of mention because it serves as a pretty sure indication of the immense crowd of visitors the will today attract. So far this season the beautiful resort has been lacking in one respect, which materially affected the convenience of pleasure-seekers there. On a crowded day particularly the refreshment pavilion has been much missed. However, despite this, the natural charms of the park have proved sufficient inducement to draw larger crowds than ever. Today the provisions for a delightful holiday are materially increased. The spacious pavilion has been completed. Under its roof cool refreshments in plenty will be served, and shelter and recreation afforded. Other pleasures have also been provided. The Seventh Battalion Band will give two open air concerts—afternoon and evening—and for the amusement of the children, cradle and high swings have been put up.

THE BOARD HAPPY

Over the Results of the Y. M. C. A. Canvass

Confident of Success—Subscribers Asked to Send in Their Cards.

The Y. M. C. A. board met last evening, and the members were exceedingly happy over the result of the canvass for funds to clear the association of the debt incurred by the new building. They were confident of success. They urge that the parties who have received cards return them as liberally filled as possible, as the payments of many of the subscriptions are scattered over three years, and an extra amount will be required for interest until the whole debt is liquidated.

The energy, zeal and self-sacrifice of the splendid corps of canvassers is worthy of all praise and could not fail in its object. The camp[illegible] lifted, the associa[illegible] much [illegible]

Shafter Waiting for More Troops—A Food and Powder Famine at Santiago—Official Report of the Battle of Siboney—Brave Men Mentioned for Honors.

Battle of Siboney—General Wheeler's Report.

Camp Juragua, Wednesday, June 29, via Kingston, June 30.—Gen. Wheeler's official report to Major-Gen. Shafter of what is now known as the battle of Siboney, is as follows: Sir,—I have the honor to report that in obedience to the instructions of the major-general commanding, given me in person on June 23, I proceeded to Siboney (Juraguasito). The enemy had evacuated the place at daylight that morning, taking a course towards Sevilla. A body of about 100 Cubans had followed and engaged the enemy's rear guard. About nine of them were wounded. I rode out to the front and found the enemy had halted and established themselves at a point about three miles from Siboney. At night the Cubans returned to the vicinity of the town. At 8 o'clock that evening, the 23rd, Gen. Young reached Siboney with eight companies of Col. Wood's regiment, 500 strong, troops A, B. C and K, of the First Cavalry, in all 244 men, and troops A. B. E. and I of the Tenth Cavalry, in all 220 men, making the total force 964 men, which included nearly all of my command, which had marched from Baiquiri, eleven miles.

With the assistance of Gen. Castillo, a rough map of the country was prepared, and the position of the enemy was fully explained, and I determined to make an attack at daylight on the 24th. Col. Wood's regiment was sent by Gen. Young, accompanied by two of his staff officers, Lieuts. Rivers and Smedburg, to approach the enemy on the regular Sevilla road. Gen. Young and myself examined the position of the enemy, the lines were deployed, and I directed him to open fire with the Hotchkiss guns. The enemy replied and the firing became general. Col. Wood had deployed his right, nearly reaching the left of the regulars.

For an hour the fight was very warm, the enemy being very lavish in expenditure of ammunition, most of their firing being by volleys. Finally the enemy gave way and retreated rapidly. We followed them over the line, keeping close upon them, but our men being physically exhausted by both their exhaustion and the great heat, were incapable of maintaining the pursuit.

I cannot speak too highly of the excellent conduct of the officers and men of my command. Gen. Young deserves special commendation for his cool, deliberate and skillful management.

I also specially noticed his acting adjutant-general, Lieut. Mills, who, under Gen. Young's direction, was at various part of the line, acting with energy and cool courage.

Col. Wood's regiment was on the extreme left of the line, and too far distant for me to be a personal witness of the individual conduct of the officers and men, but the magnificent bravery shown by the regiment under the lead of Col. Wood testifies to his courage and skill, and the energy and determination of his officers, which has been marked from the moment he reported to me at Tampa, Fla., and I have abundant evidence of his brave and good conduct on the field; and I recommend him for the consideration of the government. All I have said regarding Col. Wood applies to Col. Roosevelt as well. I was immediately with the troops of the First and Tenth regular cavalry, dismounted, and I personally noticed their brave and good conduct, which shall be specially mentioned by Col. Young.

I personally noticed the good conduct of Capt. W. H. Beck, Robert P. Wainwright and Jacob G. Galbraith, Major James M. Bell, Capt. Thomas Know and Lieut. George E. Byron. The last three were wounded. Major Bell, as he lay on the ground with a broken leg, said: "I only regret I can't go on with you further.'

Capt. Know, though severely wounded, continued as long as possible to exercise his command, and insisted to me that he was not much hurt; and Lieut. Byron made light of his wound and continued upon the line until he fainted. I recommend these officers for the favorable consideration of the government.

I cannot state positively as to the si[illegible] of the Spanish force which we en[illegible]ed, or the extent of their casual[illegible]s, further than that the force was [illegible] greater than ours, and that in[illegible]n I ha[illegible]d indicate that [illegible] for ex[illegible] tained; but our estimate on these points can only be verified when we have access to the reports of the Spanish commanders. The engagement inspired our troops, and must have had a bad effect upon the spirits of the Spaniards. It also gave our army the beautiful, well-watered country in which we have established our encampments. It has also given us a full view of Santiago, and the surrounding country, and has enabled us to reconnoitre close up to the fortifications of that place.

The casualties in the engagement were:

First United States Cavalry, strength 500—Killed 8, wounded 34.

First United States Regular Cavalry, strength 244—Killed 7, wounded 8.

Tenth United States Regular Cavalry, strength 220—Killed 1, wounded 10.

Total strength, 964; killed, 16; wounded, 52. Respectfully submitted, Joseph Wheeler, major-general, U. S. A., commanding.

CAMARA'S CRAFT.

Washington, June 30.—Secretary Long said this afternoon that he understood Camara's fleet had paid the canal dues, and the presumtion, he added, is that they will continue their voyage. He had heard nothing today from Admiral Sampson, but expected important news soon from him.

Madrid, June 30.—The governor-general of Porto Rico cables that an American cruiser is firing continuously upon the stranded steamer Antonio Ludez.

CAMARA MUST "GET."

London, June 30.—It was learned this afternoon that the Egyptian Government has notified Admiral Camara that his fleet must leave Port Said, as it is violating neutrality laws.

SUSPICIOUS OF WILLIAM.

Washington, June 30.—Senator Cannon of Utah, who was among the first callers to see the president, expressed considerable concern over the German attitude at Manila, and thought that if the young emperor had some cautious adviser like Bismarck, who knew enough to appreciate the limitations of German power and authority, there would be little need of apprehension. Germany's object, he said, evidently was not only to bring about a protectorate there under the powers, but to throw temptations and obstacles in the way of the United States, so that she might get involved in the controversy over the islands.

A SPANISH "YELLOW" YARN.

Washington, June 30.—No word has come to the navy department from Admiral Sampson making the slightest reference to the Spanish story of the sinking of the Brooklyn by a shell from the Santiago harbor defenses. As Admiral Sampson is within an hour or two's reach of the cable station, and his orders would require him to report instantly any such occurrence, the officers of the navy department have no hesitation in denouncing the story as a fabrication similar to that gotten out a week ago from Madrid, describing the killing of Capt. Evans.

The reports received at the navy department of the collision between the Dolphin and the Newark are meager, but indicate that it took place near Key West. The Dolphin smashed her stem, filling the forward compartment back to the collision bulkhead. She is now on her way to Norfolk to be docked, and it is expected that about three weeks will be consumed in making repairs.

GARCIA MAY HEAD OFF PANDO.

Playa del Este, June 28 (delayed in transmission).—It is believed that Gen. Calixto Garcia, whose forces were taken to the east in order to co-operate with the United States army in the capture of Santiago de Cuba, will be sent back with 3,000 of his men to stop the advance of Gen. Pando, the Spanish commander, who, with 7,400 troops, many pack horses and a quantity of cattle, has arrived at a point 71 miles from Manzanillo, going toward Santiago de Cuba. According to information which reached the flagship New York today from Col. Rios, in command of the Cuban army, Gen. Pando started from Manzanillo on June 22, and is traveling at the rate of twelve miles a day. The distance to Santiago de Cuba is 127 miles, and the roads leading there are rough and difficult to travel. The Cubans now opposing Gen. Pando only number about 200 men.

PUSHING ONWARD.

On Board the Associated Press Dispatch Boat Dandy, off Juragua, Province of Santiago de Cuba, Wednesday, June 29, via Kingston, Jamaica, Thursday, June 30, 11 a.m.—The forces of the American army are being mobilized as rapidly as possible in the vicinity of Aguadores, four miles from Santiago de Cuba. The moment the tedious task is completed, the attack on Spain's last ditch in Eastern Cuba will be begun. When that will be, Gen. Shafter himself cannot say. The troops can be moved without serious delay, and are pushing forward rapidly, but the movement of the pack trains, wagons, ambulances and artillery is taxing the skill and endurance of the officers and men to the utmost. From Baiquiri, where the artillery was landed, to the present point of concentration, the road runs through a tangle of tropical undergrowth, up and down steep hillsides and over treacherous swamp-bordered streams for a distance of twelve miles. Through this continuous thicket the rear guard of the army is cutting its way. Engineers are at work leveling the track and filling pits, while a large force of regular[illegible] volunteers [illegible] axes, aided [illegible] with machetes, are hacking down trees an[illegible] clearing out the brush. A few ligh[illegible] guns have already reached this port [illegible] but the siege guns are not yet withi[illegible] five miles of the vanguard. Gen.
