MARKETS ARE IRREGULAR NEW YORK CLOSES EASY

Developments of the Day Cause Uncertainty—Local Listed Issues Are Neglected.

World Office.
Friday Evening, Feb. 17.

Dulness in local securities was unchanged in to-day's market, the afternoon session being an exceedingly tame affair. In explanation of the smallness of trading in the standard shares it is said that much of the former business in the listed issues has now been transferred to the unlisted issues, recently introduced to the Toronto market. Declines in some of the older issues are also attributed to realizing by holders to provide funds for the new speculations. To-day's market was irregular, with prices in the main lower. Electric issues were decidedly easier, and the reaction in Toronto Electric was without explanation. The three-point drop in General Electric excited little interest. Traction shares were dull, with a few transactions in S0 Paulo at a small advance. The reaction in C.P.R. attracted some buyers, and the price held steady at a premium on that prevailing in other markets. There were no dealings in Dominion Coal, and quotations were about unchanged. Liquidation was reported in N.S. Steel, with the price declining nearly a point. Investment shares continued the activity of yesterday, and Traders' and Hamilton in the banks sold higher.

A hesitating tendency was shown in most departments in London. American stocks sold off, with quotations for the most part ¼ to ⅜ below parity. London evidently considers official action on the Standard Oil monopoly an important bear argument, while profit-taking in our departments caused small little change of sentiment. Consols lost 3-16. Generally market lower, with Japan issues the only prominent exception. Money plentiful.—Dow-Jones.

The advance in Sloss-Sheffield yesterday is said to have been based on anticipation of the showing that will be made by the statement for the first quarter of the company's fiscal year, which begins on Dec. 1 last. The company, it is stated, has practically cleared its yard of surplus iron. These surplus stocks were carried in the books of the company at actual cost of production, and now that they have been sold the profit must be added to the reserve. It will show, it is understood, that the reserve Feb. 28 will have reached about $3,600,000 cash, or nearly 50 per cent. of the entire issue of common stock. Earnings on the common stock this fiscal year are expected to reach 20 per cent or more.—Town Topics.

On Wall Street.

Marshall, Spader & Co. wired J. G. Beaty, King Edward Hotel, at the close of the market to-day:

New York, Feb. 17.—The settlement of an important local controversy among the officers of an insurance company in a satisfactory way last night is a measure offset certain other considerations connected with the attitude of the administration on the Standard Oil investigation. These two questions were most talked about yesterday, and the Standard Oil investigation was effective in London this morning in some degree, the tone of the foreign bourses showed only small recession, as compared with yesterday.

With us to-day the trading was cautious and outside of certain specialties there was a disposition displayed at times to sell both for realizing and for the short account, based on the apprehension of labor troubles on the New York and New Haven and Hartford, and the fear of renewed political disturbance abroad following the death of Duke Sergius at the Kremlin by assassination.

There were, in fact, enough mixed influences to make the market irregular, which development followed, but with a conservative range and without loss of its previous good tone.

The volume of trading was somewhat reduced, as compared with yesterday.

A notable feature in the trading on the outside market was the new high record for Northern Securities, possibly reflecting the final action expected by the supreme court next Thursday in this case.

To sum up the situation to-night, it is, perhaps, only necessary to point to the moderate pressure on the market to-day at a time when some rather depressing influences are at work, and the fact that in nearly all important directions values were sustained, and that no weak spots appeared in the direction.

To-day's closing suggests a market easily capable of going higher.

J. G. Randolph to J. Lorne Campbell:

New York, Feb. 17.—Outside of specialties and the consistent strength of Union Pacific, the market to-day was rather sagging in its tendency. At the opening there was no continuation of the weakness, which developed near the close yesterday, and for a time a firm tone and advances were the rule. Business was inclined to diminish, and the dealings were not well distributed. The bear faction appeared to be somewhat disconcerted by the amicable compromise between the opposing interests in the Equitable Life Assurance Society, but later in the day it was encouraged by the indications of an unfavorable bank statement to-morrow, and the hesitation and reaction in the foreign markets caused by the assassination of the Grand Duke Sergius. There was no public news to explain the strength of the so-called Northern Securities group of stocks. Union Pacific was steadily absorbed, however, and at one time sold nearly two points above yesterday's closing. Great Northern preferred broke its high record by advancing ten points. Northern Securities made a new record. C., C., W. stocks were strong, Iron and Steel ruled strong. Improving dividend prospects inspired rather sensational advances in U. S. Rubber stocks.

Yates & Richie to McMillan & Maguire:

New York, Feb. 17.—The generally unexpected, the stock market, after opening weak, quickly recovered on good supporting orders from insiders. London quotations came over above last night's closing, followed by heavy selling orders from there. Traders were surprised at the strength displayed in our list, and considerable short covering was noted. The advance in Northern Securities on the curb and strength of U. P. were the main factors during the forenoon. Reading recovering sharply on what appeared to be covering by shorts. The banks reported a loss from all sources for the week of $4,600,000. Call money ranged between 2 and 2½ per cent. London sold about 50,000 shares in our market, later advices from there reporting conditions somewhat unsettled on report of assassination of Grand Duke Sergius at Moscow. In the early afternoon the market became dull and narrow, but strength was apparent thrount the list. Inside interests continue bullish on the outlook. U.P. and the U.S. Steel issues were favored. We recommend the purchase of the Standard issues on any recessions.

Cotton Gossip.

Marshall, Spader & Co. wired J. G. Beaty, King Edward Hotel, at the close of the market to-day:

New York, Feb. 17.—With very narrow lines, the market displayed a good tone today, the no exceptional strength, as compared with Liverpool and other markets.

The main strength of situation comes from abroad, and, as before stated, the movement of the crop is from various causes small enough to cause apprehension in connection with the fact that supplies are not accumulating in hands of spinners or in country.

Weather continues moderately seasonable.

These considerations withhold selling and attract buying orders in a market which is already narrow and easily influenced.

The situation looks strong enough to endure, and doubtless the large short interest will continue to be the main support.

Dun's Trade Review.

The country roads, which have not been of the best owing to the very heavy snowfall of the winter, have, in many sections of the Montreal district, been badly blocked by the severe storm of the 12th and 13th inst., and letters from many travelers report that their movements are seriously impeded, some interior points being almost unreachable. The delivery of goods by the railways is also more or less delayed, and the volume of general business affected, while remittances naturally are less active, but business conditions are apparently of a fairly healthy order, the buyers generally seem disposed to act conservatively. Receipts of hides and country produce generally are light, and in butter there has been an advance for the week of a full 5 cents per lb. The sugar market is easy at the late decline, with light demand from jobbers reported by the local refineries, and teas have been dull and depressed for an unusually lengthy term. Leather is firm, with reported scarcity of some sore of sole. There has been no revision of cotton prices since the recent big merger of local companies became an accomplished fact, and millmen are apparently marking time and awaiting developments before issuing new price lists.

The wholesale trade in Toronto was hardly as active the past week. The severe weather interfered somewhat with the general movement, but the prices of staples generally ruled firm. The sorting-up orders for drygoods were hardly as numerous, but indications point to a fairly good business in spring goods. Heavy receipts of these goods are coming forward, and the displays in warehouses are large and varied. The prospects are also favorable for millinery. Cotton goods remain unchanged and meets in fair demand, with prices firm all round. Leather quiet and firm. Provisions quiet generally, the feature being the higher prices for butter owing to scarcity. Dressed hogs are also higher for the same reason. Wheat quiet and firmer, and oats command better prices. In the direct for the week reported.

C.P.R. Earnings.

Montreal, Feb. 17.—The C.P.R. traffic for week ending Feb. 15 amounts to $704,000, for the same week last year, $544,000.
