CHANGE OF EXHIBITION,
COMMENCING
THIS EVENING, (MONDAY,) JUNE 16.

LEWIS' PANORAMA
OF THE
LOWER MISSISSIPPI,
Being a continuation of the Picture which has been shown here for the last four weeks

THIS magnificent Work of Art is painted on 20,000 square feet of Canvass, showing the course of this MIGHTY RIVER through SIX STATES of the UNION.

The Picture begins with a Splendid Nautical View of the GULF OF MEXICO, representing the Two Principal Mouths of the River; viz.:—the S.E. and S.W. Passes; and thence forward faithfully depicts the continuous and ever varying Scenes of Interest, until the Spectator arrives at ST. LOUIS, which is represented under the infamous of the Great FIRE, (which destroyed nearly $5,000,000 worth of Property,) on the memorable night of the 17th May, 1849.

To give some idea of the magnitude of this Great Work, it may be stated, that the View of NEW ORLEANS alone covers 400 square yards of Canvass, and represents 200 Ships, besides Steamboats, and countless other River Craft.—The Views of NATCHEZ, MEMPHIS, CAIRO, and VICKSBURG, at the Mouth of the OHIO RIVER, will also be found of great interest.

Admission, as before, 1s. 3d.
Doors open at HALF-PAST SEVEN.
Picture moves at QUARTER-PAST EIGHT, precisely.
MAFFRE'S fine Band will be in attendance.

Society at large is invited to William Begg's, 277 Washington Barracks, for a series of his unexceptionable toilet articles,—the result of his inventive research. His Hyperion Fluid is extensively used, and stands at the head of the list of preparations for strengthening and beautifying the hair; his Amulet, for shaving, is decidedly the greatest discovery in combining ease with the troublesome task; and his Helmetine, for the complexion, is appreciated in its beautifying effects. Sold by the inventor as above.—See Ads. 337

STRONG RECOMMENDATIONS.

Regarding the effects of Dr. Sherwood's Galvanic Embrocation, a distinguished Physician of New York remarks as follows:—"The extraordinary rapidity with which this Galvanic Embrocation is conquering the prejudice and convincing the conviction of the doubtedly learned and intelligent members of the Profession, serves to warrant the conclusion, that it will ultimately effect a complete revolution in the practice of medicine. The Galvanic Embrocation discovered by Dr. Sherwood seems to have been little thought of till lately by the profession; and it will be found the best Physician, and surest friend, in cases of need, in a great number and variety of complaints, and is a valuable accompaniment to the regular practitioner in private families and on shipboard. Its effects sometimes appear unequal, its judicious application is always beneficial, and with ordinary care on possible injury can result from its use in any case whatever, even to the most delicate person or tender infant.

From the Baltimore Daily Clipper.

It is not too much to say that every Family, Hotel, Boardhouse, every Ship and Steamer which leaves our port, and every Physician and person needing benefit, or desire to do good, should possess at least one dozen bottles of Dr. Sherwood's Galvanic Embrocation, for it is an invaluable remedy for all the diseases for which it is designed. 339

Truth for the Million.

The great number of parties, (including the most eminent physicians of the Province,) who have testified to the efficacy of these waters, while it has placed them high in the estimation of the public, has induced some other proprietors of so-called mineral springs, to try to put their waters on the same footing with the Plantagenet. Nothing can be more absurd than this. These other inferior Springs have been known to the public in some instances for fifty years, and in that time what have they done? Have they anything to show for the patronage they have received from the public? How have they stood since the Plantagenet came into the field? It is now only three or four years since the Plantagenet Waters were introduced to the Public, and in that short space of time what has become of other Springs, which were known before them? Can any amount of puffing make the public believe that they deserve to be mentioned in the same breath with the Plantagenet Spring? It may be safely said that no one who has once used the Plantagenet Water will ever use any other water. Their inferiority is so marked, and they are comparatively so worthless, that hundreds have declared that they would sooner pay twenty times the price for Plantagenet Spring Water, than for the best of them. Let some of these Springs have a great advantage in locality over the Plantagenet, in as much as they are nearer Montreal, and are accessible, (if they are worth seeking,) to all classes without difficulty.

One great cause of this preference is the distinct character of the Plantagenet Water, and more especially its solidity of body, and the glutinous quality it possesses, which distinguishes it in a remarkable degree from all other waters, which appear poor and thin in comparison with it. It may be truly said to have done more for the public health in the four years, than any other water has ever performed in fifty, and some of the cures it has effected are truly miraculous. Many of these facts are already before the public, and others can be ascertained at Plantagenet, where the public are invited to judge for themselves. In severe cases of rheumatism and other chronic disorders it is almost infallible, a number of cases having occurred where parties who had lost the use of their limbs have been restored to health and vigor by the use of it. The public are invited (in confirmation of this fact) to peruse the numerous testimonials of medical men and others, and particularly that of Dr. Nelson, who speaks of effects produced on members of his own family. Such being the case, it cannot be wondered at that the Plantagenet Water has driven all competitors from the field, and that its value should be placed so high above all other Springs ever discovered in the country.

As evidence of this, it is only necessary to refer to the names of the eminent Physicians, and public and private individuals, who have certified to the virtue of the Plantagenet Waters, and who regard it as a boon to the country.

In conclusion, let it be borne in mind, that it is not simply as a saline drink that these Waters are beneficial, but because they have an oily, lattering property, unknown to any Water besides. There is, in fact, but one Plantagenet spring, and the more that is known, the higher its reputation, and the more all others sink into insignificance beside it.

It is enough to read the names given below, of parties who have used the Plantagenet Waters, to be satisfied of their superior excellency over all others:—Doctors Crawford, W. Nelson, W. Prenter, Martin Anderson, J. W. Campbell, Archibald Hall, Alex. McCulloch, Robert L. McDonnell, J. G. Bibaud, E. H. Trudel, H. Mount, J. L. Leprohon, S. C. Sewell, V. Badgley, H. Peltier, J. E. Codere, L. F. Tavernier, G. D. Gibb, P. E. Picault, James Grant, L. H. Masson, S. B. Schmidt, W. P. Smith, P. Munroe, T. Lodge, W. Wright, J. Boyer; the Hon. A. N. Morin; the Hon. Subjoined is one of the numerous testimonials with which the proprietors have been favored from parties residing in Liverpool and the neighbourhood, where these Inks were originally introduced:—

Extract from the British Army Despatch,
March 29th, 1851.

BLACKWOOD & CO.'S INK-BOTTLES.—This is decidedly the age of inventions. Man's genius seems ever on the stretch to fashion something new: something that will supersede and cast into shade for ever what our forefathers acknowledged as permanently staple, and never dreamt of improving. Among the multiplicity of needful adjuncts to our comfort which refinement has rendered necessary, how many trifles, insignificant in themselves, but troublesome by mismanagement, are of necessity resorted to daily, and yet though the inconvience experienced by the ill-fashioning of the article is loudly commented on, how seldom a rectifying principle is attempted. It is not every one who would turn their attention to the manufacture of an ink-bottle, and yet we are to venture to assert, that not one of our readers but has at some period stained their fingers and their garments with the sombre liquid, through difficulty in pouring it forth from the awkwardly rounded mouthed jars in which this particular substance has been vended from time immemorial. At all events, we can answer for ourselves, and many a malediction have we uttered on the stone bottle, impervious to the most searching scrutiny of assailing on the person extracting the contents, an almost certain emersion in a color anything but fashionable or generally regarded as improved dye for a lady's fingers. To rectify this abominable nuisance, Messrs. Blackwood & Co. have invented an ink-bottle, elegant in form, yet extremely simple in construction, which wholly obviates the annoyance complained of. This capital article can be procured at any price, and from the smallest to whatever size may be required, and as these are constructed of glass as well as others of a more durable material, the evils we have enumerated can readily be guarded against. "There is a time for all things," we are told, and assuredly the obnoxious stone ink-bottles have had their day; and in brief time, when Messrs. Blackwood's patent becomes more generally known, the ancient receptacles for the "dingy fluid" will be numbered among the inventions of a by-gone age.

LIVERPOOL, 1851.

We feel to bear testimony to the excellent quality of your Writing and Copying Inks. The latter gives us great satisfaction, and, as regards its fluidity and copying qualities, is equal, if not superior, to any we have ever used. We need hardly say that your new description of bottles cannot but be considered an immense advantage to all who use them.

Yours, very respectfully,
PETER LEICESTER & Co.

CANTON HOUSE.

FAMILY TEA, COFFEE AND SUGAR WAREHOUSE,
No. 180, Notre Dame Street.

SAMUEL COCHRAN invites the attention of Customers to his stock of TEAS and COFFEES, which have been selected with the greatest care, and on such terms as allow him to offer them at unusually low prices.

The MACHINERY on the Premises, worked by a Four Horse Power Steam Engine, for Roasting and Grinding Coffee, is on the most approved plan, the Coffee being closely confined in a Metal cylinder, which are constantly revolving and ventilating in heated air chambers, to prevent imbibing taint from Smoke, danger of partial combustion, or of the Bean and loss of Aroma, so frequent in Coffee roasted which is further preserved by attention to Grinding at the shortest time prior to Sale. To this elaborate process SAMUEL COCHRAN owes the high reputation his Coffee has obtained through a large portion of the Province.
