THEY WAKE THE TORPID ENERGIES.—Machinery not properly supervised and left to run itself, very soon shows fault in its working. It is the same with the digestive organs. Unregulated from time to time, they are likely to become torpid and throw the whole system out of gear. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills were made to meet such cases. They restore to the full the flagging faculties, and bring into order all parts of the mechanism.

Ping Pong, or Table Tennis....

It is only necessary to play one game and be convinced that this is really the most fascinating indoor game ever placed on the market. A room full of people may be kept interested in the play, thereby increasing the pleasure of an evening party. The opportunities for scientific play will be quickly seen by tennis players, as the game itself is really an indoor version of the popular game of lawn tennis.

The Cup That Cheers.

It is a well-known fact that the medical men have in the past strongly opposed the use of green tea, pointing out that it was injurious. This was on account of the artificial coloring that was used in its preparation in Japan and China, but since the introduction of green tea from Ceylon by the "SALADA" Tea Company, medical men find no objection whatever to its use; the entire absence of artificial coloring with the pale delicate liquor so desirable to the green tea drinkers is threatening to destroy the entire Japan tea trade. With the cup that cheers the "SALADA" Tea Company is always to the front.

For cuts, wounds, rheumatism, stiff joints, burns, scalds, bites of insects, croup, coughs, colds, Hagyard's Yellow Oil will be found an excellent remedy. t

BUILT A MONUMENT

The Best Sort in the World.

"A monument built by and from Postum," is the way Mr. J. G. Casey, of Ayres, Ill., describes himself. He says: "For years I was a coffee drinker until at last I became a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and was a physical wreck.

"The different kinds of medicines I tried did not cure me, but finally some one told me I must leave off coffee and take up Postum Food Coffee. I was fortunate in having the new coffee made strictly according to directions, so that from the start I liked it. It has a rich flavor and I made the change from coffee to Postum without any trouble.

"Gradually my condition changed. The old troubles disappeared and I began to get well again. My appetite became good and I could digest food. Now I have been restored to strength and health. Can sleep sound all night and awake with a fresh and rested body. Everyone who meets me comments on my getting so fat and rosy.

"I am really a monument built by Postum, for I was a physical wreck, distressed in body and in mind, and am now a strong, healthy man. I know exactly what made the change, it was leaving off coffee and using Postum."

MISS BURKE GIVEN $1,000 DAMAGES

Winter Assizes Will Be Continued Next Week.

The jury in the case of Burke vs. Burke et al., last night returned a verdict for the plaintiff awarding her $1,000 damages. The jury held that the plaintiff was rightfully on the premises of the defendant, and that her ejectment was illegal. Counsel for defense contended that the defendant Burke was justified in removing her, even if she had not been guilty of obnoxious acts. Judge Ferguson will hear argument on this point next week.

The assizes will continue next week. Judge Ferguson was to have presided with other judges at a session of the divisional court, but he received a telegram from Chief Justice Meredith yesterday saying that court had been postponed, thus leaving Judge Ferguson free to continue the present court.

HILL BROOK FARM

The Owner Comments On Grape-Nuts

A farmer with his out of door work might have reason to expect more than the average of good health if he would use proper food and have it well cooked, but many of them, in middle age, suffer torments from dyspepsia, and following that a weakened nervous system.

To show the value of a change in food we quote from a letter written by L. Flagler, owner of Hill Brook Farm, Charlotteville, Va.

"I have spent a very considerable amount of money in trying to cure my stomach trouble with medicines, and have changed climate several times. About two years ago I was taken worse. My heart and kidneys gave me much trouble. I could not sleep nights. Was very nervous, thin and discouraged. Finally I changed my food and began taking Grape-Nut Breakfast Food. This agreed with me, and I thought I could see my way out, so I have stuck to Grape-Nuts for a year and a half and gradually the old troubles have disappeared.

"I have made splendid progress in health and strength, sleep well, and can now do a good day's work for a man of 50 years.

"I know that Grape-Nuts caused the change, and although I am now able to use other food as I like, still I stick to Grape-Nuts because I know how it nourished me, and besides, wife and I both like the food.

"She says nothing has helped her nervous system like Grape-Nuts, we buy the food by the case, and are very enthusiastic in regard to it."

It is plain that nervous worn out people can be brought back to health by using Grape-Nuts.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

ROBERT B. MANTELL TONIGHT.

Mr. Robert B. Mantell will be seen at the New Grand tonight with a most carefully selected company in the romantic tragedy of "Hamlet." Mr. Mantell is conceded to be one of the leading actors in the legitimate field of tragedy. Established as such, it is only fitting that he should be presented to the public in a manner worthy of the position he holds. If reports are true, his productions are elaborate and costly, and well deserve the praise bestowed by critics along the route so far this season. No expense has been spared in the staging of his plays. "Romeo and Juliet" is being presented at the matinee.

AT THE LONDON OPERA HOUSE.

Prof. Theo Pull is tonight concluding his three days' return engagement at the London Opera House. For his closing performance he will put on some interesting hypnotic feats, including the breaking of a stone on the body of a man suspended by the head and feet. Last night's performance was well attended and greatly enjoyed.

THE METROPOLITAN COURSE.

One of the best numbers in the Metropolitan Course will be furnished at the New Grand next Monday evening by Albert Armstrong, who will present his charming picture play, "The Sky Pilot," by "Ralph Connor" (Rev. C. W. Gordon, of Winnipeg, whose latest novel, "The Man from Glengarry," made such a hit). Over two hundred colored views are shown, all of which were made by Mr. Armstrong himself in the Rocky Mountains, where the scenes of "The Sky Pilot" are laid. The sale of seats opened this morning.

"FIRST DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH."

Mrs. Sarah Cowell LeMoyne, whose name is familiar to the admirers of the higher drama all over this country, will be seen at the New Grand on Friday evening next in her new play, "The First Duchess of Marlborough." It was written by Charles Henry Meltzer, and is a comedy of manners, the action concerning the principal characters at the court of Queen Anne. Sarah Jennings, afterwards the wife of the Duke of Marlborough, was the most powerful individual in English affairs during nearly the entire reign of Anne. They had been intimate before the latter ascended the throne, and when she became queen, the duchess almost completely shaped her policy and controlled her actions. The story of the piece is that of an attempt by envious rivals to undermine the duchess in the king's favor and overthrow both her and the duke, and the defeat of the plot. In her latest role Mrs. LeMoyne has fully borne out the great reputation she hitherto enjoyed as an actress of authority, dignity and artistic finish.

THE LONDON OPERA HOUSE.

Mr. Ward Kelly, advance agent for "The Big Female Minstrels," is in town arranging for the company's appearance here on Saturday, Jan. 18, at the London Opera House.
