HAD NO MONEY.

Hewson Had Exhausted His Postoffice Bank Account.

Drew the Last on Jan. 21—Never Had More Than $200 on Deposit.

The true inwardness of the supposed large deposit that the late Robt. Hewson is alleged to have had in the postoffice savings bank at Ottawa has come to light. The "Advertiser" is in a position to state that Hewson had no money in the bank at the time of his death; and at no time did the deposit exceed $200. This amount went in dribbles, until on Jan. 21 last Hewson withdrew the balance of $35 and some cents. This new light tends to refute the assertion that Hewson had a large sum of money on him when he was killed on Feb. 27—over a month afterwards. This feature considerably shakes the murder theory.

WILL ABERDEEN BE RECALLED?

Report that the Governor-General will be Asked to Again Become Viceroy of Ireland.

OTTAWA, March 28.—The rumor to the effect that his Excellency the Governor-General will be offered the Lord-Lieutenancy of Ireland, which has been current for the past day or two, is gaining credence, and there are those in official circles who regard the rumored change as well within probability. It is pointed out that things are in a precarious condition for the party in power in Great Britain, and that the vice-regal position in Ireland, which is likely to be vacant before long, through Lord Houghton's acceptance of another office, was never more popularly filled than by Lord Aberdeen. It is believed that his presence in Ireland at the present juncture would do much to unite the discordant elements.

To purify, vitalize and enrich the blood, and give nerve, bodily and digestive strength, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Harper's Magazine

IN 1895.

The Simpletons, a new novel by THOMAS HARDY, will be begun in the December Number, 1894, and continued to November, 1895. Whoever may be one's favorite among English novelists, it will be conceded by all critics that THOMAS HARDY stands foremost as a master artist in fiction, and The Simpletons may be expected to arouse enthusiasm not inferior in degree to that which has marked Tribby—the most successful story of the year. Another leading feature will be the Personal Recollections of Joan of Arc, by the Sieur LOUIS DE CONTE, her page and secretary, under which guise the most popular of living American magazine writers will present the story of the Maid of Orleans. In the January Number will appear a profusely illustrated paper on Charleston and the Carolinas, the first of a series of Southern Papers.

Northern Africa is attracting more attention than at any other time since it was the seat of empires. The next volume of HARPER'S MAGAZINE will contain four illustrated articles on this region, and three of them will depict the present life there. JULIAN RALPH will prepare for the MAGAZINE a series of eight stories, depicting typical phases of Chinese Life and Manners. Besides the long stories, there will begin in the January Number the first chapters of A Three-Part Novelette, by RICHARD HARDING DAVIS—the longest work yet attempted by this writer. Complete short stories by popular writers will continue to be a feature of the MAGAZINE.

Send for Illustrated Prospectus.

The Volumes of the MAGAZINE begin with the Numbers for June and December of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the number current at the time of receipt of order. Cloth cases, for binding, 50 cents each—by mail, postpaid. Title page and Index sent on application.

Remittances should be made by postoffice money order or draft, to avoid chance of loss.

THE OTTAWA CRISIS.

Speculations on the Effect of Sir Charles H. Tupper's Resignation.

It is Regarded as the Beginning of More Trouble for Premier Bowell—Nova Scotia Conservatives Paralyzed.

The report of the rupture in the Dominion Cabinet is confirmed. Sir Chas. Tupper—and, perhaps, others—is at loggerheads with Premier Bowell.

This is how it is mildly put in the Toronto Mail-Empire: "It is rumored in Ottawa that Sir Charles H. Tupper, Minster of Justice, has placed his resignation in the hands of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, and that he will only withdraw it upon condition that he is given the leadership of the House of Commons."

An Ottawa correspondent says: "Sir Hibbert Tupper was sent for by the Governor-General last night, and had an interview with his Excellency at Rideau Hall. The rumor of Mr. Foster's resignation, current in some quarters today, is denied on the best authority. Indeed, the chances are that Mr. Foster has the call as leader of the House, and the jealousy of the Minister of Finance is one of the factors in Sir Hibbert Tupper's present attitude. It is shrewdly surmised that if Premier Bowell offered Sir Hibbert the leadership of the House, the latter's objection to a session would disappear. The leader of the House this session would have a strong claim to the reversion of the Premiership should Sir Mackenzie Bowell step out, and it is the Premiership Sir Hibbert Tupper is after."

HALIFAX, March 28.—The news of Sir Hibbert Tupper's resignation came like a bolt out of a clear sky. It was the last thing people were thinking about. Conservatives absolutely refused to talk about the matter. They were simply dazed. As the day wore on they recovered sufficient political consciousness to enable them to realize that the crisis was a very serious one, but beyond that prominent party men refused to express any opinions, and the ward heeler type pronounced the report a lie and a "Grit" canard.

A prominent Liberal, who holds pronounced views as to the duty and responsibility of Cabinet Ministers towards each other, considers that inasmuch as the Minister was responsible with the whole Cabinet for the issuance of the remedial order and for the summoning of Parliament, his desertion of his colleagues in the crisis which he helped to create is an act of cowardice and breach of faith. Those who claim to know something of Sir Hibbert Tupper's ambitions say that he is riding for a fall; that he realizes the Government is doomed to defeat, whether it goes to the country or meets Parliament, and that in Opposition he would have a better chance of turning up as a leader, in which case, if the Conservatives came back to power in the near future, he would become Premier—the present height of his ambition.

Whatever ground there may be for these views of Sir Hibbert's action and motives, there can be no doubt his resignation has paralyzed the party in this Province. They do not see a single ray of light ahead, and feel that some greater disaster is impending. The only Conservatives who will talk freely are some opponents of Sir Hibbert Tupper's, whose political sagacity does not count for very much. Some of these say his resignation is or no particular consequence; that the Tuppers have had too much swing in the Province, and that it is time somebody else had a chance. Probably there is some truth in this, but Conservatives who understand the game of politics admit that the situation is a very grave one for the Government and the Conservative party.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER'S FUTURE PLANS.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Mail-Empire goes the length of speculating on the future of the kicking Minister. He says: "As to Sir Charles H. Tupper's plans for the future, it is generally conceded that he will remain the representative of Pictou, N. S., on the floor of the House. By virtue of his appointment as Minster of Justice he has become a member of the bar of the various Provinces, and lately was formally received at the bar of Ontario. Some say he proposes to take advantage of that fact and practice law in the city of Toronto."

A FRIEND'S EXPLANATION.

OTTAWA, March 28.—The Conservative party of Canada, Sir Hibbert told a friend today, would not approve of the Dominion Parliament usurping the functions of a Provincial Legislature, and enacting a school law, and he believes that in his stand he represents the Conservatives of Canada. But whether the Government was defeated or not, Sir Hibbert took the broad, constitutional ground that when a Government adopts an important policy like the remedial order, it should obtain the verdict of the electors upon it, so that a new Parliament would come to Ottawa with a mandate either to pass a remedial law or leave it alone.

SAID TO BE A DODGE.

OTTAWA, March 28.—The latest rumor is that Sir Charles Tupper's resignation is part of a prearranged plan to relieve Sir Mackenzie Bowell of the introduction of remedial legislation, which would alienate his Ontario Orange supporters. Sir Charles Tupper will introduce a bill re-establishing Catholic schools in Manitoba, and as a private measure the members of the Cabinet can vote for or against it, according to the political complexion of their constituencies. This, while making an easy path for the Premier out of a tight place, would inure to Sir Charles Tupper's honor as the fearless champion of the Manitoba minority.

SEVEN CENT BAZAR.

Mr. Wm. Eacrett Has Removed His Store to More Central Quarters.

Among the rising young mercantile men of London is Mr. William Eacrett, who for about six years has been conducting a prosperous fancy goods business at 658 Dundas street. From the very first, trade came Mr. Eacrett's way in paying volumes, and from time to time he had to enlarge the accommodations for showing his ever-increasing stock, until finally it outgrew its original quarters, and the young gentleman resolved to seek a larger store in the central portion of the city. He has secured the store formerly occupied by Woods' Fair, at 200 Dundas street, and on Saturday will open out under the business title of "Eacrett, 7 Cent Bazar," with a magnificent stock of fancy goods, stationery, glass ware, crockery, tinware, hardware and general house furnishings. Best coal oil, 10 cents per gallon, delivered. His old stock has been largely augmented with articles in household use every day, and will be sold at prices which will astonish visitors. Everyone should make an effort to call and inspect Mr. Eacrett's stock on Saturday or at the the earliest possible moment. The new venture is sure to be a success, and the proprietor has the best wishes of everyone who knows him.

The demand for our elegant line of furniture at the ridiculous low price tells more plainly than words just what the people want. Try for yourself. WM. TRAFFORD, 95 and 97 King street.

A Breezy Reply to Dr. J. B. Campbell

Attitude of Organized Labor in Regard to Civic Affairs.

To the Editor of the "Advertiser":

I was greatly surprised in reading your report of the proceedings of No. 1 committee of the Board of Education to see that Dr. J. B. Campbell has so far forgotten to play the part of a gentleman as to make a venomous and unfair attack upon myself and the organized labor unions of the city. There are some people who always develop a bad case of swelled head when they happen to own a little bit of real estate, and they think its possession entitles them to ride the high horse and dictate to the rest of the people how they shall act in regard to questions that directly affect their interests. As regards his statements re myself, they are utterly false and unreliable. The doctor should be careful when he has statements to make that they are true, and when he goes out of the way to bring my private affairs to the notice of the public I tell him to his teeth that he is not unfair, but impertinent, and that it is my concern, not his, as to how much rent I pay. In the first place, Mr. Editor, I am an owner of real estate in this city, on which I pay taxes, and I am also one of the heaviest shareholders in Labor Hall, valued at $1,100. I have always paid rent, even at Labor Hall, but the money so paid has been handed over for philanthropic work in connection with organized labor. As to my not being of any use to the city, I beg leave to state that I do not consider the doctor is unbiased enough to judge. The class for whom I have worked have honored me in every way that lay in their power, and if it has not made me better off financially, I appreciate their confidence and respect, and thank heaven that I have earned every enemy who yaps at my heels. In regard to his attack upon organized labor, he shows that he lives 300 years behind his time. Nature made a serious mistake in developing him so late. He would be in his element at the time of the dark ages, when men were burned at the stake for daring to have ideas of their own. I suppose it would be all right if the toilers would consent to work and sleep and do just as the privileged parties dictated, but we are living in the day when the men who have builded our cities have made up their minds to have a say in running them. It is evident that the work of organized labor in London has begun to tell, and some people who own a little real estate are afraid that they will have to pay the taxes they don't pay at present. It is true, organized labor pledged the aldermanic candidates at the recent election, but they did not buttonhole them in corners, as some other people did. As electors of the city, workingmen have rights, and they don't think that a meeting of the R. E. O. P. A. with three members in attendance should have a monopoly of sending petitions to the City Council. The doctor does not take the trouble to say what bad measures the Trades and Labor Council have advocated, and for a very good reason; he cannot. We have asked for a 60-hour clause in the electric street railway agreement, also that a standard and fair rate of wages be paid on all contracts for municipal works. If Dr. Campbell is in favor of workmen working sixteen hours per day, and that the rate of wages on municipal work shall be at the lowest point, he has a right in his opinion, but he must concede the same right to those who differ from him. It is true, we advocated the publication of the assessment roll, and the people to whom the doctor is opposed, and who are real estate owners, said, "Yes, go ahead." Well, we don't apologize for it. If the doctor thinks that they will hurt him, so much the worse for him.

Now, Mr. Editor, as the working classes of the city are in the majority, and as all taxes are drawn directly from their labor, it seems to me that it is only just that they should have equal privileges in being heard at our council chambers with any other section of the community. We live in a day when men are thinking, and we cannot bind down the masses to the condition they occupied in bygone years. Personally, when I have waited on public bodies to draw their attention to important questions I have represented not myself, but the organized labor of the city, and other persons speaking with me have been in the same position. It makes no difference whether these individuals own real estate or not. They are sent to represent a body which comprises many property holders in their ranks, and I may say we have always been received in a courteous and gentlemanly manner whenever we have gone. I am pleased to know that the best of feeling prevails at present among the business men, the clergy and organized labor, and that in no previous time in the history of the city have the different elements that comprise its population been brought so close together as during the present winter.

It is not my wish to trespass too far on your space. I will attend to the doctor at further length in the next number of the Industrial Banner, but would say before concluding that I understand where this attack has come from. Ever since the time the R. E. O. P. A. was formed they have used their best endeavors to try and use the Trades and Labor Council as a lever to further their personal ends. They have gotten out petitions, and not having backbone to sign them first themselves they have brought them to us and tried to get us to father them. They tried to use us in connection with their waterworks fight. They insinuated that we should join hands with them and "bust" the City Council. Some of their members said they would back us up in getting the assessment rolls published, but it was only to get on our good side. The Trades Council, however, had a mind of its own, and it refused to pull the R. E. O. P. A. chestnuts out of the fire. It let them run their own petitions, and it let them settle their own fight, and they have made a pretty mess of everything they have undertaken. This has raised their bile so bad that even the pills of their fellow-member, Dr. Campbell, have been powerless to allay the irritation. Now, Mr. Editor, I know whereof I speak, and am prepared to supply names, if necessary, and I think it is time some people were shown up. As a mechanic who earns an honest living, and who enjoys no special privileges such as legislators have bestowed on the profession followed by Dr. Campbell, and which have been gained after lobbying and buttonholing, I contend it comes with bad grace from such a man to talk about intimidation, especially when the same procession went before the City Council to oppose a resolution of the Board of Health to intimidate the council to throw over that report (last year). This, of course, was only business. Now, Mr. Editor, in conclusion, let me say, the workingmen of this city have a certain power, and they know it; moreover, they will use it without any impertinent advice from Dr. Campbell. When they have a measure to advocate they will advocate it, and as long as they feel they are right they will go ahead. Of course, I suppose Dr. Campbell will not be manly enough to acknowledge his mistake. All the same, I want him to understand that I am a real estate owner and pay rent, and if he will call at my residence, 427 Grey street, I will give him the information he so badly needs. Thanking you for your space, Mr. Editor, I remain, yours truly,

JOSEPH D. MARKS.
