FROM

Yesterday's Edition:

THE LEGISLATURE.

[Special Telegram to the Daily Tribune.]

FREDERICTON, April 5.

Willis moved the House into Committee on a Bill to amend the Act incorporating the Town of Portland.

The Bill is a long one, and was agreed to with some unimportant amendments.

Ryan, Chairman of Committee on claim of Lewis P. Steeves for building Moncton Bridge, recommended that he be paid the amount of $3,986.

Willis asked the Provincial Secretary whether the Government considered that the Dominion is responsible for the whole or any part of the liability which the Albert Branch Railway extension will entail? and if part what part?

Second, Whether the "Better Terms" delegates urged the assumption of liability on account of the Albert Branch Railway?

Third, If the Delegates did not press the matter, and liability is ignored by the Dominion under the terms of the Union Act, in what manner do the Government propose to arrange for the subsidy of $340,000 in case the road is commenced within the period of extension?

Hatheway said he would answer on Monday.

Caie introduced a Bill relating to Beaches in the Parish of Wellington, County of Kent; Bailey a Bill to incorporate Washademoak Steamboat Company.

House in Committee agreed to a Bill of Wedderburn's to incorporate the St. Andrews Society Curling Club; a Bill to extend the time of Election of Trustees of Church of Scotland from twelve o'clock to nine o'clock in the evening.

The House agreed to report in favor of granting $5,000 subsidy in favor of opening mines in Queen's County.

Adams asked if the Government intended to codify the revised Statutes.

The Secretary said the Attorney General would answer when in his place.

Gough asked leave to introduce a bill to aid in construction of a Railway from Chatham to Fredericton.

Hatheway objected, as it asked for a considerable part of the revenues.

Gough consented to withdraw it for the present.

House refused to adopt report of committee recommending payment of claim of Curran, mail driver to Grand Falls, for loss of a horse.

Otty, Chairman of Bye-road Investigation Committee, reported in favor of remitting all claims due from Counties. The total amount due the Department of Public Works is $12,650.83, of which King's County owes over half.

THE FATE OF MR. VOLLMAN.

Another Case of Tooth Pulling Followed by Death.—The Physicians Baffled—Transmitting Blood from the Arms of Healthy Men to the Arms of a Dying Man.

On Tuesday last Mr. Charles Vollman of Hoboken went to New York to have some teeth drawn. Five were extracted, followed by a bleeding from the gums which was not, at that time, deemed extraordinary. Mr. Vollman returned to his home. On Wednesday, however, the flow of blood had not ceased, and he again visited the dentist in New York. He obtained temporary relief, and again went home. On Wednesday night the bleeding began afresh. On Thursday Mr. Vollman was losing blood very rapidly; a little stream continually flowing from his mouth. Then it was decided to summon physicians.

Doctors Cudlich and Nast of Hoboken, and Dr. Lellman and two physicians from the office of Dr. Krakowitzer, New York, were summoned Several other physicians were called making ten altogether, in consultation. At that time the physicians did not think Mr. Vollman in danger, but every effort to stop the flow of blood proved unavailing.

On Friday the patient was sinking under the continued loss of blood. More energetic measures were resorted to and the flow of blood was stopped. But Mr. Vollman had lost so much blood that his condition had become critical. The physicians were constantly in attendance, and everything possible was done.

On Saturday Mr. Vollman was evidently dying of exhaustion. A consultation was held, and it was decided to try to resuscitate the patient by the transfusion of blood. Two gentlemen were found willing to submit to the operation, and under the direction of Dr. Killich of New York the experiment was made.

The first man bared his arm for the trial. An incision was made in the right arm of the dying man, and a like one in the arm of his friend. The tube was inserted, and about ten ounces of blood was injected into the veins of Mr. Vollman. Then the other gentleman submitted to the same operation. About twenty ounces of blood was injected, and Mr. Vollman apparently improved somewhat after the operation. But late on Saturday night he again failed, and at one o'clock yesterday morning he died.

Mr. Vollman was one of the best known citizens of Hoboken. For the past nine years he had kept the Park Hotel, at Fourth and Hudson streets. Hoboken. He was a good man, a genial companion, and much liked. He retired from business but a few days ago. He had amassed a large fortune, and was about to depart for Germany, his native land, having engaged passage in a steamer sailing on Saturday next.

Mr. Vollman was 39 years of age. He leaves a wife and one child.

Polagamy Still in Full Bloom.

The petition of four hundred women of Utah, praying that the protection of the General Government may not be withdrawn from them by the admission of that Territory as a State, sets forth that a large proportion of the signers have been members of the Mormon Church for many years, and that numbers of them have had a personal and very bitter experience of the practical workings of polygamy. The petitioners say that thousands of women within the Territory of Utah are to-day in a condition of abject slavery, and earnestly appeal to Congress not to take any steps that will cut off all hope of their deliverance. They assert that within the past three months polygamous marriages have rather increased than diminished, and that since the 1st of November scores of young girls have been married to men who had already from two to five families. They pertinently inquire whether it is reasonable to suppose that a people who defy the law thus openly while under the direct supervision of Congress will order their internal affairs any better when invested with the prerogatives of a State government.

Believing that only the strong arm of the Federal Government can secure to the inhabitants of Utah the rights guaranteed them by the Constitution of the country, these women urgently pray that this protection may not be withdrawn. It is not to be presumed that the application of Utah for admission to the Union as a State will receive any favor in Congress, as it is evident that the measure is designed only to strengthen the rule of Brigham Young and the Mormon priesthood.
