Miramichi and the North Shore, etc,

UNTIMELY FROST injured young plants of different kinds on the North Shore last Thursday night.

GORTON'S MINSTRELS will be in Chatham to-morrow, Friday night. They are, we believe, well worth going to see and hear.

$240 in purses will be trotted for on the Newcastle driving park on the 1st of July. The management deserve credit for their enterprise.

PASSED:—Among those granted certificates of competency in foreign trade by the Marine Board at St. John last Thursday was Alex. Cormier of Richibucto, mate's certificate.

HARRY LINDLEY'S COMPANY, which closed its engagement here on Friday last is to return to Chatham in a short time. The organization is one of genuine merit, and will, no doubt, be again well patronized.

JOHN GIBSON'S NEW THREE MASTED SCHOONER, the Arthur M. Gibson, is being rigged at the wharf near the railway bridge at the mouth of the Nashwaak. The vessel will load ice at Fredericton for the New York market.

BUSINESS COLLEGE:—Wm. F. Cassidy Chatham, added his name to the list of business college graduates, yesterday by completing successfully his written examinations.—Sun of 13th.

William is son of Mr. Charles Cassidy, of Mr. Ready's well kown establishment here.

THREE ONLY PASSED:—The pharmaceutical examinations were concluded last evening. The written examinations were conducted on Saturday and the oral yesterday. There were seven applicants and those who passed are:—A. N. McKay, Chatham; C. G. P. Connell, Woodstock; Geo. Price, St. John. The latter only stood the English test.—Telegraph.

TEMPERANCE:—A. M. Feathertson, dominion councillor of the Royal Templars of Temperance, will make an official tour of the maritime provinces during the the first two weeks in July, chiefly with a view to secure a large delegation from the lower provinces to the dominion camp to be held at Toronto in August.

WRECKED:—A despatch of the 12th inst through the signal service office from the Magdalen Islands reports that the barque "Teulen," bound to Miramichi, went ashore on Sunday night 8th during a strong gale and a dense fog, and lay five miles from Grosse Isle. The vessel will be a total wreck. The crew were saved.

OF SERVICE TO FISH-SHIPPERS:—The New York S. S. Co'y's line, offers superior facilities for fish-shipments going forward to New York on Wednesday and Thursday nights, as such shipments reach the same morning's market in New York as those going by Thursday morning's train from St. John, besides having the advantages of going through without any handling between St. John and New York, and costing the shipper less.

INDIANTOWN is to have a grand holiday time on Tuesday and Wednesday 1st and 2nd July, when the grand bazaar and prize-drawing, announced in another column, are to come off under the auspices of the R. C. congregation there. St. Michael's Band is going from Chatham. Special trains are to run and there will be a very enjoyable time all round.

THE DRUM SEIZED:—Amherst enjoyed a sensation on Sunday last in the seizure of the Salvation Army drum at the head of the procession. The seizure was made by order of the mayor. Counter proceedings have been taken against the policeman for forcibly taking away the property of the army. The drum beating on Sunday, it appears, is not to be tolerated hereafter in Amherst.

LIVE DEER CAPTURED:—Fred Estey of Fredericton who was on the French and Maquapit lakes for some days last week with his fathers's tug returned with a fine doe which he captured there. The deer was discovered on Indian Point by the crew who went ashore and surrounding it forced it into the water, where they succeeded in capturing it and took it on board the tug. Fred has the animal now in his barn and it is becoming quite tame.

AN EIGHT-FOOT SNOW BANK:—A Weldford Station, Kent Co., correspondent writes: Mr. James Brown removed his rotary mill from Trout Brook to Charlo, Restigouche county, this week, having cut all his lumber. He had to haul the machinery one mile from Charlo Station to the bank of the river, and was obliged to dig a road through a snow bank eight feet in depth. This was on Monday, June 2nd.—Gleaner.

LOBSTER FISHERMEN FINED:—Fishery Inspector Pratt made a descent upon the Grand Manan lobstermen the other day, and found a large number of short lobsters in their possession. All the parties were summoned on board the Dream and fines varying from $100 to $10 were imposed upon Preble Green, John Henderson, Wm. Joy, Sidney Chase, J. R. Wilcox, Wm. Small, Ottawa McLaughlin, Wm. Benson, Ward Foster, G. Brown, Delancy Benson, Wm. Harvey, Daniel Plant, John Joy, Lem Bedson and Irvine Benron.—Beacon.

TO SHIPPERS OF FISH:—J. N. Gardner & Co. of Boston, whose advertisement appears in the ADVANCE this week, is a firm that we have pleasure in recommending to our friends in the fish trade who wish to have their consignments honestly handled. Messrs. Gardner are in excellent financial standing, have reputation for integrity in their dealings, and their experience in the fish business, which has covered a period of a good many years, is a guarantee that they can handle consignments to advantage. We recommend them because we know that they are reliable, and not simply because they advertise.

SERMON TO THE MASONIC FRATERNITY:—At Campbellton, Sunday evening, about 50 Masons, members of the Campbellton F. & A. M. Lodge, marched to the Methodist church to listen to a sermon on Masonry from Rev. G. W. Fisher, P. M., of Alberton, P. E. I. The Masons occupied the centre of the middle aisle of the church, clothed in Masonic regalia. The sermon was an able and impressive one, the preacher claiming that Freemasonry was founded on the Word of God and that a true Masonic character must square with the true Christian character The sermon was highly appreciated by the large audience present.

FIRE AT CAMPBELLTON:—A despatch of the 17th to the Globe says that a fire broke out Tuesday at noon in the I. C. R. resturant, Campbellton, or in a small building attached to it, and the restaurant was consumed: The only means of quenching the flames was with buckets of water. Station Master Barberie and Locomotive Foreman Johnston, who occupied the upper flats of the I C R station moved out. They saved all their property. The citizens worked hard to assist them. Gorton's ministrels were parading the street when the fire broke out and they joined the citizens in assisting to kill the fire.

The Circus.

It will hereafter, require better assurances than flaming pictures and posters of impossible and improbable things to induce the public who attended Frank Robbins' so-called circus and menagerie, at Chatham on Tuesday of this week, to travel far or spend much money to see exhibitions of that class. The general verdict was that the affair was "a sell." There were a few performers who were worth seeing, but there was no such exhibition as that advertised.

Scott Act Cases.

The case against W. Johnston, of Newcastle, for keeping intoxicating liquor for sale did not come to trial on Thursday last, as previous to that time he pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs. The 146 bottles of ale and porter seized on his premises were destroyed on Monday evening last.

Of the three cases from Nelson, set down for trial on Wednesday of last week, the defendant in one, John Fitzgerald, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs.

The case of E. Hayes, Nelson, occupied the Court for two days and was further postponed.

The case against Murtha Carroll, also of Nelson, was also postponed. S. Thomson, Esq., conducted the prosecution, and M. Adams, Esq., appeared for the defence in both these cases.

The Tennessean.

A splendid entertainment of vocal music was given last night in the Central Methodist church by the Tennessean jubilee Singers. The company consists of eight voices—five males and three females—all of whom are artists of the first water, the strong deep bass of Mr. J. H. Chavers being greatly admired. The solo which he sung; "In a Hundred Fathoms Deep" was very highly appreciated. Miss Jennie Gatewood, soprano, also came in for a large share of the plaudits, especially when she led the class meeting. Of course the beautiful choruses by the whole company were the most pleasing items on the programme and during one evening they had to answer several encores, and by special request sang "Steal away to Jesus." There were also a couple of quartettes and several duetts sung and during the whole evening there was not a dull minute. Mr. J. H. Chavers presided at the piano and his accompaniments added greatly in the evening's enjoyment. Woodstock Standard.

These famous performers appear in Masonic Hall, Chatham, this evening.

Miller-Crocker.

The Boston Herald of 12th inst., has the following notice of an event of much interest to a very large social circle on the Miramichi:—

A very pleasant wedding occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Coburn, 14 Seaverns avenue, Jamaica Plain, the contracting parties being Miss Maude Crocker, one of Jamaica Plain's popular contralto singers, and Mr. Jack W. Miller. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William R. Clark of Newton Centre, assisted by Rev. F. H Knight of Jamaica Plain, and was witnessed by only relatives. Afterward a reception was held from 3 to 5 o'clock. Miss Helen Munyan, niece of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. Millet Crocker was usher. Among the many beautiful gifts was a gold watch and chain from the groom's father. The gift of the groom to the bride was a bosom pin with diamond setting; to the maid of honor, a ring with diamond setting. After a trip to Niagara and other places of interest, they will reside at Millerton, N. B., where Mr. Miller is a member of the firm of the Miller Extract Company.

It is understood that Mr. Miller and bride are to arrive home to-morrow, Friday, by the 15.30 train and Millerton will give them a hearty reception. The streets are to be decorated and there will be a combination including the British and American flags, Band, steam whistles of steamers, factory and locomotives, fireworks in the evening and a good time generally.

The Chatham Social Club Case.

A CONVICTION BECAUSE THE CLUB'S BY-LAWS WERE NOT OBSERVED IN CONDUCTING ITS BUSINESS, ELECTING MEMBERS AND HOLDING ITS REGULAR MEETINGS.

The case against the steward of the Chatham Social Club has ended in a conviction. A great deal of evidence was taken, able counsel were engaged, and the Magistrate took occasion to consult leading counsel in Fredericton. The club has been in existence about two years, and this is the first charge that has been laid against it. The quiet and orderly manner in which it has been conducted, as well as the fact that it had been formed under legal advice and was supposed to be a hard subject to tackle, combined to keep it from being molested. No drunken men ever staggered from its door, no disturbance was ever raised in its rooms, no laborers spent the money there which their families needed for food and clothing. Liquor was sold only to members and their guests, and the prosecution failed, after raking the town for evidence, to prove the sale of a single glass to any one was not on the roll of membership. It was proved that the making of new members was conducted in a free and easy style; nothing being necessary but the assent of two or three members, and it was shown that one citizen (and a sober one at that) had been proposed elected and enrolled, while he was in the room, without his being aware of the ceremony that was taking place.

The defence produced the lease of the building of the Chatham Social Club, the invoices, the accounts of the wholesale dealer (Mr. Patton of St. John) who supplied the liquors, and copies of the constitution and roll of members. It also placed witnesses upon the stand who swore that the club had been duly organized, that Mr. Griffin had been hired to serve the members, that the constitution and by laws had been duly observed in the making of the new members, and that it had continued to be conducted as a bona fide club in every respect.

Hon Mr. Tweedie, in his argument for the defence, contended that the social Club, and not Mr. Griffin, was the occupant of the building; that the charge should have been dismissed without a defence having been required; and that as it had been fully proved that the club was a bona fide organization of gentlemen who met for social intercourse, moral improvement, and a moderate quantity of liquid refreshments, the charge should be dismissed,

Mr. Thomson, after referring to the fact that the Magisirate had decided that a prima facie case had been made out against Mr. Griffin, as the occupant of the building in which the seized liquor was found, thereby making it necessary for the defence to establish the contention that the defendant was merely the servant of the Social Club, argued that no sufficient evidence had been given of the formation of any such club. The original of its printed constitution had not been produced, the minutes of the meeting at which it was organized were not in evidence, the chairman and the secretary had not been named, no records of any meeting was forthcoming, no accounts (except those for liquor purchased) had been produced, no supervision of the financial affairs of the club had been shown, and no one had been named as President, Secretary or Treasurer. He read from the printed constitution, and held that it had been shown by the evidence that its provisions in respect to the holding of meetings, the election of members, etc., had never been complied with. He held that, in the absence of such necessary proofs as these, which the defence was bound to produce the bald statement of witnesses that the club was duly formed etc., was worthless as evidence and should not be accepted as proving that a bona fide club existed.

Police Magistrate Murray accepted Mr. Thompson's propositions as correct and gave an elaborate and argumentative judgement on the same lines. He defended his ruling on the question of occupancy, before the defence had been entered upon, and said the whole case rested on the character of the club. If it was a bona fide club the prosecution would fail as no such irregularity in the dispensing of drinks as would forfeit its privileges had been shown but no sufficient proof of its being a bona fide club had been produced. He could not accept the testimony as to its character in the absence of reasonable documentary proofs. It appeared, by the evidence, that the receipts were used first, in the payment of the goods received; second, in the payment of the clerk's wages, rent, fuel, etc., and that the balance went to the defendant, much or little without any account of it being rendered to anybody. He would not recognize an organization, so conducted, as a legally constituted club, and must impose a fine of $50 and costs on the defendant.

The American-Eagle must be a gay old bird—he is bald. If you don't want to be bald, use Hall's Hair Renewer, and you won't be. Try it.

To Renew the Lobster Fishery.

The Toronto Empire says that "the success of Newfoundland in securing the services of Mr. Neilsen, of Norway, an expert in lobster breeding, and fiting up a fish hatchery for the propagation of codfish and lobsters, has stimulated the Dominion Government to look into the matter. Mr. Wilmot has been deputed by the Government to visit Newfoundland, with a view to profiting by Mr. Neilsen's experiments. Canada, as yet, has done nothing towards lobster culture but as the lobsters are gradually decreasing in Canada, Hon. Mr Tupper is anxious to establish one or more hatcheries."

Mr. Wilmot is a very good man in some departments of fish culture, but before he is intrusted with responsibilities in connection with sea fishes, he should have opportunity to inform himself on the subject.

News and Notes.

She could swing a six-pound dumb-bell,
She could fence, and she could box;
She could row upon the river,
She could clamber 'mong the rocks;
She could do some heavy bowling,
And play tennis all day long;
But she couldn't help her mother,
'Cause she wasn't very strong!

DUBLIN, June 14.—The Irish Catholic states that the Pope, in replying to congratulations of visitors at the Vatican expressed himself as strongly of the belief that a great punishment was impending on society for its disregard of and indifference to the church. "The Lord," he said, "will come no longer with a sweet and peaceful face, but with an angry one to strike and purify his church. I am neither a prophet, nor the son of a prophet, but I feel in my heart sorrowful presentiments that a sea of evil is about to beat against the rock on which the church is founded, and will leave nothing to be seen on the horizon but the threat of the anger of God, Prayer will not suffice to appease the Almighty.

Albert Morgan, the young man who was convicted at the last term of the Circuit Court of indecent assault, and sentenced to a term of imprisonment, with twelve lashes, was given the latter punishment this afternoon. The daily papers were notified and sent representatives. The only other persons present were Sheriff Harding, Deputy Sheriff Rankin, Samuel Clifford and William Macaulay, turnkeys of the gaol, Dr. James Christie, the physician, was also present. The prisoner was bound to the iron railing in the top flat of jail, and his body stripped to the waist. He did not seem at all nervous and did not speak a word, but submitted quietly to the binding process. Then a figure with muffled face, that looked like a scarecerow, come up stairs, seized the whip, which was a six-thong lash of ordinary whip cord, with a handle about a foot long, and dealt the prisoner twelve lashes. He cried out at each blow in a tone which some of the party thought to be of pain and some of astonishment. Dr. Christie evidently favored the latter idea, for he called out to the thrasher to "lay it on." The lashes were quickly given and the muffled figure slunk down the stairway. The reporters present examined Morgan's back closely, but failed to find that it was severely marked. The punishment if it erred at all, was on mercy's side. St. John Globe of 13th.

NEW YORK, June 12.—A Berlin despatch to the World says: A tremendous sensation has been caused here this week by the arrest of Joseph Jonasson, of the firm of Meyer, Jonasson & Co., of 358 Broadway, New York, on the charge of libelling Emperor William. Jonasson met a couple of students one evening whom he had seen before, and went with them to several places, when suddenly both of them turned upon him and accused him of making objectionable observations about the emperor, although as a matter of fact the latter's name had never been mentioned, Jonasson then noticed that both the students were drunk. He tried to smooth the matter over as a joke, but they refused to listen to him and called for the police, who took Jonasson to a dirty little station house, where he was rudely searched and all his valuables, papers, etc., taken. Jonasson protested and called the officer's attention to the drunken condition of both students and demanded to be released. His protests were in vain. He was shoved into the Black Maria and driven to police headquarters. The officers at this station likewise declined to entertain Jonasson's protests and ordered his instant removal to jail. He was then taken to a dirty cell and compelled to give up his clothes and wear prison garb. For three days and nights he was kept in solitary close confinement, and given food in a filthy condition. Friends then secured his release on bail. His accusers now say they made the charge while drunk and remember nothing about the affair. The case is still before the court. There is no doubt as to Jonassen's ultimate acquittal. When he is free he will probably move an inquiry into the conduct of the police officials who refused all assistance to him.

At Kingston Ont., on Thursday last Nelson Green was arrested on a charge of setting fire to Fairman's saw mill at Ompah. He has confessed to committing the crime and says he was promised forty dollars to do it. The mill, he says, was burned to secure insurance, which amounts to three thousand dollars.

A sensation was created at Kingston, Ont., last Wednesday, when the band of "A" battery refused to go aboard the steamer "St. Lawrence," because the United States flag was flying at her stern. The steamer was engaged to carry delegates of the high court of the Canadian Order of Foresters among the islands. The steamer being a United States bottom is not allowed to coast in Canadian waters, but Mayor Drennan wrote to the authorities at Ottawa asking them to raise the embargo respecting the steamer for yesterday. His request was granted. The owner of the boat when requested by Lieut. Cotton to lower the flag refused to do so and the boat cleared without the band.

INTERESTING FIGURES.

Estimated population of the world, 1,483,000,000.
Protestants, 136 000,000
Greek and Oriental Church, 85,000,000.
Roman Catholics, 175,000,000.
Jews, 8,000,000.
Mohammedans, 175,000,000.
Heathen, 853 000.000.
(Just think of it 853,000,000 Heathen.)
Entire church membership of the world about 27,000.000. This number includes Unitarians, Universalists, Swedenbergians, &c.
Really earnest disciples consecrated to the Lord, 12,500,000.
World's population increasing 14,500,000.
In United States, $295,000,000 spent for Christian work.
$900,000,000 for liquor.
$600,000,000 for tobacco.
$100,000 000 for luxuries.
$25,000,000 for kid gloves.
$5,000,000 for ostrich feathers.
The amount contributed to missions is but a drop in a bucket compared with the immense expenditure in the United States for liquor.

The Gospel could be published throughout the globe inside of 20 years.

There are now 70 missionary societies, 3,500 missionaries, and the Bible translated into 287 languages.

When will the churches of God be stirred up to something like a universal effort for the evangelization of the world?

PAYING BUSINESS.

Our Australian brethren, whatever else may be imputed to them, cannot be charged with niggardliness. The officers of the New South Wales School Cadet Corps are paid at the following rates, which, considering that they are not even professional soldiers, is not so bad. Commanding Officer, £586; Staff Officer, £550; Adjutant, £500. These rates are out of all proportion to those paid to officers holding very much more responsible positions, and to the worth of the services rendered. Even the Sergeant Major gets £275, which is as much as a Major in a British cavalry regiment receives. £586 sterling is about $2 850, and our Deputy-Adjutants General receive, we believe, about $2 000 altogether. We should indeed in this country open our eyes pretty wide at such rates of pay. If our own Militia is poorly enough paid, these rates are altogether extravagant. However, if New South Wales does not object it is certainly no business of ours.

AN EXPERIENCED WOMAN'S OPINION.

When women take up a moral movement they are very apt to see but one absolute phase of it, and to push it to an extreme of which the natural outcome is the demand for special legislation. There has been no more prominent advocate of the rights of her sex, and of the promotion of the moral reforms which specially appeal to it, than Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton. The following utterance of this lady on the subject is therefore particularly interesting and instructive:—"The fetich of our time is the legislative enactment. It is considered that men should be more moral, more temperate and immediately a party arises in the State clamoring for a law to legalize its theories. But, unfortunately, progress cannot be obtained by acts of Parliament. Development is a plant of slow growth, and the only soil in which it will flourish is that of broad human culture. Harmonious progress is not to be secured for the individual or society by hasty methods. You can make men hypocrites by prohibitory laws; you cannot make them moral."

Mothers!

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mother's friend, 35 doses, 35 cents.

North Shore Railways.

The Northern and Western road has a mileage of 116 miles. Its passenger train mileage was 8,424 miles; its freight train mileage, 25,000; its mixed train mileage, 69,264, a total of 102,688—this being also the figure of its engine mileage. It carried 16,515 passengers and 40,264 tons of freight. Its passenger trains averaged 25 miles an hour, and its freight trains 15 miles.

The Caraquet road has 68 miles. Its mileage—mixed trains—was 40,170. Its engine mileage, 43,170. It carried 5,925 passengers and 9,229 tons of freight. Its speed per hour is given at 20 miles.

The Chatham branch is 11 miles long Its mixed train mileage was 28,160 miles; its engine mileage, 33,660. It carried in the year 1,502 passengers and 16,528 tons of freight, at an average speed of 25 miles an hour.

The Kent Northern road is 27 miles long. It runs only mixed trains, the mileage of which was 18,366 miles. It carried 4,247 passengers last year and 9,816 tons of freight, at an average speed of 18 miles an hour.

The St. Louis, Richibucto and Buctouche road has a mileage of seven miles—but it furnished no returns to the government.

What The Fish Weighed.

AFTER IT HAD BEEN PREPARED ACCORDING TO THE JUMPING FROG FORMULA.

There were four of us, writes a correspondent, all experienced fishermen, and all thoroughly well up in fish literature, from the ancient mariner's tale of the sea serpent he saw "off Cape Horn" to the small boy's transparent and impossible tale about the number of eels he caught with a bent pin and a reel of thread, from the end of the wharf. One of us possessed an incredulous and argumentative disposition which required ocular demonstration and proof positive of any statement which he was called upon to believe. What he could not see in the very plainest manner he never would accept as a fact, and in consequence of this little weakness on his part, he furnished a good deal of fun to the rest of us.

We had gathered at the farm-house which we had made headquarters after a long and successful day's fishing; we had eaten our supper, and were sitting smoking and exchanging notes on the day's adventures. At last we decided to count our fish and see who brought in the largest "bag."

Mine was the smallest number, three dozen and eight, but they carried away the palm for size; the largest being a noble specimen of trouthood, that must have weighed at least, four pounds. "Five pounds and a half, if an ounce!" exclaimed Rogers, who was the humorist of the party, weighing my trophy carefully on his forefinger.

"Impossible!" cried Saunders, the doubter, falling into the trap at once. "That fish doesn't weigh more than three and a half." "I think myself," drawled Crofton, "that it does not weigh less than six."

Excitement ran high, and finally bets were exchanged, with the result that Saunders called for the farmer and his "steelyards" as Hercules might have called for his club, and not receiving an answer he started off to the barn to hunt our worthy host up.

Now Rogers was one of those fortunate youths who are noted for invariably "getting there." I never yet saw him taken at a disadvantage. He was a great reader, and he had a wonderful gift for applying the result of his studies practically; and he immediately proceeded to give us proof that he had not only read, but marked, and inwardly digested Mark Twain's story of the "Jumping Frog."

No sooner had the door closed upon Saunders' manly form, than Rogers sprang to his feet, produced—of all things in the world to have on a fishing trip—a shot pouch, opened the mouth of my prize trout, and began feeding him on shot. I think that fish must have been on a three weeks fast, for I never knew how much internal accomodation a trout had before. Rogers shook him, and patted him, and finally laid him tenderly down, literally, "loaded for moose," in the same spot from which he had taken him.

When Saunders and the farmer, and the steelyards, made their appearance, Rogers was nearly asleep, and very cross, he was only joking he said, and really did not believe the blooming trout weighed over three pounds at the outside.

"Well, we'll just find out for our own satisfaction what he does weigh," answered Saunders, and he found out, if not to his satisfaction, at least to ours, for that fish turned the scale at five pounds three ounces.

I don't understand, yet, how it was that Saunders, the suspicious, never suspected us of any trick, but he did not, he gazed at the spotted deceiver long and earnestly, and at last remarked thoughtfully, "Well, by George, the brute must have been filling himself up with gravel."

Henry M. Stanley,

perhaps the foremost explorer in pluck, endurance and achievement, has just completed successfully his last and greatest undertaking, the rescue of Emin. The story of his adventures and discoveries, "In Darkest Africa," will be published shortly by Messrs. Charles Scribner's Sons. It will be a thrilling and instructive narrative. Stanley is entitled to the fruit of his labors, and this the general sense of justice will secure to him by purchasing

"In Darkest Africa"

will be book in which he will have a personal interest. Intelligent and well-meaning people will not buy the bogus "Stanley books" offered under false and misleading representations, to no one of which has Stanley contributed
