LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Thirty-six students are in attendance at the London Model School.

—One drunk was fined $5 or twenty days by the police magistrate this morning, and two others were discharged.

—G. T. R. Conductor S. Rykman, of this city, is running on the Brantford and Tilsonburg branch for a short time.

—The conductor, brakeman, engineer and dispatcher of the freight train that collided with No. 1 express yesterday at Jordan meet the general manager at St. Thomas to-day.

—One hundred and ninety-two citizens who were not assessed for dog taxes have paid the $1 for the privilege of keeping their canines.

—Alex. Danby, a well-known resident of Woodstock, died in the asylum for the insane yesterday. He leaves a wife and family living in Woodstock.

—No trace has yet been discovered of the burglars who entered the store of Mr. Wm. Trafford, King street, on Sunday night. So far nothing is missed.

—Wm. Stinson, of the East End, came up before Squire Smyth this afternoon, charged with the seduction of Mary Ann Arbuckle. The case is in progress.

—Sir Henry Tyler and party were in St. Thomas to-day. They spent last night at Port Stanley and were expected in this city this morning, but did not arrive.

—The Board of Health held an informal meeting after the council adjourned last night. They intend having the city thoroughly cleaned as a result of the cholera scare.

—Mr. George Stratfold, of London West, has been honorably acquitted by Squire Lacey of the charge of assaulting Mr. Walker. The latter would not identify Mr. Stratfold as the aggressor.

—The Ontario Agricultural College will make a special exhibit at the World's Fair, which will be accompanied by a couple of dozen large, handsomely mounted photographs of Ontario fruit farms and views of the college and grounds.

—Sir John Thompson, Hon. G. E. Foster, Hon John Haggart and Sir Adolphe Caron passed through this city this morning en route to the Conservative demonstration at Petrolea. Hon. John Carling joined them here. They travel in a special C. P. R. sleeper attached to a G. T. R. train.

—Mr. W. T. Gartley, of London, was in town on Wednesday making arrangements for the starting of the evaporator, and we are pleased to be able to announce that operations will be commenced at once. As the evaporator uses fruit that the shippers will not buy, no doubt he will do a big business this fall.—[Gorrie Vidette.

—Mr. P. F. Canniff, of this city, passed through Winnipeg on Friday, having visited Selkirk, Portage la Prairie, Brandon, Regina and Moose Jaw, taking in the Experimental Farm, Sandison's big farm and many other important places. He expresses himself as being much pleased with the country and the great improvements made since his last visit there five years ago.

—Mrs. George Hamilton, the Hamilton vocalist, better known to Londoners as Miss Hunter, of Kincardine, who has been undergoing a series of surgical operations on her vocal organs, has almost completely recovered from the effects of them, and has begun to sing again. Her voice has been greatly improved, and its range has been increased to the extent of four notes in the upper register.

—Among the successful candidates at the recent entrance examination were Morley Lone, Allan Myrick, Alma Yelly and Walter Scott, pupils of Mossley School, North Dorchester. Morley Lone obtained the highest number of marks of those who wrote in London from East Middlesex, Allan Myrick coming next to him in marks for the township. This is the fourth time within the past three years that pupils from this school have succeeded in obtaining the highest number of marks for their township. Miss Susie Watts, of London, is the teacher.

—Mr. A. C. Paterson, the genial editor of the Qu'Appelle Progress, arrived in the city from the west on Monday. He surprised his friends on Tuesday by taking to himself a partner for life. The lady was Miss Emma Irving, of Thedford, Ont., who arrived that day from the east. The wedding ceremony was performed at the residence of Mr. W. O. Reaman, 117 James street east, Rev. Dr. Duval officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Paterson are the guests of friends in the city for a few days before returning to their home in the west.—[Winnipeg Free Press.

—Mr. W. H. Beattie, of Pond Mills, one of the most prominent sheep breeders and importers of Western Ontario, reports having had a very serious time with the scab among his sheep. He has lost about 50 sheep and lambs, and has about 100 left yet, pronounced cured, but under quarantine. The Government sent a man to look after them, but when he arrived Mr. Beattie had them all nearly cured. Mr. Beattie is talking about importing more. There will be no danger of the disease doing much damage in his flock after this siege.

—Word has been received from Fargo, North Dakota, of the sudden disappearance of Conductor W. J. Crawford, formerly of Western Ontario and well known in this city. Mr. Crawford has been seriously ill for some days with malarial fever and took about 60 grains of quinine which seems to have affected his mind. Railroad men and police have been searching, but no clue to his whereabouts can be had. He is a man about 30 years of age, five feet ten inches high, weighs about 170 pounds, dark hair, smooth face, and when last seen wore a dark sack suit, dark gray overcoat and derby hat. He also had a hunting case gold watch and chain with Masonic charm.

—A lamentable case occurred at Glencoe a day or two ago. An infant son of Mr. Robert Connelly, cattle buyer, recently of this city, was given a box of pills as a rattle. The child let the box fall over the cradle to the floor. The next morning the child was crawling on the floor when it found the box it had dropped, and the lid coming off, the pills came out. Unperceived by the parents the child put one in its mouth, and shortly afterwards became unconscious. At first the stupor was mistaken for an ordinary sleep. A doctor was called but he arrived too late. The pills were morphine. The parents are heartbroken over the calamity, this being the last survivor of a family of five.

Middlesex Arts Association.

The Middlesex Arts Association held their second meeting in the Court House to consider the approaching senate electors and also to elect new officers of the association rendered necessary by the removal to Toronto of President Mr. W. R. Meredith, Q.C., Vice-President Mr. Justice Street, and to Manitoba of the secretary, Mr. Charles Glass. Mr. Talbot Macbeth, B.A., was elected chairman. Officers were elected as follows: President, Mr. V. Cronyn; vice-president, Mr. Talbot Macbeth; secretary-treasurer, Mr. J. Vining. After a very full discussion upon the administration of the university affairs during the last two years, the following resolution was unanimously adopted. "Moved by Mr. Little and seconded by Mr. R. A. Grey, that this association approves of the so-called 'new policy' of university administration, and recommends Mr. E. R. Cameron, M.A., and Mr. James H. Coyne, B.A., as candidates, who will support that policy as outlined in the manifesto dated July 20, 1892, signed by Mr. A. Abbott, B.A., and others."

David Glennie in Court.

George Glennie and Thomas Carroll were before Judge Elliot on Monday charged with stealing a quantity of oats and part of a set of harness from Uriah Price, of Caradoc township. The crown relied on the evidence of David Glennie, who had made a confession implicating himself in another larceny as well as the accused in the two cases tried; but when he was put in the box he denied it all, and said he had made his former statement through fear. George Glennie and Carroll were consequently acquitted, but David Glennie was remanded till to-day for sentence on charges of stealing a bridle from Mr. Price, and a silver watch from James McRoberts, to both of which he had pleaded guilty. Mr. Hutchinson, the county crown attorney, prosecuted, and E. Meredith, Q.C., defended the cases. This morning David Glennie was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison.

The Death of a London Fireman.

An inquest was held yesterday afternoon at St. Catharines to inquire into the death of Thomas Roddam, of this city, fireman on the Chicago express, who was killed at Jordan station that morning in a collision between that train and special freight No. 800. Coroner Goodman presided. John S. McCloud, engineer of the express engine, No. 731, living in London, gave evidence as to receiving orders to proceed to Jordan and meet No. 800 at 2:15. When his train reached Jordan it was 2:16, and he then made preparations to go on, as he had the right of way. Witness did not see deceased jump. Roddam used his own judgment; he was a bright, clever fellow.

James Addie, Toronto, engineer of the freight special, said he was told at Stoney Creek that he had till 2:15 to reach Jordan. When approaching Jordan station he saw No. 1 on the main line. He thought she was stopping, as his time was not up. He looked at his watch and it was then 2:12; it was 2:13 when the collision took place. After the accident Western Superintendent Morice and Mr. Smith examined his watch with the station time; there was not half a minute's difference.

L. Dymont, conductor of the freight, Henry Sweet, fireman, and John Campbell, brakeman on the freight, gave corroborative testimony as to the accident occurring at 2:13.

After deliberating for 50 minutes the jury brought in a verdict: "That Thomas Roddam came to his death by being run over by the Chicago express between 2 and 3 o'clock on the morning of Sept. 5, 1892, near Jordan station of the G. T. R. The jury further find the conductor and driver of the Chicago express to be responsible for the death of the said Thomas Roddam by not waiting for five minutes for special freight No. 800 (in accordance with the rules of the G. T. R.), due to arrive at that time at the Jordan station, whereby the collision occurred between the express and freight trains, thus leading to the death of the said Thomas Roddam. The jury further find that it is not proper or prudent to allow any station to remain without a night watchman or other official, in the interests of the public."

Following is a list of the successful candidates at the London East and Lucan public school leaving examination for July. The examination is a new one, having been established under the last School Act. The course of study includes book-keeping and an advancement in the subjects of the high school entrance course, reaching nearly to the attainment in these subjects required for the primary grade of teachers' non-professional certificate. Graded schools passing pupils at this examination receive a small extra grant.
