THE SWINGER

Skimpy knits are in. You wear them. Matching knee-socks call for more excitement. You're all for it. Youth is your world. No wonder you feel so much a part of it all. You're a swinger. Nobody is going to tell you what to do. Or what to wear. Or how to have your hair cut. You know. Same goes for internally worn sanitary protection. You use Tampax tampons. There are no bulges under your sleekest, lightest clothes. Also no belts, no pins, no pads, no odor. Your hands never need touch the tampon. The moisture proof removal cord is chain stitched for safety, and there's always the handy small package that tucks extra Tampax tampons away in your purse. So off you go. You. The swinger. Tampax tampons are available in 3 absorbency-sizes—Regular, Super and Junior—wherever such products are sold.

CIA decides not to recruit near regional agency offices

WASHINGTON (CUPS-CPS)—In the interest of "maintaining a peaceful academic atmosphere," the Central Intelligence Agency has decided not to recruit on campuses that lie near one of the agency's regional recruiting offices.

The CIA spokesman last week confirmed that college and university placement bureaus affected are being notified of the decision, but did not say where the agency's recruiting offices are located. He estimated that there are "10 or 12" of them, however, presumably in the major cities.

The spokesman said in some cases interviews would be conducted in a downtown area of cities that do not have CIA offices, giving Boston as an example where interviews would be conducted in the federal building there rather than on campuses in the area.

The CIA has met with protests, some of them obstructive and others not, on several campuses this fall. Among them are the Universities of Colorado, Maryland, Iowa, and the University of California at Berkeley.
