her way to pros?

Her coach likens her to a er, and she wants to be in the A next year. However, Faith stad of the basketball Pandas nothing but a basketball

"The WBA (Women's ketball Association) is a pro nen's league just formed in U.S.," Faith said before sday's practice. "The league n't decided yet whether they'll six or eight teams. Whatever decide, I thought I'd try it I graduate this year."

Faith hasn't received much ognition for her steady play ing her three-year career at erta. She just plays her usual game, scoring her usual 12 noints

"Ithink Faith's best asset is Panda coach Debbie Shogan. "She's strong, jumps well, and is coachable. She's going to be tough to replace."

Faith didn't begin to play basketball until grade 11, but wants to continue playing after university, her main reason for the application to the WBA.

There is a senior women's league in Edmonton, but they don't practice or play very often. Also, other than the top few teams in the first division, the caliber of play isn't all that great. That's why I'm trying the WBA. If I don't make it, I'll be resigned to play senior basketball in Edmonton.

To be a winner, every team must have faith. Pandas are two steps ahead of the game. They she's a real athlete," says have faith and they have a Faith.

oaches Barry, Tibble resign

The 1978 intercollegiate ball season has long faded the spotlight, or so it eared until early this week.

of A Golden Bears' head Im Donlevy is in the of juggling his coaching after apparently receiving mation notices from two of we assistants.

Donlevy received notice of ement from long-time offenine coach Don Barry early week and although it is no ise, Barry's departure is flunate. Barry was an assisunder four U of A mentors, begin teaching junior high school including Clare Drake, Gino Fracas, Harvey Scott, and Donlevy, over the 13 years he spent with the Bears.

Barry, whose son Pat just graduated from the Bears, has decided to spend more time at home with his family. "You don't stay around that long without loving every minute of it," Barry claims, adding that "I'll definitely miss the Bears, there's no doubt about it."

Apparently Barry will not be the only Bears' assistant leaving the fold. It is rumoured that quarterback-wide reciever coach Larry Tibble, who plans to next year, is going to join the junior Huskies as head coach.

Speculation abounds as to who will replace the two departing assistants, but most sources seem to concur on two names. Strathcona Composite High School coach Larry Dufresne, originally slated to join the U of A squad last season, will apparently be given responsibilities for the linebackers and defensive

Also rumoured to be joining the Bears' coaching staff is former Edmonton Wildcats' head coach Mike Lazaruk, who led the junior squad to a national championship two seasons ago.

Bears on top of national heap

by Shaune Impey

Clare Drake's Golden Bears maintained their number one standing as the nation's top college hockey team in rankings released this week by the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union (CIAU).

The University of Toronto Blues, a perennial powerhouse in Canadian university hockey, have slipped from second to third place behind the St. Mary's Huskies and Alberta. Three other western Canadian teams— Manitoba, Calgary Regina made the top ten and are fourth, fifth, and sixth respectively.

against the Bears. Calgary is also the only team to beat the Bears in the regular season. Regina had previously defeated the Alberta squad in an exhibition contest With the season just past the midway point, all sign point to a near repeat of last year's national championship. Besides the defending champion Bears' team, other clubs likely to return for anther shot this year are Toronto (who lost the final game to the Bears last year), Regina, and this year's host team, the Concordia Stingers. The Montreal-based Stingers are almost an automatic entry every year because of the weak division they play in. St. Mary's should qualify easily out of their conference with the sixth and final position up for grabs.

In local play this weekend the Saskatchewan Huskies are in town for a pair of afternoon matches on Saturday and Sunday at Varsity Rink. Both games face off at 2:00 p.m. with Saturday's action carried live by CJSR and the Golden Voice of the Golden Bears, Doug Matthews.
