BADLY DISORGANIZED.

Football Enthusiasm in London Much on the Wane.

No Intermediate Team This Year Although They Captured the Championship in 1894—Some Causes Leading Up to Disruption.

London had a strong intermediate football team last year—the winners of the championship in their line. At the close of last season the enthusiasm of London football players was only equaled by the length of their hair and the size of their chrysanthemums. But with the inevitable hair cut, the players seemed to lose their enthusiasm, and as the 'mum faded, so their ardor cooled, and this year, instead of sending a strong team to Toronto for the opening game Saturday, London forfeited it. Apathy and a number of unusual circumstances all tended towards the end. Walker, a strong half-back, has a varicose vein. Stringer, the best forward London has produced, is absent in England, attending Oxford University. Muhlinnick, another strong forward, is on the road now. G. Sippi, one of the most aggressive of the left wings, cannot play for fear of aggravating an injury to his head, sustained by a bicycle collision last summer.

Of the remainder of the club, Frank Reid, half-back, and Niven, back, are the only ones who have turned out to practice this year. Such strong men as Pamphrey, Art Sippi, Crawford, Evans, Mills, Lind, Macbeth, Gillespie, Pope and Grayson, appear to have lost all interest in the game, and football is dead as far as this season is concerned.

One player said to an "Advertiser" reporter that he had decided to quit rather than have to pay the expenses of some of the other players out of town, as some members of the team had to do last year. Again, public appreciation of the game in London was not sufficient to foster it.

—Exeter Advocate: The goosebone is nearly all white this year, and the result will be that snow will lie on the ground from early in December until late in April. A long, cold winter, filled with blustering storms, is ahead. There are other signs that confirm this. Corn husks are unusually thick and chipmunks and woodchucks are already fat enough to kill.

—The ducts on the watering carts can be adjusted so as to reduce the water flow to a spray, and yet the water cart men continue to flood the asphalt pavement with the same amount of water as they would distribute on porous blocks. The water runs to waste in the gutters, and renders the streets uncomfortable for wheelmen for nearly two hours.

—Mr. J. D. Pigott gave an "At Home" on Saturday afternoon at Glenmore on the occasion of the usual Hunt Club run. There was a large gathering, and the cross country gallop with the hounds was witnessed by many from carriages. The run lay along the river flats past Adelaide street. The entertainment at Glenmore was of the highest order.

—The Scotch twin evangelists, John and A. Caldwell, of Askin street, London, have just closed a term of three weeks special services in the Methodist Church at Hagal. From the first the meetings were well attended and the interest continued to increase as time went on. About 60 profess to have experienced conversion; 50 names have been handed in for church membership; five or six will go to the Baptist Church, and one or two to the Presbyterian. The evangelists have begun work in Grace Church, St. Thomas.

—The gentlemen who succeeded in obtaining certificates of musketry at Hythe are well known in Toronto. They were Capt J. C. Macdougall, now of St Johns, Quebec; Sergt.-Maj. J. B Munro, of London, Ont., who went through the Northwest rebellion as sergeant-major of the Royal Grenadiers, and Color-Sergt. G. W. Galloway, of London, Ont., who has acted as instructor from time to time for many squads of Toronto regiments. These candidates were sent home by the militia authorities for the purpose, among other things, of obtaining these results.—Toronto Telegram.

Barney Ferguson will as usual be seen in his original character, Dennis McCarthy; Miss Ella Fountainbleau, the inimitable character actress, will also impersonate her former character, that of the old maid; Miss Marguerite Ferguson, with her novel dances, and Hafford and Mantell, with their character songs, together with a score of others, will keep up the reputation of the famous comedy.

—The Socialists of section "London" are making steady progress. Two more citizens (and electors), were presented with the red card of membership at the last regular session in Labor Hall. Several new names were put in nomination for membership. The executive was instructed to make arrangements for a public meeting early in November. A delegate was appointed to represent the section on the Workingmen's Free Library Board. The organizer read communications from national executive at New York, giving information as to Socialist electoral campaigns and etc. Arrangements will be made for a systematic visitation of the trades unions of the city to correctly present the principles of Socialism as a "Political Organization for the Emancipation of Society from Existing Thraldom." Interesting reports of the movements of the party in Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, etc., were submitted by the organizer. Section "London" meets again on Monday, Oct. 28.
