Doctors Die as Well as We.

Recent news from New York furnish us with an announcement of the death of Stephen DeWolfe, M. D., formerly well known in this county. The deceased gentleman was a great-grand-son, in direct maternal descent, of the late brigadier-general Ruggles, and consequently a cousin of T. D. Ruggles, Q. C., of this town. He was a son of the late Stephen DeWolfe, and was born in Wolfville, at the close of the first quarter of the present century. After receiving such educational training as was then deemed necessary to that purpose, he studied medicine in the old University of Pennsylvania, from which he took his diploma in 1845 or 6, and soon after began the practice of his profession in this town. Besides having a large love for his profession, he possessed many of the best qualities of a physician, and being ambitious to adorn the profession he had chosen, and the field for the exercise of his abilities and professional skill being limited here, after two or three years of fairly successful practice, he determined to remove to New York city and seek his future fortunes there. After a somewhat severe and protracted struggle he succeeded in obtaining the success he coveted. Not many years after he married a Toronto lady, the daughter of a leading practioneer in that city, who brought him some wealth, and by whom he had several children, who, we believe, survive him.

Many of our oldest inhabitants will remember how popular the doctor was during his residence in this town, and will, no doubt, regret the tidings of his comparatively early death.

JONATHAN WOODBURY, M. D., who died a few weeks ago, was a son of the late Jonathan Woodbury, M. D., a native of Massachusetts, who, in 1760, became a grantee in the township of Yarmouth, and some few years later a resident and practioner in this county, where his son was born in 1815. It is a fact worthy of notice that the joint lives of father and son cover a period of 150 years, 130 of which were spent in this province, and mainly in this county. In the latter part of last century his father removed to Wilmot, where he became a pioneer settler and grantee, and it was in that township where the late doctor was born. We do not know where he graduated in his profession, but he practised in his native place for a number of years, until failing health compelled him to retire from the field of active professional labor. His illness was of long continuance and finally ended in his decease. He leaves a widow and several children to regret the loss of a kind husband and father, and the general public the departure of a worthy and useful citizen.

About "Personals."

The following, from an exchange, will be understood by those who often ask the Editor such questions as the following: "Why did you not mention the fact of the arrival of so and so;" or, "I did not notice that you stated the fact that Mr. or Mrs. so and so, were visiting me," etc.:—

Many people seem to think that the editor of a local newspaper, by some means ("divine afflatus" perhaps) has a knowledge of all the arrivals and departures of people in the city, and if mention is not made of them they feel aggrieved. Now, such a knowledge is an utter impossibility. People quietly come and go, blowing no trumpets and heralding none of their plans —a very proper thing to do of course—and a newspaper man has no better means of gaining a knowledge of the fact than any one else. The proper thing to do when your friend visits you or goes to a distant town is to communicate the fact to the editor, if you would like to see it in print.

The Vice-Regal Party.

At 6 p.m., to-day, a train containing the Governor-General and party will pass through here en route for Annapolis at which point of interest Thursday will be spent. It consists of Lord and Lady Stanley, Hon. Edward Stanley, Lady Alice Stanley, Hon. A. Stanley, Hon. Isabel Stanley, Miss Middleton, Hon. W. Walsh, and E. Stretfield.

On Friday the party will return to Halifax, and will remain there till Thursday the 16th inst., when after that date the remainder of the trip is to be as follows:—

Friday, 17th—From Halifax to Mulgrave.
Saturday, 18th—Cross to Point Tupper. open Bras d'Or bridge, and on to Sydney.
Sunday and Monday, 19th and 20th—Lay over at Sydney.
Tuesday, 21st—Sydney to New Glasgow.
Wednesday, 22nd—New Glasgow to Pictou.
Thursday, 23rd—Cross to Charlottetown.

Old Time Relics.

While in the sitting room of a farmer friend the other day, our attention was called to a couple of lithographic pictures upon the wall. One of these was a portrait—the only one we have met with—of Sir William Pepperal, the hero of Louisburg in 1745, which was executed in 1747. The other was a similarly engraved likeness of the Rev. Wm. Cooper, minister of King's Chapel, Boston, at or about the time named. We doubt if duplicates of these pictures are to be found in the province. As they are in a stage of rapid decay, we advise their owner, Mr. Alfred Barteaux, of Saw Mill Creek, to send them to Boston and have them restored, if possible, with a view to their further preservation.

—The United States congress has passed a law aimed directly at the Louisiana lottery. The law prohibits the use of the mails by lottery people, prevents all forms of advertising, and denies the use of the banks as a medium in the business. This will practically put an end to the Louisiana and other such swindles, even though the Louisiana state legislature still sanctions the abuse.

Local and Other Matter.

—On the first page of this issue our readers will find the prize-winning story written by Miss Maude Saunders, of Lawrencetown, entitled "By Fire."

—Parties interested in the foreclosure sale of Clark vs. Stronach and Bent, will note that said sale has been postponed till Tuesday, the 14th day of October.

—A large political meeting was held in Halifax on Wednesday last, at which Sir John A. McDonald, Sir John Thompson, Hon. Geo. E. Foster, and Hon. Mr. Tupper, members of the Dominion Cabinet, took part.

WAS IT POISONED?—A fine two-year-old heifer belonging to Mr. J. B. Leslie, a resident near this town, was recently found dead in an adjoining pasture. It is stated that unmistakable signs of poison were apparent.

—J. McC. Snow, the well-known Moncton insurance man, lately received the following letter from a Frenchman at the North Shore:

"Mister Snow—I write to let you know I burnt my house last week. I have her insured. Come up and pay me my money."

—The well-known "Blue Store" at the head of Queen Street, lately purchased by Mr. Thomas Foster, is now undergoing repairs, and will in the course of a few days again be opened by Mr. A. J. Morrison, as a custom tailoring and gents' furnishing establishment.

—Halifax papers state that diphtheria is rapidly dying out in that city, and that the closing of both week day and Sunday schools had much to do with stopping the dread disease. Among recent appointments made in the city, we notice the name of Dr. G. E. DeWitt, a native of this town, to that of assistant medical officer.

—Mr. J. Henry Morris and family, of Cambridge, Kings Co., have become residents of this town, and are occupying the dwelling-house over the store of John Lockett, Esq. Mr. Morris has purchased some stock in the Bridgetown Iron Foundry Company, and will be connected with that extensive establishment in the future.

LATE STRAWBERRIES.—John Warwick, Esq., of Lawrencetown, sent us a neat little box on Saturday containing quite a quantity of wild strawberries, almost fully grown and perfectly ripe. They were carefully placed in the centre of a beautiful bouquet of flowers, the whole presenting a very handsome appearance.

—Correspondents will please bear in mind that their communications must reach us on Tuesday afternoon, and not later. We give publication to one or two this week that did not come to hand till Wednesday of last week. To our advertising patrons desiring changes, we are compelled to state that their requests cannot be complied with unless copy is furnished by twelve o'clock on Tuesday.

—Another lot of those extra B. T. Men's Boots now arriving at John P. Murdoch's.

—At the session of the Supreme Court held at Clare, Digby County, last week, R. F. Stark, the young druggist who compounded the accidental though fatal dose which caused the death of an aged and respected widow lady named Crozier, was indicted by the Grand Jury, and a true bill of manslaughter was returned by that body. He was bound over to appear for trial at the next term of the Court, to be held next June.

—Ladies' Kid Walking Boots; splendid value, at John P. Murdoch's. 1i

—The many friends of the two young Foster brothers—Lamont and Horace—sons of Mr. Hoyt Foster, who for some time past have been suffering an attack of typhoid fever, will learn with pleasure that they are progressing favorably, and will be about in a few days. The prompt measures adopted by the medical attendants and the health inspector, together with the improved system of sewerage, had doubtless much to do in averting further spread of this alarming disease.

—Sapolio for sale at Shipley's. 1i

—Hon. J. W Longley delivered his lecture on Hon. Jos. Howe, at Bridgewater Tuesday evening, and on the following day opened the Lunenburg County Exhibition at the same place. The building in which the exhibition is being held has just been completed. It is 140 by 65 feet in width, and 74 feet high, with a tower. Over 2000 attended on the opening day, and the exhibit included over 1500 entries. Vegetables were exceedingly good, and fruit creditable for an off year.

—A full stock of fresh and reliable Groceries always found at Shipley's. 1i

—We learn from Saturday's Boston Globe that Dr. Follansbee, well known in the south end of the city has been arrested, charged with having attempted to procure an abortion in the case of a Miss Ida Stewart, aged 21, born in Nova Scotia, and but two years a resident of Boston. Her sister has also been arrested, charged with aiding and abetting the crime. The unfortunate young woman, at latest advices, is lying in a critical condition in a Boston hospital.

—The two Evaporators at Annapolis are now running at full force, and farmers will find this a better market for all kinds of common apples than St. John, Halifax, or any local market. Sales in St. John as low as 50 cts. bushel for good cooking apples, not giving shippers 10 cts. per bushel; while for cider apples they can get 15 cents, and for paring apples 25 cents per bushel in bulk, delivered at Annapolis. The latter takes all kinds, including wormy or windfalls, if not rotten. Mr. A. Young is agent for Bridgetown. 1i

—Choice Porto Rico Molasses at lowest cash prices, at W. E. Palfrey & Co.'s. tf

—The Annapolis evaporators are now working full capacity, one for paring and the other for chops. For apples of any variety, wind-falls, wormy or spotted, not rotten, that will work on the paring machine, say 2 inches in diameter, or over, 10 cents per bushel, or 20 cents per 100 lbs. extra, will be paid. Farmers should note this, and in gathering the apples separate the large from small. For paring apples, agents will pay, delivered to cars in bulk, 45 cents per 100 lbs., or 75 cents per barrel, in barrels, old or new. Mr. A. Young is the agent for Bridgetown. If any apples are required on the farm for feed, use the small, saving the large for sale.

THOMAS S. WHITMAN, General Agent.

—Lanterns, Lantern Globes, Dashboard Fixtures, Chimneys and Wicks, at John P. Murdoch's. 1i

ACADIA COLLEGE.—A Herald correspondent writes: "The new year at Acadia has opened auspiciously. The incoming freshman class promises to number about thirty, while the senior class will be by far the largest that has ever studied at any college in the maritime provinces. There will likely be forty graduates at the next anniversary. Rev. Mr. Young, a graduate of Yale, has been appointed as instructor in English and homiletics. The attendance at the ladies' seminary and at the academy is also large, almost all of the available rooms in the boarding departments being occupied It is thus seen that the institution at Wolfville is starting out in the work of the year under the most promising circumstances.

—The schr. Temple Bar arrived in port this morning.

—John Lockett is showing a fine line of new Fall Dress Goods at very low prices.

—Firemen are requested to meet tomorrow evening at seven o'clock.

—Canned Fish, Meats, Fruit, and Vegetables for sale at Shipley's. 1i

—The stores of Mrs. L. C. Wheclock and W. E. Palfrey, at Lawrencetown, are now open every evening during the week.

WANTED—At John Lockett's, Eggs at 20 cents per dozen, and any quantity good dried apples. 1i

THE ONORA.—The schooner Onora late. ly launched here cleared for Trinidad on Tuesday 30ult., carrying 165 M. lumber.

—The last issue of the Spectator announces there will be a change in the management of that paper on the 1st of November.

BEAUTIFUL PEACHES.—W. Y. Foster, Esq., and his estimable wife, will accept our thanks for the basket of fine and delicious peaches received last Monday.

—There will be a meeting of the Ann. Co. Temperance Alliance in the Temperance Hall in Lawrencetown, Friday, Oct. 10th, at 3 p.m. A full attendance is requested.

—Bargains may be had in Carpets, as they must be cleared out in order to make room for the new stock and patterns I have just ordered for the spring trade. See the extra value in Crumb Cloths and Rugs. J. W. Beckwith. 1i —Business circles in general will learn with regret that the extensive and well. known furniture manufactures, Messrs. J. B. Reed & Sons, of this town, have suspended payment, and are in quite serious financial trouble.

—The regularly quarterly meeting of the Annapolis County District Division will take place at Lawrencetown Temperance Hall on Friday evening, 10th of October, at 7.30 o'clock p.m. Subordinate divisions are urgently requested to send representatives.

—The Annapolis County Baptist Ministerial and Missionary Conference will meet at Bridgetown, on the 14th inst., at 10 o'clock, a.m. Papers on interesting subjects will be presented, and a sermon preached in the evening by Pastor L. J. Tingley, of Melvern Square. Rev. J. T. Eaton, Secty.

—The sale of the Wilmot Spa Springs Royal Belfast Ginger Ale at the St. John Exhibition was somewhat over 6,000 bottles. A meeting of the company was held at Middleton on Monday, which was well attended, and preparations on a large scale are being laid out for the future manufacture.

—Mr. Geo. Dixon is having his grocery store handsomely painted in colors more pleasing and attractive to the eye than its former appearance presented. There is only one other matter in connection with that public and conspicuous corner now wanted, and that requirement rests entirely in the hands of the street commissioner. Just here we once more beg to remind that gentleman that the season for dangerous sidewalks is rapidly approaching.

REYNARD CAPTURED.—Last Thursday morning a fox was discovered on the marsh belonging to Mr. W. R. Troop, of Granville, by that gentleman, who, with four or five comrades and a couple of dogs started in pursuit. After quite an exciting run the pursuers were rewarded by capturing Mr. Reynard, and he is now in the possession of Mr. Charles Chesley. Although not enjoying his former liberty, he is alive and well, and is becoming quite a pet of the owner.

—The Rev. Dr. Ambrose, of Digby, has been advized by his physicians to visit Southern California, and in compliance with their request started across the continent last week. Just prior to his departure he was the recipient of the handsome sum of $400, given him by Bishop Jagger. Many other substantial tokens of friendship and kindness have been shown the rev. gentleman and his family since the unfortunate loss by fire of Totten Rectory. His large host of friends will sincerely wish that the change and rest will again restore him to his usual robust health.

BADLY BURNED.—Last week, Mr. Seth Gesner, of Bellisle, steward of the M. L. Bonnell, loading at Hillsboro, N. B., while trying out some fat for use in greasing the masts, the fat united and the blaze suddenly filling the whole galley, he was badly burned about the arms, face, and head. He managed to escape from the galley or the consequences might have been very much more serious. He is now at home, on the sick list, and his injuries are doing as well as can be expected. One can imagine Mr. Gesner's sufferings must have been almost beyond endurance for many hours after being burned.—Spectator.

HORRIBLE DEATH.—Saturday afternoons' express, which carried Prince George and party from Kentville, ran over and horribly mangled a man who was lying on the track about a mile this side of Windsor Junction. The man's name was Frank Armstrong, or Frank Connors. He had been drinking heavily and had started to walk from the Junction to Beaver Bank, and was met by Conductor Herbert's express. After the train struck him, driver Ward noticed something wrong with the air-brakes, and on examination found that a small cock under the main reservoir had been broken off. In fixing this, evidences of an accident were apparent from bits of clothing and flesh sticking to portions of the engine. Further search revealed the true state of affairs. Not a stitch of clothing was found on the mangled remains, which were gathered up and sent to Halifax. No blame is attached to the railway company.—Star.

Personals.

Hugh J. Ervine, Scott Act Inspector, was here on Monday last looking after business in connection with his office.

Mrs. F. Taylor, of Ottawa, who has been spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. Abner Troop, left for home on Monday.

Mrs. C. H. Harvey arrived from Halifax on Monday, and will remain for a few days at the residence of her mother, Mrs. E. FitzRandolph.

Mrs. James McCann, of Yarmouth, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beckwith on Sabbath last, taking her departure for home on the Monday afternoon express.

Mrs. Minna K. Piper returned home on Saturday last, after an absence of some few weeks in Dover and Eastport, much benefitted by the rest and change.

Mrs. T. A. Foster was among the large number of persons who returned on Saturday from the exhibition, having arrived from Boston, whither she had been to see her son Federick, he being quite ill. On her departure for home Mrs. F. had the pleasure of seeing her son's health fully restored, which his many friends here will be pleased to learn.

ROBBERS IN INDIA.—The Indian government has published a return showing that in the years 1887, 1888 and 1889, 372 males and 132 females were tortured by dacoits in the central division of Upper Burmah. One hundred and eighteen cases resulted in death.

Sunday School Convention.

On Friday, the 26th September, the seventeenth annual meeting of the Annapolis County Sunday School Convention was held in the Baptist Church at Nictaux. A good attendance of delegates from the schools and of clergymen and Sabbath School workers were present. The sessions were of a highly interesting and instructive character.

Mr. F. A. Hennigar, of Middleton, was unanimously elected as President for the ensuing year, and S. N. Jackson, as Secretary.

The morning lesson was chiefly taken up with routine business. The report of the Secretary and of the Vice-Presidents of the Wards, where organized, respecting the condition of the schools in the county were quite encouraging; yet it was quite obvious that much work remains to be done, especially in the line of the duties of Vice-Presidents, in seeing that Conventions are organized in each of their Wards, and that all schools are urged to send in their returns, and all Vice-Presidents give full reports of their Wards to the Secretary not less than ten days before the Annual Session.

C. F. Armstrong, of Stony Beach, presented an interesting and valuable paper, which was warmly discussed,—Subject, "The Object of Sabbath School Work and How to Attain It."

The afternoon session was very largely attended. Mr. N. B. Dunn, of Inglisville, read a very excellent paper,—Subject, "Words for Sabbath School Workers." Rev. W. B. Bradshaw made some very pointed remarks upon the leading features of the paper. Rev. L. J. Tingley presented a paper,—Subject, "The Sabbath School Teacher." This paper was full of vital suggestions worth the consideration of all faithful Sabbath School teachers.

The evening session was devoted to the temperance question in its relation to the Sunday School. The speakers were the Rev. Wm. Langille, Rev. N. Vidito, and W. B. Bradshaw. A resolution urging all schools to adopt the Pledge against Liquor, Tobacco, and Profane Language, was unanimously carried.

The next annual meeting of the Convention will be held with the Baptist school at Stony Beach, in compliance with an invitation from that vicinity.

S. N. JACKSON, Secty. Convt.

Birchall Begins to Confess.

A special despatch from Woodstock says Birchall's story of the murder of Benwell is gradually oozing out of him. He acknowledges he was accessory to the murder, but denies that it was his hand that slew Benwell. He does not say much about his negotiations with the victim and his father, though he freely admits that he went in to swindle both them and Pelly. It is probable that before the date set for his execution arrives Birchall will have made a full confession of the crime. Mrs. Birchall had an interview with her husband on Saturday for the first time since sentence was passed on him. It was a brief and sad one.

The Ulunda Enquiry.

Captain Smith, R. N. R., and Hunter, delivered their decision in the wrecked Ulunda case. They find that:

1. The captain exercised due care in the navigation of the ship after leaving port.
2. No precaution was taken to rectify ship's position by a casting of the lead.
3. Had soundings been taken depth of water would have given ample warning.
4. Primary cause of disaster was that the vessel was set to S. E. of her course towards the western shore of Digby Neck by a tide or current which appears to have been stronger than the master had any reason to anticipate.
5. Safe and proper courses were steered, due allowance being made for the deviation of the compass and the usual set of tide.
6. That the ship had not the proper number of deck hands on board for the purpose of navigating the steamer like the Ulunda.
7. That one man was not sufficient on the lookout in a dense fog. The captain was not to blame for this, in consequence of the watch deck consisting of only three seamen.
8. The court regret to find the master in fault for not using the lead. The master has borne a high character as a good seaman and a careful navigator, and is known to be strictly sober, and has produced excellent testimonials.
9. That certificate of master be suspended for three months, none of the other officers certificates to be dealt with.

Berwick Items.

Our esteemed teacher, Mr. Harry Shaw, a graduate of Acadia College, has gone to Newton Theological Seminary to take a course of study before entering the ministry.

The work on the Methodist church is being pushed on vigorously. Stained glass windows are to be put in, which will add to the beauty of the house.

An Envelope Social was held in the vestry of the Baptist church the 22nd evening of September. The vestry and classrooms looked very homelike and comfortable with blossoming plants grouped about, and the large number assembled appeared to act according to the name—social. A quartette, led by Mr. H. N. Shaw, of Acadia College, sang, and Mr. Shaw read "King Robert of Sicily" and the "Legend of the organ builder," much to the satisfaction of the hearers. Quotations from celebrated authors were read, and at the request of the audience Mr. Shaw read the "Bells." Some time was spent in conversation, and the exercises were closed by "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

Last Sunday the Baptist house was reopened in the morning. Dr. Saunders gave a historical sketch of the church from its organization in 1828. Rev. M. Black of the Messenger and Visitor preached the dedication sermon in the afternoon, and in the evening the Rev. I. Wallace preached to a large congregation. The house has been thoroughly renovated and is a credit to Berwick. A Rally light, five feet in diameter, having sixteen double burners is used for lighting, and an improved furnace will heat the building in the cold weather.

Bear River Bits.

Messrs. Clarke Bros. are laying the keel of a new vessel.

Mr. W. A. Chute, building mover, of this place, has had his dwelling house thoroughly repaired, and it now presents a fine appearance.

The Hillsburg Agricultural Society held their annual exhibition on Friday, on the grounds of Alden Harris, Esq. The show of cattle, etc., was fine, as well as the inside exhibits.

Quite a large number of summer visitors have been accommodated at the hotel and private boarding houses this season. The advantages of this village as a summer resort are becoming better known abroad.

Mr. Emerson Read, who has so efficiently taught the advanced department in the Annapolis side school for a number of years has given up his position to accept the position as bookkeeper in the firm of Clarke Bros.
