Japan

BY VERNON NOTT

One deem'd her but a land of Bower and fan,
A toy-like paradise 'mid Eastern seas,
Of Liliputian handicraft and ease—
An artist nation since art first began.
And to! no stripling, but a forceful man
Hath stepped full arm'd from out the centuries
And, toward the foe unfurl'd upon the breeze
The battle standard of this new Japan.
Britain's adopted brother, may success
Sustain thine arms beneath a rightful cause!
And should repulse thy progress e'er give pause,
Dream not our hearts are with thee aught the less.
Our prayer And thine—what count religion' bars?
A righteous cause a righteous God will bless.

Fond mother—Jane, has Johnny come home from school yet?

Jane—I think so. I haven't seen him but the cat is hiding under the stove.

It dosen't take a man very long to become wise, but getting other people to recognize your wisdom after you have it is a long and tedious job.

Widow Wixon—Yes, Henry died quite reconciled. I was at his bedside until the last moment. Dumley (meaning to be complimentary) —Ah, that account for it.

Dysentery causes the death of more people than small pox and yellow fever combined. In an army it is dreaded more than a battle. It requires prompt and effective treatment. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been used in nine epidemic's of dysentry in the United States with perfect success, and has cured the most malignant cases, both of children and adults, and under the most trying conditions. Every household should have a bottle on hand. Get it today. It may save a life. Sold by G. V. Rand.

Rollo—'Uncle what is the difference between a machine and an organization in politics?'

'Just this, my boy. The other party is a boss-ridden machine; the party you belong to has a superb organization.'

is sent direct to the diseased parts by the Improved Blower. Heals the ulcers, clears the air passages, stops droppings in the throat and permanently cures Catarrh and Hay Fever. Blower free. All dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Toronto and Buffalo.

Bookie—So, y'see, if the 'orse start at fifteen to one you get fifteen quid, ten to one you get ten quid, five to one five. D'y'see? The Innocent—Oh, yes. I see perfectly. But what do I get if the horse starts at 1 o'clock exactly?

"Oh, just listen to me," finally exclaimed Mrs. Chatters self reproachfully, "annoying you with all this talk about Mrs. Nexdore's shameful treatment of me and all my others."

"Not at all, my dear," replied the man rather ambiguously. 'I'm glad to hear."

Stubborn Skin Disease.

Nothing is more dangerous than a case of eczema or salt rheum which refuses to heal. By using Dr. Chase's Ointment, however, you soon see that new skin is forming and the sore part is becoming smaller and smaller. The itching is entirely overcome after a few applications and you are given satisfactory evidence that a continuation of the treatment will bring a thorough cure.

Sir John Pakington, a courtier of Queen Elizabeth, was a reckless layer of wagers. He once bet £3,000 that he would swim the Thames from the bridge at Greenwich faster than relays of young noblemen. Sir John won his bet. The relays of noblemen, though they swam hard, were badly beaten. The queen was present at the race, and to the losers she gave, by way of a consolation prize, a butt of sack.

C. C. RICHARDS & CO.

Dear Sirs,—For some years I have had only partial use of my arm, caused by a sudden strain. I have used every remedy without effect, until I got a sample bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT. The benefit I received from it caused me to continue its use, and now I am happy to say my arm is completely restored.

Glamis, Ont. E. W. HARRISON.

If the editor makes a mistake he has to apologize for it, but if the doctor makes a mistake he buries it. If we make a mistake there is a law suit, tall swearing and a smell of sulphur, but if the doctor makes one there is a funeral, cut flowers and a smell of varnish. The doctor uses a word a foot long, but if the editor uses it he has to spell it. If the doctor goes to see another man's wife he will charge the man for the visit. If the editor calls on another man's wife he'll get a charge of buckshot.

Be Quick.

Not a minute should be lost after a child shows symptoms of cholera infantum. The first unusual looseness of the bowels should be sufficient warning. If immediate and proper treatment is given serious consequences will be averted. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the sole reliance of thousands of mothers and by its aid they have often saved their children's lives. Every household should have a bottle on hand. Get it today. It may save a life. Sold by G. V. Rand.

Solid Silver Furniture.

A prominent Sheffield firm has just received at the hands of an eastern potentate an order on a scale of magnificence never before heard of in either the city itself or in the country at large.

One's thoughts turn to the 'Arabian Nights when mention is made of a bedroom suite of solid silver, but such is the character of the order just placed in Sheffield. The name of the customer is so far secret, and the only information which can be obtained is that the instructions have come from the far east, and the question of price is only a minor consideration.

The designs are Oriental character and of a most elaborate description. The suite, which is of solid silver throughout, includes a bedstead, a cabinet, a dressing table, a dozen chairs, three foot-baths and three hot-water cans.

The bedstead is of the most ornate character. Each of the four pillars will be surrounded by gracefully modelled female figures nearly three feet in height. The moulding of the room and other decorations will also be sterling silver.

Mrs. Rosa Adams, niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C. S. A., wants every woman to know of the wonders accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot tell you with pen and ink what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me, suffering from the ills peculiar to the sex, extreme lassitude and that all gone feeling. I would rise from my bed in the morning feeling more tired than when I went to bed, but before I had used two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I began to feel the buoyancy of my younger days returning, became regular, could do more work and not feel tired than I had ever been able to do before, so I continued to use it until I was restored to perfect health. It is indeed a boon to sick women and I heartily recommend it. Yours very truly, MRS. ROSA ADAMS, 819 12th St., Louisville, Ky."

Any women who are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, general debility, and nervous prostration, should know there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No other medicine for women has received such wide-spread and unqualified indorsement. No other medicine has such a record of female cures.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am very pleased to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for womb and ovarian difficulties from which I have been a sufferer for years. It was the only medicine which was at all beneficial, and within a week after I started to use it, there was a great change in my feelings and looks. I used it for a little over three months, and at the end of that time I suffered no pain at the menstrual period, nor was I troubled with those distressing pains which compelled me to go to bed, and I have not had a headache since. This is nearly a year ago. I always keep a bottle on hand, and take a few doses every week, for I find that it tones up the system and keeps me feeling strong, and I never have that tired out feeling any more.

"I certainly think that every woman ought to try this grand medicine, for it would prove its worth. Yours very truly, MISS ELSIE DANFORTH, 203 De Soto St., Memphis, Tenn."

American Anti—Cigaret League

BY WILLIS BROWN

The American Anti-Cigaret League, which is an organization of boys and girls of the United States and Canada, now numbering over one million members, bids fair to be one of the greatest juvenile organizations that has ever existed.

As the cigaret is primarily the enemy of youth, it is not surprising that these million pledge signers with their enthusiasm will be the greatest factor in ending the agitation which is bound to result in the passing of the cigaret as a popular habit. In fact, the cigaret smoker is already classed with the opium and morphine user, the drunkard and the 'smart, tricky chap,' who is not wanted in society, business or health sports.

The business men responsible for this ban against the cigaret certainly know what they are about when they declare that a man who smokes cigarets cannot pack beef, cannot guide an engine, and cannot even drive a spike or weld iron. Some employers have even declared that the man or boy addicted to this vice is unfit to draw soda water, sell dry goods or even propogate plants. It is a matter of dollars and cents with them, and as such becomes a matter of deep concern. The time is soon at hand when it will be impossible for a cigaret smoker to get employment anywhere. When these facts are presented to bright boys and girls, no further argument is needed to convince all of them that they should leave the cigaret alone, and they readily join the League which stands for its overthrow.

No boy should be chained to this habit, when we have such splendid plans supported by public sentiment, business edicts and stringent laws. The American Anti-Cigaret League, 106 La Salle avenue, Chicago, Ill., will cheerfully give any further information in regard to this movement. Every city, town and hamlet should have hundreds of boys and girls enlisted in this great crusade.

One Chicago boy who became intererted in the Anti-Cigaret League, after signing the pledge, and pinning a badge to his coat, started out, and in a week had 432 new members. Every boy under twenty-one years of age who reads this should sign the pledge and send it to headquarters.—Watchman.

Canteen in the Tropics

Up to six years ago, it seems, every Dutch soldier in the tropics was served with a certain amount of wine daily. One year it was cut down to half, and to encourage the men to sobriety, the soldiers, with the officers, were given the option of drawing the money value of the wine. The officers set the men a good example, and many became abstainers. What was the result? Major Fibrig, who was army surgeon, began to make careful observations and he found that sickness decreased, discipline improved, the men had more power to endure hardships of service. In time of peace they all seemed about equal, but when there was a call to action the difference quickly revealed itself. He found that suicides were nearly always drinkers and that those who succumbed to disease or surgical injuries were by far those who drank.

The Good Samaritan.

In the Watchword, Rev. A. J. Gordon, of Boston, writes as follows:

'And it came to pass as a certain man journeyed from the cradle to the grave he fell among saloon-keepers who robbed him of his money, ruined his good name, destroyed his reason, and then kicked him out worse than dead.

'A moderate drinker came that way and when he saw him he said: 'He is but a dog; they served him right. Let him die; he is a curse to his family.'

'Also a license voter came that way and when he saw him he said: 'The brute! Put a ball and chain upon his leg and work him on the street.'

'And a fanatic teetotaler came that way, and when he saw him, he had compassion on him, and ministered to his wants, and assisted him to his home; got him to sign the pledge and started him on his journey in comfort and happiness.

'Who, think you, was the greater friend to humanity—the saloon-keepers, the moderate drinker, the license voter, or the fanatic teetotaler?'

Christian Endeavour Temperance

The Rev. John McNeill was one of the speakers at the great London Convention of Christian Endeavourers on Whit Monday. Speaking on the temperance question, Mr McNeill said that all they needed was to see the evil of the drink curse with their own eyes and feel it in their own hearts, and they must all fight against it with all their might. The National Executive had carried unanimously a petition to the Government against the Licensing Bill. He was himself a total abstainer. Of course, he sympathized with those who had to take drink because of the doctors. When one saw the best and the fairest singled out by that fell destroyer and laid low, it was only the part of modesty to remember the great text, 'Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.' If a man would not give up drink for his own sake, for his children's and wife's sake, for the tempted, weak brother's sake, and for his Saviour's sake, that man was too incurably selfish to be adequately described. He was all for legislation but it was long a-coming. They must not talk politics, but they could talk about this Government and yet keep away from all decent politics. Was there ever such a mixey-maxey—was there ever such a job-lot of odd lots? His great hope lay in Gospel temperance—their mightiest gun against this great evil was the Gospel. Let them not be troubled or discouraged. God's work was going to be done on this earth as the angels did it in heaven, and if it was not going to be done through any one man, then it would be done in spite of that man.

Frightful Case of Protruding Piles

Doctor wanted to burn them with red-hot iron—Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

MR. ALEX. MCLEAN, Talbot Vale, N.S., writes:—"As section hand on the railroad, I was exposed to all sorts of weather, my health failed and I became a victim of protruding piles.

Though a doctor treated me for piles, they only grew worse and I was forced to give up work and go home. My sufferings could scarcely be described, I could not walk or lie down, and while the rest of the family slept I would be groaning with excruciating pains."

"The second doctor told me the piles would have to be burned with a red-hot iron, but I could not think of undergoing such an operation, so he gave me a box of salve, for which he charged me two dollars, but did me no good. My experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment is that the first application did me more good than did the two doctors, and finally made me as well and free from piles as any man. Since being cured I worked during the winter in the lumber woods, and had no return of my old trouble. Dr. Chase's Ointment was worth one hundred dollars a box to me."

A Good Complexion

Is a joy to every woman's heart and man is vain enough not to despise it. Beautiful complexion means pure blood, or in other words a healthy body. Tens of thousands of women take Ferrozone because it's a splendid blood builder, keeps the system in perfect order and helps the complexion wonderfully. 'I consider Ferrozone the best remedy to give you a clear, ruddy complexion I know of,' writes Miss Ada E. Brandon of Pembroke. 'My skin used to be sallow but after taking a few boxes of Ferrozone a rosy tint was noticeable on my cheeks. I can recommend Ferrozone as a tonic also.' For good health and beauty use only Ferrozone. Price 50c. at druggists.

When the Boss Made a Mistake.

A senior of one of our large manufacturing concerns came through the store recently and noticed a boy sitting on a counter swinging his legs and whistling merrily. The senior eyed him severly as he confronted him and enquired:

'Is that all you have to do?'

'Yes, sir.'

'Very well; report to the cashier and get him to pay you off. We don't need boys like you around here.'

'But, sir,' said the astonished boy. 'I don't work for you. I have just bought some goods and am waiting for the bill.'

New hope—New Courage

Persons whose nerves are affected get blue and discouraged, are easily irritated and annoyed and learn to look on the dark side. The restorative influence of Dr Chase's Nerve Food soon shows its effect on the feelings. It gives new hope and courage, new energy and confidence. By creating nerve force it affords new vigor and vitality for both mind and body.
